ALL THAT GLITTERS AT FASIG

The second and final day of the Fasig-Tipton July Selected Yearling Sale concluded just as the first day did: with a yearling by Medaglia d'Oro topping the proceedings. The star of the finale was Airdrie Stud's hip 245, a homebred filly by the leading young sire who was knocked down to bloodstock agent Debbie Easter for $350,000. Easter was acting on behalf of Wick and Carter McNeely, the husband-and-wife team who have enjoyed success as the owners of GISW Funny Moon (Malibu Moon).

Debbie Easter

Easter, standing just below the bidding stand in the rear walking ring, was on her cell phone during the bidding while standing alongside an associate. There was little hesitation as she kept up the pressure on a rival located in the sale pavilion and, when bidding inside hit $335,000, she mouthed "350" to the bid spotter and landed the sale's second-highest-priced lot.

"We're very excited to get her," said a smiling Easter. "She's by Medaglia d'Oro and half to a Grade I-winning stallion; it's hard to get better than that, isn't it? He's the hottest sire around right now, and I didn't know if I was going to get her. That's about as far as I was going to go."

Easter said the filly was a standout physically. "She's got a big, huge walk," Easter said. "She's got a lovely neck and shoulder, and is just a nice filly."

"We're trying to slowly build a broodmare band," said Easter. "We're buying yearling fillies and approaching it that way, and we've had a little luck."

The four-year-old Funny Moon, purchased by Easter as an FTSAUG yearling for $175,000 in 2007, won last year's GI CCA Oaks added the GI Shuvee H. at Belmont May 15.

"Funny Moon was the first year we started on the program, and we've been buying a few yearling fillies a year," Easter said. "This year, we have three two-year-olds. We have a couple Malibu Moons, and a Mr. Greeley." F-T July coverage cont. p2

Steady Trade As Average Mirrors 2009 Figure...

Numbers at the July Sale roughly fell in line with last season's figures. The cumulative average of $75,780 was off just 2.5 percent, while the cumulative median was down a more substantial 9.1 percent. "I think it's a real similar market to what we had last year," commented Fasig-Tipton Chairman Walt Robertson. "The good horses sold well, but everybody's awful careful with their money right now. And it's not just at the bottom [of the market]--people are careful right across the board. But if people brought a nice horse in here, they were rewarded."

Tuesday's opening session was hampered by a very high RNA rate of 37.1 percent (which didn't include private sales added to the stats yesterday). Wednesday's session RNA rate, by contrast, was 26.9 percent (which could also change dramatically; 11 private sales were added to the sheets yesterday). Regardless, that helped reduce the cumulative RNA rate to a manageable 28.7 percent. Last year's cumulative RNA rate was 36.8 percent (as reported immediately after the sale).

"The buyback rate was a lot better this year than last year," continued Robertson. "There are a lot of factors, one being there is a solid market out there for horses. And the other thing is the sellers might not be as aggressive on their reserves."

Fasig-Tipton President Boyd Browning was not putting too fine a point on it when he said, "Are we in the midst of a dramatic recovery? No. Are we in the midst of a dramatic downturn? If I had to describe the market in one word, it's solid."

He concluded, "I think we have reached some stability at a reduced level in the marketplace."

Park and Ride...

If ever there was a veteran of the sales ring, it's the mare High in the Park (Ascot Knight). She was a $26,000 KEESEP yearling back in 1995 and, over the next 13 years, would be offered at auction seven more times. It was her last visit--at the 2008 Fasig-Tipton November Sale--that generated the highest price, and that was due to the exploits of the top-class Divine Park (Chester House), who a few months earlier had won the important GI Met Mile. That sire-making race, in addition to the considerable exploits of his late sire, stamped Divine Park as a desirable stallion prospect. Three weeks before the November Sale, it was announced that Divine Park would commence stallion duties at Breton Jones's Airdrie Stud near Lexington, and so it made some sense when Jones went to $205,000 to acquire High in the Park.

“We had just gotten the deal done on Divine Park when we got the mare carrying this filly,” explained Jones’s son Bret. “We knew what a good family we were buying into, and we certainly were speculating what Medaglia d’Oro could become. But he’s certainly gone beyond all expectations.” The resulting offspring lived up to her end of the deal, as well, said Bret Jones.

“She did everything right,” he said. “Four days into the sale, she was walking like the first day. And she’s just been great to be around. She’s very classy, keeps her ears pricked the entire time and is very intelligent. She’s very correct up front, and is exactly what you’re looking for from a nice Medaglia d’Oro filly from that sort of family. She did everything we asked her to do, the stallion did everything we asked him to do, and Divine Park has done everything we asked him to do. We’re very happy.”

The filly hails from the immediate family of the Grade I-winning sisters Sardula (Storm Cat) and Imperial Gesture (Langfuhr).

Asked about the price, Jones added, “In this market a couple of years ago, like a lot of these horses, there probably would have been more high fives. But we’re absolutely thrilled with $350,000. And we’re glad she got into the right hands; she’ll have every chance.”

Meanwhile, Jones reports that Divine Park’s first foals, who hit the ground this spring, are getting favorable reviews.

“We could not be happier with his weanlings,” he said. “Divine Park was a horse we followed on the racetrack for a long time, and we have a great relationship with Jim Barry, who campaigned him. That obviously led us in the direction of the mare--our understanding of how talented Divine Park was. And his foals look great.”

The six-year-old Divine Park stood the 2010 season for $10,000 (stands and nurses).

Earning a Gold Star...

The day’s second-highest-priced horse was hip 231, yet another yearling by Medaglia d’Oro. A colt produced by MGSP Future Act (Known Fact), the bay was sold to trainer-turned-bloodstock agent Frank Brothers, acting on behalf of Starlight Partners, for $230,000. Craig and Holly Bandoroff’s Denali Stud consigned the colt, who was bred by Randal Stutes.

Stutes purchased Future Act, with this fellow in utero, for $35,000 at the 2009 Keeneland January Sale.

Hip 231 is a half to the black-type winners Cliffy’s Future (The Cliff’s Edge) and Immediate Reaction (Cozzene).

“We’re happy,” Craig Bandoroff, who was joined by son Conrad and daughter Katherine in the rear walking ring, said afterwards. “That’s a good price for any horse. You always want more, but that’s a fair price, and he’ll get a real good home. When you have a nice horse, you want people you respect to buy them from you. And I have all the respect in the world for Frankie and Jack [Wolf, Starlight partner]. He’ll go on and be treated right.”

Next generation at Denali Stud: Conrad & Katherine Bandoroff

Asked about the opening session’s high 37.1 percent RNA rate, and whether he thought sellers weren’t being realistic enough about reserves, Bandoroff said, “Well, I think you’ll have to look at the whole thing tomorrow. That first sire thing was tough, and it’s not always the case of wanting too much--sometimes there’s just no one there. You couldn’t sell it even if you wanted to. I think people are being pretty realistic. You just have to hit the bulls eye, and it’s getting tougher to hit. If you have what they want, there’s money there. But it’s getting tougher and tougher to meet the criteria.”

From $18K to $210K, A Nice Score for 'Terra' Team...

Emilie Fojan and Troy Rankin took a chance when they purchased the then-seven-year-old Minister's Destiny, in foal to Afleet Alex, at the 2008 Keeneland November Sale. The mare hadn't produced a live foal in since 2005, and Afleet Alex would be something of a proven commodity--good or bad--by the time the resulting foal made it to the yearling sales in 2010. All that meant that Fojan, who operates Bona Terra Farm in Kentucky, was able to sign the ticket for the daughter of Deputy Minister for just $18,000. Since then, Minister's Destiny has an unblemished record in the breeding shed, and Afleet Alex has emerged as an exciting young sire, with Grade I winner Dublin and graded winners Afleet Express and Afleet Again to his credit. And that set the table nicely for hip 297, the Afleet Alex colt out of Minister's Destiny, when he entered the ring yesterday at July. He duly rewarded his connections' faith and was hammered down to trainer Bruce Levine for $210,000. The colt, consigned by Bona Terra, is a grandson of Grade I winner Andestine (Native Prospector).

While Rankin and Fojan own the mare in partnership and are listed as co-breeders on the bay, Fojan said that Rankin was the sole owner of the colt.

"We own a few mares in partnership together," she explained, added that they'll divvy up the resulting foals.

Asked why she targeted Minister's Destiny as a broodmare, Fojan said, "I love Afleet Alex, and I love Deputy Minister mares. When I went to buy her, I thought I would have to spend $80,000, and we just stole her. She had some issues, but we got her right back in foal, and she had a beautiful Divine Park colt who's just a gorgeous weanling, and we bred her back to Afleet Alex, because this horse was so nice. He's totally like the sire--he's tenacious. He's a big, huge, stout thing.

He's a January baby, and he's already broke. He's going to be a nice horse. I train a few horses, too, and so I look for a very athletic horse. He was the kind of horse I wanted to keep!"

Afleet Alex had another good sale yesterday in the form of Hip 286, a filly by the Gainesway stallion out of the Maria's Mon mare Maria's Storm. Bred by Extern Developments and offered by Frankfort Park Farm, the chestnut was knocked down to Gainesway, which co-owned recent GIII Pegasus S. winner Afleet Again, for $130,000. The filly hails from the family of At the Half (Seeking the Gold), Lu Ravi (A.P. Indy) and Halfbridled (Unbridled).

A Bird in the Hand...

Bena Halecky, who co-owns the dam of last year's GI Kentucky Derby upsetter Mine That Bird (Birdstone), knows it's important to celebrate when things go right in this business. How else can you enjoy the rough-and-tumble life of the commercial breeder? To that end, the plucky Halecky was all smiles after watching hip 99 sell for $100,000 during Tuesday's opening session. A colt from the first crop of MGISW After Market (Storm Cat), hip 99 was hammered down to John McCormack Bloodstock.

"It was a great result," said Halecky of the Apr. 4-foaled dark bay. "Anytime you can get a multiple of the stud fee in this market, you have to feel positive and enjoy the moment when it happens."

Halecky and partners Chris Cahill and Phil Needham purchased the colt's dam, Promising Affair (Colonial Affair), for $75,000 at the 2008 Keeneland January Sale while in foal to Stormy Atlantic. Needham and Halecky later bought out Cahill. That resulting foal, now named Sea of Change, was bought back for $45,000 at last year's Keeneland September Sale.

"He had some vet issues and so we couldn't sell him, but he's at the track now in training," explained Halecky.

The partners also opted to buy back hip 99 when he was offered as a weanling at last year's Keeneland November Sale, where he RNA'd for $65,000. But things went smooth this time around for the colt, who was offered through the draft of Bona Terra Farm near Georgetown.

"He was a real handsome horse," said Halecky. "We've got our mares at Bona Terra Farm, and [farm owner] Emilie Fojan and her staff do such a great job."

Halecky, an executive at Proctor and Gamble, owns a share of about six to eight mares, most with Needham. Both avid cyclists, it was Needham who brought Halecky in on the mare Mining My Own (Smart Strike) back in 2008. Needham had bought out partner Bill Betz on Mining My Own at that year's Keeneland January Sale, paying $8,000 for the unraced mare, who was open at that point. Shortly after, he placed a call to Halecky, a neophyte to the game, and asked if she wanted to buy a piece of the mare. Fast forward to 2009, and Mining My Own's first foal, named Mine That Bird, is streaking under the wire at huge 50-1 odds. Halecky and Needham, returning from a bike race, stopped at a sports bar to watch the race, and were in near disbelief when they finally figured out, during the gallop-out, that it was Mine That Bird who was the horse in front by six at the wire.

Halecky and Needham will get their first chance to cash in on Mine That Bird's success at the Keeneland September Sale, when they offer an Even the Score half-brother to the Derby winner.

"I'm not a horseman, but he looks like a really nice horse," said Halecky.

Mining My Own foaled a Tapit filly this spring and is back in foal to Roman Ruler.

In the meantime, Halecky is enjoying her success at the July Sale and focusing on the positives.

"You have to readjust your expectations in this market," she said. "And celebrate when things go your way."

Juvenile Pinhookers Strong at Fasig...

Two-year-old consignors have always found the July Sale a prime spot to pick up prospects, and by our count, over 50 of the yearlings who sold at July went to known juvenile pinhooking ventures. And that number could well be higher. Ciaran Dunne signed for five, while Mike Akers' Dapple Bloodstock, who often sends its purchases back through the ring at two through Dunne's Wavertree Stables, landed another six. Other successful juvenile pinhookers on the docket included Nick de Meric (five purchases), Murray Smith (six) and Off the Hook (five).

While average and median may have been down a bit for the two days, Off the Hook's Joe Appelbaum didn't see much relief in the trenches.

"This is the sort of sale pinhookers like, because there are a lot of good individuals," he said. "But it's tough, because we're all fighting with each other, as well as end users who want good individuals, too. You'd better have some money to pay for 'em. Because you're not spending $25,000 or $30,000 and walking out of here with a good horse. It seems like there are a lot of horses in the $75,000 to $200,000 range, and, if you want the horse, you better have conviction and being willing to spend your money."

Ciaran Dunne said he thought the action was roughly the same as last year.

"Obviously, they've fallen off from the heyday," said Dunne. "But the pedigrees, more than anything, is the reason they're bringing what they are. For a while there, it didn't seem to matter what the pedigrees was. I think it's probably more realistic now."

Asked about his get over the past two days, Dunne responded, "I think we've bought a dozen or better in our group. We thought they were a real good bunch of horses, very good physically, and we thought they fit with the price parameters we set. We probably bought a couple more than we usually buy, but not too many. Fasig did a really great job screening these horses, so you come in here and it's pretty live through the whole catalogue."

Asked if he came to July with a game plan for next year's juvenile sales, Dunne said, "No. I'm not smart enough to have a game plan."

CORRECTION: Wednesday's TDN incorrectly listed the breeder of Hip 52, a Street Sense colt who sold for $250,000 during Fasig-Tipton July's opening session. He was bred in Kentucky by Masaichiro Abe. We regret the error.

RESULTS

KING OF PARIS

Bouncing back from a defeat when fourth in last month's G1 Prix du Jockey-Club at Chantilly, His Highness The Aga Khan's Behkabad (Fr) (Cape Cross {Ire}) helped bridge a 16-year gap for trainer Jean-Claude Rouget--last successful with Millkom (GB) in 1994--with a 3/4-length defeat of even-money favorite Planteur (Ire) (Danehill Dancer {Ire}) in yesterday's G1 Grand Prix de Paris at Longchamp. Keeping the leaders within range throughout, the 44-5 chance took over soon after turning for home, and resisted the persistent challenge of Jockey-Club runner-up Planteur inside the final quarter mile to win a shade cozily, with the pair five lengths clear of Jan Vermeer (Ire) (Montjeu {Ire}) in third. "Behkabad is undefeated at Longchamp and I hope he will remain so in the future," commented Rouget. "In the Prix du Jockey Club, which is more or less a race for milers nowadays, he was caught for speed and this is why, in my opinion, he could only finish fourth. Obviously, a mile and a half is his best distance."

Successful in a newcomers' event at La Teste de Buch last July, Behkabad doubled up in an Aug. 5 Deauville conditions heat before closing an unbeaten juvenile season in the G3 Prix des Chenes at this track Sept. 19. He lost his perfect record in the Apr. 1 Listed Prix Omnium II at Saint-Cloud, but bounced back to claim the May 10 G3 Prix de Guiche at Chantilly before being caught for toe when returning to finish fourth before the Chateau in the June 6 G1 Prix du Jockey-Club. Behkabad was positioned just behind the leaders in third from the outset of this Bastille Day celebration until easing into second just before the home turn. Seizing control with 450 meters remaining, he was joined by Jockey Club second Planteur approaching the final furlong and was ridden out in the closing stages to re-establish superiority as that rival charted an errant course. "It's obvious Behkabad has found his best distance, we always thought he'd do well over this trip and we had confirmation of that today," said racing manager Georges Rimaud. "The logical choice would be to now go for the [G2] Prix Niel [back here Sept. 12], and then go for the [Oct. 4 G1] Prix de l'Arc de Triomphe, for which he already holds an entry. We will have to talk to the Prince [Aga Khan] because we have many other possibilities for the Arc and we'll have to decide what is best for each horse." Reflecting on what might have been, trainer Elie Lellouche added, "Planteur came as though he was going to win the race, but hung badly left before being straightened [up] again. As he was beaten just 3/4 of a length, we can have some regrets. I don't know why he did that, but he also did it in the Jockey Club. We'll have to check him out, but the plan is to bring him back here for the Prix Niel." Alain and Gerard Wertheimers' supplementary entry Goldwaki (Ger) (Dalakhani {Ire}) failed by a whisker to hit the board, and their racing manager Pierre-Yves Bureau said, "There are no excuses, he ran a good race. It's just too bad he did not finish third." Click for the Racing Post chart or the free brisnet.com catalogue-style pedigree.

FROM THE BLOG "RIDING FOR THEIR LIVES"

LE TOUR DE PMU

In most other ways, Jean, 76, is a typical PMU player. He's a former worker at a Citroen automobile factory and lives in public housing. PMU clientele are primarily either working class or immigrant. Like many PMU players, Jean prefers playing the trotters because they race more frequently and you can follow their careers. It's the familiarity principle.

Jean concentrates on the Quinté races, which also function as a type of national lottery where you need to pick the first five finishers in order, for a huge payoff. The Quinté could be any of the three genres.

That means Jean will play the Tbreeds, the jumpers and the trotters. The popularity of the Quinté, broadcast live every day on a major TV station, assures that the Paris-Turf past performances are at virtually every news stand in the country ... not like the DRF, where you have to drive for miles to find an outlet.

This event lost some of its luster with the late defection of likely protagonist Purple Moon (Ire) (Galileo {Ire}), but Blek seized the opportunity to deliver a crushing blow to the opposition and register a career high. He was successful in five staying events last term, including the Listed Prix La Moskowa, the Listed Prix Scaramouche and the Listed Prix Denisy, and returned for this campaign with victory in the Apr. 13 Listed Prix Right Royal at Saint-Cloud. Blek recorded a first pattern-race win in the G3 Prix Barbeville at this track May 2, and was a creditable third in the G2 Prix Vicomtesse Vigier back here once more last time May 23. Settled in second for most of this stamina test, he was stoked up approaching the final quarter mile and powered clear with 350 meters remaining to score in decisive fashion. RACETRACK Round-Up

DIXIE UNION EUTHANIZED Lane's End stallion Dixie Union (Dixieland Band--She's Tops, by Capote) was euthanized Wednesday morning at Rood and Riddle Equine Hospital due to a deteriorating neurologic problem, according to a press release. The 13-year-old stallion stood his entire breeding career at Versailles, Kentucky, nursery. "We are extremely saddened by the loss of Dixie Union," said Lane's End's Will Farish. "He was a beautiful horse and a terrific young sire. We want to express our gratitude to the dedicated team of experts who helped care for him, as well as to his owners who entrusted us with him. He will be buried in the Lane's End cemetery." A son of graded-stakes winner She's Tops, Dixie Union was campaigned by his breeder Herman Sarkowsky in partnership with Diamond A Racing Corp., and was trained by Richard Mandella. The dark bay captured the GII Norfolk S., GIII Best Pal S. and GIII Hollywood Juvenile Championship S. in 1999. At three, he took the GI Malibu S. and GI Haskell Invitational H., and he entered stud in 2001 with a career mark of 12-7-3-0 and earnings of $1,233,190. Among his 33 black-type winners to date are Grade I winners Dixie Chatter and Hot Dixie Chick, as well as graded winners Gone Astray, Justwhistledixie and Grasshopper. In Europe, Dixie Union has been represented by Group 2 winners Sander Camillo and Homebound. His progeny have amassed $23,634,454 to date.

Dixie Union and trainer Richard Mandella

RAIL TRIP TO DUTROW Jay Em Ess Stable's Rail Trip (Jump Start) will move to trainer Rick Dutrow Jr. from the barn of Ron Ellis. The 🍀 "TDN Rising Star" 🍀, winner of the 2009 GI Hollywood Gold Cup, had a wide trip and settled for second by a half-length in his title defense of that event last Saturday.

2010 GI Hollywood Gold Cup finish

The five-year-old gelding has captured eight of his 12 career outings, including this year's GII Mervyn LeRoy H. and GII Californian S. "The plan was to run in the three races at Hollywood Park, win the Gold Cup, and go on to the Pacific Classic [at Del Mar]," co-owner MaceSiegel told Daily Racing Form. "For whatever reason, that plan went awry, and the horse isn't talking. Now, with the goal of running in the [GI] Breeders' Cup Classic at Churchill Downs [Nov. 6], I want to get him off the synthetic tracks and onto dirt. There has been no decision on how he will get there. That will be up to Rick, and I trust his judgment. He is part of the Siegel team, and this is a team move." Dutrow already has Jay Em Ess colorbearers Arson Squad (Brahms) and Boys at Tosconova (Officer) in his shedrow. Rail Trip was expected to arrive in Saratoga yesterday. "I don't have a plan for him at the moment," Dutrow told DRF. "I kind of want to get a feel for him, gallop him and see how things go as time goes by. Then we'll pick out a spot." Dutrow indicated that the GI Whitney H. at Saratoga Aug. 7 was not currently on Rail Trip's radar.

MACHO AGAIN OFF TO STUD West Point Thoroughbreds's Macho Again (Macho Uno--Go Donna Go, by Wild Again), who posted a landmark victory in the GI Stephen Foster H. and ran Horse of the Year Rachel Alexandra (Medaglia d'Oro) to a head when second in the GI Woodward S. last season, has been retired from the races and will enter stud in Venezuela, according to published reports. Winner of the Derby Trial S. and the GII Jim Dandy S. and runner-up to Big Brown (Boundary) in the GI Preakness S. at three, the grey rallied from well back to score in the GII New Orleans H. in March 2009 prior to his Foster success. He was also runner-up in the GI Whitney H. Bred in Florida by Milan Kosanovich, Macho Again retires with a record of 24-6-6-0 and earnings of $1,825,767.

NYRA CEASES USE OF DETENTION BARN Effective with the opening day of the Saratoga meeting Friday, July 23, the New York Racing Association will cease the use of its backstretch security barn. In its stead, NYRA will expand and further enhance its in-house drug-testing program utilizing state-of-the-art science, technology and procedural processes. The action comes on the heels of an outcry by New York horsemen, who threatened to boycott the entry box during the final days of the Belmont meeting. Officials at NYRA are confident that these new procedures, which include random out-of-competition testing, will serve as a sufficient deterrent to the use of performance-enhancing agents. NYRA is also set to institute an "in-today" policy which identifies in their stalls, all horses entered to run on a given program. NYRA was the first and only racing jurisdiction to make use of such a security barn, which mandated the arrival of all horses six hours prior to race time. Not only did it disrupt normal barn operations, according to several trainers, but it also impacted the behavior of several horses. "The out-of-competition drug testing program combined with the new assembly barn and 'in-today' procedures will provide NYRA with potent tools to confront today's challenges of detecting performance-enhancing substances and allow us to stay one step ahead of potential abusers," said NYRA President and CEO Charles Hayward. "The science empowering cheaters has changed since 2005, and these new procedures will ensure that NYRA's countermeasures keep pace in order to preserve the integrity of the sport."

AQUEDUCT CASINO ON HOLD AGAIN The bidding process for a casino at Aqueduct Race Track is on hold after a New York State Supreme Court judge issued a temporary restraining order, blocking any immediate activity, according to published reports. Aqueduct Entertainment (AEG) was announced earlier this year as the winner of the bidding process, but was later rejected on grounds that it was not "licenseable" for the casino. Another round of bidding was then commenced by the state, and three finalists were announced. However, just last week, the state Lottery, charged with overseeing the current process, tossed out two of those groups, stating they did not comply with the rules. Genting New York, a subsidiary of a Malaysian-based group, is the lone remaining entity eligible to run the casino, but AEG is seeking to have overturned the decision by the State Lottery that tossed the group out of consideration this spring. Supreme Court Judge Barry Kramer has approved a request by AEG for a July 23 hearing.

Winner of the 2005 GI Wood Memorial, Bellamy Road was campaigned by the Kinsman Stable of George Steinbrenner, who passed away Tuesday. "We were very pleased with the way she had trained," Todd Pletcher said of the winner. "She was a first-time starter who we thought would want a little more distance, and we caught an off racetrack. You're always concerned with how they are going to handle that, but she had trained like she was capable of winning first out. I think if she comes out of it well, a race like the [Aug. 15 GIII] Adirondack [at Saratoga Race Course] could be on our radar screen." Click for the brisnet.com chart. Announce shed maiden status at the expense of Ludiana in a newcomers' event for fillies over course and distance June 5, and made a smooth transition into black-type company by confirming form with that rival here. Positioned in rear until inching into fourth at half-way, she came under pressure to challenge at the two pole and quickened smartly, after taking time to find her stride, in the closing stages to retain her unbeaten record with a degree of panache. "Announce is a filly who won very well first time out and has strengthened up in the meantime," explained racing manager Lord Grimthorpe. "She's a late-maturing sort and is just getting better and better. The plan is to bring her back at Deauville for the [Aug. 12 G3] Prix Minerve."
