CONVEYANCE PASSES TWO-TURN TEST

★ "TDN Rising Star" ☆ Conveyance (Indian Charlie), a recent private purchase by Sheikh Rashid Al Maktoum's Zabeel Racing, kept his perfect record intact with a 1 3/4-length tally in his two-turn bow in the GIII San Rafael S. at Santa Anita yesterday. Favored at 1-5, the gray broke like a shot and led quickly through easy fractions of :24.45 and :48.56. Challenged along the inside by Cardiff Giant (Yankee Gentleman) on the turn for home, Conveyance began to shake clear from that one in the stretch, and powered clear late despite racing greenly.

ZENYATTA TO RACE IN 2010

Undefeated Zenyatta (Street Cry {Ire}--Vertigineux, by Kris S.), winner of the GI Breeders' Cup Classic in November and a Horse of the Year finalist for the second straight year, will race in 2010, owner Jerry Moss confirmed yesterday. Connections announced they were retiring the mare, now a six-year-old, after she picked up her 14th-straight victory in the Classic, but a trio of workouts at trainer John Shirreffs' base at Hollywood Park--including a :48 four-furlong move Jan. 6 most recently--fueled speculation that her racing career wasn't over. There is no need to speculate any longer. "We were at the track this morning, and [my wife] Ann and I were watching her jogging," Moss told HRTV. "She seemed so radiant. So we said, 'Let's run her.'" All but one of Zenyatta's 14 victories have come over synthetic surfaces in California, and the G1 Dubai World Cup--now worth $10 million--will be contested over the all-weather for the first time in 2010, but Moss responded coolly when asked if a trip to Meydan was in the cards for the mare. "Not sure if we'll make the trip," Moss said. "We're open to all kinds of races, but we'll take it race by race."

“They went slow today and this horse wants to roll up front,” trainer Bob Baffert offered. “The track was a concern for [jockey] Garrett [Gomez] and me. Later in the day, it’s much faster. He did get a little tired today, but I didn’t get a chance to work him a mile. I thought he was good enough to win this without working him too far, and he was. It was a nice effort and he wasn’t blowing that hard when he came back.” Conveyance opened his account with a 1 1/2-length victory at Oak Tree Oct. 31, and closed out his juvenile campaign with an eye-catching six-furlong allowance score at Hollywood Park Nov. 25. Gomez added, “Speed really hasn’t been doing too well on this track, so I was hoping I didn’t get too much pressure early. I came off the fence going down the backside and I decided to leave it open going to the far turn because I didn’t want my horse to be down on top of the fence with another horse pressing me. He got a little tired the last sixteenth and he switched back to his left lead. This race was a good learning curve for him.” Click for the brisnet.com chart or the brisnet.com PPs. Zenyatta to Race in 2010 cont.

Zenyatta and GI Preakness S. heroine Rachel Alexandra (Medaglia d'Oro) are the two finalists for Horse of the Year, which will be announced Monday at the Eclipse Awards dinner in Beverly Hills, California. “It had nothing to do on whether she is Horse of the Year or not,” Moss said. “If she’s Horse of the Year, she’ll run as Horse of the Year and if she’s not, she’ll run as not Horse of the Year...It was very emotional when I retired her, because I thought she absolutely did as much as any horse could do in their career. But I love racing and also I believe racing needs stars, and we’ve got one. I love to see her run. She’s healthy and well and I think she’s going to carry on very well.”

Gulfstream Park Turf H. "We had hoped to see Einstein win this race for the [second] time, and were looking forward to letting him continue to run for as long as he was competitive," said Adena Springs President Andy Stronach. "Einstein loved to run. He had an amazing career, winning five Grade I races and nearly $3 million in his five years on the track. He's the kind of horse you hope to have in your stable, and the kind of horse fans love to see race. We're saddened to see his racing career come to an end, but we're looking forward to having him join our stallion roster in Kentucky." Einstein captured the Gulfstream Park BC S. on the dirt in 2006; the Gulfstream Park BC Turf S. in 2008 and the Woodford Reserve Turf Classic in 2008 and 2009; and the Santa Anita H. on synthetic in 2009. In his latest outing, he was third, beaten just a half-length, in the Nov. 27 GII Clark H. He retires with a record of 30-11-4-4 and earnings of $2,945,237. His 2010 stud fee has not yet been determined.

Royal (Fr). If not at the track, he's probably at a studio somewhere. He is a four-time Emmy Award winner who was the executive producer of Hill Street Blues and NYPD Blue and the creator, writer and executive producer of the HBO series Deadwood.

In his latest project, Milch has brought his passion and his profession together. Milch and filmmaker Michael Mann have begun work on "Luck," a drama about horse racing and the people who make the typical racetrack such a fascinating place. The series will air on HBO and Milch will be its executive producer.

The lead character is named Ace Bernstein. He has recently been released from jail for securities violations and, once freed, heads straight to the racetrack.

The Thoroughbred Daily News recently caught up with Milch and got his thoughts on Luck, owning horses and why the sport is such a big part of his life?

A series about horses, is that something you've long wanted to do?

Only for about 35 years. I literally started working on a racetrack show around 1975, something like that.

What took you so long?

Some stories take longer to filter their way through our defenses than others.

Several reports about the show have mentioned that it will be as much about racetrack characters as racing itself. One report said that the show would be about "horse racing culture." What, exactly, does that mean?

It has plural meanings. The world of horse racing is a fully elaborated ecology. There's the backside, which couldn't be more different from what goes on in the clubhouse, the grandstand or at the ticket windows. This would hope to be an examination of the whole of that world.

Are any of the characters in Luck based on real life people that you have come across at the racetrack?

Mark Twain used to say every character in every story he ever wrote he met on the river. I suppose what I'd say is every one of these characters is based upon one or more than one person I've met at the track. We incorporate elements of every one, so, in that regard, they are based on real people. Whether they are readily recognizable as a single known personality, I would say no.

Tell us about the lead character, Ace Bernstein. Is he a typical racetrack character?

I don't want to get too far ahead of myself. If I could describe any one of these characters I probably wouldn't have had to write them. Henry James used to speak of the obstinate finality of every human being. I don't think it does justice to try to thumbnail these characters.

Horse racing isn't exactly mainstream or on the mind of the general public. For that reason, was this a tough sell to HBO?

No. I'm grateful that I've had a long relationship with the people at HBO and I have a little bit of history before I went to work at HBO. They are respectful. If it is something that has engaged my interest, they, at a minimum, will be polite about it. HBO is very hospitable to taking a refractive look at society rather than looking at it through a clear prism. I think you and I would agree that when you look at horse racing you are looking at the world through a certain angle. So the relative strangeness of it was in no way a problem with them. In fact, it was quite the opposite.

You work must be enjoyable. But a horse racing series...that must be, well, a lot of fun for someone like yourself. Is that the case?

I hope it's going to be an awful lot of fun, but I am realistic enough to know that not every day at the racetrack ends with people skipping happily through the flowers. With anything that is a passion, I think it's a passion because it accommodates a whole range of feelings, some of which are mutually exclusive. It's both love and pain. I would hope this will render the full spectrum of emotions. If you ask me whether I'm looking forward to it, I'm absolutely looking forward to it. Do I expect it to be fun? I'm not sure.

Let's go over some particulars. When do you start shooting? When will the first segment air?

Michael Mann is going to direct and to some extent the time and dates will be contingent on our casting and the availability of certain key actors. With that stipulation, I would say we would begin around March 15. Typically, the shooting itself would take about six weeks and the goal would be to go on the air the first of the year.

How does this work? Do you have a long-term deal with HBO, a one-year deal? Are they committed to a pilot only? For those of us who do not understand the ins and outs of the entertainment industry, explain how this works.

My contractual relationship with HBO is a multi-year relationship. Both parties have the opportunity to visit the particulars of the relationship after each project. So after we get done shooting this first episode, we'll sit down and decide if this is how they want me to occupy my time for the next several years. Was that adequately evasive?

The mandatory question: how did you get interested in horseracing?

My dad did take me to the races when I was five or six years old, but I wouldn't say it was a wholly joyful experience. I've had some dark experiences in which the racetrack was the setting. The bottom line is I love horse racing and I have a tremendous respect for the complexity of the world and its richness. But I would not say it's an unalloyed joy. Nothing that is worthwhile is.

Your first horse, Evening M'Lord, was a stakes winner. You claimed a horse named Awesome Daze and he won a Cal Cup race. You've had two Breeders' Cup winners. Did you ever start to think this was an easy game?

Never for a minute did I think it was easy. You and I both know that for every success there are dozens of failures. I have done my share of heavy lifting in the failure department. To me, the absolute measure of success or failure is not necessarily victory or defeat. One of my favorite horses was a horse named Marvin's Policy, who was not a very pretty horse and his conformation left a good deal to be desired and he never won any Breeders' Cups. The blessing of being involved with horses is that they exhibit qualities of character as well as personality. It's like a family member. You don't just love a family member on the day they win a prize. I've had a lot of really good horses and have been lucky in that regard, but that hasn't been the measure of my pleasure in being involved.

When it comes to horses, what do you have now?

Garbage. I got out of it pretty much. I did own a filly, Lady Lumberjack, who ran second in a couple of graded stakes this past season, but she's hurt. I'm not involved in it the way I used to be as an owner, although I would like to think I am more deeply involved than ever.

Why do you currently own so few horses?

I made a decision to cut way back on it a few years ago. I had a character in Deadwood who said if you want to hear God laugh tell him your plans. As things turned out, I haven't been completely out of the game, but I'm not in it like the way I used to be.

Your job is to create a terrific series that will draw viewers to HBO. But, in some regard, are you also hopeful that you will create interest in horseracing with Luck?

Absolutely. But I think of it in the context of the way the characters think about it rather than the way I think about it. I don't know anyone who is involved in horseracing in any serious way that doesn't care deeply about the game or the extent to which it germane or ought to be. Those are things that are part of the organizing story line of the series itself. I think anyone who sets out with a particular goal as a storyteller to change things in the world is kidding themselves. But I think it's a proper function of a storyteller, if he's serious about the world he's portraying, that certain of his characters are going to care about it in one way or another.

FIRST ANNUAL TDN READERS' CHOICE AWARDS

TIME IS RUNNING OUT!! Voting ends at midnight Sunday, Jan. 17!!

If you haven't yet, go to www.thoroughbreddailynews.com/members/awards and submit your votes--one vote per category for each subscriber. We will publish the award winners in the Jan. 22 edition of the TDN.

In addition, when you vote, you will be automatically entered into a drawing. We will draw five names from among those who participate, and the five winners of the drawing will receive either a framed 11x14 photo of a Sarah K. Andrew original--their choice of anything in Sarah's TDN gallery (to view the gallery, click here)--or a free full page ad in the TDN.

EVENING ATTIRE S.

Understatement won a pair of inner track optional claimers early last year before fading to seventh in the GI Carter H. over the Aqueduct main track Apr. 4. Last of four in the Frisk Me Now S. at Monmouth May 24, the bay was denied by a half-length in an optional claimer on the Jersey Shore July 4. He went to the shelf following a fifth at Monmouth at that level Aug. 14, and was second by a neck after setting the pace in a Laurel optional claimer Dec. 18 in his comeback bid. Part of a heavily-favored entry here as he looked to remain undefeated over this surface, Understatement cleared on the lead and set moderate splits of :23.53 and :47.19. He turned for home two lengths in front, and widened the margin under a drive in the stretch to easily account for stablemate Well Positioned. "There wasn't that much speed in the race, so we figured he would be out there, especially since that's been his best style at Aqueduct," said Jonathan Thomas, assistant to Todd Pletcher. "He's run some of his best races over the inner track. He'll stay here; we'll talk to Todd to see what he wants to do next." Click for the brisnet.com chart. The John Servis-trained filly was the 3-5 pick on this stretch out and came through for her backers, attending the pace early, opening up in the lane and just lasting by a neck over the rallying Dazzling Deborah (Untutable). DONT BLAME THE CAT (g, 3, Catienus--Notmyfault, by Belong to Me) was under wraps when he dusted New York-breds by 7 3/4 lengths on debut at Aqueduct Nov. 7. Facing winners and trying two turns for the first time in the Big A's Damon Runyon S. for statebreds Dec. 6, he contested the pace for six furlongs before fading to finish fourth by 5 3/4 lengths. Looking to get back on track here, the 1-10 favorite stumbled badly at the start but quickly recovered to stalk the dueling pacesetters in third. The heavy chalk ranged up three wide on the upper turn to forge to the lead, and was driven home to post a 2 3/4-length victory. Click for the brisnet.com chart. Quiet Harbor cleared her allowance conditions in a trio of starts at Monmouth in July, August and September and belied her 10-1 odds to win the GIII Violet S. at The Meadowlands Oct. 10. Again a double-digit longshot looking to run her skein to five, she sat off the pace, then came on in the lane to post the $37.40 mutuel. "Going into the race I thought it was about as tough a stakes for this group end-to-end from one to thirteen that you'll see," said winning trainer Shug McGaughey. "Part of that may be that they cancelled the My Charmer at Calder, which we were planning to run in, so they all ended up in here. The races at Monmouth Park fit well for her to run through her conditions last year while building up her confidence. Eddie [Castro] has ridden her well in all of her races, and she had to come through a little trouble today. It was a very good race off the layoff. The Suwannee River [Feb. 6] is the next race for this group here. But off the lengthy layoff, it might be a little too close. We'll find something for her here a little later." Nordic Truce made his first start going a mile over Calder's lawn Nov. 15 and, after a slow start, rallied to a smart 4 1/2-length win. At the back of the pack in this black-type bow as the leaders cut out a very fast pace, Nordic Truce was still cabooing the field as they turn for home, but he powered between rivals in deep stretch and was up to take it. "There was a lot of pace to sit behind," said winning jockey Julien Leparoux. "I was just patient, and when I could find a hole he just went through with no problem. He's a real nice horse. He's still a little green and has a lot to learn, which is good because that means he can get better. He's still learning. And hopefully he will learn fast." Said winning trainer Christophe Clement. "He was very impressive breaking his maiden in his first start. Obviously this was an ambitious spot for his second race. I don't have anything in particular in mind for his next start. Hopefully, he will have a long successful career ahead of him." Click for the brisnet.com chart. Video, sponsored by Taylor Made.

Pinckney Hill won at first asking over this course last January, then rallied from well back to take a first-level allowance at Belmont May 20 in a  "TDN Rising Star"  performance. He completed the exacta in his first black-type test in Belmont's Don Jack S. at Belmont July 1, then was given a breather before returning to finish a close-up fourth in an optional claimer at Belmont Oct. 11. Returning to the site of his first win, the homebred attended a slow place, forged to lead in upper stretch and held well over Picou. Click for the brisnet.com chart. TODD GOT EVEN (h, 5, Stephen Got Even--Tomisue's Gold {SP}, by Seeking the Gold) was second in a $35,000 claimer at Belmont Oct. 21 and ended his 2009 campaign with a distant third in a salty Aqueduct allowance Nov. 11. Backed at 7-2 here in his first start as a five-year-old, the homebred was never far back as he settled in fourth up the backstretch run. He was pushed along to draw closer nearing the quarter pole, and wore down the favorite Obligingly (Officer) in the stretch to get up by a neck. Click for the brisnet.com chart. Indy), MGSP, $234,652, went missing off an eighth-place finish over Gulfstream's sod last April for trainer Bill Mott. Moved to Marty Wolfson's barn, the Gann homebred returned here at Hallandale in a six-furlong dirt sprint and ran well as the 2-1 favorite, setting the pace and just failing by a neck when second. The 4-5 choice stretching out, Causeway's Kin was up to press from an inside position, then asserted in the stretch and drew off to win by 3 3/4 lengths. ROYAL EXPRESS (c, 3, Royal Academy--Deposit Express {SW}, by Deposit Ticket), a half to Magnetic Miss (Artax), MSW, $459,566, came off a maiden win at Hawthorne to place second in the Sunpower S. for statebreds Oct. 31. Well beaten when shipped down to Fair Grounds for the Dec. 19 Sugar Bowl S., the Richard Rudolph homebred rebounded here over a rain-soaked track. The bay, an 8-1 outsider, raced up to set the pace, rebuffed the challenge of Magic Max (Yes It's True) and held that foe safe by 1 3/4 lengths. SONAR (c, 3, Officer--It's an Echo, by Eastern Echo) flashed speed in her first two starts, but was unable to put it all together until yesterday's effort. The homebred was a tiring fourth at Delaware Park Oct. 26 in his unveiling, then chased home eventual Spectacular Bid S. winner A Little Warm (Stormin Fever) to be runner-up at Philly Park Nov. 23. Off at 8-1 here in his sophomore debut, the chestnut raced off the pace in fourth early before making smooth headway on the bend. New Chairman for CHRB:

The California Horse Racing Board elected a new chairman Friday night, appointing Thoroughbred owner Keith Brackpool to the post. He replaces John Harris, who was not up for reelection, and has indicated he will be leaving the CHRB in the near future. Brackpool was added to the CHRB in September by Gov. Arnold Schwarzenegger. The 52-year-old is co-founder, president, CEO and chairman of the board of Cadiz Inc., a renewable resources company based in Los Angeles.

Jerry Moss may have received today's headlines after announcing Zenyatta (Street Cry {Ire}) would compete in 2010, but it was his business partner Herb Alpert who was triumphant here as the owner of Ranger Heartley. Claimed by these connections for $32,000 out of a 4 1/2-length maiden score at Del Mar Sept. 2, the dark bay was fourth in a starter allowance at Oak Tree Oct. 1 in his first start against winners. He made every pole a winning one when running away to a 12 1/4-length victory at that level in Arcadia Oct. 21 in his first start around two turns, then was third in an Nov. 4 Oak Tree allowance won by California Derby rival Connemara. The claimbox acquisition entered this spot off a 1 1/4-length gate-to-wire allowance score at Hollywood Park Nov. 27. Ranger Heartley shot to the lead here before slowing the tempo, setting tepid splits of :24.20, 49.90 and 1:14.37. Three opponents lined up to offer their challenges at the eighth pole, but Ranger Heartley rebuffed them all while racing erratically. Both Connemara and Thomas Baines ran on well despite breaking tardily. Click for the brisnet.com chart. Video, sponsored by Taylor Made.

BILL FINLEY'S
THOROUGHBREDS

SURFACES

It's a new and challenging era in American racing. The installation of the new synthetic racing surfaces at several North American racetracks has created a variety of new handicapping riddles, which have left even the most seasoned and expert players scratching their heads.

"Bill Finley's statistical analysis and interviews with racing insiders about the sport's newest surface will benefit all horseplayers."

THIS DATE IN HISTORY...

January 19, 1918...Pan Zareta, nicknamed "Queen of the Turf," dies of pneumonia in her stall at Fair Grounds and is buried in the track's infield.

January 19, 1955...Swaps won the San Vicente S., the first race of his three-year-old campaign, by 3½ lengths at Santa Anita Park. He went on to triumph over Nashua in the Kentucky Derby, but was in turn defeated by his rival in a $100,000 match race at Washington Park on Aug. 31, his only loss that year.

January 20, 1972...Secretariat was shipped from Virginia to Florida to be trained by Lucien Laurin.

January 20, 1979...Odds-on favorite Affirmed, with Steve Cauthen aboard, finished second in the San Fernando S. at Santa Anita, beaten 2 3/4 lengths by Radar Ahead. It was their fourth consecutive defeat. Cauthen subsequently lost the mount on Affirmed to jockey Laffit Pincay, Jr., who rode the horse for the remainder of his four-year-old season, winning seven victories in as many starts. Affirmed was later voted Horse of the Year for 1979. Cauthen had ridden Affirmed to a Triple Crown sweep the previous year and the pair recorded 11 wins in their 16 races together.
