PANEL: SELL NJ TRACKS

The face of New Jersey racing could change dramatically if New Jersey Governor Chris Christie heeds advice offered by a panel he commissioned to study the state's racing and gaming industries.

Gov. Christie

Yesterday, the panel issued a report recommending that one or both of New Jersey's biggest racetracks, Monmouth Park and The Meadowlands, be sold or leased to private interests. The New Jersey Sports and Exposition Authority (NJSEA), an independent authority established by the state, currently owns and operates the tracks, but would effectively be disbanded should the recommendations be implemented. The report criticized the NJSEA for being a continual money loser and said, "Planning should begin immediately to divest the NJSEA of all responsibilities related to venue operations, including, in particular, the Meadowlands Racetrack, the IZOD Arena and Monmouth Park Race Track."

"I think the Sports Authority needs to get out of the business of running things, and needs to be a landlord," Christie said during a press conference at The Meadowlands, where he endorsed the panel's suggestions.

Among the report's proposals was selling The Meadowlands for a token $1 to harness racing interests, or using the facility for off-track betting with no live racing. Much of the report, issued by the New Jersey Gaming, Sports and Entertainment Advisory Commission, focused on the ailing casino industry in Atlantic City, which has suffered steep declines in recent years due to competition from nearby states. During the press conference, Christie made it clear that his focus was on Atlantic City. To that end, he echoed the report's rejection of slot machines at either The Meadowlands or Monmouth Park. "The state can no longer sustain the subsidy we give to the Standardbred industry and the racetrack here," Christie said. "If anyone thinks that gambling is a panacea, they are mistaken. Setting up competition inside the state is counterproductive to getting Atlantic City back on its feet."

NJSEA Release Statement...

Dennis Robinson, president and chief executive officer of the NJSEA, said in a statement, "Our management team will work with the Advisory Commission to create a new operating model for the Authority and its various lines of business. The implementation of these key strategies is in the best long-term interests of the sports complex, our customers, the state and our hard-working and dedicated employees. We have long advocated new solutions for our core business of racing, an important state industry. The Monmouth Park experiment this summer shows that there is a clear way forward with creative thinking and effective implementation of new strategies." Cont. p2

RACHEL FACES SIX AT MONMOUTH

Horse of the Year Rachel Alexandra (Medaglia d'Oro) will take on six overmatched rivals, including the appropriately named Ask the Moon (Malibu Moon), in the $400,000 Lady's Secret S. going nine panels at Monmouth Saturday. None of the six is a graded winner, and only two, Ask the Moon and Yes She's a Lady (Yes It's True), have stakes wins to their credit.

Stage Trick (Distorted Humor) is the only member of the field, other than the champ, with any graded black-type. The four-year-old set the pace in the GIII Obeah S. at Delaware Park June 12 before giving way grudgingly to be third.

NJ Horsemen Respond...

New Jersey horsemen were still reading over the report yesterday afternoon, but warned against jumping to conclusions.

“Just because someone puts a report together, doesn’t mean all the recommendations will be adopted,” said John Forbes, president of the New Jersey Thoroughbred Horsemen’s Association.

Forbes said he thought the closure of The Meadowlands, or at least the permanent discontinuation of a Thoroughbred meet, wasn’t necessarily a bad thing. One of the other recommendations made by the panel was the introduction of harness racing at Monmouth Park. As part of the agreement for Monmouth’s $1-million-a-day Elite Summer Meet, introduced this season, the 2010 Thoroughbred meet at The Meadowlands was called off.

“We don’t think it’s imperative,” Forbes said of Thoroughbred racing at the East Rutherford venue. “There are so many problems with running both breeds at the same facility. The surface is never safe for Thoroughbreds after the harness meet. And because of the fact that we were shipping up there anyway--we have to ship an hour to run--I don’t think anyone’s going to miss it.”

The report called for the possibility of 70 Standardbred dates at the track. Forbes added that he didn’t think the idea of a harness meet at Monmouth was realistic.

“It’s not only cost-prohibitive, but you’d have two harness tracks within 10 miles of each other,” he said, noting the close proximity of Freehold Raceway.

The biggest problem with the report, said Forbes, could simply be finding a buyer for the tracks, especially if slots are off the table and the state’s off-track betting operation isn’t packaged in the deal.

“Since all the neighboring tracks have purse support from slots, would you buy a racetrack that didn’t?” Forbes asked. “And would you buy a racetrack when the seller says, ‘I’ll sell you the racetrack, but I’m keeping the OTB system?’ I think you would need to package some of those things together.”

Last October's G1 Dewhurst S. fourth Steinbeck gets an opportunity to register a first pattern-race win, but faces stiff opposition here. He ran fourth in the G1 Irish 2000 Guineas at The Curragh on seasonal return May 22, and lines up here off an eighth in the G1 St James's Palace S. at Royal Ascot June 15. His main rival is Khalid Abdullah's Famous Name, who is ultra competitive at the level, but concedes a stone and more to the sophomores here. He is unbeaten this term and will go postward coming off scores in the Apr. 18 Listed Heritage S. and the May 9 G3 Amethyst S., both over a mile at this track.

Zoffany ran sixth in the G2 Coventry S. at Royal Ascot June 15, and will go postward as the likely favorite for this returning off a win in the Listed Golden Fleece S. over course and distance July 1. The main danger to Ballydoyle success is Triple Eight, who was a last out fifth in the Listed Rochestown S. at Cork June 13.

Mine That Bird Preps for Whitney...

Mine That Bird (Birdstone), who makes his next start in the Aug. 7 GI Whitney S. at Saratoga, worked a mile in 1:40.14 over the Oklahoma training track yesterday. Jockey Calvin Borel was in the irons. "I loved his work," trainer D. Wayne Lukas said. "It was a nice move; for a horse to work a mile in 1:40 on the training track--on any track--is pretty good, and he came home with good energy." As for why the extended distance of the move, Lukas explained,

"I think he needed a little more. He'll work one more time, and then it's time to dance the dance." The upset winner of the 2009 GI Kentucky Derby for trainer Chip Woolley, Mine That Bird was transferred to Lukas this spring. He made his 2010, and grass, debut in the July 4 GII Firecracker H. at Churchill and finished eighth as the betting favorite.

Darley 'Selling the Magic' Flying Start

The annual Darley Flying Start presentations were staged at the Kentucky Horse Park in Lexington Thursday, July 15. The trainees were required to pitch a racing-related story, suitable to be transformed into a Hollywood movie, with an audience of industry guests rating each performance. An innovative theme, combined with MC Kenny Rice's renowned wit, ensured an entertaining evening for all concerned. "I was delighted that the new venue and cinema were well received by the conference audience. The trainees' pitches stirred emotions, recalling some of the great American horse trainers and jockeys," stated course coordinator Clodagh Kavanagh.

The evening allowed each trainee to showcase their creative prowess and industry knowledge, in a light-hearted yet testing manner. After much deliberation, New Zealand's Victoria Leonard was awarded the Oscar for her pitch about Spectacular Bid. Kavanagh said that the "animated comedy went down very well, and Vicky was a most deserving winner."

The presentations, which will be available at www.darleyflyingstart.com, are highlighted below.

This year's trainees will arrive at their next post in New South Wales (Australia) Aug. 16. It's a far cry from Kentucky's Bluegrass, but the Hunter Valley promises to be a rewarding experience.

NTRA Annual Summit Set for December:

This year's National Thoroughbred Racing Association's Annual Meeting and Marketing Summit will be held in conjunction with the University of Arizona's Symposium on Racing and Gaming, set for Dec. 6-9. The Westin La Paloma Resort in Tucson will host the event. In addition to panels on marketing and promotions, legislative advocacy, the NTRA Advantage purchasing program and the NTRA Safety and Integrity Alliance, the Summit will also feature a Q & A session with NTRA President and CEO Alex Waldrop. It is free to those registered for the Symposium. "Tucson has established itself as the location where the greatest percentage of industry participants gather to conduct business and share ideas," said NTRA Senior Vice President Keith Chamblin. "Moving our Annual Meeting and Marketing Summit there will allow us to communicate with a broader collection of our membership while, at the same time, saving many members the expense of an extra trip."

NTRA REPORT FROM CAPITOL HILL

YEARLING BUYERS ENJOY TAX BENEFITS IN 2010

Yearling buyers should take note of two tax benefits that could influence their purchasing decisions in 2010: accelerated depreciation of young racehorses and an increased small-business expense allowance. Combined, these benefits provide a favorable tax environment for the industry.

Accelerated depreciation continues in 2010 as a result of a provision in the Farm Bill. Prior to this provision, young racehorses (24 months of age and under) were depreciated on a seven-year schedule. The current three-year schedule better reflects the length of a racehorse's career on the track and allows owners to recover costs during the horse's prime earning years.

The increase in the small-business expense allowance was extended earlier this year as part of the "Hiring Incentives to Restore Employment (HIRE) Act of 2010." This provision allows industry members to expense up to $250,000 of qualifying depreciable property, including horses and farm equipment. The property can be either new or used but must be placed in service this year. Barring further action by Congress, the expense allowance is schedule to drop to $25,000 in 2011.

Read more about accelerated depreciation and the higher expense allowance.

Victorious in a five-furlong Dundalk nursery handicap in her penultimate juvenile appearance Oct. 4, Bewitched was out of the frame in the prestigious Birdcatcher Nursery H. going an additional furlong here Oct. 18, and began her sophomore campaign with a victory in a six-furlong handicap here again May 12. She took the step up to listed level in stride with a win in the Sandy Lane S. at Haydock May 29, ran third in the Listed Land O'Burns Fillies' S. at Ayr June 19, and was a last-out sixth in the G3 Brownstown S. at Fairyhouse June 30. Always traveling strongly on the heels of the leaders here, she made headway into second in the final furlong and stayed on well to best Swiss Diva inside the final 50 yards. "She tanked a bit on the last day at Fairyhouse, so we missed the break on purpose with her today," winning trainer Charles O'Brien told irishracing.com. "We'll step her up to group company and try and stick to fillies' races. We'll travel [abroad] if we have to." Video, courtesy attheraces.com.

Coaxed to the front a furlong and a half from the wire, the 80,000gns TATOCT yearling fought off the challenge of 1-4 favorite Enchanted Forest (Ire) (Galileo {Ire}) inside the final furlong and held on for a two-length score from that rival. Stepping up from a debut second at Warwick May 11, Marlinka broke through at Ffos Las May 26, but slipped to 14th when pitched into the G2 Queen Mary S. at Royal Ascot June 16. She regained the winning thread in a Windsor conditions heat last time June 27 and showed her rivals a clean pair of heels here to garner a first black-type rosette. Quickly into stride to claim the early lead, she came under pressure approaching the final eighth and was ridden out in the closing stages to comfortably hold the vain bid of Boccalino.
