DIALED IN, UNCLE MO TOP TWO IN DERBY 137

Robert LaPenta's GI Florida Derby hero Dialed In (Mineshaft) and Repole Stable's reigning Eclipse Award winner Uncle Mo (Indian Charlie) are pegged at odds of 4-1 and 9-2, respectively, on Mike Battaglia's morning line for Saturday's 137th running of the GI Kentucky Derby at historic Churchill Downs. Post positions were drawn late Wednesday afternoon, and the once-beaten Dialed In was assigned post position number eight, with

Julien Leparoux to ride. "We are very, very happy with that," trainer Nick Zito told HRTV. "[Owner] Bob [LaPenta] asked me what post I'd like and I said 7 through 11, and we get 8, so I couldn't ask for more, and we're certainly happy with the post" the two-time Derby winner commented. Zito is pleased with how the colt has settled in at Churchill. "It looks like he's getting over the track very well and is getting better and better each day," he offered. "I have a lot of confidence in this horse." Uncle Mo is, by owner Mike Repole's own admission, 50-50 to make the race, and a final decision could come as late as Saturday morning, Repole said in a Tuesday email to the Louisville Courier-Journal. Assuming he goes postward, he will have to overcome the 18 hole, and, with several other on-pace types drawn inside of him, he will either need to be used to get forward enough, or ease back off the pace. In his five career starts, the most the bay colt has ever found himself off the lead is two lengths in the GI Breeders' Cup Juvenile at Churchill last November. "We'd like to get a position similar to what we had in the Juvenile," trainer Todd Pletcher told HRTV. And as far as the draw? "The 18's a little further out than I'd like, but it's not that bad," Pletcher insisted. Derby field p2-3

DEVIL MAY CARE DIES

Multiple Grade I winner Devil May Care (Malibu Moon--Kelli's Ransom, by Red Ransom) was euthanized Wednesday. The four-year-old filly was suffering from lymphosarcoma. John Greathouse purchased Devil May Care for $110,000 out of the 2008 Keeneland September Yearling sale and opted to take her home when she RNA'd for $400,000 at the 2009 Fasig-Tipton February sale. Racing in the colors of the Greathouse family's Glencrest Farm, success came quickly for the Todd Pletcher trainee when she won the 2009 GI Frizette S. in just her second start. Victory in the GII Bonnie Miss S. the following spring earned Devil May Care a spot in last year's GI Kentucky Derby. Facing 19 colts and a sloppy track in the Run for the Roses, the filly loomed a threat in upper stretch before fading to 10th. She returned to win the GI Mother Goose S. and GI Coaching Club American Oaks before ending her racing career with a fourth-place effort in the GI Alabama S. Devil May Care won five of nine starts and earned $724,000. "To all who have followed and been a part of Devil May Care's racing life and her fight for her life, she and I wish to thank and applaud all of you," Greathouse said in a statement. "The racing was a thrill and one not to be forgotten or dismissed out of hand. To this day, I don't believe we ever saw her best race. To those who cared for her and her health, we both thank you from the bottom of our hearts. We tried very hard, only to be overcome by lymphosarcoma, an enemy that we couldn't beat."

Derby a Defining Moment for Arias...

Edited Press Release

At the tender age of 25, Juan Arias, then a jockey, suffered a stroke and was forced into a premature retirement from the saddle. Some 21 years later, he finds himself on racing's biggest stage at the Kentucky Derby. The stroke, as it turned out, was caused by complications from the drastic weight-reducing measures. "By doing that, I came down with bleeding ulcers, and I was bleeding internally, and I didn't know. My blood count was down, and that's when I came down with the heart problem, because my heart didn't have enough blood to pump," the South Florida-based trainer said. "They kept me in hospital for 45 days. The hospital wouldn't release me until my heart gave a normal reading. My doctor said if it reoccurred, it would be worse." Once his career as a jockey was over, Arias became an exercise rider and an assistant to Richard Root and later worked under Wesley Ward and Happy Alter. Decisive Moment is drawn five for Saturday's race.

Interlude a Melange of Baffert Runners...

In the Y2K Derby, War Chant split the 19-horse field, finishing 14 1/2 lengths behind Fusaichi Pegasus (Mr. Prospector). Arnold Zetcher's Midnight Interlude did his sire one better by winning the GI Santa Anita Derby in his most recent start, and trainer Bob Baffert hopes the homebred colt is on his best behavior Saturday. "He's still figuring out racing. He's off and on," the conditioner commented. "He's got a little trait of every horse I've ever brought here," Baffert said. "He has the temperament of War Emblem; he's a (jerk), who has his ears pinned all the time and wants to bite people. He's like Point Given, puts on weight the more you do with him; you've got to keep working on him. And he's got the competitive spirit of Silver Charm. Now, if I could get all of that stuff working together.

Derby Notebook

Weather, 'Mo' and Family...

The rain was gone Wednesday morning at Churchill, but the chilled remained. Now, three days out from the Derby, things look reasonably optimistic weather-wise. Today should be a great day--mostly sunny with highs nearing 70--and while there may be morning showers tomorrow, the forecast calls for clearing skies by noon. Saturday, Derby Day, looks like the biggest question mark. Weather.com says 50% chance of precipitation and scattered thunderstorms, with a high of 71. Fingers crossed...

There was a lot of talk yesterday about whether Uncle Mo (Indian Charlie), made the second favorite at 9-2 on Mike Battaglia's morning line, would be scratched before the race. The colt, just ahead of stablemate Stay Thirsty (Bernardini), was the first onto Churchill's track yesterday after the renovation break. He looked very mellow--I've never seen the horse in person before; that might just be his demeanor--but his coat looked good and he appears plenty fit. At the draw later in the afternoon, trainer Todd Pletcher admitted Kentucky's terrible run of wet weather has made "the easy things hard" when it came to morning training. Again, fingers crossed. Hopefully the colt is in sufficient form after battling a gastrointestinal infection in recent weeks.

Mike Repole, who owns both Uncle Mo and Stay Thirsty, was also at the draw. He talked to reporters about his three goals as a 13-year-old--to win the Kentucky Derby, be general manager of the Mets, and coach St. John's basketball squad. "People thought I was crazy. Like my mom," he said. "But, you know what? She never discouraged me. I was always taught to think big and dream bigger. When I talk to kids, I always say, 'If me, why not you?'" Repole was asked what his goals as a 42-year-old are. "Spend more time with friends and family," he said. "I've done a lot and am proud and happy and blessed, and that's all I want." Repole is about to get his wish. He has 100 people flying in for the race, including uncle Tony, who's making the trip all the way from Italy. -L Marquardt

LIVING THE DREAM

The plan was to talk to the owners of the five Grade I Kentucky Derby prep winners, but, as is the whim of the racing gods, one of the quintet didn't make it to Churchill Downs. GI Wood Memorial hero Toby's Corner (Bellamy Road) was injured, dashing Dianne Cotter's hopes. His defection, however, opened the door to GIII Coolmore Lexington S. winner Derby Kitten (Kitten's Joy), so it seemed appropriate to ask his owner, Ken Ramsey, how it felt to have this 11th-hour opportunity to realize his Derby dreams.--Ed.

MILES APART

Ken Ramsey's first horse, acquired by way of a $1,500 claim at Miles Park, had three legs, one eye and no testicles, as he tells it. A much more complete package--Derby Kitten (Kitten's Joy)--will carry his and wife Sarah's red and white colors into the Kentucky Derby starting gate, and should the colt pull off the upset, he will fulfill a dream for Ramsey that he pledged would ultimately be etched on his gravestone.

"I wanted my epitaph to be, 'Thanks for stopping by, sorry I missed you,' but if I win the Kentucky Derby, I guess I'll change that," he laughed yesterday. "I might even have a few roses inscribed on it!"

Derby Kitten, the son of Ramsey's Grade I winner Kitten's Joy, was the very last addition to the Derby field, taking the place of injured Toby's Corner (Bellamy Road).

left, so I want to make sure I take advantage of every opportunity."

"What's misfortune for one crew is good fortune for another, but we weren't wishing anybody bad luck," Ramsey said. "Hopefully that horse isn't hurt very bad. But, like I was telling somebody the other day, I'm 75 years old, and I probably have only 20 or 25 Derbies

So unexpected was Derby Kitten's arrival on the Derby scene that yesterday morning, with Rachel Muzikar in the irons, he sported a Derby-embossed saddle towel that read 'Workmate'--the towels typically worn by the exercise partners of the horses actually running in the race.

Derby Kitten's tardy arrival in the Derby field mirrors his appearance on the Derby radar in general. In January, he had already made five career starts and was still a maiden. Ramsey and trainer Mike Maker felt comfortable enough dropping him in for a $75,000 maiden tag and, despite coming away with a win at Gulfstream that day, the Derby was probably the farthest thing from their minds. But after finishing second in his next two, Derby Kitten staged the upset in the GIII Coolmore Lexington S. at Keeneland Apr. 23, which ultimately gave him enough graded earnings to crack the Derby field.

In a way, he was just living up to his name--given by a guy who named a horse Roses in May. Ramsey is not afraid to think big, but he was also atoning for the colt's full-brother William's Kitten, who was on the Derby trail briefly last year. William's Kitten finished second to Super Saver (Maria's Mon) in the GII Kentucky Jockey Club S. at Churchill, won the Sunday Silence BC S. at Fair Grounds, then finished third to Winslow Homer (Unbridled's Song) in the GIII Holy Bull S.

"He was a nice horse; he was on everybody's Top 20 list for the Derby," said Ramsey. "But after the Holy Bull, he suffered a pulled suspensory and he was out for a year, and we just brought him back. I don't think he's back like he was, but he's still a good allowance horse."

The Ramseys did make the 2010 Derby, however, with Dean's Kitten (Kitten's Joy), winner of the GII Lane's End S. at Turfway. The horse went off at 25-1 and never factored, finishing 14th.

Dean's Kitten Pat Lang

Dean's Kitten was the Ramseys' second Derby starter. Their first, Ten Cents A Shine (Devil His Due), came in 2003, the year Funny Cide (Distorted Humor) won.

"He hadn't run very well in his couple of starts before the Derby, but [trainer] D. Wayne [Lukas] wanted to put him in--he really had to twist my arm!--so I said okay," said Ramsey. "And he ran eighth, beaten about seven lengths. We had Calvin Borel on him--this was before he was Bo-Rail. He got off the horse and said that he tried to get through on the rail and couldn't, but thought if he did we could have been third or fourth. So that was a good experience."

Despite being from Eastern Kentucky, Ken Ramsey didn't see his first horse race until he was in the Navy. He was stationed on an aircraft carrier docked in San Francisco, and he and a friend made the trip to nearby Golden Gate Fields.

"That was the very first horse race I saw," he explained. "Later, I came back and went to the University of Kentucky, and naturally I went out to Keeneland. I made a few bucks and fell in love with the sport. But I didn't get into owning race horses then."

Instead, Ramsey got into real estate. He started Ken Ramsey Realty, which became a leader in the Lexington area.

"I believe for 19 months in a row, nobody sold more houses and property than my company," he said.

Later, in the 1980s, he would form Ramcell, a cellular phone company that operated in Kentucky and Oregon. As the industry grew exponentially and major corporations fought for market share, Ramsey sold most of the company's infrastructure, including wireless networks, to AT&T and Verizon. Cont. p7

Ramsey continues to be an active radio station owner, however. He owns seven stations in Arkansas and Wisconsin under the name Mississippi River Broadcasters.

"That was the name of the company we bought our first radio station under and that's the way it was incorporated," Ramsey explained. "We have a cluster of six stations in Wisconsin, and we're the dominant market in La Crosse. We've got one that plays oldie moldies, one's sports talk, we've got classical, rock 'n' roll. We do it mostly off the satellites, so it doesn't cost us that much to run, and we've got a manager up there who loves radio about as much as I love horse racing."

Ramsey was still in real estate when he was re-introduced to racing.

"One of my competitors called me up one Saturday morning and asked if I'd like to go to Keeneland," Ramsey recalled. "I said, 'well, I'm awfully busy.' And he said, 'C'mon! I don't want you competing against me seven days a week.' So we went out and met Bucky Sallee--he is the legendary bugler out there--and Bucky marked our programs and gave us some tips, and I walked out of there with $40. A week later, we went back, and I made more than $40. And I said, 'My God, this beats working!'

Ramsey's success in real estate allowed him to claim his first horse--the aforementioned Red Redeemer--who cost all of $1,500 in 1969.

"My first trainer was a guy called 'Cadillac' Jack Soward, and Cadillac Jack was supposed to have made some inquiries about the horse to make sure he was good. Anyway, we got the horse back to the barn, and he was dead lame--walking on three legs. Jack went to the horse's off side and waved his hand, and said, 'My God! This horse has vision in only one eye--he's blind!' And he was a gelding. So I bought a horse with three legs, no testicles and one eye. I said, 'Well, when you start at the bottom, there's only one place to go.'"

Ramsey maintained a claiming operation in the 1970s before getting out of the business to focus on Ramcell in the 1980s. But by 1994, he and Sarah were ready to have another go at it, and purchased what is now the 1,400-acre Ramsey Farm near Lexington. Over the years, they have campaigned the likes of Catienus (Storm Cat), Badge of Silver (Silver Deputy) and Precious Kitten (Catienus), as well as Roses in May (Devil His Due), who in 2005 won the G1 Dubai World Cup.

"That was definitely our biggest win and put us on the international stage," Ramsey said.

The Ramseys also, of course, campaigned Kitten's Joy (El Prado {Ire}), a three-time Grade I winner and earner of over $2 million and the champion turf horse of 2004. To say the Ramseys have supported Kitten's Joy is something of an understatement. At one point, they had 198 mares on their farm, the majority of whom were sent to him, and even this spring, sent 110 mares to the chestnut, whose oldest progeny are now four.

"And they're really starting to run," said Ramsey. "Last year, we got them started late, because we didn't send them to Ocala for the winter training, and we had a bad winter. But they're coming on now. At Keeneland, we won 10 races, and nine were by Kitten's Joy. Plus we had one that ran second, and guess who he was by? Kitten's Joy. And we'd bred him. At Gulfstream we had 17 wins, and 10 of those were by Kitten's Joy."

Looking forward to the Derby, Ramsey said he wouldn't mind seeing a few more rain clouds in the coming days. "I hope the sun's shining bright when they play 'My Old Kentucky Home,' and I'm not wishing any adverse weather on Churchill Downs, but I sure hope the track is sloppy, because that's going to move us up a couple lengths," he said.

It might not be enough to get Derby Kitten to the wire first, but Ramsey is thinking big.

"I'm an ol' Kentucky boy, and have dreamed of winning the Derby all my life," he said. "I've been on the winner's circle on one side of the track, but I want to go the [infield] winner's circle on the other side, where the horseshoe is. That would be the biggest thrill of my life. It's on my bucket list, and I need to get that taken care of."--Lucas Marquardt

NEWS TODAY

MISREMEMBERED RETIRED Grade I winner Misremembered (Candy Ride {Arg}--Beyond Perfection, by Quack) has been retired from racing. Bred and trained by Bob Baffert and racing for Baffert's wife, Jill, and longtime friend George Jacobs, the five-year-old won the 2009 GII Swaps S. and GII Indiana Derby. He enjoyed success at the highest level when he won last season's GI Santa Anita H. Misremembered blazed to a three-length victory in the Mar. 6 Santana Mile, completing the eight furlongs in 1:33.2. He was coming off a runner-up effort in the Apr. 9 GII Oaklawn H. On the board in 11 of 13 starts, the chestnut won six times and earned $1,306,709. "The way he won the Santana Mile in near track record time, in a gallop, showcased his brilliance in a manner similar to his sire, Candy Ride, who set a new track record at a mile and a quarter while defeating Medaglia d'Oro," commented Baffert. "He blossomed into a true Classic horse." Stud plans have not been determined.

ROBBINS STEPS DOWN AS OAK TREE

PRESIDENT Jack Robbins has stepped down as president of the Oak Tree Racing Association. A founding director of the association, Robbins has served as president for the past 11 years. He has assumed the chairmanship of the Oak Tree Board of Directors. John Barr, an Oak Tree director for the past 14 years, has been elected to succeed Robbins. Barr has served as president of the CTBA and is a member of the CTBA board. He also serves on The Jockey Club Thoroughbred Safety Committee. A past steward of The Jockey Club and former director of the Breeders' Cup, Barr and his wife, Betty, race as Oakcrest Stable.

FEDERAL DRUG LEGISLATION INTRODUCED

Senator Tom Udall (D-NM) and Rep. Ed Whitfield (R-KY) Wednesday introduced federal legislation to prohibit race-day medication. The Interstate Horseracing Improvement Act is co-sponsored in the House by Joe Pitts (R-PA), Ben Chandler (D-KY) and Jan Schakowsky (D-IL), and will amend the Interstate Horseracing Act of 1978, which governs off-track wagering. The new legislation would prohibit the use of performance-enhancing drugs and would outline penalties for infractions.

NTRA REPORT FROM CAPITOL HILL

BILL TO BAN EQUINE MEDICATION INTRODUCED IN SENATE

United States Senator Tom Udall (D-NM) introduced the Interstate Horseracing Improvement Act of 2011 on Wednesday, May 4. The bill calls for a ban on equine medication in horseracing.

Statement from Alex Waldrop in response to filing of Interstate Horseracing Improvement Act:

"We strongly disagree with the overall characterization of our sport by the authors of the Interstate Horseracing Improvement Act. Horseracing continues to outpace other sports in its drug and medication policies. The winner of every race is subject to drug testing at every track, every day in the United States. Non-winning horses are also subject to random drug testing. The fact is that less than one half of one percent of the more than 100,000 tests resulted in a positive for illegal drugs or overages of therapeutic medications in 2010. Our industry is committed to catching and punishing cheaters.

"The horse industry, together with capable and committed state regulatory authorities, equine veterinarians and others, is now engaged in a far reaching dialogue over legal, therapeutic, race-day medications. Preserving the welfare of our athletes and the integrity of our competition will always be our foremost goals."

For more information contact Joe Bacigalupo, director of membership development, (800) 792-6872, ext. 677 or visit www.SupportHorseRacing.org.

Alex Waldrop, president and the CEO of the National Thoroughbred Racing Association, issued a statement on the introduction of the legislation, saying:

"We strongly disagree with the overall characterization of our sport by the authors of the Interstate Horseracing Improvement Act. Horseracing continues to outpace other sports in its drug and medication policies. The winner of every race is subject to drug testing at every track, every day in the United States. op/ed

Looking for opinion and perspective on matters concerning the racing industry? Visit the TDN op/ed archive on our website!

While there are a number of problems facing the American Thoroughbred industry, many of us who are heavily invested in this industry believe that the most destructive and undermining influence today is the continued proliferation and use of drugs in racing. Our observation of racing both in the United States and abroad has made us painfully aware that American racing stands alone as a “rogue nation” with its permissive use of race day medications. England, Ireland, France and the other principal European countries, together with Australia, Hong Kong and Japan maintain a zero tolerance for drugs on race day.

Some argue that drugs are necessary to enable racetracks to fill their racing calendars with horses that might not otherwise be available to race. (In fact, the average number of annual starts per runner has fallen from 11.31 in 1960 to 6.11 today, an astounding drop of 46 percent, or nearly half; and even more sobering is the drop in the average number of lifetime starts per horse from 45.2 in 1950 to 12.97 for horses born between 2003 to 2007, 32 fewer starts in a lifetime.) Others argue that the financial health of racing is somehow enhanced by the use of drugs. In the last three years, however, the pari-mutuel handle has dropped by an alarming 24.42 percent. Finally, some claim that horses require these so called “therapeutic drugs” to race, and that it is inhumane to run a horse without them. The rest of the racing world strongly disagrees and instead believes that racing an unsound or lame animal with or without drugs is cruel and inhumane. While the health of the animal may be the real concern of some who mistakenly believe that race day drugs are necessary, others are only interested in gaining an unfair advantage and could care less about a level playing field.

With precipitous declines in both attendance and wagering at our tracks, compounded by plummeting bloodstock sales, it is apparent that Thoroughbred racing is at a crossroads. The industry has suffered a loss of confidence and respect with its fans and the general public. Countless reports of trainers being charged with doping their horses, coupled with the destruction of horses due to horrific injuries on the track, cast our sport as something other than beautiful and noble. Today, prominent families and businesspersons who have historically supported the industry are not interested in being associated with the abuse of animals and wide spread cheating by the use of performance-enhancing drugs.

In addition to losing our fan base we are witnessing a decline in interest in our bloodstock sales from the Europeans and the rest of the world. These foreign investors are not confident that horses purchased in America will be able to compete in international venues. With six or more generations of heavily medicated American horses racing on drugs, we are now often being referred to as breeders of the “chemical horse.” In fact, one of the most prominent owners in Europe recently said, “We use the United States as a dumping ground for our weaklings.”

There is a way to stop these drugs from being present in a horse’s system on race day. By an amendment to The Interstate Horseracing Act of 1978, Congress can require simulcast races to be run drug free. This is appropriate given that the racing industry has already invited Congress to regulate horseracing with respect to interstate wagering through the IHA, which was enacted into law over three decades ago. At the very least, Congress should make sure that the betting public is not defrauded and that races are not fixed by reason of the doping of one or more of the participating horses.

In our opinion, this is the only way to end this terrible blight on American racing and to bring us in line with the rest of the world. We fear that racing is rapidly becoming a socially unacceptable sport because of performance-enhancing drugs. Many of our organizations are becoming increasingly concerned about this, but are utterly powerless to do anything about it. We have been disappointed time after time over the years by promises, platitudes, and good intentions. Now, here is a way to stop this madness once and for all.

Enclosed is a summary of The Interstate Horseracing Improvement Act (click here) which will ensure that no drug shall be present in a horse’s system on race day. It is our hope that you share our concerns and that you will help to get it passed in the House and the Senate. We feel that a vote against this bill is a vote for drugs. We ask that you show your support and join us in this endeavor by affixing your signature to this page and e-mailing it to stonefarm@stonefarm.com or faxing it to Stone Farm at (859) 987-1474.
Sincerely, Arthur and Staci Hancock, Roy and Gretchen Jackson and George Strawbridge

I, the undersigned, support The Interstate Horseracing Improvement Act.

A maiden winner on the Santa Anita Pro-Ride in his lone start at two, Irrefutable made two appearances last season, finishing second on an Oak Tree allowance in October and in a Hollywood optional claimer the following month. He opened 2011 with a NW1X tally in his first try on conventional dirt at Santa Anita Jan. 1. Fifth after switching to the turf for an optional claimer in Arcadia Feb. 10, he entered this off a front-running allowance score in the slop at that track Mar. 20. The crowd's choice to make it two in a row, he emerged with the lead just a few strides from the gate, but eased back into second while racing well off the rail down the backstretch. The grey put his head in front midway on the turn under a motionless Mike Smith and sprinted away from his rivals when given a couple of taps at the three-sixteenths pole. ## Nancy Alberts, Trainer of Magic Weisner, Dies:

Nancy Alberts, the charismatic owner, breeder, trainer and exercise rider of 2002 GI Preakness S. runner-up Magic Weisner (Ameri Valay), passed away late Tuesday night at Georgetown Medical Center due to complications from a stroke she'd suffered Apr. 17. She was 65 years old. One of just 13 women to saddle a horse in Maryland's biggest race, Alberts is the only member of her sex to send out a horse to finish as high as second. Magic Weisner, a Maryland-bred gelding, won three added-money events in the state that spring prior to finding only War Emblem (Our Emblem) too good in the Preakness. Though he was fourth in the GI Belmont S., he would go on to take the GII Ohio Derby, and also completed the exacta in that year's GI Haskell Invitational H. While preparing for a start in the GII Pennsylvania Derby, Magic Weisner contracted West Nile virus and made just one additional appearance. He retired with seven wins from 15 starts and earnings of $888,830. Before striking out on her own, Alberts worked for James Simpson, the trainer of Cormorant, who was fourth to Seattle Slew in the 1977 Preakness. It was from Simpson that Alberts bought Jazema (Bold Forbes), the dam of Magic Weisner, for $1. Alberts was named Trainer of the Year by the Maryland Thoroughbred Horsemen's Association in 2002 and was the Honorary Postmaster for Preakness 2003. "My mother was just proud to be a horsewoman," said her son Will Alberts. "She was never star struck by being in the limelight. She was proud her horse was good enough to get her to the Preakness and then finish second. She was very humble with it and there was never anything extravagant. I think she bought a new washing machine that year. Magic's success eventually allowed her to purchase the farm in Sykesville. She always wanted to wake up in the morning and look out a window to watch her horses, and that's what she did." In addition to her son, Alberts is survived by three sisters, Shirley Hickman, Linda Meister and Wilma Reese, and one brother, David Hickman.

NTRA SAFETY & INTEGRITY ALLIANCE

Track Re-Accredited: Churchill Downs

- "Churchill Downs was the first-ever accredited facility in 2009, and it is readily apparent that the management and staff at Churchill Downs regard the health and safety of the human and equine athletes competing as a top priority," said Mike Ziegler, executive director of the NSIA.
- "Churchill Downs is proud to be re-accredited by the NTRA Safety and Integrity Alliance and to be recognized for a number of industry-wide best practices," said Kevin Flanery, President of Churchill Downs. "Nothing is more important to us than the safety of our competitors and the integrity of our racing product."

OVERDOSE CONFIRMED FOR TEMPLE

Overdose (GB) (Starborough {GB}), the "Budapest Bullet," is set to travel to Britain for the first time to contest the G2 Temple S. at Haydock May 21. Winner of 15 of 16 career appearances, the 6-year-old had an easy reintroduction in a five-furlong conditions race at Hoppegarten Apr. 17. He is trained by Jozef Roszival. Miklos Katona, spokesman for owner Zoltan Mikoczy, said yesterday, "The plan is for Overdose to come to Haydock Park for the Temple S. If all goes well, he will remain in Britain for the [June 14] G1 King's Stand S. at Royal Ascot. He will hopefully travel over to Britain at the end of next week, and we will be based at Amanda Perrett's yard at Pulborough in Sussex. Earlier in his career, he raced mostly on faster ground and has also shown that he acts on softer ground, so whatever the going is at Haydock, it should be no problem for him. Andreas Suborics will ride once again."

Wonder of Wonders started her career over seven furlongs at Leopardstown at the end of October, and was a respectable second to the smart Manieree (Ire) (Medicean (GB)) there before returning to that track to finish seventh after a troubled trip in a 10-furlong contest Mar. 27. Upped to 12 furlongs at Tipperary six days ago, the illustriously bred bay readily opened her account, and she showed she was still going forward at a rate of knots by putting her stamp on this trial for the G1 Epsom Oaks June 3. Settled in fifth early, she was niggled at with a half-mile remaining, and kept responding as Blaise Chorus was set alight by Michael Hills on the front end. Chasing that rival down in the short stretch, she rolled by with 100 yards remaining and stayed on strongly for a convincing success.

"She's a big, scopey filly and she traveled very well, but Michael Hills had it very easy on the front end," jockey Ryan Moore commented. "Once I asked this girl, she lengthened really well, and felt like a nice filly. She stays well." Wonder of Wonders is the second foal from All Too Beautiful, who was runner-up to Ouija Board (GB) (Cape Cross (Ire)) in the 2004 G1 Epsom Oaks, and capped her career with a win in the 2005 G3 Middleton S. ## NATIONAL WEANLING & BROODMARE SALE CONCLUDES AT KARAKA

New Zealand Bloodstock's National Weanling, Broodmare & Mixed Bloodstock Sale concluded Wednesday at Karaka, with the remaining 166 broodmares and mixed bloodstock entries wrapping up the three-day National Sale. In the final analysis, 575 of 837 catalogued lots found new homes for total takings of NZ$5,760,500, compared with 653 horses sold last year for NZ$7,454,900. The final combined average across the three days of selling was NZ$10,018, versus last year's NZ$11,416, with the clearance rate holding up extremely well at 81%, compared with 82% last year. With the day getting underway with the remaining broodmares on offer, Tuesday's top price of NZ$85,000 was never surpassed, but was matched by the Gone West mare Down View, the dam of Singapore star Mexican Rose (NZ) (Volksraad {GB}). Offered by Trelawney Stud as lot 589, she was purchased by Jamieson Park of Pukekohe in foal to Mastercraftsman (Ire).

Jamieson Park's James Chapman was thrilled with his purchase. "We had a few in our catalogue that we wanted and we targeted her, and we are thrilled that now we get to take her home," Chapman offered. "She is lovely mare and has done a great job at stud, so hopefully we can get some good progeny from her." Chapman added, "We found the market very strong. Buyers seemed to come out of the woodwork on the stronger lots, which made it tough, and overall, the vendors that had the right horse made money."

With 297 catalogued broodmares, plus four supplementary entries, a total of 205 mares were sold for NZ$1,695,100, representing an average of NZ$8,269 at a clearance rate of 79%.

Michael Wallace Bloodstock was the leading buyer of broodmares, purchasing 12 for a total of NZ$223,100, and the agent was also active during the weanling sessions. "The lots that were strong types with good pedigrees were well sought after in the ring and made good money, as there was always competition to purchase them," Wallace noted. "This was particularly evident in the weanling session, especially the Premier and Select-type colts, which were tough to buy, but the horses that struggled on pedigree and type found it tough. The Bernardini colt I bought was a nice type [lot 190 for NZ$50,000], and we were very happy to secure him. Bernardini's horses have been going very well in the Northern Hemisphere, and the reports from the breakers down here is that they are very happy with them, so he will hopefully shape into a smart purchase. All going to plan, the colt will be heading to the Karaka Yearling Sales in 2012."

The broodmare offering was immediately followed by a selection of yearlings, 2-year-olds, unraced horses, racehorses, supplementary entries and stallion shares. The top price of the mixed selection came at lot 820, a Bernardini weanling filly bought by Erana Shattock's Anistay Lodge for NZ$47,500.
