DOUBLE VISION?

Twelve months ago, the connections of Vision d'Etat (Fr) (Chichicastenango {Fr}) were sweating out a Sunday morning veterinary inspection of a swollen right hind fetlock that put his participation in serious doubt. But he passed the vet early that day, and a handful of hours later stormed down the Sha Tin stretch for a 3/4-length victory over Hong Kong Derby hero Collection (Ire) (Peintre Celebre). There have been no such hiccups this year. "Everything so far has gone according to plans and we hope he will do just as well as he did last year here," co-owner Victoria Libuad said. "We had had this last minute scare that got us on our toes for the last 24 hours prior to his 2009 victory and we hope that it will be easier this time!" Planteur (Ire) (Danehill Dancer {Ire}) has been the subject of glowing trackwork reports, and has the race form to back it up. He spent a good part of the summer playing second fiddle to Behkabad (Fr) (Cape Cross {Ire}), finishing runner-up to the eventual G1 Breeders' Cup Turf favorite in the G1 Grand Prix de Paris and in the G2 Prix Niel before a seventh in the G1 Prix de l'Arc de Triomphe. The bay worked over 1400 meters Thursday, covering the distance in a remarkable 1:24.50, and trainer Elie Lellouche is full of confidence. "He's worked very well, as always on the turf, and I fancy him for the Cup over 2,000 metres," the trainer told South China Morning Post, speaking in French. "This is the perfect trip for him." Irian (Ger) (Tertullian) could be the best of the home defense off a 1 3/4-length success in the G2 CX Jockey Club Cup over course and distance Nov. 14. CX Hong Kong Cup cont. p4

SMOOTH LANDING FOR TURBULENT DESCENT

Sent off at even-money in her first attempt at two turns, Turbulent Descent (Congrats) was all business in Saturday's G1 Hollywood Starlet S., and parlayed a stalking trip into her third straight success. "It was a little more of a test today, but she won just the same," said winning rider David Flores. "I am a little excited and a little relieved. I'm excited because I can tell what kind of horse she is, and the relief is she handled the two turns well." Winning trainer Mike Puype offered, "She's just a really good filly and she's got a great promising future ahead of her. She won just as easily as she did the other two times, no question about it. It was another perfect ride. David's done real well with her." Puype added, "We'll give her a little break right now, and she'll show up in about two months." Puype indicated that the G1 Las Virgenes S. at Santa Anita Feb. 5 would likely be Turbulent Descent's next appearance. The $245,550 first-place money gave her freshman sire Congrats (A.P. Indy) a solid cushion on the earnings list. Cont. p2.

Turbulent Descent was acquired by Blinkers On Racing Stable for $160,000 at OBS April earlier this year, and the syndicate was featured in the TDN (click here) shortly after the bay came from off the pace to land her Oct. 3 debut at Hollywood. She added another good-looking win in the Nov. 21 Moccasin S. going seven panels over this surface, and was widely expected to maintain her perfect record here. After breaking from the five hole, the chalk secured the rail by the time they hit the first turn, and settled into an easy rhythm as Nina Fever (Borrego) and May Day Rose (Rockport Harbor) showed the way through a half in :47.14. Jockey David Flores guided her off the rail, and Turbulent Descent ranged up three wide to poke her head in front turning for home. She duly edged clear, and was never in any real danger while under a hand ride in the final furlong. Turbulent Descent is the second Grade I winner for freshman sire Congrats (A.P. Indy), following GI Darley Alcibiades S. heroine Wickedly Perfect. The filly's dam, Roger's Sue--a granddaughter of MGISW Gorgeous--was acquired by Ocala Stud's Michael O'Farrell for $105,000 when in foal to Golden Missile at KEENOV in 2004. The subsequent colt fetched $230,000 when offered by the historic nursery at OBSFEB in 2007. Roger's Sue has a yearling Trippi colt, and was bred to Ocala Stud stallion In Summation earlier this year.

Overnight odds (HKJC): Paco Boy, 4-1; Able One, 3-1; Fellowship, 19-1; Beauty Flash, 9-1; Dream Eater, 74-1; A Shin Forward, 10-1; Good Ba Ba, 10-1; Sight Winner, 22-1; Thumbs Up, 5-1; Chater Way, 12-1; Beethoven, 54-1; Royal Bench, 31-1; Rajsaman, 77-1; Sahpresa, 16-1.

Paco Boy was thought to be retired after coming up short to the marvelous Goldikova (Ire) (Anabaa) once more in the GI Breeders' Cup Mile at Churchill Nov. 6, but instead will have the opportunity to go out on a high note here. "Everyone knows that Paco Boy is one of our favourite horses, and it would be fantastic if he could finish his career with another big win," trainer Richard Hannon remarked on his website. "Though the locals are writing him off from that draw [in 13], you ignore him at your peril. He's a class horse, and class is what it is all about in these top races." Winner of the 2008 G1 Prix de la Foret, the 2009 G1 Queen Anne S. and the G1 Lockinge S. earlier this season, the popular bay will embark on his breeding career at Highclere Stud in 2011. A Shin Forward and Sahpresa, separated by a neck and two noses when first and fourth, respectively, in the G1 Mile Championship at Kyoto Nov. 21, face off once more. "I hope he can keep his good Japanese form and be relaxed tomorrow," said A Shin Forward's trainer, Masanori Nishizono. "As I walked on the turf course [Saturday morning], my impression was that it was a tougher course than I'd expected, but everybody has the same conditions, and it does not worry me. I have been advised by other Japanese trainers who've had runners at Sha Tin in the past, and we have been doing the best we can."

G1 Epsom and Irish Oaks winner Snow Fairy (Ire) (Intikhab) looks to become the third member of the fairer sex to take down the Cup, joining Alexander Goldrun (Ire) and Pride (Fr). Conditioned by Ed Dunlop, who saddled Ouija Board to win the 2005 Vase, she cuts back to the 2000 meters off a sharp four-length success in the 11-furlong G1 QE II Commemorative Cup at Kyoto Nov. 14. Snow Fairy has not done much since her arrival in Hong Kong, but that is according to plan. "We have learnt not to overdo things here before the race. It is Sunday that counts," Dunlop reasoned.

14	5	Joshua Tree (Ire)	Montjeu (Ire)	Scratched	SCR

All carry 126 pounds, bar Crystal Capella & Board Meeting, 122.

Overnight odds (HKJC): Americain, 2-1; Viva Pataca, 7-1; Jaguar Mail, 9-1; Jakkalberry, 30-1; Mastery, 7-1; Winchester, 17-1; Indian Days, 99-1; Mr Medici, 23-1; Redwood, 13-1; King Dancer, 21-1; Mighty High, 18-1; Crystal Capella, 5-1; Board Meeting, 78-1; Joshua Tree, 29-1.

Americain looks to run his current winning streak to a half-dozen as he backs up to a metric mile and a half off his last-out score in the G1 Melbourne Cup. Privately purchased for a reported $225,000 earlier this season, Americain was the three-length winner of the Prix Carousel at Deauville July 30 before following up by a neck in that track's G2 Prix Kergorlay, both races over 3000 meters. Sent to Australia to prepare for the Flemington feature, the dark bay was along late for a neck success under top weight of 128 pounds in the G3 Geelong Cup Oct. 20. His class is not in question, though his ability to handle firm turf is. Jaguar Mail invades from Japan with solid previous HKIR form. A close third to Doctor Dino (Fr) (Muhtathir {GB}) in the 2008 Vase, the six-year-old was fourth in last year's blanket finish won by Daryakana (Fr) (Selkirk). Winner of the G1 Tenno Sho (Spring) over two miles earlier this year, he exits a strong fourth in the G1 Japan Cup and looks to prefer right-handed turning courses. Sixth in the 2009 Vase, eight-year-old Viva Pataca has but one start under his belt this term, a creditable fifth in the G2 CX Jockey Club Mile over a trip well short of his best. He found the wire generously that afternoon and can do better at this distance.

NOTE: The results of the Hong Kong International Races will be posted and alerted as they happen in the overnight hours. Please take any necessary measures to silence your mobile devices if you do not wish to be disturbed.

All carry 126 pounds, bar Ortensia, 122.

Overnight odds (HKJC): Sacred Kingdom, 2-1; J J The Jet Plane, 13-1; Rocket Man, 3-1; Green Birdie, 23-1; Joy and Fun, 61-1; Kingsgate Native, 53-1; Ultra Fantasy, 19-1; One World, 32-1; Little Bridge, 8-1; Lucky Nine, 6-1; Dim Sum, 22-1; Let Me Fight, 10-1; Cerise Cherry, 29-1; Ortensia, 76-1.

This year's Sprint features arguably the deepest field ever assembled for the event, and is headed by two-time and defending champion Sacred Kingdom. Victorious in 2007, he was forced to miss the 2008 running, but bounced back with authority to best One World by 2 1/2 lengths a year ago.

A trio of domestic victories ensued, and the one-time top-rated turf sprinter was bound for Japan's G1 Takarazuka Kinen last March when he was stricken with a bout of colic and was barely saved.

Sacred Kingdom HKJC.com

Given plenty of time to recover, the seven-year-old resumed with an easy score in the Sha Tin Sprint Trophy H. Oct. 1, but could do no better than sixth behind the dead-heating One World and Singapore's Rocket Man in the G2 CX Jockey Club Sprint Nov. 21. "Sacred Kingdom has been such a great horse, and I'm still a believer in him despite his defeat in the trial [CXJC Sprint]," commented trainer Ricky Yiu. "He's in good shape and [G1 Sprinters' S. hero] Ultra Fantasy can run well also. I think my two horses can both be in the first three. Ultra Fantasy will lead for sure and Sacred Kingdom will be closing hard." Green Birdie took down the colors of Rocket Man on the latter's home turf in the G1 KrisFlyer International S. in May and was unlucky not to win the G2 Centaur S. and the G1 Sprinters' S. The seven-year-old ran fourth off a nine-month layoff in last year's Sprint.

More Than a Reason, facing the starter for the 18th time this year, cabooseed the field for the opening six furlongs, but came running up the center of the track to secure his first graded trophy. Haltered by his current connections for $15,000 in November 2008, the bay ran third in last year's renewal of the Queens County, and captured a $100,000 optional claimer over the inner track Feb. 7. He added a starter allowance success at Aqueduct Mar. 14 and, four starts later, secured a similar contest at Belmont May 12. However, he hit the board just twice in eight subsequent outings, and came into this contest off a fourth in the Mad Hatter S. over the Big A main track Nov. 20. Content to let things develop in front here, the longshot was taken wide by jockey Eddie Castro entering the stretch, and finished up determinedly to defeat his more fancied rivals. "He's my best horse," said winning trainer Randi Persaud. "I don't train him hard, I just run [him]. He's big hearted, but you have to ride him right. One run, that's it. If you keep him too close to the pace or try to move too early, you get nothing. I was supposed to run him last Sunday for the optional claim, but I just skipped it--I was shooting straight for this race." Persaud added, "I claimed him for $15,000. You've got to be in it to win it. He's going to have a break now." Castro confirmed, "The trainer told me he wanted one move, and to not move too soon."

Tackleberry has been nearly unstoppable since exiting the maiden ranks Sept. 10, and continued his progression with this tenacious performance. After fading to fourth behind St. Maximus Gato (Tactical Cat) in his July 18 career opener, the bay ran second for owner/trainer Luis Olivares Aug. 13, and put it all together with an 11-length romp in a local off-the-turfer Sept. 10.

He was edged in a first-level allowance two weeks later, but easily cleared that condition Oct. 10, and wired the field when stretched out in another optional claimer Nov. 6. The Florida-bred turned back to six panels in the Jack Dudley Sprint H. at Calder Nov. 13 and responded with a 5 1/4-length victory in his most recent trip postward. Tackleberry secured the lead soon after breaking from the rail and was pressed through splits of :48.60 and 1:14.24. Longshot Dream Maestro had dead aim on the sophomore down the stretch, but Tackleberry dug in admirably and got his nose down on the wire. "I knew he won it," said Olivares. "I told the kid [jockey Javier Santiago] before the race to let him go and take the lead. I said, 'He'll fight back when he needs to,' and he did." Olivares added, "I bought him privately as a two-year-old [from Ocala Stud], and then had to take a chip out of his knee, which is why he didn't start until July. He had won at a mile here, but I ran in this race to see if he'd get the mile and an eighth, and he did. That was the objective, and now I'll point him for the [$500,000] Sunshine Millions [Classic] at Gulfstream [Jan. 29]." Tackleberry's dam is a half-sister to Grade I winner Outofthebox (Montbrook). 'Jessica' Back With Wolfson...

Grade I winner Jessica Is Back (Put It Back) has returned to trainer Marty Wolfson's Calder barn. Having taken the GI Princess Rooney H. at Calder in July for Farnsworth Stables, the six-year-old ran third in the GI Ballerina S. at Saratoga in August, but was a troubled ninth in the GI Breeders' Cup F/M Sprint at Churchill Nov. 5, and failed to sell when the hammer fell at the Fasig-Tipton November Sale two nights later. However, Carolyn Vogel secured the mare for $475,000 in a private sale shortly afterwards, and the Florida-bred will now point for the Sunshine Millions F/M Sprint at Gulfstream Jan. 29. "She's still going to be bred in the spring," Wolfson confirmed. Jessica Is Back worked a half in :48 at Calder Dec. 8 in her first drill since returning from the Bluegrass State.

MACK MILLER DEAD AT 89 Hall of Fame conditioner MacKenzie "Mack" Miller, who saddled 1993 Kentucky Derby winner Sea Hero, passed away this morning at the University of Kentucky's Markey Cancer Center in Lexington. He was 89. Elected to racing's Hall of Fame in 1987, Miller trained 72 stakes winners over the course of a 46-year career, including Leallah, the champion two-year-old filly of 1966, and the champion turf horses Assagai ('66), *Hawaii ('69) and Snow Knight ('75).

Derby glory eluded Miller until the age of 71, when he sent out Sea Hero (Polish Navy), a homebred of Paul Mellon's Rokeby Stables, to victory in the "Run for the Roses" in 1993. As a juvenile, Sea Hero won the GI Champagne S. by nearly six lengths, and followed his Derby victory with a win in the GI Travers S. Despite Sea Hero's success, it was Mellon's homebred Java Gold (Key to the Mint) whom Miller considered perhaps his best runner. As a two-year-old of 1986, Java Gold captured the GI Remsen S., then came back at three to win six of eight starts, including the Travers, as well as the GI Marlboro Cup and GI Whitney H. against older horses. Java Gold went on to sire champion Kona Gold.

During an 18-year association, Mellon and Miller also enjoyed success with the likes of Winter's Tale (Arts and Letters), who registered a prestigious Grade I hat trick in New York in 1980, winning the Brooklyn, Suburban and Marlboro Cup Handicaps. Four years later, the men teamed to win the New York Handicap Triple--the Met Mile, Suburban and Brooklyn--with Fit to Fight. The Chieftain colt joined Whisk Broom II, Tom Fool and Kelso as the only horses to sweep the series. Miller also trained Red Ransom (Roberto), who drew raves winning both of his starts as a two-year-old in 1989, but was forced into retirement before trying stakes company. Red Ransom made a name for himself as one of Roberto's best sire sons. Cont. p9

Miller was also a successful owner and breeder. He co-bred De La Rose (Nijinsky II), champion turf mare in 1981, and Chilukki (Cherokee Run), champion two-year-old filly in 1999 after winning six of seven starts, including the GI Del Mar Debutante and GI Oak Leaf S. for owner Stonerside Stable and trainer Bob Baffert. Miller bred both fillies with his friend R. Smiser West.

Known as the “the gentleman trainer from Morgan Street,” Miller was born in Versailles, Kentucky. He attended his first race at nearby Keeneland in 1936. After dropping out of college and serving in the U.S. Air Force, he returned to Lexington and got a job as a stable hand at Calumet Farm in 1947. Two years later, he took out his training license, and in 1950 won his first race. In addition to training for Mellon, Miller conditioned horses for Charles Engelhard. Miller retired from training in 1995.

Waterford Millford’s Robert West, whose father R. Smiser West was a longtime friend and business partner with Miller:

“It’s no question that it’s the end of an era. He died almost four years to the day my father died. They were close friends--Mack’s father ran the Greyhound bus station in Lexington, and the two of them washed busses for 10 cents an hour back in the 1930s.

I was always told my father gave him his first horse to train. Throughout their careers, they always had a relationship. Mack went on to true greatness, and my father was certainly satisfied with the success he had. They were a much-admired pair.

Miller & R. Smiser West millford.com

They were scrupulously honest. When they were breeding, they would sometimes keep a well-bred filly to race. Mack would always try to not race against one of his patrons, whether it was Mr. Engelhard or Mr. Mellon. They wouldn’t have minded, because they were true sportsmen, but it was something Mack felt strongly about. He felt that he was a working man, and that he shouldn’t run against the boss.

In an interview a while ago, I was asked who I admired more than anyone else in the world, and I said Mack Miller. They asked why, and I said, ‘Because he always kept his shoes shined, and on the backstretch, that’s a pretty hard to do.’

Mack could talk with anyone--he could converse with the Queen, or talk with the lowest groom. He was incredibly sophisticated, but he was at ease with everybody. His modesty was remarkable. Whenever I would congratulate him after a big win, he’d say, ‘It’s amateur day!’ That kind of humility is rare these days. He always had time to say hello, and I’ve taken that from him.

For my father and him, money meant very little. It was just a way to keep score. They enjoyed the business very much, and that was the most important thing. My father would rather work on the farm seven days a week than most anything else. He had very few other interests, and I think Mack was the same way. For me, they were two peas in a pod. I’m really sad to see him go. He was one of the all-time greats, and our farm never would have had the success it’s had without Mack’s help and participation.

This business does have a short memory, and there will be a lot of people who don’t remember Mack Miller. And that’s a shame, because he was such a gentleman.”

Hall of Fame jockey Jerry Bailey, who was winning his first Derby aboard the Miller-trained Sea Hero:

“He was a tremendous man, especially for me. I had just gotten to New York in 1982 when I met Mack. He was a very important, very calming and steady influence for him, a father figure, if you will. He had great integrity; a great trainer, but a better human being. He put more emphasis on the relationship and the individual than he did on winning. He wanted to win, but he wanted to do it the right way. And just because you lost a race, it didn’t mean you had to lose your personality with Mack. He didn’t with you. He didn’t get consumed with losses. He was a big-picture guy, and for him it was always about the welfare of the horse. You don’t need much too much to light you up after winning the Derby, but the icing on the cake for me was to win it for a man I thought so highly of.”

Moran photography

Hall of Fame jockey Pat Day, who was on Java Gold for all four of the horse’s Grade I wins:

“I first went to New York in 1976, and I rode a few horses for Mr. Miller then. And when he became the regular trainer for Rokeby, I rode some more horses for him. We won the Travers together with Java Gold. Racing’s changing--the names are changing and the people are changing, and he was one of the old guard. He’ll be sorely missed, and has been, as he’s been off the racetrack for some time now. My heart goes out to his wife and children and grandchildren.”

Race caller Dave Johnson:

"Not only was he one of the greatest conditioners of Thoroughbreds, he was the classiest trainer I ever encountered in my 45 years working in the sport. Mack's passing marks another end of another era. And the joy that he took from winning the Derby with Sea Hero for Paul Mellon was an emotion that you rarely see, on or off the racetrack. His focus was never on himself, always on the horse, the fans and the friends he trained for."

Trainer Neil Howard, who worked for Miller in the 1970s:

"I went to work for Mack in 1973, I think it was. I was working for Woody Stephens at the time, and was in Aiken, South Carolina, and a close friend of mine, Mike Cline--who is now the farm manager at Lane's End--got me a job with Mack. I got a great education about horses, but more importantly, I got an education on how to act--how to carry yourself, how to be an ambassador for the sport. And how to take pride in what you do--that was the biggest thing for Mack. Take pride in what you do. Mack played a huge role in the lives of myself and my wife Susan, both on and off the racetrack. When they called him the Gentleman Trainer of Morgan Street, they weren't kidding."

(In response to Bill Finley's Writer's Up column in Saturday's TDN)

Perhaps the greatest obstacle to fixing the broken business model in Thoroughbred racing is that the problems are extraordinarily complex, and the solutions currently being floated will each cause a cascade of negative consequences that will likely prove dire for at least some people who deserve better. Thus, Bill Finley does the industry no service by purporting to have the definitive answer in the form of drastically reducing the number of racing dates. While touting his solution as patently obvious, and painting the Maryland horsemen as unreasonable and unrealistic, Mr. Finley should at least acknowledge that his solution would immediately destroy most of them, and destroy the Maryland industry as a whole, except for the Maryland Jockey Club.

The impact of a drastic reduction in racing dates for the region would also crush horsemen and breeders in Pennsylvania and Delaware. If the nearly nonexistent Thoroughbred industry in Virginia, with a handful of racing dates at Colonial Downs, is Mr. Finley's model for Maryland, Pennsylvania and Delaware, then his solution is the final one.

The state of Maryland and its horsemen and breeders are still committed to a model that will preserve the industry in the state. The slots subsidy is finally coming, with the goal of keeping thousands of jobs the industry provides in Maryland, and preserving Maryland's horse farms. It may not result in the quality of racing that Mr. Finley enjoys, but it can keep the industry going and have a positive impact on the state.

If this model is ultimately doomed to fail, then avoiding the sudden drastic cut in racing dates initially proposed by Maryland Jockey Club will allow a more orderly unwinding of the industry, and the opportunity to find the right balance.

Bill Finley's editorial about Maryland racing has distorted the actual facts to prove his point that less racing is needed nationwide. While I agree that there is a better way to market Maryland racing, running only in the winter for 77 days through the Preakness is not the way.

The fact that the Maryland Jockey Club is only losing $4-7 million a year is actually a tribute to the strength of the Maryland product, considering that we have had no money for stakes more than $50,000 at Laurel for the last two years, and our small daily purses have resulted in short fields. What we do have is a fantastic track at Laurel; the dirt track is perhaps the safest in the nation, and our turf course one of the best in North America.

The 77 days offered makes no use of the Laurel turf course, which can handle 14-horse fields and would be a real moneymaker in the fall with enhanced purses. Mr. Stronach has spent a lot of time and money on Laurel's turf course...it makes absolutely no sense for him not to schedule dates to use it.

The slots money will help everything, and Maryland horsemen would like just one year to show what we can do with better purses, more stakes money and a better marketing program. There are several potential owners, including the Cordish Company, and other prominent Maryland owners, who believe in the potential of a properly marketed racing product, and have offered to buy the tracks from the current owners. MID/PNG's position that they are losing money and can't continue racing, yet refuse to sell to willing buyers, reflects their ulterior motive.

The real problem in Maryland is that Penn National Gaming doesn't want Maryland racing to grow and prosper. PNG's flagship property, and the one that holds up their stock price, is Charles Town in West Virginia. Since the slots parlor at Arundel Mills Mall was validated by the voters, Wall Street has put a "flag" up on Penn National Gaming stock, warning potential stockholders that this slots parlor will hurt Charles Town, and thus diminish PNG's value. It behooves PNG to stop racing at Laurel, as every day that Laurel doesn't run, it benefits both Charles Town, their flagship property, and Penn National, their second most valuable, both in number of horses available to fill their races, and in bettors available to increase their handle.

Put simply, anything that helps Laurel Park racing to prosper and grow is a threat to PNG's top property at Charles Town. PNG has no interest in any new marketing plans, and because of their peculiar partnership arrangement with MID, even though they only own 49 percent, they are able to veto any of MID's possible projects because their five person board has to unanimously approve any major moves.

The Maryland racing commission has also not seen any audited financial reports for the Maryland Jockey Club in over two years, since Magna's bankruptcy proceedings, and doesn't even know the real figure of losses that MID/PNG are talking about. Before we allow MID/PNG to destroy our racing and breeding industry, we should get a chance to see what will happen now that we finally have some slots money to work with.

Mr. Finley's editorial did not reflect the fact that Maryland has already reduced the number of racing days from 220 per year to 147. Please let us have one year at this number of days, with the enhanced purses, to see what we can do...or let MID/PNG sell to owners who believe in improving the product. It's hard to make a profit and implement a good business plan when one of the owners is dedicated to shutting down Laurel because it owns Laurel's major competitor, and their stock price depends on Charles Town's success.

I believe Bill Finley has used a very complicated situation in Maryland to illustrate his theory that we need less racing days without understanding all the actual facts that make Maryland a poor choice to prove his point. We invite him to come to the Racing Commission meeting on Dec. 21, and catch up on the real story.

PROGRESS IN NJ, BUT MUCH UNDECIDED The New Jersey Assembly Regulatory and Oversight Committee advanced 10 bills on Thursday dealing with horse racing and the Atlantic City casinos. The bills are similar to those already approved by the Senate--which include the legalization of exchange wagering and measures that would allow for the opening of more OTB parlors in the state--but would need further approval due to differences from earlier legislation. Race dates for both Thoroughbreds and Standardbreds are still undecided for next year, and the committee held on to a bill to cut the number of Standardbred dates for 2011, just a day after Gov. Chris Christie vetoed the minutes of a November New Jersey Racing Commission meeting that called for 141 racing days for both flat and harness races. In a letter from Gov. Christie to the racing commission's Executive Director Frank Zanzuccki, the Governor wrote, "My administration is currently reviewing recommendations and solutions for a comprehensive, statewide approach to the unprecedented financial and structural challenges faced by New Jersey's gaming, professional sports and entertainment industries, and in particular its taxpayer-subsidized horse racing industry. A primary recommendation under consideration by my administration is a substantial reduction in the live racing days at Monmouth Park and the Meadowlands Racetrack." Negotiations between lobbyists for both New Jersey racing and Atlantic City casinos and the Governor are expected to continue through 2010.

RIFT (c, 2, Not For Love--Indian Head Penny {SW, $217,738}, by Waquoit) was a distant second as the even-money chalk in his debut at Belmont Oct. 10, and filled out the exacta once again after setting the pace at the Big A Nov. 7. Bet down to 1-2 to prove third time's the charm, he cut out splits of :22.72 and :45.54 before holding Arch Traveler (Sky Mesa) at bay for a 1 1/4-length tally. FILM MAKING (c, 2, Storm Cat--Film Maker {GISW, $2,203,730}, by Dynaformer) had excuses when off the board in his first two outings, then got clear sailing up the rail in a maiden test on the turf at Belmont on Halloween and finished well to be third, beaten just 3/4 of a length. He was the 9-10 chalk to graduate here. Rated in seventh for the opening half, the dark bay surged through traffic to get into the game on the far turn. Film Making came through on the inside to join My Zipper (City Zip) at the eighth pole and the two raced away from the field, with the favorite hitting the line a neck to the good. The popular bay sat in third while three wide and took control in the lane for his 15th win in 21 starts, becoming a millionaire in the process. The winner of the 2008 GI Ancient Title S. at Oak Tree, Cost of Freedom was then out for nearly a year. The gelding ran fourth in his first two appearances of 2009, including his Grade I Title defense, then set the pace in the GI Breeders' Cup Sprint and just missed in that blanket finish, running third by a head. Now seven, the dark bay enjoyed a more productive 2010 campaign, with wins in a May 6 optional claimer and the June 5 GIII Los Angeles H. at Hollywood. Cost of Freedom was off the board in his next three tries, running fourth once again in the Ancient Title, but followed up with a 6 1/4-length romp in the Oct. 30 Cal Cup Sprint. He was looking for a third straight victory after wiring the field in the Nov. 25 GIII Vernon O. Underwood S. at Hollywood. The odds-on chalk broke on top, dashed off a half in :44.10 and pulled away late. The final time shaved three ticks off the track record. "That was unbelievable," jockey Joe Talamo said. "I thought he'd win, but not like that." Click for the brisnet.com chart or Video, sponsored by Taylor Made.

JET BLUE GIRL (f, 3, Gimmeawink--Tori's Portia, by Beau Genius) was looking for her first win since besting $75,000 maiden claimers at Santa Anita last October, but had hit the board in four of six prior starts this term. Fifth in an allowance on the Hollywood Cushion Oct. 2, she entered this off a close-up third in an allowance test on the turf Oct. 24. The bay saved ground while just off the leaders early, swung wide into the lane and responded to steady encouragement from jockey Joel Rosario to get home 1 3/4 lengths ahead of Tiz a Bud Girl (Tizbud) as the 2-1 second choice. Tiz the Route was let go at 16-1 after a pair of fourth-place efforts at Del Mar Aug. 15 and Sept. 4, and Canadian Pride was the crowd's 7-10 choice after getting caught late by subsequent GI Hollywood Starlet winner Turbulent Descent (Congrats) when second at Oak Tree Oct. 3, but the two hit the line in tandem here. Tiz the Route was sent out to the lead at the break and cut out a pressured half in :45.53, with Canadian Pride a stalking fourth. The odds-on favorite dove between horses on the turn and set sail for the leader, and it looked like he might just get the bob after a serious stretch duel, but Tiz the Route battled back on the inside to share the spoils. Positive Response started his career in the maiden claiming ranks, but it is doubtful he'll be dropped in for a tag again any time soon after this impressive win. Third versus $40,000 maiden claimers at Woodbine Sept. 10, the bay came back to score at the $50,000 level two weeks later. He changed hands after that effort, and resurfaced with a fourth in a starter allowance at Golden Gate Oct. 28. A gate-to-wire winner in starter-allowance company Nov. 10, Positive Response was the second choice making the jump into the stakes ranks. He bounced out to a daylight lead, was gifted soft fractions and pulled away to win easily. Click for the brisnet.com chart or Video, sponsored by Taylor Made.

DO IT ALL (c, 3, Distorted Humor--Stupendous Miss {GSW, \$232,097}, by Dynaformer), a $900,000 FTSAUG yearling, finished seventh after a troubled trip at Saratoga Aug. 7, but came back to break his maiden by three decisive lengths on the Keeneland Poly Oct. 29. Bet down to 6-5 to add an allowance tally to his resume, he got it done, but not without the help of the stewards. The dark bay was taken in hand while sitting on the fence off moderate fractions, and had to steady slightly while waiting for running room on the turn. Angled outside a rival at the top of the lane, he dropped back to the rail in the stretch, then drove up inside Global Stage (Globalize). Those two fought it out to the wire, with Global Stage getting there a head in front, but he had bumped Do It All several times in the final drive. The stewards took a look at the tape and reversed the order of finish of the top two. Lifetime Record: 3-2-0-0, $45,767. GLOBAL SPRINT CHALLENGE GROWS (Edited Press Release) The Global Sprint Challenge has been expanded with the addition of Singapore's premier turf sprint, the G1 KrisFlyer International Sprint. To be held at Kranji Racecourse May 22, the Spring Challenge now includes nine races and $10.8 million in purses. Global Sprint Challenge Chairman Leigh Jordon said, "The KrisFlyer International Sprint has proven itself a world class contest with winners from France, Australia and Hong Kong including Global Sprint Challenge stalwarts Takeover Target (Aus) and Sacred Kingdom (Aus), and is a natural addition to the international series for turf sprinters." Nick Smith, head of International Racing at Ascot, added, "Two Hong Kong-trained horses and one from Australia came to Royal Ascot after the KrisFlyer last year and we hope to see a similar pattern in 2011, with Singapore's own star sprinter, Rocket Man (Aus), among those at the top our target list." The 2011 Global Sprint Challenge begins with the G1 Coolmore Lightning S. at Flemington Racecourse Feb. 19.
