Getting 'Dialed In' for the Derby...

Robert LaPenta's Dialed In (Mineshaft), last seen delivering a narrow victory in the GI Florida Derby Apr. 3, worked four furlongs in :48.40 at Palm Meadows Thursday in preparation of the GI Kentucky Derby. The dark bay, a $475,000 FTSAUG yearling purchase, worked in company with stablemate Miner's Escape (Mineshaft). It was Dialed In's first move since covering the same distance in :49 4/5 Apr. 12. "This is what I wanted, those :12s," trainer Nick Zito commented. "This horse is very rippled--[he] is very ready. I can guarantee this horse is not going to be short. I can't guarantee anything else, but I'll tell you he won't be short. We know the kind of horse he is. The horse is happy here. He likes the track." Zito added that Dialed In will be ship to Kentucky Saturday.

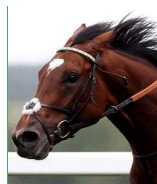

St. John's River Works for Oaks...

Dede McGehee's St. John's River (Include), most recently a strong second in the GII Fair Grounds Oaks Mar. 26, geared up for the GI Kentucky Oaks with a five-furlong move in 1:00.80 at Churchill Downs Thursday. With jockey Rosie Napravnik aboard, she clicked off fractions of :12.40, :24.60, :36.40 and :48.40 and galloped out six furlongs in 1:15.40 over the fast track. "I thought it went okay," trainer Andrew Leggio said. "She was in hand and it was a nice work. She will get two days off and go back to the track Sunday, and gallop up to the Oaks to put the finishing touches on."

FRANKEL NUMBER ONE

Khalid Abdullah's "TDN Rising Star" Frankel (GB) (Galileo {Ire}) will exit from stall one in tomorrow's G1 Qipco 2000 Guineas at Newmarket, where 12 rivals will line up in a bid to derail his faultless run. With his likely pacemaker Rerouted (Stormy Atlantic) positioned widest away from him in 13, the gifted Juddmonte homebred may be forced to make his own running--as Henry Cecil suggested earlier in the week--with the stalls placed in the middle of the track. The Warren Place conditioner issued an update on his website yesterday that read, "Frankel is very well, he did his final piece of work on Tuesday morning and I was delighted. He was lovely and relaxed in behind his lead horse and I'd be very surprised if he's not a better horse than at Newbury [when winning the G3 Greenham S.]. He has come on a lot for his run. He hadn't been on the grass since last year, as it has been so dry, so I was thrilled he was so well behaved." Frankel's armor may seem impenetrable at present, with forecasts stating he is likely to trade shorter than the 4-7 starting price of the great Nijinsky II in 1970. Cont. p2

Silverton Hill Partnership's Pathfork (Distorted Humor) is next door to Frankel, and his 2-year-old performances were marked by a fast break from the gates. The same can be said of Susan Magnier, Michael Tabor, Derrick Smith and the Sangster family's Roderic O'Connor (Ire) (Galileo {Ire}), who is drawn in three. Pathfork currently occupies the position as clear second-favorite and represents the best Irish form lines after wins in the Curragh's G2 Futurity S. in August and G1 National S. in September. Cont. p3

"He's the most relaxed horse with a wonderful temperament," trainer Jessie Harrington, who trained the great two-mile champion chaser Moscow Flyer (Ire), said at her recent press day. "He's developed well over the winter and done everything right, but is so laid-back we have to give him plenty of work. This is breaking new territory for me. It's exciting, but also a little bit terrifying." Jockey Fran Berry was also on hand to pay tribute to the unbeaten colt. "He was only a shell of a horse last year and has thickened out well," Berry said. "He has great balance and should handle the downhill run at Newmarket okay, but I suppose you never really know until they run there." With Aidan O'Brien scratching Alexander Pope (Ire) (Daneshill Dancer {Ire}) and Master of Hounds (Kingmambo) yesterday, the Classic is made up of the smallest field since Mark of Esteem (Ire) beat a dozen in 1996. Standing his ground was Andrew Tinkler's Listed Spring Cup and Listed International Trial S. winner Dubawi Gold (GB) (Dubawi {Ire}), who switches from Lingfield's Polytrack back to turf in a bid to provide his sire with back-to-back editions after the shock win of Makfi (GB) 12 months ago. Richard Hannon Jr. was under no illusion regarding the task of his three-time Guineas-winning stable's representative. "He's done nothing wrong this year and has improved, but we're all fighting it out for the places--I don't see anything to beat Frankel," Hannon said. "I don't even see anything to really race against him. Dubawi Gold is settling much better now, and if things go right for him and he gets cover, he could be in the four." Another outsider is the Eoghan O'Neill trainee Broox (Ire) (Xaar {GB}), who boasts some smart juvenile form, having been fourth in the G1 Prix Morny at Deauville in August before winning the G3 Prix d'Arenberg over six furlongs at Maisons-Laffitte in September.

French-based O'Neill, who saddled Vital Equine (Ire) (Danetime {Ire}) to finish runner-up four years ago, commented yesterday, "Broox seems fine and he is ready to go. We are confident that he will stay the mile. From his 2-year-old form, you would say the trip might be a question, but his pedigree says he will get a mile and the way we have trained him all spring we think he will get a mile. We galloped him over the mile and that is not a worry, but we are not confident that he will beat Frankel." O'Neill did note that surprises do happen. "His sire, Xaar, was the Frankel of 13 years ago," the conditioner added. "He was a very warm favourite for the 2000 Guineas and got turned over." Newmarket's Clerk of the Course Michael Prosser is expecting no break in the dry conditions. "The Guineas ground has not been raced on since October and I think it is very even," Prosser said yesterday. "I think that the middle of the track is where it will unfold and I think the middle is as good as anywhere on the track. The going is good-to-firm, good in places with a GoingStick reading of 9.2. The plan is to irrigate tomorrow, but we will gauge how much after speaking with the meteorologists in the morning."

Keertana, a close third at 31-1 in the GI Breeders' Cup Filly & Mare Turf at Churchill Downs Nov. 5, kicked off her 5-year-old campaign with a pair of wins in Florida, including the GIII The Very One S. at Gulfstream Feb. 20. She was last seen placing third in the GIII Hillsborough S. at Tampa Mar. 12. Slightly favored in this three-turn affair, the Barbara Hunter homebred was settled toward the back in sixth through a half mile in :50.25. With Jose Lezcano aboard, Keertana improved her position down the backstretch, hit the gas as they turned for home, powered clear in the stretch and was never seriously threatened by the late rally of My Baby Baby, who was running in foal to two-time Horse of the Year Curlin.

"I've known her since I was a little kid," trainer Tom Proctor said of owner/breeder Barbara Hunter. "Every time Mrs. Hunter wins a race, people remember [trainer] Stanley Rieser. He was a longtime friend of my father's [trainer Willard Proctor]." Will Keertana take another swing at the Breeders' Cup later this fall? "One race at a time," Proctor replied. "I don't think you can look too far ahead with these horses. She's doing good; I think she's as good this year as any year. So it's nice to see." Seven-year-old Rahy's Attorney enters in top form, following a close second in the GII Mac Diarmida S. Feb. 19 and a win in the GIII Pan American S. Mar. 26. "He's just a grand old horse," said Rachel Holden, assistant to trainer Ian Black. "They don't come around too often like him. He's a 7-year-old gelding who still loves what he does. When they're like that and no issues, touch wood, you just keep going with them. He's had a tremendous winter, and he's in great form." Defending Elkhorn champ Muskettier has failed to find the winner's enclosure in three subsequent attempts. He was third in the Mac Diarmida and second in the Pan American.

DECISION TIME

The May 2nd deadline to enter Yearlings in the upcoming sales is quickly approaching. As the clock ticks, breeders and owners like you are carefully weighing their options.

MARK TAYLOR

Which Yearlings should I keep? Which ones should I sell?

And perhaps most importantly...

Which consignor should I partner with in 2011?

An experienced consignor can take the guesswork out of selling at public auction. And with the market as volatile as it has been these past few years, having a trusted agent on your side can make all the difference. So who will you trust to sell your Yearlings this year?

It seems now more than ever, people are looking for an agency with strength, stability, experience and a knack for getting at least one more bid.

After all, anyone can lead a horse to the ring. But getting those extra bids is what truly sets the top consignors apart.

CHOOSING THE RIGHT CONSIGNOR

Among the top consignors is Taylor Made. Family owned and operated since 1976, Taylor Made has a track record for success that is unmatched.

When you choose Taylor Made, you're not just getting an individual; you're getting a team of the world's best horsemen working together for your success.

Taylor Made has a database of over 12,000 contacts. This global network provides access to the industry's best resources to sell your horse. Their cutting-edge software program, Auction Tracker, was recently developed to monitor trends and activity regarding your horse, providing real-time information to match buyers and sellers, creating a win-win for everyone.

While yearlings in North America averaged $39,800 last year, Taylor Made yearlings averaged $83,680! And for the past 10 years, Taylor Made horses have exceeded the Keeneland September sale average by 22.5%! That's consistency you can count on!

done any favors when barriers were drawn Thursday morning and will have to do his work from post position 12. Despite the misfortune, the 4-year-old's owner Johnson Lam was taking it in stride. "My horse is very well," he said when interviewed on stage, "but this is the best opposition he has met, so I must not be over-confident." Since dropping his first five decisions in Hong Kong, Ambitious Dragon has won six of his last seven, including a clear success from recent G1 Champions Mile hero Xtension (Ire) (Xaar {GB}) in the Derby Mar. 20. Viva Pataca, who took the Hong Kong Derby in 2006, posted the first of his two QE II wins the next spring, and posted a 15-1 upset of this contest last year. He's back for another crack at the ripe old age of nine. Typically held-up during his races, he won't be inconvenienced by drawing stall nine, and is given a puncher's chance by trainer John Moore. "He probably has a chance from a place point of view, although I'd like to think he'll be right up there at the finish," the Australian commented.

River Jetez will look to give trainer Mike de Kock a third QE II success to add to wins by Irridescence (SAf) (Caesour) in 2006 and Archipenko (Kingmambo) in 2009. The full-sister to South African legend Pocket Power (SAf) exits a strong runner-up effort in the G1 Dubai Duty Free S. Mar. 26 and leaves from the two Sunday. Click for the HKJC.com PPs.

STATEMENT FROM THE JOCKEY CLUB:

When, on March 28, both the incoming and outgoing chairs of the Association of Racing Commissioners International called for a five-year plan to eliminate race-day medication, a possible watershed moment was presented to racing in the United States.

Perhaps the decades of discussion and dissension will give way, finally, to recognition that American racing medication policies are not only out of step with an increasing number of the world's racing nations, but out of step with other major league sports in our own backyard.

Regardless of the sport and regardless of the country, regulatory authorities, participants, fans and customers are growing increasingly intolerant of the use of performance-altering substances which may influence the outcome of competition.

Background...

Although current rules of racing categorize medications into those permitted to be administered prior to race day and those permitted on race day, it is the latter which has attracted the most attention, specifically furosemide and a few adjunct anti-bleeder medications.

Current policy in this country regarding medications administered prior to race day is not that dissimilar from international racing jurisdictions, where the objective is to ensure the pharmacological effects of the substances are eliminated by the time of the race.

The recent ARCI model rule lowering the regulatory threshold for phenylbutazone is a good example of a major step towards harmony with international medication standards.

The major difference pertains to race-day medications. Most of our international colleagues don't permit it, period — yet still manage top-tier racing programs without the need to medicate their athletes on race day. In fact, information recently received from the Hong Kong Jockey Club reveals that just 1.4 percent of their racing population — averaging 15 horses per year — is compulsorily retired annually due to issues related to Exercise Induced Pulmonary Hemorrhage.

With recent action proposed in South America, the U.S. and Canada will soon be the only major racing jurisdictions in the world that allow a racehorse to receive medication on the day of the race.

Soon after ARCI's announcement, several organizations spoke up in favor of the ultimate goal of eliminating race-day medication, including the Kentucky Thoroughbred Association, the Thoroughbred Owners and Breeders Association, Keeneland Association, Breeders' Cup, Ltd., Thoroughbred Racing Associations of North America, and The Jockey Club.

The National Thoroughbred Racing Association failed to achieve consensus on the matter and, along with the American Association of Equine Practitioners, is responding to the call of the Racing Medication and Testing Consortium to host an international summit to address race-day medication. Cont. p9

Those organizers should endeavor to gather international regulators, trainers and veterinarians to discuss and develop specific recommendations for the management of EIPH without furosemide, to better align our medication policies with concerns expressed by our fans and verified by NTRA's own survey results, which follow:

2007: "Whether it is performing enhancing drugs or therapeutic overages, Thoroughbred racing is suffering from a serious drug problem that is undermining the sport"

2008: "They [core fans] see racing as losing its integrity by the day, and seriously challenged on two different fronts: a) performance enhancing drugs and b) safety and welfare"

2009: Summarized: nearly 60% of core fans interviewed indicated they are "very concerned" about performance enhancing drugs in horseracing

Addressing the HBPA Position and the South African Study...

Meanwhile, the National Horsemen's Benevolent and Protective Association quite expectedly balked at the statements made by the ARCI leaders this past March. With nearly 95% of all starters and 75% of first-time starters receiving furosemide, it is understandable that the organization whose members are most closely connected to the horse — the trainers — would feel other stakeholders in the industry were forcing their hand inappropriately.

There are various points of accord between The Jockey Club's position and the HBPA's recent statements.

The Jockey Club agrees with the HBPA that furosemide is a good treatment for EIPH. In fact, the 2009 study in South Africa, which validated the efficacy of furosemide in reducing EIPH, was funded in part by the Grayson-Jockey Club Research Foundation.

This study, however, which was designed to evaluate the efficacy of furosemide in preventing EIPH in horses, provides little, if any, guidance for setting medication policies regarding the use of furosemide in horse racing. And clearly, it did not consider the fundamental drivers of policy such as the integrity of the sport, the perception and confidence of our customers and the health of the breed, to name a few.

Our international colleagues responsible for regulating racing abroad would appear to agree: the study has not caused a single international racing jurisdiction to reconsider their ban on the use of furosemide on race day. This is not surprising. Even with furosemide, the majority of horses still bled (as determined by an endoscopic exam) and the average decrease in EIPH score was less than one-half a grade on the 0-4 grading scale used in the study.

We further agree with the HBPA that drug testing of horse racing in this country is already more comprehensive than in any other sport; and it needs to go much further. The comprehensive efforts begun under the RMTC's Drug Testing Initiative must continue to implement standardized testing procedures, certify testing labs to consistent high levels and provide enforcement through a uniform national medication rulebook containing clear guidelines for medication-free competition along with powerful deterrents to illegal activity. Tougher penalties and race-day security procedures designed to catch the cheaters, are also integral.

The Jockey Club also concurs that the concept of “zero tolerance” is impractical and self-defeating. Improvements in detection of medications through changes in technology result in a moving standard, disconnected from scientific understanding of the medication in the horse.

Matters raised recently by the HBPA that The Jockey Club does not agree with include the suggestion that all parties and viewpoints have not been sufficiently involved in racing’s dialogue. For anyone who has followed the virtual half-century of evolution from what was once styled “controlled” medication to today, it is not credible to suggest that any stakeholder has not been given adequate opportunity to be heard.

In fact, that organization already has successfully executed a one-year delay in implementation of an otherwise widely-endorsed reduction of allowable levels of Phenylbutazone to improve the ability of examining veterinarians to detect soundness issues during pre-race inspections.

Matters of Science and Policy...

The Jockey Club has always been a strong proponent of the value of research to answer questions of science. But we believe additional science is unnecessary here to answer the fundamental question of policy before us: should horses race only when they are free from the influence of medications? We answer yes.

The Jockey Club, however, disagrees with the assertion that the American race horse could not compete without furosemide. The prime recent examples countering this assertion are the frequent victories of American-campaigned horses in the Dubai World Cup and, most recently, at Royal Ascot where the U.S. was represented by two winners, where they are not allowed to run on any therapeutic substances.

Current race-day medication policies have resulted in the overuse of an under-needed medication that is far from producing a “level playing field.” Adding to that the use of adjunct bleeder medications — which have failed to demonstrate efficacy in the treatment of EIPH — our overall race-day medication policies have become disconnected from the sport.

With the results of the international summit in hand, perhaps the HBPA’s summer convention would be best utilized to provide its members with alternatives to managing EIPH besides the use of furosemide, rather than continuing to debate the merits of race-day medication.

The fundamental disagreement gets to the heart of the sport of racing. Is it to be an honest game in which the athletes perform solely on the basis of their physical abilities, free of artificial enhancements? Should it be a game where a bright line exists separating when therapeutic treatment of an athlete ends and competition begins?

We answer yes on both accounts: the integrity of horse racing and the health and safety of our human and equine athletes requires horses to compete free from the influence of medications.

In addition to its ability to reduce EIPH, furosemide has been found to exert a number of other effects in the horse broadly accepted as performance enhancing. Furosemide leads to significant weight loss by post time and increases TC02 levels among other pharmacological effects.

Summary...

In the atmosphere of today’s sports world, where the acronym PED (Performance Enhancing Drugs) regularly litters reports on baseball, football, cycling, etc., no sport should expect its public, or its honest participants, to embrace a philosophy of performance enhancement. The public is our customer, and the customer should not be asked to embrace a knowingly sullied product.

Many observers today believe that the Thoroughbred is not as sound and hardy as he once was, and the generations of horses racing on medication and then dominating the gene pool are suspected of causing or contributing to that decline. Thus, the welfare of the breed merges with the welfare of the business. If the rest of the world increasingly looks on the American Thoroughbred as a tainted product, the impact on the international market is easily predictable.

The proper treatment of animals is a high priority to the public, now more than ever. Even the horseman who sincerely believes he or she is doing right by the horse by racing on medications should grasp that the public can hardly be expected to distinguish between a syringe that provides the proper therapy and one that introduces chicanery. Survey after survey has said that medication adversely affects the public’s acceptance of sports.

Horse racing is no different.

The Jockey Club stands convinced that the elimination of race-day medication is essential to achieving optimal stewardship of the horse, the sport, the public perception and confidence, and the business of Thoroughbred racing. We welcome the fresh opportunity, created by the current attention to furosemide, to steer back to a more proper path and urge the development of a comprehensive plan to phase in these reforms, including medication-free competition.

CONVOCAATION
(h, 5, Pulpit--Shade Dance, by Nureyev)
Consigned by Niall Brennan Stables, Agent V
$340,000 2yo '08 KEEAPR
Lifetime Record: MGSP, 13-3-5-1, $306,345

The Centennial Farms partners have had to be patient with Convocation (Pulpit). Purchased at the 2008 Keeneland April sale, the 5-year-old was unraced at two and made six starts in each of his first two seasons at the track. But the relatively light campaign has been a part of the plan, and the operation is looking forward to a break-out year in 2011.

"We take our time with all of our horses," said Centennial President Don Little Jr. "If you look at all of our top horses, they were at their best when they were four or five. Rubiano was champion sprinter when he was five; Colonial Affair did win the [GI] Belmont S., but his best year was at four; Corinthian won the Breeders' Cup Dirt Mile and the [GI] Met Mile at four.

Don Little Jr.

"That's by design," Little added. "That's our philosophy. Everybody wants to win the [GI] Kentucky Derby, you'd love to win the [GI] Champagne S., but, if you look at the history, the horses that are successful in the early races, that's it--they don't have longevity. In my opinion, you want a horse that can go on and be successful at four and five. There's a lot of money out there. We also want to have a stallion, and breeders can look at the type of horses we have--that run til they're five and retire sound--and know they can give you that longevity."

It might seem that shopping at the juvenile sales might not fit the Centennial plan, but, of the 10 horses the outfit buys each year, two or three come from the breeze-ups.

"One of the best horses we've ever had came out of the 2-year-old sales," Little said. "Ground Storm--he ran until he was eight."

A son of Summer Squall, Ground Storm was bought for $475,000 from the William Harrigan consignment at Keeneland April in 1996, and went on to win the GIII Stymie H., compiling a record of 40-11-11-8 and earning $628,599.

Centennial's first-ever stakes winner was also a 2-year-old purchase. Silent Account (Private Account) was a $110,000 FTFFEB purchase from Hickory Tree Farm in 1985. The chestnut captured the GII Alcibiades S. later that year, and raced for four seasons, picking up 10 wins from 37 appearances and bankrolling $480,475. Centennial sold her for $410,000 as a broodmare at Fasig-Tipton November in 1988.

The Centennial team--comprised of Little, along with veterinarian Dr. Stephen Carr and Paula Parsons, who runs the Centennial farm in Middleburg, Virginia--have been working the sales together for more than a quarter of a century.

Paula Parsons

"It's kind of neat to be able to say we have been together for 27 years," Little said. "My father and I first met [Carr] in Aiken, South Carolina, through our connection with polo. I spent two months with him for my senior project in high school, working as his assistant."

The team has developed a system over the years that works well for them.

"[Carr and Parsons] get to the sale a day ahead of me, and out together a list of 'keepers,'" Little explained. "Then I go and look at the horses on my own. We meet, go over the list again, and all three of us go back and look at them together. If any one of us has a concern about a horse, that's it--the three of us have to be in agreement on every horse. Then we come up with the price we're willing to pay."

Little remembers what it was about Convocation, part of Niall Brennan's '08 offering at Keeneland April, that caught his eye.

Dr. Stephen Carr

"He had a good presence and, of course, we loved his pedigree," he said. "He worked well over the racetrack, and we were hoping to have another Pulpit to follow in Corinthian's hoofsteps."

Convocation has not quite reached Corinthian's level, but he has shown promise. The bay broke his maiden by 6 3/4 lengths at Belmont Park at three, and came back to be second in the GII Dwyer S. Last year, he had a pair of allowance wins and was runner-up in the GIII Westchester S. and GII Suburban H., then took the rest of the year off after running fourth in the GI Woodward S. in September.

"We felt it was time to give him a break," Little said. "We try to do best by our horses--like star athletes, they need an off season. They need the time to get stronger and bigger, to grow."

Convocation came back to run third as the 1-2 chalk in an optional claimer at Gulfstream Mar. 27. He made a move up the rail in the stretch, but was checked at the sixteenth pole and ended up 1 3/4 lengths behind the winner at the wire.

"It was just an unlucky race," Little said. "He should have won. He was the prohibitive favorite, but he got into some trouble. It happens--that's racing. But he came out of the race in great shape."

Convocation

Convocation is one of 22 horses in the Centennial stable. The group consists of about 70 partners, but there are never more than 10 to 15 in on an individual horse.

"We want everyone to feel not just like a partner, but like an owner," Little said. "We want them to be able to experience it as if they are sole owner. We provide boxes for the big races; we offer them a house in Saratoga, so they don't have to get a hotel room for $500 a night. When Arch Traveler [Sky Mesa] ran in the Florida Derby, we had a suite at Gulfstream for the partners. In terms of customer service, I think we are one of the best."

Pat Lamberty, the head of client management and sales for

Rubiano

Centennial, added, "We limit the number of partners on each horse, because it is very hard to take care of 40 people. We learned that with Rubiano. If you only have 10 to 15 partners on a horse, they will have a really nice experience and never feel overlooked."

The hope is that

Convocation will be providing his Centennial connections with their share of memorable events this season.

"The handicap division was very robust last year, but, without Blame or Quality Road, it's in need of a horse to jump up," Lamberty said. "We think Convocation fits into the picture."

Little concluded, "He has a fabulous pedigree. If he can just break through and win one or two of the big races this year, he will be a very valuable stallion."

Dark Cove was claimed from Robert LaPenta by the Magdalena Racing syndicate out of a sixth-place effort against $16,000 maidens on the Saratoga main track Aug. 16 and promptly graduated for $25,000 when stretched out on the turf just 13 days later. The bay added a 15-1 upset in a Sept. 25 Belmont allowance and made it three on the bounce with a neck success over this Polytrack Oct. 23. He'd found graded company too stiff in his two most recent appearances, a 10th in the Gill Commonwealth S. on the Churchill turf Nov. 13 and a seventh in the Gill Fort Lauderdale S. at Gulfstream Jan. 9. The second choice off the short layoff, Dark Cove settled one from the tail as Lonesome Street and GSW Mad Flatter (Flatter) went at an above-average clip up front. The hot pace began to take its toll on the pacesetters, and Dark Cove proved the beneficiary, shifting out five deep into the lane before putting the race away in the final 70 yards. Midnight Mischief rounded out a $57.80 exacta for the sire. Click for the brisnet.com chart or Video, sponsored by Taylor Made.

Winner of a Nov. 21 allowance rained off the Calder turf, Pointing North was runner-up for a $50,000 tag on the Gulfstream turf Feb. 5 and was claimed away from Zabeel International Racing off a near-miss second against $25,000 taggers in Hallandale Feb. 25. He split the field in a five-furlong turf sprint Mar. 18 and was the second-longest price in this field of five. Saving ground beneath Rajiv Maragh as the slow-starting Agastache and Macias went at it up front, Pointing North remained glued to the fence in the stretch and drove through late to record the upset. LA REINE LIONNE (f, 4, Leroidesanimaux {Brz}--Unbridled Lover, by Unbridled) returned from a brief absence to be second in a conditioned $50,000 claimer over the Gulfstream turf course Jan. 30, then went to Tampa for her next start at that same level and thrashed her rivals by 6 1/4 lengths. She made it two straight with an easy score in a $25,000 starter-allowance in Hallandale Mar. 18 and was pounded into 4-5 for to complete the three-bagger. A stalking second as Breaking Promises (Broken Vow) towed them along, La Reine Lionne strode effortlessly to the front in upper stretch and was ridden out to a 3 1/2-length victory over Emerald Beech (Maria's Mon). The dark bay made a favorable return to the races Mar. 19, rallying from ninth and last to finish third by a length. Well-rated along the inside by Alan Garcia while going comfortably up front this time, the homebred filly turned away Cass' Lady (Eurosilver) at the head of the lane and drew clear in the final furlong for a two-length victory. For the period spanning Jan. 1 through Apr. 23 compared to last year's corresponding time span, attendance was up 48%, increasing to 322,165 from 218,078, total on-track handle (including money bet on simulcast races) was up 74.6%, increasing to $144 million from $83 million, NYRA Rewards telephone wagering was up 95%, increasing to $13 million from $6.7 million, and NYRA Rewards internet wagering was up 147%, increasing to $20 million from $8.2 million. "We are extremely pleased with the numbers from the recently concluded Aqueduct meeting," NYRA President and CEO Charles Hayward said. "I am very encouraged by the hard work that everyone at NYRA has done since the shutdown of New York City Off-Track Betting to encourage customers to attend our live races and wager on our product. It has been a total team effort and has demonstrated NYRA's ability to react quickly and decisively to what could have been a very negative occurrence for the racing industry as a whole. I also want to thank the New York State Racing and Wagering Board and Chairman John Sabini for helping us gain expedient approvals for a number of customer service initiatives."

RCI Board Votes to Re-Examine Furosemide:

Edited Press Release

The Board of Directors of the Association of Racing Commissioners International voted without objection in favor of a resolution calling for the re-examination of whether its current policy pertaining to furosemide should be continued. RCI also endorsed international coordination and collaboration on overall medication policies and underscored the need to do so with non-steroidal anti-inflammatory and corticosteroid treatments. "This issue elicits strong opinions," RCI President Ed Martin said. "Our goal is to do what is right for the sport and its equine and human athletes. This begins our formal process to consider the proposals that have been made." The RCI resolution expressed support for the international summit to be jointly convened this summer by the Racing Medication and Testing Consortium, the American Association of Equine Practitioners, and the National Thoroughbred Racing Association. That summit was spurred by calls by some RCI officials for a multi-year phase out of race day administration of furosemide as well as adjuncts where allowed. The RCI Board will next meet in Saratoga Springs July 27.

DALAKHANI FILLY TOPS BREEZE-UP There were few moments of excitement at yesterday's Tattersalls Ireland Flat Breeze-Up Sale, where a daughter of Dalakhani (Ire) topped the session when selling to Brian Grassick Bloodstock for €45,000. Consigned by Newtown Stud as hip 16, the January-foaled bay is out of Fringe (GB) (In The Wings {GB}) and is from the family of Invincible Spirit (Ire). Newtown also sold the second highest-priced lot in hip 33, another filly by Rock of Gibraltar (Ire) whose dam Karlysha (Ire) (Kalanisi {Ire}) is a half to the top stayer Kasthari (Ire) (Vettori {Ire}). Bobby O'Ryan paid €40,000 for that offering and was later on hand to snap up a son of Majestic Missile (Ire) from the draft of Abbeyleix Stud. Hip 62, out of Miraculous (Ire) (Marju {Ire}), is from the extended family of MGSW Fair Judgment and Stevie Wonderboy and last year's G3 Prestige S. winner Theyskens' Theory (Bernardini) and sold for €30,000.

"We anticipated there would be challenges in establishing this sale on the international sales calendar, yet there have been a number of positives to be taken from today, especially as it was our first Breeze-Up since 1977," commented Tattersalls Ireland Managing Director Geroge Mernagh. "Logistically the sale worked extremely well, especially the facilities made available to us by Fairyhouse racecourse. We received many positive comments from vendors and purchasers on the standard of the ground and there can be no doubt that the proximity of Fairyhouse racecourse to Tattersalls Ireland offers a unique world-class venue to hold this type of sale. It was heartening to see a number of overseas buyers present from Spain, Italy and the UK." Full catalogue and updates can be found on www.tattersalls.ie.

GOFFS TO SPONSOR NATIONAL Goffs has become the new sponsor of The Curragh's G1 National S. The €200,000 juvenile contest is scheduled for Sept. 10. "We are delighted to demonstrate our support of Irish racing at the highest level and continue our close association with The Curragh through the sponsorship of this world-class Group 1 race on The Irish Field St Leger day," said Goffs Chief Executive Henry Beeby. "The calibre of the Goffs National S. and its timing in mid-September is a perfect fit for Goffs, offering a fantastic platform for our ongoing promotion of the Orby Sale."

Breaking through at Marseille-Borely in her third go Oct. 5, Izalia made a smooth transition into pattern company with victory in the Nov. 1 G3 Prix Miesque at Maisons-Laffitte, but was undone by a wide draw in the G3 Prix Imprudence back there last time Apr. 7 and finished 10th. Bouncing out of her inside box to stalk the leaders in third along the rail here, she challenged going well inside the final quarter mile and was ridden out late to score in cozy fashion. "Not only did she have a bad draw in the Prix Imprudence, but she pulled far too hard for her own good," explained trainer Frederic Rossi. "With a race under her belt this season and with a good draw today, she showed her true quality and proved her success in the Prix Miesque was well deserved. We'll aim her at races around six or seven furlongs, but I don't yet know in which race she will return because I'm reluctant to run her against older horses too soon in the season."

Cadeau For Maggi hit the board in the July 16 G3 Flieger Trophy at Hamburg, but slipped to 11th in the G3 Polar Cup at Ovrevoll July 29. He came back this term to run ninth in an all-weather conditions heat at Cagnes-sur-Mer Feb. 12 and tuned up for this with a handicap victory at Maisons-Laffitte last time Apr. 7. Breaking well from the outside stall to shadow the leaders in fourth after the initial strides, he came under pressure to challenge at the quarter-mile marker and was ridden out once quickening to the fore at the distance to hold all comers at bay for a first black-type success. "Cadeau For Maggi has climbed the ladder consistently and I'm happy with the manner of his win because he was courageous from a bad draw on the outside," commented winning trainer Alex Pantall. "We now have no other choice but to go for a group race and he is entered in the [G3] Benazet-Rennen [at Baden-Baden June 4]. He will go straight to that, unless we decide to run in the [G3] Prix de Saint-Georges [at Longchamp May 15]."
