LAST WEEKEND, LANE'S END STALLIONS WERE REPRESENTED BY 6 STAKES WINNERS AND HAD A 1-2-3 FINISH IN THE BATTLEFIELD S. AT MTH

EIGHT ENTERED IN SWAPS

A field of eight sophomores has been entered as the the three-year-old season kicks back into gear in Saturday's GII Swaps S. at Hollywood.

Advice Horsphotos

WinStar Farms' Advice (Chapel Royal) is the lone Triple Crown veteran in the field, having run 13th in the May 2 GI Kentucky Derby. The dark bay colt, who punched his ticket to the Derby with a win in the Apr. 18 GII Coolmore Lexington S., will break from post six Saturday for trainer

Todd Pletcher. Conservative (Unbridled's Song), second behind Advice in the Lexington, exits a fourth-place finish over a sloppy track in Belmont's June 5 GIII Hill Prince S. The Phipps homebred will leave from the rail as trainer Shug McGaughey sends out a second Californian graded stakes starter in as many weeks. Bob Baffert saddles Misremembered (Candy Ride {Arg}), who is coming off a runner-up effort behind Grazen (Benchmark) in the June 20 GIII Affirmed H. (brisnet pps)

DOWN BUT NOT OUT AS JRHA CONCLUDES

Although overall results for the three-session Japan Racing Horse Association Select Sale at Northern Horse Park in Hokkaido declined by double digits--not helped by a chilling rain that dampened buyer enthusiasm yesterday--officials left the pavilion grateful that the numbers were not worse.

When Tuesdays and Wednesday's foal sessions were combined with Monday's surprisingly strong yearling session, gross totaled ¥7,612,600,000 ($80,132,632), which was down ¥2,074,000,000 ($21,831,579), or 21.4 percent, from last year's aggregate of ¥9,686,600,000 ($101,964,211). Gross was the lowest achieved at the JRHA sale since 2003, when there was no yearling session.

JRHA Vice Chairman Teruya Yoshida said he was pleased considering that the worldwide recession has battered Japan, the globe's second-largest economy after the United States, harder than North America, Europe and other regions.

"This is about what we had estimated from the beginning," Yoshida said. "So, the Japanese market wasn't too bad. We have made it through this storm."

Yoshida added that the two-day foal portion of the sale--which yielded gross of ¥4,913,200,000 ($51,717,894), down 33.1 percent from last year's ¥7,339,000,000 ($69,099,242)--performed better than he had feared. He emphasized his satisfaction that the clearance rate for the entire sale was 69.1 percent, just slightly less than last year's 70.7 percent.

"It is certainly a buyer-friendly market, and I am very happy to see my clients are happy with the horses they bought and happy with the price they paid. Once the clients are happy, I am happy," said Yoshida. Cont. p2

Nodas Land a Pair of Foals in Slow Finale...

Wednesday's session proved the bleakest of the week, reflecting the weather. After heavy downpours discouraged all but the hardest buyers from inspecting the foals with their dams during the typically inspiring pre-sale showing in a tree-lined field, 15 of the first 40 horses that entered the ring were reported as not sold. When the session ended about 5 1/2 hours after it was called to order, the buy-back rate had climbed to 39 percent.

The husband and wife team of Mizuki and Masahiro Noda, who have made their fortune with popular accounting software, injected their combined firepower into Wednesday's relatively anemic proceedings, buying Neo Universe (Jpn) (hip 409) and Deep Impact (Jpn) (hip 411) colts for ¥78 million ($821,052) and ¥76 million ($800,000), respectively. The Neo Universe colt, foaled Feb. 8, was the co-highest-priced offering of the session.

“My husband and I went to look at foals together before the sale, and I liked the Neo Universe colt the best, and my husband liked the Deep Impact colt the best. So, we are very happy to get both our favorite foals,” said Mizuki Noda, who chose the flashy colt with four white stockings produced by French Group 1 winner Lady of Chad (Ire) from the Shadai Farm consignment. Her purchase marked the highest price paid during the entire sale for an offspring of Neo Universe (Sunday Silence), who has sired two Japanese Classic winners this year from his first crop and who, through the end of June, ranked eighth on Japan’s General Sires List.

Masahiro Noda
M MacDonald

Meanwhile, Masahiro Noda's colt, a half-brother to 2007 Japanese champion juvenile Goshawk Ken consigned by Northern Farm, was produced by the unraced mare Allthewaybaby (Grand Slam), who was formerly owned by Ken and Sarah Ramsey. The Ramseys sold Allthewaybaby to Northern Farm owner Katsumi Yoshida for $500,000 after Goshawk Ken, who was named after Ken Ramsey, proved his mettle.

Masahiro Noda made the purchase under the corporate name of Danox Co. Ltd. and said he was ready to pay more for the handsome son of Deep Impact.

“When we visited Northern Farm, I thought this Deep Impact colt had outstanding quality--he was the best Deep Impact and the best horse at the farm,” Noda said of the brown youngster, who was foaled Feb. 14. “I thought he might sell for more than ¥100 million, so I am very happy to buy such a talented colt at this price.”

Trainer Yasutoshi Ikee, the son of Deep Impact's trainer Yasuo Ikee, advised Noda on the selection of the colt and eventually will train him.

Symboli Kris S. Colt Co-Tops Wednesday Session...

Hip 427, the first foal out of Group 1 winner Fusaichi Pandora (Jpn) (Sunday Silence), a dark bay colt by Symboli Kris S., also drew a co-session topping bid of ¥78 million, with the buyer listed as SR Corp. Co. Ltd. The individual behind SR Corp. was described as an established Japanese owner who did not want to be identified.

SR Corp. also was listed as the buyer of a striking colt from the first crop of 2007 Japanese Horse of the Year Admire Moon (Jpn) (End Sweep) out of Deep Impact's Grade III-winning half sister Veil of Avalon (Thunder Gulch) who sold for ¥43 million ($452,631), as well as two other foals.

On Tuesday, SR Corp. acquired attractive colts by Symboli Kris S. and Neo Universe for ¥56 million ($589,474) and ¥49 million ($515,789), respectively.

When the gavel fell for the last time Wednesday, 89 of 146 foals offered had been sold for a total of ¥1,839,500,000 ($19,363,157), which was down 35.8 percent from last year's comparable session. Average price was ¥20,668,539 ($217,563), which would be considered remarkable in any other part of the world, but was down 29.3 percent from the 2008 level.

During the JRHA's two foal sessions, 320 horses were offered and 207 were reported sold, yielding a buy-back rate of 35.3 percent, up from the 29.3 percent recorded last year. Combined with the yearling session, 476 horses were offered during the JRHA sale and 329 were reported sold, yielding an overall buy-back rate of 30.8 percent, up just slightly from last year's 29.7 percent.

Shadai Group, And Everyone Else...

With statistics markedly down in every category after Wednesday's conclusion of the Japan Racing Horse Association Select Sale of Yearlings and Foals, breeders and consignors across the nation were affected.

Yet there was near universal agreement that the Yoshida family, which has long dominated Japan's Thoroughbred industry, has fared much better than others. Horses offered by the Yoshidas' Shadai Group, led by Katsumi Yoshida's Northern Farm and Teruya Yoshida's Shadai Farm, were much more likely to be sold and to generate significantly higher prices than those offered by other consignors, even if pedigrees and conformation were comparable.

Teruya Yoshida said the Shadai Group horses are, as a group, better prepared and have better credentials, often at the international Group 1 level. "Other consignors might be discouraged, but this is still the best place to sell if they have the right horse," he said.

The JRHA sale is Japan's premier market and is being shaped to attract international buyers in the future, but other consignors are feeling the pinch of Shadai's power in combination with the economic crunch.

"Obviously, it was a brilliant sale for the Shadai Group, but this is becoming an increasingly polarized market," observed Irish native Harry Sweeney, who owns Paca Paca Farm on the island of Hokkaido and holds a Japan Racing Association license. While the overall buy-back rate for the two foal sessions of the sale was reported at 35.3 percent, Sweeney said he had calculated that the buy-back rate for all other consignors was 55 percent.

What he said is "the real crisis" in Japan is a dearth of owners to buy the horses that breeders are producing, and he urged the JRA to take action to recruit more owners.

As to his more personal reaction to the sale, during which Paca Paca sold one of its four yearlings offered and five of its 11 foals, Sweeney said, "We have bread for the year, but no jam."

Nearly half, or 45 percent, of the 536 horses catalogued were from the Shadai Group, noted breeder Yukio Shimokobe of Shimokobe Farm, which encompasses about 100 broodmares in the Hidaka area of Hokkaido. While in the past, buyers often tried to equalize their purchases from Shadai and non-Shadai consignments, this year, it was evident they were sticking more with what Shimokobe called the "established brand" of the Shadai Group due to the challenging economy.

The Shadai Group also took action to set lower reserve prices than in the past to stimulate buyers, he said, making it even more difficult for non-Shadai operations to compete.

Of the two yearlings Shimokobe offered, one was sold, and of the seven foals, four were sold. But he said stoically that he was expecting such numbers and that they were "acceptable," adding, "I have to work in this industry, so I have to hope it will get better."

Runnymede Farm of Paris, Kentucky, was another consignor affected this year. Runnymede offered two filly foals and sold one, a daughter of Deep Impact, who brought a bid of ¥15 million ($157,894) on Wednesday from banker Kuniyoshi Hayashi.

Runnymede General Manager Martin O'Dowd said that, after a strong yearling session on Monday, he hoped the foal sessions would be livelier than they were. But O'Dowd said he was glad to have sold one of the fillies considering the Japanese market puts a high premium on colts.

Next year, Runnymede plans to sell a colt it withdrew from the foal sale and the filly that was not sold, both by 2008 leading sire Agnes Tachyon (Jpn), during the yearling portion of the JRHA sale. The farm currently has three mares in foal that are boarded at Shadai Farm, two that were covered by Agnes Tachyon and one by Fuji Kiseki (Jpn), and will aim the resulting foals at the JRHA foal sale. --Michele MacDonald

With Sunday Silence Gone, Market Dynamics Change...

Japan is undergoing a radical change in direction, shifting away from a buyer preference for foals to follow international standards that favor trade in yearlings and two-year-olds.

Okada of Big Red Farm
Michele MacDonald

Perhaps what is most remarkable about this shift is that a primary causative factor concerns legendary leading sire Sunday Silence, who topped Japan's General Sire Lists a remarkable 13 times and clearly continues to be a profound influence even though he died in 2002.

Shigeyuki Okada of Big Red Farm, who campaigned 1993 Horse of the Year Kotashaan (Fr) and currently stands G1 Dubai World Cup winner

Roses in May, suggested that the trend away from foal sales is being determined by buyers who have found it difficult to select horses with strong racing potential when they are just foals.

"When Sunday Silence was active, people found it quite easy to pick up young foals that turned out to be successful, and they tried to buy good foals by Sunday Silence as early as they could," Okada said during Wednesday's session of the JRHA sale. "After Sunday Silence died, it's not as easy to find a good racehorse by picking among foals--it's easier with yearlings and two-year-olds.

"The death of Sunday Silence might change the entire character of the market in this country," he added. "The trend is set by the buyers. If the yearling market is strong, as it was on Monday, we want to sell at the yearling part of the sale, not the foal part."

NTRA REPORT FROM CAPITOL HILL

IMMIGRATION REFORM BILL POSSIBLE THIS FALL

Senator Charles Schumer (D-NY) predicted that by Labor Day an immigration reform bill may be ready for the Senate to consider.

Schumer looks to draft legislation that will concentrate on highly skilled immigrant workers rather than those with a lower skill set. He also expects this bill to help deter illegal immigration in years to come.

The issue of illegal immigrants will be a key component of any new legislation. Similar to many other Democrats and moderate Republicans, Schumer wants a bill that provides a path to citizenship for illegal immigrants. Some hard-line Republicans believe they drain the country's resources and would support their deportation.

Both chambers of Congress ultimately may tackle immigration reform before year's end. House Speaker Nancy Pelosi (D-CA) indicated that she has hope the issue also will be considered by the House in 2009.

Despite Senate Democrats' desire to lead the debate on immigration reform, they will have to overcome the White House's top priority of health care reform.

For more information contact Joe Bacigalupo, director of membership development, (800) 792-6872, ext. 677 or visit www.SupportHorseRacing.org.

Even though he has been very successful in racing, Okada conceded he finds it "very, very difficult" to choose prospects from foals, and that other buyers must feel the same way, particularly now that there is no predominant sire like Sunday Silence, whose offspring generally were so successful.

Another change cited by Okada, who said Japan is rapidly approaching elite global standards with the quality of its horses and sales--particularly now that it is moving away from foal sales--is that Japanese stallions (at least those by Sunday Silence) may have become superior to their counterparts in other areas of the world. "I think the sons of Sunday Silence are the top quality in the world." --Michele MacDonald

STRONG HOPE TO WINDING OAKS FARM

Strong Hope (Grand Slam--Shining Through, by Deputy Minister) will relocate from Claiborne Farm to Eugene Melnyk's Winding Oaks Farm in Ocala, Florida, for the 2010 breeding season. Melnyk purchased Strong Hope for $1.7 million out of the 2001 Fasig-Tipton Saratoga yearling sale. The nine-year-old stallion won the 2003 GI Jim Dandy S. and GI Dwyer S. and was third in that year's GI Travers S. He was second in the GI Carter H. and third in the GI Metropolitan H. in 2004 and retired to Claiborne for the 2005 breeding season. Strong Hope's first crop, now three-year-olds, includes 24 winners from 46 starters. He is the sire of stakes winner Trophy Collector. "We have a number of promising young horses by him, and we're very excited about his long-term prospects and by the opportunity to offer a horse of this standing to local breeders," said Phil Hronec, who manages Melnyk's racing and breeding operation. No stud fee has been announced for 2010.

WIN WILLY BACK ON WORK TAB

GI Rebel S. winner Win Willy (Monarchos) returned to the work tab last Thursday for the first time since suffering a hairline fracture in the week before the May 2 GI Kentucky Derby. The gray colt worked three furlongs in :38.40 at Arlington July 9. Win Willy upset Old Fashioned (Unbridled's Song) at odds of 56-1 in the Rebel and returned to run fourth in the Apr. 11 GI Arkansas Derby. He was declared out of the Derby hours before entries were taken.

Olde Glamour needed six tries to break her maiden, earning her diploma over the Aqueduct inner Mar. 15 before being put up to an allowance victory Mar. 29. The Lizza homebred had been runner-up in each of her previous four starts, including the May 13 Deceit S. and back-to-back state-bred allowance tests May 28 and July 3. Three times the price of anything else in this field, the chestnut set a pressured pace, but looked in deep water at the quarter pole, as Slam the Cat was switched out for her challenge. Still narrowly in front at the eighth pole, she edged away late to post the upset. Click for the brisnet.com chart or the video, sponsored by Taylor Made.

Sent off at nearly twice her morning-line quote of 3-1, the homebred filly argued the pace inside of Datt Echo (Stormy Atlantic), edged clear while racing erratically in upper stretch, then straightened away to score by four lengths. Je Ne Sais Quoi (Elusive Quality) was second, while Taboo (Forestry) was steadied at the eighth pole and beat two home as the 9-5 chalk. Lifetime Record: 1-1-0-0, $25,800. HR/TVG ALWAYS MINE (Mineshaft), bred to stay 10 furlongs and beyond, gets his career started over this abbreviated distance. A homebred for Irving Cowan and his late wife Marjorie, the dark bay is a produce of Love Always (Saint Ballado), an unraced half-sister to several talented horses to wear the Cowan red and blue, most prominently GSW Love That Jazz (Dixieland Band). She is in turn the dam of MGISW Society Selection (Coronado's Quest). Saint Eligius (Saint Liam) debuts for Mr. & Mrs. William K. Warren Jr., who campaigned the colt's sire to Horse of the Year honors in 2005. The dark bay, a half to SW & GSP Guana (Fr) (Sillery), hails from the extended family of A.P. MUCH THE BEST (c, 3, Forestry--Just Fun, by Dehere) earned a 94 Beyer Speed Figure for a runner-up effort at Belmont Park May 16, but was no better than a distant third in an optional claimer on the Belmont S. undercard June 6. Making his first start since being transferred from the barn of Mike Hushion, the bay colt rated inside off the pace and was steadied sharply approaching the far turn. He was able to get off the fence in upper stretch and stayed on determinedly for a 3/4-length victory over Footcandles (Speightstown) as the 4-5 favorite. Del Mar to Offer Fans 'Polycapping':

Del Mar is offering fans access to a database of statistics and trends based on data gathered from the track's first two years with a Polytrack surface. "This raw data can be used by handicappers as another tool in their pursuit of winners at Del Mar," said Walker McBride, broadcasting and development manager at Del Mar. "They can take the data and put it to whatever use they want as they try to find more winners." The idea of polycapping came from Keeneland, which created its own database in 2008. Del Mar collaborated with the Kentucky to create its data, which appears on a sortable spreadsheet and is available free on the track's website www.delmarracing.com.

Providing more than 3,600 square meals a day is only a small part of what we do...

The TRF has created a proven model for successful retirement through adoption, corrections based vocational training, therapeutic riding, equine assisted therapy programs and, if necessary, humane euthanasia.

We have made huge strides in our mission over 25 years, but there is still much to do and funding needed to achieve our goals.

Make your gift today and help us continue to provide square meals and much, much more.
