MORE MAGIC FOR GYPSY DANCER

Last week, Gypsy Dancer (NZ) (Dance Floor--Racy Belle {NZ}, by Straight Strike) made headlines when her weanling colt by Redoute's Choice (Aus) set an

Gypsy Dancer magicmillions.com.au

Australasian record of A$1.15 million at the Magic Millions National Weanling Sale. The 11-year-old mare was back in the news yesterday, topping the opening session of the Magic Millions National Broodmare Sale on the Gold Coast. Consigned by Vinery Stud, agent for

Tony Akkari, the chestnut was purchase by Coolmore Stud for A$1.5 million. Coolmore also made the winning salvo on her record-setting weanling. Already the dam of champion and MG1SW Dance Hero (Aus) (Danzero {Aus}), Gypsy Dancer attracted an opening bid of A$500,000, and it wasn't long before Coolmore's Tom Magnier had signed the ticket. "Mares like her don't come up for sale very often," Magnier said. "As well as being a lovely type herself, we know she throws lovely types and, after paying over a million dollars for her weanling colt, we knew we'd have to dig deep to get her." Scans revealed that the mare is carrying a colt by Redoute's Choice. She could be bred back to Holy Roman Emperor (Ire). Coolmore was also successful in its bid to get the day's second-best seller, the seven-year-old Private Steer (Aus) (Danehill Dancer {Ire}--Lisheenowen {Aus}, by Semipalatinsk). Part of The Starcraft Promotion Draft, she is in foal to the dual Hemisphere champion Starcraft, and the sale includes a free service for the mare in 2007. "She's a really beautiful mare," Magnier said. "There have been few better racehorses in Australia in recent years than her." In total, the 19 mares offered in the Promotion brought over A$6.7 million, averaging more than A$350,000. "I'm quite thrilled with the response from buyers," said Starcraft owner Paul Makin. cont. p2

Curlin Records Final Prep for Belmont...

GI Preakness S. winner Curlin (Smart Strike) completed his final serious work yesterday at Churchill Downs ahead of Saturday's GI Belmont S. Under regular rider Carmen Rosas, the chestnut covered four furlongs in :50.60 over a track labeled as 'fast.' The move was the 29th fastest of 41 at the distance. Owned by Stonestreet Farm, Padua Stable, George Bolton and Midnight Cry Stable, the sophomore recorded internal splits of :13.60, :25.60 and :38 and galloped out five furlongs in 1:04.60.

"That was what we wanted to see," said trainer Steve Asmussen. "He looks very familiar, very loose...He went nice and smooth through the wire and galloped out good." Curlin, who finished third behind Street Sense and Hard Spun in the May 5 GI Kentucky Derby, is scheduled to arrive in New York later this morning.

Time Squared Added to Belmont Lineup...

Time Squared (Fusaichi Pegasus), who finished sixth in the GI Blue Grass S. Apr. 14, will start in the GI Belmont S., trainer Patrick Biancone said yesterday. "We've had this race in the back of our minds," said Biancone. "He ran a good race in the Blue Grass [beaten only three lengths] and he has been in great form." The colt, who will be ridden by regular stable rider Julien Leparoux, will ship to Belmont Friday following a final work at Keeneland this morning. "With Curlin and Hard Spun in the race, we'd be delighted to finish third," added Biancone. A $1.05 million purchase at the Keeneland April juvenile sale last year, the New York-bred won his latest start, a $50,000 optional-claiming event at Arlington May 18. Cont. p6

TIZ WONDERFUL RESUMES TRAINING Another potential star three-year-old campaigned by Stonestreet Farms and trained by Steven Asmussen returned from a long layoff to work at Churchill Monday morning. On the sidelines after a tendon problem was discovered in January, Tiz Wonderful (Tiznow), winner of last season's GIII Iroquois S. and GII Kentucky Jockey Club S., breezed four furlongs in an easy :53.20 under Carmen Rosas. The work, which was the 40th fastest of 41 moves at the distance Monday, was the first work back for the undefeated three-year-old since the injury. "He's an absolutely beautiful mover," said Asmussen. "I think he's doing a hundred percent, and that's all there is. He traveled perfect." According to Asmussen, the colt will likely be pointed toward Saratoga's GII Jim Dandy S. July 29.

SUN HAS GRAND PRIX AIM Khalid Abdullah's Zambezi Sun (GB) (Dansili {GB}) looks likely to tackle the July 14 G1 Grand Prix de Paris following his fourth in Sunday's G1 Prix du Jockey-Club. Finishing strongest of all in the Chantilly Classic, the Pascal Bary-trained homebred will step up to a mile and a half for the Longchamp contest. "Zambezi Sun ran a fantastic race, but he was killed by the [wide] draw," Racing Manager Teddy Grimthorpe told PA Sport. "He was a bit further back than he wanted to be and made his run from the rear of the field. I think we will be looking at the Grand Prix de Paris at Longchamp with him, but we will have to see how he goes." Grimthorpe also had news of the John Gosden-trained Raincoat (GB) (Barathea {Ire}), who ran second to Authorized (Ire) in the G2 Dante S. at York May 17, but could do no better than 11th Sunday. "He probably wants a mile and a half really," he said. "He is in the [June 22] G2 King Edward VII S. at Royal Ascot, but we won't make a decision about that until later on."

All horses in the TDN are bred in North America, unless otherwise indicated

With much of the media attention on the Epsom Classics being focused on the human personalities, it was easy to overlook the fact that the Vodafone Derby and Oaks paid tribute to two of today's most outstanding stallions.

Montjeu's first three crops have now produced two impressive winners of the Derby in Motivator and Authorized, plus an Irish Derby winner in Hurricane Run. In two of these Classics he was also responsible for the runner-up, which adds up to a tremendous achievement --especially when Montjeu's fee in his first four seasons never equated to as much as $40,000. Similarly, Light Shift's highly popular victory for Henry Cecil in the Oaks highlighted the talent which encouraged Darley to pay $11.7 million for one of Kingmambo's sons last September. Although Lemon Drop Kid remains Kingmambo's only Classic hero in the USA, rarely a year seems to go by without a Classic victory for the Lane's End stallion elsewhere in the world. Cont. p 5

His string of victories began in 2000, when King's Best took the 2000 Guineas and Bluemamba the French 1000 Guineas, and continued in 2003, when Russian Rhythm triumphed in the 1000 Guineas. A year later his son King Kamehameha confirmed his champion status with victory in the Japanese Derby, while Rule of Law took the St Leger in England. Kingmambo did even better in 2005, when the brilliant Divine Proportions carried the Niarchos colors to victory in the French 1000 Guineas and Oaks and Virginia Waters won the 1000 Guineas. Light Shift's victory means that Kingmambo has now sired five British Classic winners, including winners over a mile, 1½ miles and an extended 1¾ miles.

Exceptional though these achievements are, they pale alongside Northern Dancer's 1981 crop. For the record, this crop contained only 31 named foals, yet they included seven group winners and no fewer than four Classic winners. In case you've forgotten, these four were El Gran Senor, a brilliant winner of the 2000 Guineas and Irish Derby, Secreto, who short-headed El Gran Senor in the Derby, Sadler's Wells, winner of the Irish 2000 Guineas and second in the French Derby, and Northern Trick, a five-length winner of the Prix de Diane. No wonder a nomination to Northern Dancer made a cool $1 million at Matchmaker's 1985 January sale.

The reason I mention this stellar collection is that Light Shift's second dam is none other than Northern Trick, who was acquired by Stavros Niarchos for $530,000 as a yearling at Keeneland. To give you some idea of how good Northern Trick was, her five-length victory in the French Oaks was gained at the expense of the previously unbeaten Grise Mine, while her main victim in the G1 Prix Vermeille was Circus Plume, winner of the Oaks and Yorkshire Oaks. However, it was her effort in the Arc which showed the full extent of her talent as, in finishing second to Sagace, she finished at least six lengths clear of the remainder, which included Strawberry Road, Sadler's Wells, Rainbow Quest and the Classic-winning fillies Sun Princess, Time Charter and Princess Pati. The official handicappers rated her Europe's best three-year-old filly, with her rating of 127 placing her just four pounds below Darshaan and three pounds below Sadler's Wells.

As you would expect of a daughter of Northern Dancer, Northern Trick also had first-rate bloodlines. The third of four stakes winners to represent the unraced Trick Chick, she was a half-sister to On The Sly, winner of GI Jockey Club Gold Cup. Her second dam Fast Line had distinguished herself by producing White Star Line, winner of the Kentucky Oaks and Alabama S., to Northern Dancer and the Prix Morny winner Filiberto to Ribot. Trick Chick was one of three daughters of Fast Line which had already started to extend the family's influence, the others being Fairway Fun (dam of Fairway Flyer, Torsion, Fun Forever and Fairway Fable) and Day Line (dam of the 1973 CCA Oaks winner Magazine).

Stavros Niarchos therefore had every right to expect Northern Trick to prove just as outstanding in her new role as a broodmare. It wasn't to be, but it wasn't for want of trying. Her connections tried everything to unlock her potential. They tried moving her from Europe to the USA. They tried sending her to a wide range of physical specimens, ranging from the diminutive Rahy to the imposing Kris S., and they also tried sending her to different types of performers, ranging from Mr. Prospector's fast sons Machiavellian, Miswaki and Gulch to Classic performers of the calibre of Shirley Heights and Seattle Slew.

Remarkably, it wasn't until she was 20 in 2001 that Northern Trick finally produced a stakes winner, at the 12th attempt. This represented pretty much a last shake of the dice, as her mate was Keos, a Niarchos colorbearer who stood at only $5,000. Keos--a brother to the record-priced Konafa--succeeded where so many others had failed and his daughter Onda Nova won the 2004 Prix Imprudence. This filly visited Kingmambo's son Dubai Destination in 2006, having produced a filly by Danehill Dancer.

Onda Nova must have a bright future, if the achievements of her half-sister Lingerie are anything to go by. This daughter of Shirley Heights didn't lack toughness, as she raced 10 times as a three-year-old, and she was considered good enough to tackle listed company on one occasion. However, she kept finding one too good for her, including when dispatched to places like Vichy and Amiens, and ended up with the frustrating record of four seconds.

Although clearly nowhere near as good as her dam, Lingerie has proved a much better producer. Light Shift is her fourth stakes winner and third group scorer. The first two were Limnos, a dual Group 2 middle-distance winner in France, and Shiva, who gained champion status at around 1¼ miles, thanks notably to her win in the G1 Tattersalls Gold Cup. These two resulted from Lingerie's innovative trip to Japan to visit Hector Protector, another Niarchos colorbearer.

The fact that Hector Protector is a grandson of Mr. Protector made Lingerie an obvious candidate to send to Kingmambo, a Mr. Prospector horse who won three of Europe's most important mile contests for Stavros Niarchos. With the considerable benefit of hindsight, it is also possible to say that Lingerie's suitability was increased by her being by Shirley Heights, a Derby-winning son of the Derby winner Mill Reef.

A Mill Reef mare appears as the second dam of the excellent Divine Proportions (and of the triple Group 1 winner Whipper, by Kingmambo's brother Miesque's Son). Another Shirley Heights mare is the second dam of Kingmambo's Classic-winning daughter Virginia Waters.

Coincidentally, Northern Trick's three-parts sister White Star Line also failed to produce anything quite as good as herself, but she too produced an excellent broodmare when mated to a Derby-winning son of Mill Reef. Her Reference Point filly Hill of Snow produced the Group 1 winner Preseli, the Group 3 winner Kong and Snowfire, a Machiavellian filly beaten only a neck in the 2002 1000 Guineas. Another daughter of White Star Line produced the Italian Oaks winner Valley of Gold to Shirley Heights. Light Shift follows the runaway winners Lady Carla and Alexandrova as the third Oaks winner out of mares by Shirley Heights, who was also responsible for the second dam of Lawman, winner of Sunday's Prix du Jockey-Club.

American readers will no doubt already have recognised that Light Shift comes from the same Fast Line family as Bernardini, who comes from the branch descending from Fairway Fun. It is worth pointing out that four of the six animals in Light Shift's first two generations raced for the Niarchos family, as did two of the animals in the third generation. How satisfying must that be?

Rider for Digger Still Undetermined...

Digger (Yonaguska), who will be making his first start for owner Larry Roman and trainer Richard Dutrow Jr. in Saturday's GI Belmont S., was as of Monday, still without a rider for the 1 1/2-mile test. "Right now I'm leaving the jockey situation up to my trainer," said Roman, who approached Angel Cordero Jr. at first, but was 'graciously turned down' by the Hall of Fame jockey. "I've mentioned Calvin Borel and Mario Pino to Rick, but it's his call. I understand both those guys have other things going on that day, so I'm offering $10,000 of my own money if one of them wants to ride. I know most people are expecting him to finish last, but starting a horse in the Belmont will be the greatest moment of my life." The gelding was a close-up second in his latest start in a nine-furlong allowance at Charles Town Apr. 13.

BREEDERS' CUP Q AND A

Last December, Breeders' Cup stallion and foal nominators voted to select 13 candidates to stand for election to the Breeders' Cup Limited Board of Members and Trustees. Those candidates are joined by 12 existing trustees who have chosen to stand for re-election. Thirteen will ultimately be chosen. The voting opened on May 1 and will conclude June 18. While bios of the 25 candidates are contained in documents circulated to nominators, the TDN is responding to reader suggestions that we provide more information on the candidates' viewpoints. To that end, we posed the following question to each of the 25 candidates and have given them 300 words or fewer in which to respond. Their responses continue here.

Q: What do you think is the biggest issue facing the Breeders' Cup today and, if voted to the Breeders' Cup board, how would you propose this issue be solved?

JOHN PHILLIPS

A: Regardless of what "issue" candidates identify as the most important, the most significant short-term function of trustees is to elect the Board of Members, whose role it is to more closely oversee management and implement strategies outlined by the Board of Members with the advice and consultation of the larger Board of Trustees. I support Members who have shown a willingness to critically and thoroughly analyze our performance in light of the Breeders' Cup articulated mission statement, who have made a renewed commitment to financial integrity, and who have been willing to explore different program formats in an effort to make our sport more relevant. The Breeders' Cup has made great strides in these regards over the last 18 months, and our industry must be patient and understanding, nevertheless, the process must be continued. The Breeders' Cup is not at a loss for issues, but I believe the most important issue in the long term is the building of a pattern of races or a lead-up sequence of races which will give greater public understanding to our championship days, enhance the identity of divisions and their participants (riders, trainers, stables, etc.), and provide greater context, relevance and importance to racing outside the two-day Breeders' Cup Event. The Breeders' Cup has come to accept and understand the importance of this concept and recently instituted the Breeders' Cup Challenge "Win and You're In" program.

This format needs to be thoughtfully refined, and if appropriate, elaborated upon, resulting in a long-range, industry wide strategic plan that establishes a logical, easily understood format. The landscape of racing's management--be it tracks, NTRA or the Breeders' Cup itself--has and will continue to evolve, creating a special opportunity for the Breeders' Cup to lead the industry by instituting a strategic format designed for the racing industry of the 21st century.

GARRETT REDMOND

A: A great pity this question was not asked of each candidate in every election since inception. Voters should know why a candidate wants the job and what they will contribute for betterment of the organization. The Breeders' Cup faces several big, inter-related challenges.

It is called Breeders' Cup, but breeders (except those who also own or manage stallions) are under-represented on the two Boards. The Breeders' Cup has not delivered the benefits promised this group although we are the foundation of the industry. The remedy is to change the structure. There should be only one board--the Directors--elected by direct vote of nominators. The current allocation of one vote for each $500 in fees is wildly undemocratic. Think about it. In 2006 foal nominations were 16,272, which develops the same number of votes. In Kentucky alone, stallions advertised at $50,000 and up, developed 6,650 votes. Figure the national total of stallion fees and add their share of foal votes: clearly, owners of mares only cannot win a seat. One horse--stallion or foal--one vote. That would be a step toward balancing the interests of all parties. The original standard of eligibility for directorship should be restored. "Big" people, who will not devote personal time, should not be allowed to appoint puppets. Transparency is now a buzz word in our business. Pity it is so often just a word and not a deed. Breeders' Cup management should be visible at all levels. Now it is the opposite. The drive to keep up with the Maktoums in purses should be curbed. Trying to match purses is like an arms race. Their resources far exceed our Thoroughbred industry's. Ergo, we cannot win. We don't need multi-million dollar purses on Championship Day. Increasing the percentage to breeders and spreading the funds over more races in the year would be a fairer use. The fee to nominate a foal should be changed to a percentage of the sire's fee. The result might not produce more money, but it would bring in breeders who do not nominate now. That is just one way to broaden and strengthen the breeders that Breeders' Cup was intended to help.

Juvenile Purses Increase a Maryland Millions:

Maryland Million Ltd. announced yesterday an additional increase to the 2007 Maryland Million Day purses. The Maryland Lassie and the Maryland Million Nursery purses will be boosted to $150,000 each. Maryland Million Day will be held at Laurel Park Oct. 13. The raise comes on the heels of the increases made in March to the Maryland Million Classic ($300,000), Maryland Million Ladies ($200,000) and Maryland Million Turf ($200,000). "The Maryland Million program is most importantly a stallion stakes program and the two-year-old races are an important showcase for the young stallions," said Wayne Harrison, president of Maryland Million Ltd. "Maryland sires are the best in the region and we want to reward those stallion managers and the loyal owners and breeders who come to Maryland each year."

Tax Free graduated from handicap company last September to take the Listed Starlit S. at Goodwood, then was third in the G3 Bentinck S. at Newmarket the following month. His winter sojourn in Dubai resulted in a fourth placing in the Jan. 25 G3 Najah Al Shindagha Sprint and an eighth in the G3 Marju Mahab Al Shimaal S. Mar.1, both on the dirt track at Nad Al Sheba. A return to turf proved more to his liking, as he demonstrated when winning a conditions race at Thirsk Apr. 21, and he opened his group-race account on his latest outing in the G3 Palace House S. at Newmarket May 6. Doing his running on the heels of the pacesetters up the favored central strip of ground here, the bay was off the bridle earlier than the smooth-traveling Dandy Man and was driven to lead at the eighth pole. That rival flattened out close home, and Tax Free stayed strong to quash his challenge and assert for the score. "I'm surprised he's beaten Dandy Man, but he's a lovely horse," trainer Dandy Nicholls said. "He's in the G2 King's Stand S. [at Royal Ascot June 19] and Listed Richard H Faught Memorial S. [at The Curragh July 1]."

DETTORI REFLECTS

Frankie Dettori yesterday looked back on a weekend that saw him collect two Derby trophies, including a notable first in Epsom's blue riband Saturday. Speaking at Windsor, the charismatic Italian spoke of the lead-up to his success on Authorized (Ire) and his double-up on Lawman (Fr) in Chantilly's G1 Prix du Jockey-Club Sunday. "It has been a long few weeks and I haven't slept much, but it has been worth it," he said. "It is starting to sink in, but it is unbelievable; I wait 15 years to win one Derby and then win two in 24 hours--it is madness. When I hit the front [on Authorized], I was screaming 'come on' and my heart stopped--it was sheer emotion." Dettori had to deal with intense media attention beforehand. "I had the camera in my face, which was not comfortable, but I've been in that situation before and can cope," he remarked. "It was very difficult...others may not be able to cope so well and it could unbalance someone." While Lawman impressed Dettori by making all to win at Chantilly, the rider favors Authorized at this time. "Lawman is a nice horse and straightforward and it's very unfair to compare the two horses," he said. "If I had to stick my neck out, I'd say Authorized is the best right now, as Epsom is usually the best Derby, but only time will tell. Authorized has got a great cruising speed and good turn of foot, so wherever he goes next I won't mind."
