STEVIE WONDERBOY RETIRED TO AIRDRIE

Eclipse champion and 2005 GI Breeders' Cup Juvenile winner Stevie Wonderboy (Stephen Got Even--Heat Lightning, by Summer Squall) has been retired from racing and will enter stud at Brereton and Elizabeth

Horsephotos

Jones's Airdrie Stud in Midway, Kentucky. A stud fee has not been set. The announcement follows several months of minor setbacks experienced by the handsome chestnut. Racing in the silks of Merv Griffin and conditioned by Doug O'Neill, Stevie Wonderboy ran third to What a Song while still a maiden in the Gill Hollywood Juvenile Championship S. in July of 2005. After breaking his maiden by four lengths at Del Mar three weeks later, he romped by five lengths in the Gil Del Mar Futurity. Sent off at 9-2 odds in the Breeders' Cup Juvenile that year, he rallied from near the back of the back to post a victory over fellow Eclipse finalists Henny Hughes and First Samurai, earning him divisional honors as champion two-year-old colt. In his lone sophomore effort, Stevie Wonderboy ran second to Brother Derek in the Gil San Rafael S. before being sidelined. A $100,000 FTFFEB juvenile buy, Stevie Wonderboy is a grandson of A.P. Indy out of a mare by Summer Squall, giving him 3x3 inbreeding to Weekend Surprise, the dam of those two Classic winners. He is free of Raise a Native blood. Commenting on his retirement, Airdrie's Bret Jones said, "We couldn't be more excited to be bringing Stevie Wonderboy into the stallion barn. He did exactly what a champion is supposed to do: beat the best on both sides of the country. I really believe the Juvenile field he beat, with Henny Hughes and First Samurai, was as strong as any in recent memory, and he was really getting away from them at the end. It's just a shame we never got to see him in the Classics, because as brilliant as he was at two, he was absolutely tailor made for the Triple Crown trail. We've had a wonderful relationship with Mr. Griffin for a long time, and we feel very fortunate to have the opportunity to stand his champion." Stevie Wonderboy was bred in Kentucky by John Gunther, Tony Holmes and Walter Zent.

CORINTHIAN HEADS SUBURBAN SIX

The race lost its headliner when Horse of the Year Invasor (Arg) was retired last week, but a field of six will go postward in Saturday's GI Suburban H. at

Corinthian Horsephotos

Belmont Park. The likely favorite is Centennial Farms' Corinthian (Pulpit), who chased a quick pace en route to a 3/4-length victory in the GI Metropolitan H. in his last trip to the post. Six of Corinthian's nine starts have been at nine furlongs or a mile and three sixteenths and trainer Jimmy Jerkens doesn't think the

1 1/4 miles of the Suburban will be a problem for the four-year-old. "I think he will rate kindly," Jerkens explained. "For a horse who has only run nine times, he has a lot of experience going a route of ground." Jerkens is putting his confidence in veteran jockey Kent Desormeaux to get the job done Saturday. "When you've got a guy like Kent who's won a lot of big money races going a mile and a quarter, you leave a lot up to him. I thought he won [the Met Mile] when he headed Lawyer Ron out at the top of the stretch. That made Lawyer Ron go even wider and that discouraged him. The top jocks do the little things like that that help you win." The Suburban will feature another match-up for the Jerkens family, as Jerkens's father Allen Jerkens has entered Met Mile runner-up Political Force (Unbridled's Song). The elder Jerkens is confident his charge will get the trip Saturday. "I don't think [the distance] will be a problem for him," the Hall of Famer said. "He seemed to rate well in the Met and finish up good. His breeding is good. He's by a son of Unbridled out of a mare [Glitter Woman] who won at a mile and an eighth."

☆ NEWS TODAY ☆

GEORGE CONFIRMED FOR ECLIPSE Aidan O'Brien has given the green light to George Washington (Ire) (Danehill) to contest next Saturday's G1 Coral-Eclipse at Sandown. Announcing the news to the Racing Post Wednesday, the Ballydoyle conditioner revealed the G1 2000 Guineas and G1 Queen Elizabeth II S. winner will spearhead a four-strong challenge to Authorized (Ire). The four-year-old, who was fourth in Royal Ascot's G1 Queen Anne S. last Tuesday, will be joined by the G1 St James's Palace S. runner-up Duke of Marmalade (Ire) (Danehill), the G2 Derrinstown Stud Derby Trial winner Archipenko (Kingmambo) and the G3 Dee S. scorer Admiralofthefleet (Danehill) in the 10-furlong contest. Admiralofthefleet and Archipenko will be bidding to rebound from unplaced efforts behind Authorized in the June 2 G1 Epsom Derby, but O'Brien is hopeful that the latter will leave that running behind. "Mick Kinane said the combination of the track and the trip probably didn't suit Archipenko at Epsom," O'Brien told the Post.

ROCKS ON EASY LIST Paul Reddam's G1 Breeders' Cup Turf winner Red Rocks (Ire) (Galileo {Ire}) is set to bypass next Saturday's G1 Coral-Eclipse at Sandown and is due for a short rest, according to connections. Disappointing when fourth in last Wednesday's G1 Prince of Wales's S. at Royal Ascot, the four-year-old scoped dirty after that contest and has been ruled out of the Eclipse and G1 King George VI and Queen Elizabeth Diamond S. back at Ascot July 28. "However, as we've said all along, his number-one target will be to attempt back-to-back wins in the Breeders' Cup Turf," trainer Brian Meehan told the Racing Post.

EVIE OPTIONS OPEN Terry Neill's Red Evie (Ire) (Intikhab) is set to return to the company of her own sex following an unplaced effort in the G1 Queen Anne S. Having beaten Ramonti (Fr) in the May 19 G1 Lockinge S. at Newbury, the four-year-old was only seventh behind that rival in the Royal Ascot contest last Tuesday and trainer Michael Bell is looking at the distaff program now. "She was only beaten about three lengths up against George Washington and the rest of them, having won the Lockinge, I feel she is going to be very competitive when she takes on her own sex," he commented. "She's going to run in either the [July 11] G1 Falmouth S. at Newmarket or the [July 29] G1 Prix d'Astarte at Deauville, or both."

BREAK FOR PERCY Anthony Pakenham's G1 Epsom Derby winner Sir Percy (GB) (Mark of Esteem {Ire}) has been put on the shelf following two disappointing efforts, trainer Marcus Tregoning announced. While not ruling retirement out, the Lambourn conditioner said that connections would "give it some time" before deciding if last year's blue riband hero is to run again. "It's always going to be a possibility that he may not race again, because we've got to think about the future for him," he commented yesterday. "We haven't made a firm decision and sometimes with a break horses can come back, so we'll just have to give it some time and think about what we're doing." Since Sir Percy finished fourth in the G1 Dubai Sheema Classic at Nad Al Sheba Mar. 31, the four-year-old finished down the field in both the June 1 Coronation Cup and last Wednesday's G1 Prince of Wales's S. "His run in Dubai was very encouraging and he picked up some nice prize money, so the hope was all would be well for this year, but it hasn't worked out so I'm just going to sit back and wait with him. It might well be he'll come back in the autumn."

NTRA REPORT FROM
Capitol Hill

Immigration Debate Continues

After a vote on Tuesday to continue debating immigration reform, the Senate is now reviewing a series of amendments that have swelled the bill to more than 760 pages.

Key issues remain a guest worker program; family immigration; a ban on federal contractors who repeatedly hire undocumented workers; and availability of green cards.

In the House, where the key issue remains border security, Republican leaders have registered their disapproval of the Senate bill with resolution that passed by a vote of 114-23. The resolution read simply: "Resolved, the House GOP Conference disapproves of the Senate immigration bill."

House Speaker Nancy Pelosi (D-CA) has indicated that at least 70 Republicans must vote in favor of a comprehensive reform package if the measure is to pass.

CHURCHILL PRESIDENT ACKNOWLEDGES DECISIONS 'MAY RUFFLE A FEW FEATHERS'

by Ron Mitchell, courtesy the Blood-Horse

During the first 10 months of Robert Evans' tenure as president and chief executive officer of Churchill Downs Inc., the racetrack operating company has undergone some major changes that did not please fans or shareholders. While acknowledging that some decisions--such as changing television networks and advance deposit wagering platforms--were controversial and subject to criticism, Evans said the moves were necessary to position the company for future growth. "I understand our objectives on occasion may ruffle a few feathers," Evans told the standing-room-only crowd during the annual CDI shareholders' meeting at Churchill Downs June 28. "That is one of the things about competition. It is not really our intent to just go out and be disruptive. Our intent is to compete aggressively and to attract more customers to our business...there are always a few potential consequences when you challenge the status quo. We are committed to this path of change." Among the most controversial developments was the company's establishment, with rival racetrack operator Magna Entertainment Corp., of TrackNet Media Group, a content-provider venture. Evans said TrackNet Media was formed to "improve our simulcast and intertrack signals and at the same time to enhance the distribution and integrity of those signals." CDI also purchased a 50-percent interest in HRTV, also a MEC venture, "to ensure that at all times we would have a vehicle through which we can distribute our televised races to a national audience," Evans said. Those moves ended CDI's longstanding business relationships with Youbet.com and TVG. As a replacement for Youbet.com, CDI established its own Internet wagering venture called twinspires.com, which opened for business during the days prior to the GI Kentucky Derby Presented by Yum! Brands. Because the wagering platform was just getting established on the day of the race, overall wagering on the classic through twinspires.com did not match previous levels when those wagers were placed through Youbet.com, prompting criticism from Youbet.com management. "As we have put these changes in place, we have been very much aware that we have created some disruptions for some of our fans," Evans said.

Lemon Drop Gal took Saratoga's Grab the Green S. Aug. 24, then switched to this track and distance to miss by a neck to Society Hostess in the Sept. 30 License Fee S. She failed to handle a good Laurel turf when last of eight in the Nov. 11 Kattegats Pride S., and most recently returned from a spell to finish fourth to Brushed Bayou in the May 25 Caress S. over course and trip. The slight favorite in a competitive betting affair, Lemon Drop Gal rated on the outside and was asked to go rounding the far turn. She poked her bay head in front at the quarter pole and stayed on well for the victory. Video, sponsored by Taylor Made.

"We have tried to do everything possible to minimize those disruptions, but I know personally that we have made it somewhat more difficult on occasion to watch our races on television or get a bet placed. We apologize for any inconvenience and will get that transition completed in the second half of the year and move forward in much better way than we have in the past." Evans said establishment of twinspires.com and the subsequent acquisition of three Internet wagering companies gives CDI 20 percent of the Internet wagering market, the fastest growing segment of horse race wagering. Noting that wagering on Thoroughbred racing has been flat for the past decade, Evans said the challenge for CDI is to increase its market share. As part of the company's efforts to increase handle, Evans said an initiative is under way within CDI to review the 150,000 races run at North American racetracks over the past year to determine which types of races attract the most betting dollars. "We are trying to figure out what is it that generates handle," he said. "We hope to use that information to write a better race card and produce better races." Evans said other keys to CDI's growth in the competitive racing and wagering marketplace are leveraging its three distinctive brands – the Twin Spires, the historic track itself, and the Derby; continuing to attract and retain the best people in the business; continuing the company's customer service programs; and embracing technology. "In short, we want to be the best and plan to be the best," said Evans, who assumed his position in August 2006 after the retirement of president/CEO Tom Meeker. "I think that when 2007 comes to a close your company will have significantly outperformed its competition in the Thoroughbred business and will have achieved growth in what I think will be a very tough industry climate this year." In a departure from previous shareholder meetings, there was no question and answer session at the end of the meeting. Generally, the questions ranging from everything such as customer service to management decisions, were answered by directors or CDI management. Instead, those in attendance were given complimentary passes for lunch and afternoon at the races, during which they could pose questions on a more informal basis. Click for the complete story.

Lady Chace was hammered down for $290,000 as a KEESEP yearling and took an impressive first step towards recouping that investment with a daylight victory. Legged up for the debut over the deep Oklahoma training track at Saratoga, the dark bay was pounded into 3-10 favoritism and made that look like good value. A bit reluctant to load, Lady Chace was all business once the gates were sprung, edging to the front while three wide on the far turn. Clear into the stretch,

May 4. Returned to the dirt for his latest, the versatile bay chased, but could make little impact on the fleet Fabulous Strike and came home third in the GIII Aristides S. June 2. Back on what has become his preferred surface, Gaff tracked the pace while out on the track, loomed menacingly into the stretch and galloped home a much-the-best winner.

Itsawonderfullife, a €140,000 GOFORB yearling acquisition, was a 13-2 chance in her career debut at Leopardstown last June 14, but ran into subsequent G1 Moyglare Stud S. victress Miss Beatrix (Ire) and settled for third. Off nearly a year following that effort, the bay found trouble in her U.S. bow over this track and trip June 2, leaping in the air at the break and finishing second by three lengths to a next-out winner. Sent off the 3-5 chalk to make amends here, she rated kindly in midpack for Julien Leparoux before commencing a steady advance on the turn. After three easy works since returning from injury, Stonestreet Stable's unbeaten Tiz Wonderful (Tiznow) was asked for a bit more yesterday morning. Breezing five furlongs over the main track at Churchill Downs, the three-year-old colt stopped the clock in 1:01 3/5, the ninth fastest of 18 at the distance. Trainer Steve Asmussen called off a scheduled breeze Monday when the Churchill strip came up wet. "It was time for him to do something and move forward, so I just put it off a couple of days until I was comfortable with the surface, and he worked really well," Asmussen said. Tiz Wonderful, winner of last year's GII Kentucky Jockey Club S., was sidelined in January with a tendon injury. His first work since returning was a half-mile move in :53 1/5 on June 4, followed by easy five-furlong works in 1:05 4/5 June 11 and 1:05 June 18. The July 29 GII Jim Dandy S. at Saratoga is the goal for the colt.

BLUEBIRD MARE TOPS BROODMARE FINALE

A half sister to Hong Kong Group 1 winner Jeune King Prawn (Aus) topped Thursday's final session of the Inglis Great Southern Bloodstock Broodmare Sale at Oaklands, Victoria. Paringa Park paid A$245,000 to secure lot 727. By Bluebird, the daughter of Group 3 winner Western Chorus (NZ) (Western Symphony) was a member of Trevor Gluck's Tremon Thoroughbreds draft, offered as part of a dispersal. Believed to be in foal to Danehill Dancer (Ire), the unraced eight-year-old mare is the dam of a Flying Spur (Aus) colt that topped the weanling portion of the Great Southern Sale, selling for A$240,000 earlier in the week. "Broodmares in foal to commercial stallions were sought after, while quality race fillies off the track have also been in huge demand," said William Inglis & Son Director Peter Heagney. Gross receipts in excess of A$2-million for the final session--coupled with Wednesday's figures--saw an increase of 41 percent over last year's broodmare section, while the overall average price of A$15,873 represents a 26-percent increase over last year's corresponding figures. The sale continues today, starting at 10:30 a.m., with over 250 yearlings and horses of racing age on offer. A supplementary draft of 70, will also be available.

SULLIVAN PURCHASES WADHAM PARK

Queensland businessman Phil Sullivan, who runs the City Pacific Finance Company, is purchasing showpiece training complex Wadham Park at Canungra in the Gold Coast hinterland for a reported A$15 million. Sullivan takes the controlling share in the property that was developed by former Toll Transport boss Peter Rowsthorn, Brisbane's Courier-Mail reported. "I have about 10 horses in training and they will be transferred to Canungra," Sullivan said in the report. "The property is under contract and should be completed next month. Obviously it can support a bigger string, but I have had any number of inquiries from people with bigger strings to go there. "I am a businessman and this looked a good buy. I also have about 15 breeding stock." Rowsthorn and his trainer Dale Sutton have developed another property just outside Melbourne and will shift base camp. The pair last year attracted notice purchasing Irish Derby winner Grey Swallow (Ire) (Daylami {Ire}) for A$6 million from Dermot Weld. Prepared for the GI Cox Plate, Grey Swallow and has not appeared since he ran last to Fields Of Omagh (Aus) after suffering a hock injury at the start of the weight-for-age championship last October. Rowsthorn is believed to have spent more than A$60 million setting up the opulent Wadham Park training complex and stocking it. Canungra boasts a 2000 meter grass track with a 600 meter straight and an uphill finish as well as a 2000 meter artificial track."
