MERV GRIFFIN DEAD

Entertainment icon and prominent horse owner Merv Griffin died Sunday morning of prostate cancer. He was 82. Griffin had successfully battled the disease for the better part of 11 years, but was admitted to Cedars Sinai Hospital in Los Angeles last month and took a turn for the worse a few days ago. Among the horses campaigned by the creator of the hit game shows Jeopardy! and Wheel of Fortune was Stevie Wonderboy, the son of Stephen Got Even who was awarded an Eclipse Award after capturing the 2005 renewal of the GI Breeders' Cup Juvenile (click here for video of race and interview with Griffin). Stevie Wonderboy was derailed from the Triple Crown trail by injury and eventually was retired to Airdrie Stud in Kentucky. Other horses to wear Griffin's white silks included Grade III winner Skipaslew and this year's GII San Felipe S. hero Cobalt Blue. The trainer of those horses, Doug O'Neill, commented yesterday on Griffin's passing. "It's obviously a huge loss for the sport," O'Neill said. "I was blessed enough to know him well over the past few years. He was a huge horse lover. He spread the word of what a great sport horse racing is to anyone who would listen." He added, "For the past couple of weeks, I knew he was under the weather, but I was shocked when I got the call." A native of California, Griffin, who owned and operated Griffin Ranch in La Quinta, began his career as a singer for the Freddy Martin Orchestra back in the late 1940s and early '50s before becoming a talk-show host on television with the Merv Griffin Show. From there he became a broadcast mogul with the creation of Jeopardy! and Wheel of Fortune.

SAOIRSE SHOCKER

Jim Bolger has already made headlines this year with a daughter of Mr. Greeley in Finsceal Beo (Ire) and he unleashed another burgeoning starlet by Gainesway's resident in Saoirse Abu in yesterday's G1 Independent Waterford Wedgwood Phoenix S. at The Curragh. Sent off at 25-1 in first-time blinkers, the chestnut toughed it out up front and drew on extra reserves to forge a length victory from likely defeat as Henrythenavigator (Kingmambo) swooped. "She is a different type of Mr. Greeley," her trainer commented when asked for a comparison with Finsceal Beo. "This is a soft-ground one, although she doesn't have to have it soft and she is brave." THE MAIN MAN

Few horses who stamp their class on the best middle-distance contests can do the same at the top level over a mile, but Manduro (Ger) (Monsun {Ger}) achieved the formidable feat in style yesterday when collecting Deauville's G1 Prix du Haras de Fresnay-le-Buffard-Jacques le Marois. What was billed as a match between Baron Georg von Ullmann's G1 Prince of Wales's S. hero and the G1 Prix du Jockey-Club winner Lawman (Fr) (Invincible Spirit {Ire}) proved a one-sided affair as soon as Stephane Pasquier pressed the button passing the quarter pole. Powering to an emphatic three-length success, the five-year-old set up a tantalising tilt at the G1 Prix de l'Arc de Triomphe. Cont. p2

Manduro was campaigned mainly at a mile last term and became the victim of circumstance on several occasions. He often left his run too late, which was in evidence when finding only Librettist too strong in this race last year. Also in the minor positions when third in the G1 Prix du Moulin de Longchamp in September, he thrived for a change of tactics on his five-year-old bow when annexing the Apr. 19 G3 Earl of Sefton S. at Newmarket. After recording a facile success in the G1 Prix d'Isphahan at Lonchamp May 21, connections hatched an ambitious plan to demonstrate Manduro's versatility and he proved the point in Royal Ascot's G1 Prince of Wales's S. over 10 furlongs June 20, where he had too many guns for Dylan Thomas (Ire). After receiving the perfect tow from his pacemaker Toysome (GB) (Cadeaux Genereux {GB}) here, the bay made light work of the latest stage of the plot when taking command with 1 1/2 furlongs remaining and drawing away in professional manner.

"He is an easy horse to train," conditioner Andre Fabre commented after his fifth Jacques le Marois success. "Speed is not a concern, as he was champion two-year-old in Germany and was unlucky here last year and also in the Moulin. Maybe stamina is more of a concern, but I'm sure he will stay a mile and a half and most definitely, his big target is the Arc [Oct. 7], with a run beforehand in the G2 Prix Foy [at Longchamp Sept. 16]. The G1 Breeders' Cup Classic [at Monmouth Oct. 27] is a possibility in time, but we'll see." Holocene's trainer Pascal Bary was delighted with his runner-up placing. "We were just beaten by a superior horse, but I was thrilled by his performance as he hadn't run since the [May 9] G3 Prix de Guiche and this is like winning for me," Bary explained. Lawman raced close to the pace before fading tamely passing the halfway marker and jockey Olivier Peslier reported that the sophomore was never traveling. Click for the Racing Post chart or the free brisnet.com catalogue-style pedigree.

Saoirse Abu graduated over this course and distance May 27 before running second to You'resothrilling in the June 4 G3 Swordlestown Stud Sprint S. at Naas. Only fifth behind Listen (Ire) in the Listed Saoire S. back here June 29, she was beginning to look exposed when third to Triskel (GB) in Leopardstown's Listed Silver Flash S. on her latest outing July 18, but rebounded in the headgear to upset Aidan O'Brien's run of success in this contest. Hard against the rail while disputing the early lead with Warsaw (Ire) (Danehill Dancer {Ire}), she had shaken off that contender by the time Henrythenavigator arrived with his effort wide under Kieren Fallon. Headed before the eighth pole, she dug in to wrest back the advantage from the 1-2 pick in the final 100 yards and was firmly on top at the line. "We didn't use her enough at Leopardstown last time, and although the blinkers made no real difference, you have to use all the aids available," said trainer Jim Bolger. "If I don't turn up anything better before the [Sept. 2] G1 Moyglare Stud S. she'll be back here for that." Saddex backed up a fourth in last term's G1 Deutsches Derby with a third in the G1 Grosser Preis von Baden in September and ended his sophomore campaign with a runner-up finish in the G3 Preis der Deutschen Einheit at Hoppegarten in October. Taking out the Apr. 22 G2 Gerling-Preis at Cologne on seasonal return, he doubled up with victory in the June 3 G2 Grand Prix de Chantilly last time and continued his quest towards the G1 Prix de l'Arc de Triomphe with a landmark performance here. Positioned in a handy second as Frankie Dettori dictated on Godolphin's Laverock (Ire) (Octagonal {NZ}), Saddex assumed control exiting the backstretch. He came under pressure at the top of the home run and one smack of the whip inside the closing panel was sufficient encouragement to ensure success. The four-year-old is likely to make his next start in the Sept. 2 G1 Grosser Preis von Baden.

Sent off the second choice despite his dead-game victory in the July 4 GIII Hollywood Juvenile Championship S., Salute the Sarge staked his claim as the best juvenile colt in Southern California yesterday with another gutsy performance. The handsome bay, named after the, well, enthusiastic, trainer Nick "The Sarge" Hines, debuted a winner sprinting five furlongs at Hollywood June 3, then came back to post the narrow nose victory over Leonides in the Juvenile Championship on Independence Day. Salute the Sarge saw his job get a bit easier here when Leonides was scratched, but still faced a tough opponent in Georgie Boy, winner of the restricted Graduation S. at Del Mar July 25.

he turned for home aboard Georgie Boy, but Salute the Sarge came charging hard on the outside and, despite fighting back gamely, the favorite couldn't match strides in the final sixteenth. "He doesn't like it up front, so the race came up right for us," said Baze. "I just let him do his thing and then, when the time came, he went. No issues with distance with this guy. The farther the better. He loves a target. He's a nice colt getting better." Winning trainer Eric Guillot, who conditions Salute the Sarge for Southern Equine Stable, was happy with the efforts of both horse and jockey. "I told Michael that he knows the horse and he knows his style," said Guillot. "He likes a target to run at and he pounces when you need him. When he looked that horse in the eye as they came down the stretch, he decided it was time to go to work." Things have been far from straightforward for Eagle Mountain since his impressive success in the G2 Beresford S. here in October, but he remains in the upper echelons of the Ballydoyle pecking order and made the most of his simplest task in 2007. Having finished a clear second in the G1 Epsom Derby on a sound surface June 2, he was reportedly hampered by testing conditions when third in the Irish equivalent over this course July 1 and second in the July 28 G2 York S. either side of his well-documented mishap in Longchamp's July 14 G1 Grand Prix de Paris. Despite the rain-softened turf, the colt proved too strong when asked to take over before the quarter pole and drew the sting from Alexander Tango in the final furlong. "He's in the mix for the G1 Irish Champion S. [at Leopardstown Sept. 8]," said trainer Aidan O'Brien. Click for the Racing Post chart or the free brisnet.com catalogue-style pedigree. Dermot Weld always reserves his better juveniles for the Galway festival and he was very satisfied after Campfire Glow had graduated by 4 1/2 lengths there 12 days ago. Rank without cover throughout the early stages of this contest, the bay was eventually settled toward the rear as the field crossed over to the stands side at the top of the straight. Campfire Glow was level with Listen approaching the quarter pole, but whereas that rival remained stuck in the centre of the track for a few vital yards, Campfire Glow found a seam up the inner and seized on it to lead with 100 yards remaining. With the damage done as Kieren Fallon switched the favorite back inside for her rally, the line came in time for Pat Smullen's mount. "She is a very impressive, powerful filly--magnificent," was the glowing endorsement from Weld. "She did it so well at Galway--not since Grey Swallow (Ire) has one of mine come up that hill so well there--and these were the top fillies in Ireland. She will have one more run this year, probably at this track in the [Sept. 14] Goffs Million, but we have an open mind. Next year, we will be viewing her as a Guineas filly." the race with four straight wins to her credit. She ripped through her statebred conditions in easy allowance victories in May and June, then took on open foes and beat them, too, with wins July 1 and July 15. Returned to stakes company for the first time since running third in last November's restricted New Jersey Futurity at the Meadowlands, the chestnut saved ground as Exchanging Fire (Exchange Rate) set sensible fractions, then slipped through an opening on the rail when that foe began to tire. She quickly opened a two-length advantage and was kept to task down the lane by jockey Stewart Elliot. "When I was ready to go, she just took off," said Elliot. "I only rode her in her last race and she really impressed me. She finished up strong in that race and had plenty of horse left. She came out today and ran great. She's a very talented filly and showed it." Sleeter added that the Sept. 22 GII Cotillion H. at Philly Park was next on Talkin About Love's agenda. Al Qasi showed a liking for easy ground when winning handicaps at Ripon in August and at Ascot the following month and was denied those conditions when sixth on his return in the May 16 G2 Duke of York S. Down the field in Royal Ascot's G1 Golden Jubilee S. June 23 before finishing runner-up to Balthazaar's Gift (Ire) in the G3 Hackwood S. back at the Berkshire venue last time July 27, the bay relished a real sprinting test in the mud to record a career-best under Kerrin McEvoy. Settled off the early speed toward the stands' side fence, he got the gap there inside the final quarter and rallied to catch Evening Time with 100 yards remaining before outgaming the sophomore. "He is a nice horse who is better getting his toe in ground like this," his rider said. "I was a bit lucky I got a run up the rail and he battled it out a bit better than the filly [Evening Time]. I'm looking forward to riding him in some big races abroad, when he should get his ground." Click for the Racing Post chart. Video, courtesy atheraces.com.

RAGS TO RICHES WORKS; TO SKIP ALABAMA

Michael Tabor and Derrick Smith's star filly Rags to Riches (A.P. Indy) worked five furlongs yesterday at

Rags to Riches last month
Sarah Andrew

Saratoga, after which trainer Todd Pletcher confirmed the three-year-old will miss Saturday's GI Alabama S. "We missed too much time," said Pletcher, whose charge was forced to skip two works in late July, the first because of a fever and the second after she was pulled up at the beginning of breeze. "It's Aug. 12, and she's not ready to run on Aug. 18. I didn't want to push the issue. I'm disappointed that she won't get to run [at Saratoga], and I'm sure there are people here who would have loved to see her run." Pletcher said he instead would point the GI Belmont S. heroine to the Sept. 8 GI Ruffian S. at Belmont Park, with the Sept. 16 GI Gazelle S. at the same venue also an option.

"By the time Sept. 8 rolls around, she should be pretty sharp," said Pletcher. "We'll use the Gazelle as a backup plan if we need the extra week or the track is not to our satisfaction." During yesterday's work, Rags to Riches breezed five panels in 1:02.11 with Angel Cordero, Jr. in the irons. "I thought she went well," Pletcher added. "She's in good form. She's not a filly that needs to train fast to run well; she's a push-button filly." Despite missing the Alabama with Rags to Riches, Pletcher holds a good hand in the race with a pair of more-than-capable replacements, MGISW Octave (Unbridled's Song) and GISW Panty Raid (Include), both of whom worked yesterday and are expected for the 1 1/4-mile event. Octave, working on the inside of a two-year-old stablemate, the once-raced, unplaced Why Tonto (Indian Charlie), breezed five furlongs in 1:00.46. Panty Raid worked the same distance and stopped the clock in :59.67. Glencrest Farms' Panty Raid is a versatile filly who ran second in the GIII Bourbonette Breeders' Cup S. on Polytrack, then won the GII Black-Eyed Susan S. at dirt and the GI American Oaks Invitational S. on the grass. "I think she's a little bit better on the dirt; [regular rider] Edgar [Prado] thinks she's a little bit better on the turf," said Pletcher. "If you had seen her work [Sunday] morning, you might agree with me." Also working Sunday was Lawyer Ron (Langfuhr), who is on track for the Spa's Sept. 1 GI Woodward S. after working five furlongs in :59.68.

GREEN LANTERN ACQUIRES 100% OF

IRRIDESCENCE Green Lantern Stable LLC has bought out partner Team Valor International and is now the sole owner of the top racemare Irridescence (SAf) (Caesour), who was beaten a head in Saturday's GI Beverly D. S. at Arlington Park. Richard Masson's operation had raced the three-time Group 1 winner in partnership with Team Valor since 2005. "We hope to run her a couple of times before she joins our broodmare band," said Masson, a Southern California resident and the owner of Golden Age Farm near Lexington, Kentucky. "She is the best horse we've ever had anything to do with, and we look forward to having her at our farm." Rusty Arnold, who trains Green Lantern's Midwest and East Coast horses, will take over from South African Mike de Kock, who owned an interest in Irridescence before Team Valor bought the filly in South Africa, where she was named champion three-year-old filly. Irridescence has won 8 of 19 starts and has banked more than $1.575 million. The peripatetic mare has won or placed in Group 1 races in South Africa, Hong Kong, England and North America. Her most important victory came in April of last year when she numbered Ouija Board (GB) among her victims in the G1 Audemars Piguet Queen Elizabeth II Cup in Hong Kong.

A stellar field of nine young fillies have gathered for this 6 1/2-furlong event, including More Happy, the Vindication--Apelia filly who sold for $1 million at Fasig-Tipton's Calder juvenile sale, and Phantom Income, a $200,000 OBS March graduate. More Happy, a first-out winner at Del Mar July 21, was part of Bob Baffert's string that was sent to Saratoga. Phantom Income was also a debut winner, having romped by 10 1/4 lengths at Belmont July 6. Both fillies are making their stakes debuts. Flying a bit under the radar--perhaps--is Derrick Smith, Michael Tabor and Mrs. John Magnier's Passion. A $260,000 purchase at the Keeneland April sale, Passion was let go at 4-1 in her unveiling at Arlington Park July 13, but won by an impressive 7 1/2-length margin and now tries to replicate that form on conventional dirt. The filly is a half to 2000 GII Hollywood Oaks winner and GI Santa Anita Oaks runner-up Kumari Continent (Kris S.).

Overbrook Farm homebred CAPE COD BAY (Cape Town), a half to MGSW Buffythecenterfold, debuts for Dallas Stewart with Julien Leparoux in the irons. After acting up in the gate, the bay colt broke in the air and was allowed to settle off the pace. Six wide into the lane, Classic Pack reeled in Red Zipper in the final yards for the win. "I had confidence in my horse today," admitted winning trainer Mike Hernandez. "He loves the course." Jockey Cornelio Velasquez added, "He broke ok today and was put in a good spot. When I asked him to, he started to move and he passed the other horses. He ran good today." Video, sponsored by Taylor Made.

Saratoga Sets Attendance Record:

Nothing gets people excited like free furniture. That, apparently, was the message at Saratoga Race Course Sunday, when the historic track set a new attendance record of 72,745 with the first-time-ever giveaway of a folding chair. The previous record was 71,337, set on Aug. 17, 2003, when wall clocks were the item du jour. Track officials reported that Saratoga's new multiple admissions policy went according to plan. "We were able to move fans through the turnstiles and into the track much more quickly and comfortably," said Gavin Landry, NYRA senior vice president of sales and market development. Next Sunday: free Saratoga umbrellas with each paid admission, while supplies last.

The Green Monkey Works; The Leopard to Futurity:

While trainer Todd Pletcher's barn at Saratoga was busy yesterday morning with a number of its top horses working, a few of the stable's Belmont-based horses were in action, too. The worktab at Belmont included the $16-million juvenile The Green Monkey (Forestry), who continued to tighten the screws in anticipation of his career debut. The three-year-old colt breezed five furlongs in 1:00.62, the seventh fastest of 42 moves at the distance. It was his seventh recorded breeze since being returned to training in June. Pletcher said that "it will be close" if The Green Monkey will run by the end of the Saratoga meet. Also working was Grade II winner King of the Roxy (Littleexpectations), who stopped the clock in 1:00.17 for five furlongs; and MGSW Indian Vale (A.P. Indy), who worked in 1:00.95. At Saratoga, Pletcher was asked about his promising juvenile The Leopard (Storm Cat), a $2.5 million two-year-old who broke his maiden going six panels in 1:09.80 at Saratoga Saturday (video). Pletcher said the colt will likely be pointed toward the GII Futurity S. at Belmont Sept. 15. "I thought it was a good race and his time was fast," said Pletcher of The Leopard's win. "I liked the way he finished up. It was a big effort."

Take D'Tour Works; Mach Ride to Vosburgh, BC Sprint:

Alice Muller's homebred Take D' Tour (Tour d'Or) worked a swift four panels in :47 3/5 at Calder yesterday morning and faces a showdown with Rags to Riches in her next scheduled start, the Sept. 8 GI Ruffian S. at Belmont Park. Runner-up in last year's Ruffian, Take D' Tour is unraced since successfully defending her title in Belmont's June 16 GI Ogden Phipps H., a win that pushed her career earnings past the million-dollar mark. Meanwhile, another Calder-based horse, Mach Ride (Pentelicus), winner of the GII Smile Sprint H. in July, exited his runner-up effort in Saturday's Turf Sprint Championship at Calder in good order. He remains on target for the Sept. 30 GI Vosburgh S. at Belmont Park and, his ultimate goal, the Oct. 27 GI Breeders' Cup Sprint at Monmouth. "He came back real good and we accomplished just about everything we had hoped for Saturday, except win," said trainer Steve Standridge. "The biggest thing was that we didn't have to ship, and it keeps him right on schedule to have one more start before the Breeders' Cup in the Vosburgh."

O'BRIEN PLANNING STRONG RAID ON YORK

Aidan O'Brien is set to invade York with a team of his biggest guns after he suggested that Dylan Thomas (Ire) (Danehill) and Peeping Fawn (Danehill) could return to action at next week's prestigious Ebor meeting. While the former may take in the G1 Juddmonte International S. alongside George Washington (Ire) (Danehill) in nine days time, the G1 Pretty Polly S., G1 Irish Oaks and G1 Nassau S. winner Peeping Fawn looks set to join Alexandrova (Ire) (Sadler's Wells) in the following afternoon's G1 Darley Yorkshire Oaks. "Peeping Fawn is in good shape since Goodwood and we are working towards York and the Yorkshire Oaks," the Ballydoyle conditioner told PA Sport yesterday. "She is also in the Juddmonte at York, but we have George Washington and Dylan Thomas as definite possibles for that." Of last year's Yorkshire Oaks heroine Alexandrova, O'Brien added, "She is coming on nicely and we plan to run in the Yorkshire Oaks, but it will be her first run in a year and she will come on a lot for it."

DANAK HAS CHAMPION OPTION John Oxx may run His Highness the Aga Khan's Danak (Ire) (Pivotal {GB}) in the G1 Irish Champion S. following his close-up sixth in Saturday's G1 Arlington Million. Following the four-year-old's effort in the Chicago feature, where he was beaten less than two lengths by Jambalaya, The Curragh-based conditioner is looking at the Sept. 8 10-furlong Leopardstown feature. "He's in the Champion S. at Leopardstown and he could possibly run in that," he told PA Sport. "He could also run in the G1 Hong Kong Cup [at Sha Tine Dec. 9] or something like that too." Oxx reflected on the homebred's trip in Saturday's highlight, adding, "There was no pace at all and he was held in by the horse on the outside. He never really got a good crack at it. He ran well and proved that he can run in this company."

AQALEEM OPTIONS OPEN Sheikh Hamdan bin Rashid Al Maktoum's Aqaleem (GB) (Sinndar {Ire}) has yet to be confirmed a definite runner in the Sept. 15 G1 St Leger, with plans still being discussed for the Shadwell homebred. Beaten a neck by Yellowstone (Ire) when carrying a penalty in the G3 Gordon S. at Goodwood last Tuesday, the G1 Epsom Derby third was touted as a contender for the Sept. 15 Doncaster Classic by trainer Marcus Tregoning, but Sheikh Hamdan bin Rashid Al Maktoum's Racing Manager Angus Gold suggested a "watching brief" yesterday. "Sheikh Hamdan hasn't confirmed that he will definitely run in the Leger and we'll wait and see how he is nearer the time," Gold said. "It has never been a wildly lucky race for him, so he might say keep him at shorter trips for now and he is a very physically immature horse and the Leger could be too much for him at this stage of his career. It is a watching brief and we'll make a decision nearer the time." Gold believes that Aqaleem was unlucky at Goodwood and blamed the pace scenario for that reversal. "Take nothing away from the winner, but they went a steady pace in the Gordon and [jockey] Richard [Hills] was a bit further back than he would have wanted to be and he is not a horse that can instantly quicken," he said. "Personally, I thought he would have won if he had been a bit closer, but Marcus is happy with the way he's come out of it."

Salut l'Africain has garnered minor prizes in four straight stakes contests including a brace of seconds in the July 14 Listed Prix Roland de Chambure at Longchamp and Listed Prix des Jouvenceaux et des Jouvencelles at Vichy last time Aug. 1. Stepping up from the role of apprentice to become the master here, he claimed a personal best with a deserved first black-type win in his 10th visit to the track. Racing last of the six runners after an indifferent break, Salut l'Africain was angled to the stands rail for his challenge with 300 meters remaining and kept on strongly under a drive to deny crowd choice Mousse au Chocolat nearing the line. "This is a great moment for me, as Francois Boutin was a very close friend of mine," trainer Robert Collet commented. "[Salut l'Africain] was not too lucky last time and will be even better on softer ground, so he might go for the G3 Prix la Rochette [at Longchamp Sept. 9] next time."

Positioned second for much of this marathon, he was pushed along off the home turn to seize control with 350 meters to go and stayed on in style for the score. "This is a very decent horse who will be oriented toward group races for staying three-year-olds now," conditioner Andre Fabre said. "I think he will be even better in softer conditions and the G3 Prix de Lutece [at Longchamp Sept. 7] will probably be next and then the G2 Prix Jean Chaudenay [at Longchamp Oct. 6]."
