FULL FIELD FOR WORLD CUP

A full field of 14 runners will contest the $10-million G1 Dubai World Cup Saturday night in Meydan, with the main U.S. hope Gio Ponti (Tale of the Cat) drawn in post five. The bay was fourth in the World Cup 12 months ago, but has returned for another go. "It's an honor to be back here," said Christophe Lauriel, assistant to trainer Christophe Clement. "Gate five is good. We hope for a good trip, and hope he makes it this year." The Castleton Lyons colorbearer has been

Buena Vista
M Marten

second in a pair of Breeders' Cup appearances, chasing home Zenyatta (Street Cry {Ire}) in the 2009 GI BC Classic and finding only Goldikova (Ire) (Anabaa) too good for him in her historic 2010 GI BC Mile success. There's only one distaffer in the World Cup field, but she's a doozy. Sunday Racing's Buena Vista (Jpn) (Special Week {Jpn}), second by 3/4 of a length in the G1 Dubai Sheema Classic last year, will break from the 13 hole in the marquee event this time. "The draw doesn't matter," trainer

Hiroyoshi Matsuda commented. "It's like fate. I have a lot of confidence in her, and I think she's the best horse in the field." If Buena Vista takes down the big prize, her bank account will clear $18 million, and she will become the richest racehorse ever. No member of the fairer sex has won the World Cup to date, with To the Victory (Jpn) (Sunday Silence)'s runner-up effort in 2001 the best finish yet by a filly or mare.

Buena Vista's connections may not be concerned about being positioned to the outside, but the same can't be said for Twice Over. The Juddmonte flagbearer is drawn to the right of the Japanese mare in the 13 hole. "I think realistically, we would have preferred to have been a little bit nearer the rail," said Teddy Grimthorpe, Khalid Abdullah's racing manager. "He's in very good form. Physically, he's done well, and mentally he's always been on top of his game."

Barring something totally unforeseen, Black Caviar should run her winning streak to begin her career to 11 straight. After taking the G1 Newmarket H. under 128 pounds Mar. 12, she gets in here three pounds lighter under weight-for-age conditions. Trainer Peter Moody admitted that her last run took something out of her. "She knew she had a run," the conditioner told AAP. "It took a couple of days for the horse to bounce back, more so than she had previously." G1 Golden Slipper S. winner Crystal Lily was runner-up in the Newmarket, but is no better than A$15 (14-1) on TAB Sportsbet to the quote of A$1.10 (1-10) on the favorite.

GRIMTHORPE UNVEILS PLANS

Khalid Abdullah's G1 Epsom Derby and G1 Prix de l'Arc de Triomphe hero Workforce (GB) (King's Best) will likely point to the May 22 G1 Tattersalls Gold Cup at The Curragh for his seasonal return, the owner's racing manager Teddy Grimthorpe has revealed. "I still have to speak to [trainer Sir] Michael [Stoute], but the Gold Cup is looking like the place we will start Workforce," said Grimthorpe. "We'll have to see how the horse is and how he's working, but the plan would be to go to Ireland rather than Epsom for the Coronation Cup." Speaking on British TV channel Attheraces, Grimthorpe also unveiled plans for G1 Dewhurst S. victor Frankel (GB) (Galileo {Ire}) and G1 Prix Marcel Boussac runner-up Helleborine (GB) (Observatory), who will both have a preparatory run before launching Classic bids. "Frankel has not been asked to do much so far, but we're delighted with the way he wintered," added Grimthorpe. "He has filled out and, if anything, he's lengthened. The plan with him is to take in the [G3] Greenham [S. at Newbury]. Helleborine will go for the [G1] 1000 Guineas, but she will have her prep race in the [G3] Prix Imprudence at Maisons-Laffitte Apr. 7." Turning his attention to Midday (GB) (Oasis Dream {GB}), a five-time winner at the highest level, Grimthorpe continued, "Midday has really blossomed again. She will probably make her comeback in the [G2] Middleton [S. at York] in May. The [G1] Breeders' Cup [F/M Turf] is always an option with her."

Today, we introduce a new feature--The TDN Blog, where staff members and TDN contributors can share their thoughts on racing, breeding, industry travel, new racing books...or maybe the new great bar near Monmouth Park. In short, anything that touches their lives that might touch yours. We thought it was a good opportunity to let you get to know our staff a little better. They're talented, witty, great writers, and are sure to entertain you with commentary that might not always be a good fit for the TDN, but is always sure to be a good read. We hope you'll contribute as well by leaving comments, asking questions, or suggesting topics. Find us at <http://thetdnblog.blogspot.com/> Enjoy!

op/ed feedback

Congratulations for promoting the discussion at TDN regarding "Do We Need A Sturdier Racehorse?" (TDN Magazine). I hope many people will continue to enjoy this promotion.

I would like to take this opportunity to make some comments that might be interesting to others, helping many to look at and see this issue based on another point of view.

I am a Brazilian citizen who has been directly involved with Thoroughbreds since 1968. I had a practical scholarship in Europe for two years, served as officer of the first Brazilian sales agency, was a Thoroughbred trainer in São Paulo (after one year with Angel Penna, Sr. at Belmont Park), and have been an American resident since 1989, established in Kentucky. As such, I thought the way I look at, and see, the soundness of the actual Thoroughbred might be interesting to others, based on my practical experience.

First, I do believe that soundness-unsoundness is directly affected by speed. It is a fact that when an individual gets tired, his muscles relax, and it becomes difficult to hold the skeleton together, so any bad step might cause bone fractures. Fractures, surgeries, etc., turns on the "unsoundness warning."

Giving extreme examples isn't significant in the overall scheme of things, but it is worthy to mention one extreme example of the "American training and racing system" in the case of Raise a Native. (Please note the quotation marks around the American training and racing system.)

We all know that Raise A Native was unbeaten as a 2-year-old, but many people probably don't know that he ran his first race in February (yes, February) in a three-furlong race at Hialeah Park winning (wire-to-wire) in :32.40 by six lengths, beating 13 other colts. Even though those races are not offered these days, a good number of 2-year-olds today are already breezing two furlongs at 2-year-old sales in February, and we don't know how many are already breezing three furlongs at that time. Raise a Native raced in February. His next race was in May, when he recorded a time of :57.80 for five furlongs, winning by eight lengths in a new track record at Aqueduct. Next out, he equaled his track record in the Juvenile S., with his last start being in the Great American S. in July when he lowered the track record in Aqueduct by 1 1/5 seconds to win over 5 1/2 furlongs in 1:02:60. Just once, in all his starts, and for less than a furlong after breaking in fourth, he had a horse in front of him.

To generalize...that's America.

Several statements were made mentioning the reason of Raise a Native's breaking down as a "bad step," etc. Others labeled Raise A Native an unsound horse. Several labeled him as a source of unsoundness in the breed. I believe he was an extraordinarily fast and precocious racehorse that became an influential sire.

South American-bred horses are usually said to be sound because of the breeding environment, and I believe this is true. But in the U.S. there are many good breeding environments as well, and I really don't know if it is the only reason for soundness. Others believe that South American-bred horses are sounder because the European sire influence of "sound stallions." This makes sense, but there are many sound American sires standing down south as well.

In my point of view, South American-bred Thoroughbreds are also sounder because we start breaking our yearlings only at the final yearling stage and early 2-year-old season, at the same time when, comparing hemispheres, American 2-year-olds are already breezing one or two furlongs for the sales auctions. Several others would be well ahead of their training schedule en route to race. At a time when South American 2-year-olds are learning their very early lessons, Raise a Native was already breaking record records racing in a 12-horse field, because early races for 2-year-olds were offered then.

Slow horses usually don't become unsound, stupid and fast horses usually become unsound, and smart horses can be fast, and are the ones who usually keep themselves sound.

In Europe, much was written that around the seven-furlong mark and the one-mile mark, the Thoroughbred needs a "breath" to keep on going if he has enough stamina. I have never done any investigation on this, but it seems to me that this observation is correct in several horses. I do know that America has created a Thoroughbred type with two joint characteristics that are often at conflicting ends: the ability to blossom early on as a 2-year-old, and the ability to show a cruising and finishing speed to go 1 1/8 miles in almost a single "breath." That is why I believe the world looks nowadays for this kind of Thoroughbred in American bloodstock.

When horses are kept in cruising and fast speed for long, they get tired, their muscles relax, the skeleton doesn't hold properly, bad steps are taken, fractures occur, surgeries are performed and the per-start statistical records goes down. It is difficult to say if this is because of inheritance factors from sires who raced on drugs, and if it is, to what degree it occurs.

It is a fact that a good number of stallions that have run on drugs do become profitable, as well as becoming leading sires in countries that race under drug-free regulations. This number of stallions seems significant to me, and is worth checking for accuracy.

It is known that 30% of the Thoroughbred's characteristics are inherited from its parents, while 70% are environmental.

There is no doubt that Thoroughbred soundness is one of the main discussions all over the world today, and that many attribute this issue to the practice of utilizing unsound horses to breed, whose unsoundness is said to be masked by medication. Unsound horses count for the decrease in per-start statistics numbers. Also, as David Powell pointed out in his discussion of Gastrogard, there is no doubt that nervous horses with a propensity for gastro ulcers will also add to the decrease of the per-start statistics because they can't be trained properly.

It would probably not be an easy task to determine if the Lasix or Bute addictions are inherited in the Thoroughbred, and what other issues can be or are inherited. Would the inheritance of drug addiction be significant enough to really affect the actual worry by the breeders vis-a-vis the practical benefit relationship?

Several people say to not breed to horses that took Bute or Lasix while racing in top stakes races. Should they also avoid breeding with horses that took Gastrogard? Should they also avoid breeding to stallions that broke down early on, as Raise a Native did? Yes, there are soft and unsound stallions, as well as unsound maternal sources, but this is part of the Thoroughbred. That's the way it is, and always was, and is not at all a new issue.

NTRA REPORT FROM CAPITOL HILL

WHAT YOU NEED TO KNOW ABOUT THE NTRA'S LEGISLATIVE ACTION CAMPAIGN (LAC)

- LAC is an NTRA program that empowers industry members to support federal lobbying in Washington, D.C. to benefit the racing and breeding industries
- Legislative information and updates appear here every Thursday
- Thoroughbred buyers and sellers may participate by contributing through the 1/4% Check-off program at participating public auction houses
- Owners and breeders may participate by contributing to The Foal Fund
- 100% of contributions are earmarked to support federal lobbying and legislative programs
- Contributions may be tax deductible as an ordinary business expense
- Open to participation by individuals and corporate entities, such as partnerships and farms
- Participants automatically become NTRA members who may then receive preferred pricing from NTRA Advantage partners like John Deere and Sherwin-Williams.

For more information contact Joe Bacigalupo, director of membership development, (800) 792-6872, ext. 677 or visit www.SupportHorseRacing.org.

Obviously, all kinds of inheritance factors exist, and it is a question of really checking on its degree of significance as it occurs in the Thoroughbred and the practical way to better understand this issue which affects so many people.

How much does racetrack condition affect the per-start statistical records? How much does the training-racing system in the U.S. affect the per-start statistical records? How much does a Lasix-Bute addiction (if that exists) and/or Gastrogard addiction (if that exists) mask the breed and affect the per-start statistical record? Those per-start statistical records are used as a guideline to define the "sturdy horse," and are making several breeders and racegoers worry. Maybe the concerns are exaggerated ones.

How many opportunities are being lost because of this fear?

NORTH AMERICA

NORTH OF EDEN DIES Bridlewood Farm's foundation mare North of Eden (Ire) (Northfields--Tree of Knowledge {Ire}, by Sassafras {Fr}) passed away and was buried at the Ocala nursery. She was 28. The mare produced champion Paradise Creek (Irish River {Fr}), Grade I winners Wild Event (Wild Again) and Forbidden Apple (Pleasant Colony) and multiple graded stakes placed I'm Very Irish (Pleasant Colony). She is the granddam of multiple Group 1 winner David Junior (Pleasant Tap). "North of Eden was and will always be the pride of Bridlewood Farm," said George Isaacs, general manager of Bridlewood. "To be blessed and associated with such a magnificent blue-hen mare is every serious horse breeder's dream come true. The odds of any mare having two, let alone three, Grade I winners, another stakes winner and a daughter becoming a Grade I producer, is truly astronomical if you think about it. She was revered here at the farm because we all knew how special she was. She was laid to rest in our private cemetery here at the farm."

ARTHUR'S TALE (c, 3, Bernardini--Owsley {MGSW, $865,705}, by Harlan) was fourth in a Belmont turf maiden Oct. 10, but blinkers on did the trick when graduating by two lengths in an off-turf event over this main track Dec. 2. He couldn't quite handle stakes company in his last two, finishing fourth to Monzon (Thunder Gulch) in the Jan. 1 Count Fleet S. before filling the same spot behind Toby's Corner (Bellamy Road) in the Whirlaway S. Feb. 5. The 2-1 third choice in a scratched-down field of four, Arthur's Tale stalked the pace of Simba's Story (Elusive Quality) three wide to the far turn. Ridden along approaching the stretch, he dug in tenaciously and gunned down the pacesetter by a neck. It was another 2 1/2 lengths back to favored Dawly (Awesome Again) in third. Indy), sixth in a pair of starts at Monmouth Park last summer and fall, could do no better than a last-of-five finish sprinting over the Aqueduct inner track Jan. 29. He was 10-1 against decidedly softer company when trying a mile at this track Feb. 17, and outran those odds in finishing runner-up to a repeat winner in Zayat Stables' Joe Vann (Silver Deputy). Sent off as the 13-10 second choice here, the Meyerhoff runner raced just off the early pace, poked a head in front at the quarter pole and raced clear to score by 5 3/4 lengths. FROLIC NOW (c, 3, Tiznow--Frolic Away, by Pentelicus), one of just three horses owned in partnership by successful 2-year-old consignor Eddie Woods (see In Sharper Focus ATW p2), was sent off at debut odds of 17-1 Mar. 4 and was expected to need the race, but, after trailing the field for the opening 3/4 of a mile, finished generously to be fourth, beaten just under five lengths to the well-bred Walkers Landing (Theatrical {Ire}). The 5-2 second choice this time around, the dark bay had only favored Shut Eye (Empire Maker--Sleep Easy) behind down the backstretch. He commenced his rally entering the turn, was five wide into the stretch and closed nicely for a 3/4-length tally from Fifth District (Sweetsouthernstaint). Shut Eye stayed on well for third. Still basking in the afterglow of sending through the $625,000 sales-topping colt by Pomeroy at Monday's Barretts March Sale, 2-year-old consignor Eddie Woods was celebrating a victory of a different variety yesterday afternoon after watching Frolic Now (Tiznow) graduate stylishly at Tampa Bay Downs.

Bred by Charles Deters, the dark bay, out of a half-sister to six-time graded-stakes winner and Grade I-placed Smok'n Frolic (Smoke Glacken), was purchased by Woods for $85,000 at the Fasig-Tipton Saratoga Sale back in 2009.

"He was just a really good-walking horse," Woods recollected Wednesday from his Ocala offices. "He was not real big or anything like that, but he was just a smooth, good-walking horse."

Frolic Now was entered for last year's OBS February Sale, and breezed an eighth of a mile in :10.4 (video). In retrospect, Woods wishes he had it to do all over again.

"We took him to the first sale [OBSFEB] here in Ocala last year, and hindsight is 20-20, you know," he explained. "It was probably early for him. He didn't have a whole hell of a lot of speed, but he moved really well, and that's just not what you need anymore at a 2-year-old sale. He came out of that with a little issue, not a big deal, Charlie [Deters] took him home and got him ready for the races."

Deters had offered the colt through Taylor Made as a yearling. Following his buyback at OBSFEB, he approached Woods, asking if he could buy back into the colt.

Brought along patiently by trainer Tony Reinstedler, Frolic Now was bound to need the race when he debuted nearly three weeks back.

"Tony said he was kind of a dumb kid, so to speak, and he thought, 'We can keep working him and working him and not learn anything, and we'd be better off giving him a run and he'd come on in leaps and bounds,'" Woods commented. "It was a good call by him. He ran around there as green as the grass [that day] and learned a lot and it showed today. He quickened up and won well."

Asked how many horses he owns, Woods deadpanned "as few as possible." He is the co-owner with breeder Peter Rosback of Starlantic (Stormy Atlantic), who is drawn outside in a field of seven in a New York-bred allowance at Aqueduct Friday. He also retains a 25-percent interest in the 3-year-old Guy on the Go (Tapit), who is in training with Bob Baffert and was a debut seventh over 5 1/2 furlongs at Santa Anita Feb. 21.--Alan Carasso

NEW SPONSOR FOR GUINEAS RACES

(Edited Press Release)

Newmarket Racecourses' managing director Stephen Wallis expressed his delight after it was announced that QIPCO will be the worldwide title partner for the British Champions Series, which includes title sponsorship of all the races at The Guineas Festival. The Qatari-based private investment company has signed a two-year agreement with the British Champions Series, a programme of top-class races that will begin with the G1 QIPCO 2000 Guineas at Newmarket Apr. 30. The 2000 Guineas is one of five QIPCO British Champions Series contests that the home of racing will showcase this season. Wallis said, "We look forward to welcoming representatives of QIPCO and the British Champions Series to Newmarket at the end of April for The QIPCO 2000 Guineas, a race that is consistently assessed each year as being among the top 10 in the world. We hope that the race will mark the beginning of a longstanding friendship and commercial relationship between all parties. The 2000 Guineas is a race that has always mattered to both the racing and breeding industry. By being the starting point of the QIPCO British Champions Series, it will matter even more as this new era for racing begins." As well as the May G1 The QIPCO 1000 Guineas, other races under the new sponsors' umbrella include the July 8 G1 Etihad Airways Falmouth S., the July 9 G1 Darley July Cup and the Sept. 23 G2 Shadwell Joel S. Wallis added, "We believe the British Champions Series is an exciting development for the sport. Newmarket Racecourses has been right behind the concept from the beginning and is now at the forefront of it as it becomes a reality. We eagerly await the launch of the British Champions Series with the running of The QIPCO 2000 Guineas. The prospect of Frankel being taken on by top-class opposition in a race that can define careers is a thrilling one."

GEREON TO BID FOR TRIPLE CROWN

Conditioner Christian Zschache has announced that he will be aiming unbeaten colt Gereon (Ger) (Next Desert {Ire}) at this year's Triple Crown races in Germany. He will bid to emulate the only horse to achieve the feat, Konigsstuhl (Ger) (Dschingis Khan {Ger}) in 1979. The winner of all three juvenile races, Gereon landed the Nov. 7 G3 Herzog von Ratibor-Rennen at Krefeld in impressive style and very much resembles his sire (by Desert Style {Ire}), who was the runaway winner of the 2002 G1 Deutsches Derby. He is set to make his seasonal debut in the May 22 G2 German 2000 Guineas at Cologne and will be ridden by Georg Bocskai, who is famed for his association with champion Acatenango (Ger) (Surumu {Ger}). "I asked Georg some time ago if he would like to ride Gereon and he said yes," commented Zschache. "He's ridden for me before, and it has always been a good experience."
