CHURCHILL CLEAN UP CONTINUES, RACING RETURNS TONIGHT Racing will return to Churchill Downs tonight, two days after a tornado touched down at the historic track, as clean-up efforts continue. While the track's main facility was not damaged in the storm, nine barns and several stable area structures suffered significant damage. No injuries were reported, but 150 horses were relocated to the nearby Kentucky Fair and Exposition Center and track officials, in conjunction with the Red Cross, found temporary shelter for 100 stable-area workers whose accommodations were damaged in the storm. Churchill remained closed for live racing, training and simulcast wagering yesterday, but by mid-morning Thursday officials had made the decision to resume racing with tonight's Downs After Dark program. "We are incredibly fortunate to have survived last night's tornado without injury to our backstretch human or equine population," reported Churchill Downs president Kevin Flanery. "We have a lot to clean up and are coordinating with horsemen whose barns were affected on relocation arrangements for horses that may need to be moved off site--and returned to the track for live racing--for the remainder of our 2011 Spring Meet." Tonight's Downs After Dark card will feature a "Pony Up for Charity" fundraiser which will give customers the option to add a dollar or more to their food and beverage tab. Proceeds from the already scheduled promotion will now go to support backstretch storm victims. "Some horsemen lost equipment and feed and many backstretch workers' living accommodations were damaged or compromised by the storm," Flanery continued. "We are hoping our guests will give generously to help those in our extended racing family that have immediate needs due to the storm."

Carlton Given Green Light...

The Queen's Carlton House (Street Cry {Ire}) is set to be declared for Sunday's G1 Dubai Duty Free Irish Derby, connections announced yesterday. After pleasing Sir Michael Stoute with his prep work this week, the owner's Racing and Bloodstock Adviser John Warren told the Racing Post, "Carlton House will be declared tomorrow. Everyone is happy with him. We're all thrilled to be going."

QUEEN'S PLATE DRAWS 17

A crowded field of 17--largest since 1999--was drawn yesterday for Sunday's Queen's Plate S. at Woodbine. Charles Fipke's homebred Check Your Soul (Perfect Soul {Ire}) was installed the 3-1 morning-line favorite and breaks from post 13. The aptly named Queen'splatekitten (Kitten's Joy) is 7-2 and breaks from post 14. For a complete look at yesterday's draw, p6-8

Sixth in the G1 Prix de l'Opera de Longchamp on Arc day, the bay capped a profitable season with another pattern-race success in the Nov. 20 G3 Hessen-Pokal over this track and trip. Settled behind the leading quartet early, the homebred was sent to the lead passing the quarter pole and was always firmly in control thereafter. "The reason for her late seasonal debut is simply that we could not find a race for her before this," trainer Peter Schiergen commented. "It all went extremely well, and she will now run in the G1 Grosser Dallmayr-Preis [at Munich July 31]." Click for the Racing Post chart.

RACETRACK Round-Up

CHO RUNNERS SET TO RESUME TRAINING

Two horses who were on the Triple Crown trail for owner, breeder and trainer Myung Kwon Cho are nearing a return to training, according to his son Raxon Cho. Premier Pegasus (Fusaichi Pegasus), winner of the Mar. 12 GII San Felipe S., was scratched the day before the GI Santa Anita Derby with a fractured cannon bone. Stablemate Riveting Reason (Fusaichi Pegasus) has been sidelined by a hoof injury since running a nose second behind Anthony's Cross (Indian Charlie) in the Feb. 12 GII Robert B. Lewis S. "They are days away from returning," Cho said. "We hope to have them ready to race at Santa Anita this fall."

DUBLIN'S RETURN DELAYED

The return of 2009 GI Three Chimneys Hopeful S. winner Dublin (Afleet Alex), expected to come in tonight's Kelly's Landing S. at Churchill Downs, has been delayed. Trainer D. Wayne Lukas told Daily Racing Form that he had decided against running the 4-year-old in front of a potentially raucous Friday night crowd in Louisville. The colt's next start is still undecided.

QUEEN'S PLATE

Sunday, June 26, 2011

DRAW DAY, CANADIAN STYLE

Despite overnight showers and the looming threat of rain in the Toronto area Thursday, the draw breakfast ahead of Sunday's Queen's Plate went off without a hitch at Woodbine Race Track yesterday morning.

Roger Attfield
Terence Dulay/Horse-Races.net

Greeted by mild temperatures and even some sunshine, I made my way to Woodbine's corporate tent, which is conveniently situated only a few meters away from the track's famed E.P. Taylor Turf Course. With the weather opting to cooperate, organizers left the french doors wide to allow the light breeze to work its way through an immaculately dressed dining room, resplendent with plenty of flowers, food and goodies for the participants (Thank you HBPA Ontario and Woodbine!). I must admit our Canadian friends in the north sure know how to cater to their supporters. Among those seen in the crowd was current on-air analyst and former riding great Sandy Hawley (who is tied with Avelino Gomez and Robin Platts with four Queen's Plate victories) and Terra Racing's Dom and Frank Romeo, owners of last year's Plate hero Big Red Mike.

On hand to MC the event was Woodbine's track announcer Dan Loiselle, who did as good a job as I have ever seen at this type of venue. The legendary voice of Woodbine carried off his hosting duties in great fashion, played to the crowd throughout and was quick as a cobra when a moment called for an amusing witticism. There are too many to recount here, however, one that stands out was during the post position draw for Queen's Plate kitten. Woodbine's Julie Bell, who was enlisted to relay the desired post positions for all the connections of the Plate hopefuls that were absent from the event, appeared to linger for a brief moment while carrying out her phone duties only to have Loiselle inquire, "You on the phone with your boyfriend?" The crowd laughed heartily, knowing all too well that it was in fact the colt's trainer, Todd Pletcher, on the other end of the line. All joking aside, the Mill House representative--who is listed at 7-2 on the morning line--will exit the 14 hole.

Loiselle also did a great job welcoming Senior Vice President of Baseball Operations and General Manager for the Toronto Blue Jays Alex Anthopoulos, who was selected as this year's official draw master. A native of Montreal (from Montreal and Greek, we MUST be related), Anthopoulos reminisced about his early education with the Expos, his move to Florida after the Montreal franchise was sold, his return to Canada to join the Blue Jays, and in 2009, assuming the helm of GM of the Toronto club. After starting at the very bottom and slowly working his way up the ladder with only his passion for the game to fuel him, Anthopoulos truly is a shining example of the (North) American dream.

Having been to a few draws in my time, it was interesting to note that the Queen's Plate ceremony consists of two draws; the first for the order in which the connections will draw and the second for the actual post position. It definitely made things run a little longer than I was used to, but Dan MC kept everything rolling at a good clip. Trainer Mark Casse was kept busy with the presence of three horses in the field: (7) Strike Oil (Forest Wildcat) (15-1); (10) Enduring Star (Sir Shackleton) (30-1); (15) Hippolytus (Philanthropist) (30-1). When asked why he chose the 10 hole for Enduring Star, the Woodbine-based trainer dead panned, "Because it comes after nine." Casse definitely walks the walk. In fact, the West Point runner will have the sole filly in the race, Inglorious (Hennessy), right next door in the nine slot. Installed at 9-2 on the morning line, the winner of the June 5 Woodbine Oaks is one of two runners in the field for Donver Stable and trainer Josie Carroll, who won the 2006 Queen's Plate with Edenvold. The other is maiden winner Seawatch (Woodman), who is 20-1 on the morning line. Favored on the morning line is Check Your Soul (Perfect Soul {Ire}), who was a very impressive 3 1/4-length winner against fellow Ontario bred in the June 5 Plate Trial S. Listed at 3-1, the dark bay is campaigned by Charles Fipke and trained by Roger Attfield, the same team that campaigned 2008 winner Not Bourbon. The Canadian Hall of Famer tried to sneak inconspicuously over to his table shortly after the start of the draw ceremonies, but, hey, the man has already won the Canadian Classic a record eight times (Norcliffe, 1976; Market Control, 1987; With Approval, 1989; Izvestia, 1990; Alydeed, 1992; Peteski, 1993; Regal Discovery, 1995; Not Bourbon, 2008). Given those numbers, he can do whatever he pleases.

With the main show over, everyone's attention quickly turned to breakfast (more like brunch by that time) and full-on socializing. The event was well hosted and enjoyed a great turnout, and if the preliminaries are anything to go by, Sunday should be a great show.

TOC HOLDS OPEN FORUM The Thoroughbred Owners of California will be holding open forums Saturday and Sunday to offer horsemen and horseplayers the opportunity to discuss current events and meet with TOC directors. The group has come under increasing fire from horseplayers in the wake of mutuel takeout increases that went into effect in California Jan. 1, and faces competition from a rival horsemen's group. "I know that we have nothing to hide," TOC director Billy Koch, told the Daily Racing Form's Jay Hovdey. "We believe in transparency. People have questions, they want answers, and we'll give them the best ones we have. Our business needs to listen. For too long we rested on our laurels, because we were the only game in town. Obviously, the world has change, and we're behind." In response to criticism of the TOC, the Thoroughbred Owners and Breeders Association released a statement of support for the group yesterday. "Since its formation in 1993, the TOC has performed exemplarily as the representative of Thoroughbred owners in California," the TOBA statement read. "It has been and remains the model structure for owners' representation at the state level. As the primary stakeholders in the sport, racehorse owners should demand an independent owners' organization and the TOC has provided the necessary leadership on vital issues for its constituency. The Board of Trustees of TOBA strongly endorses the TOC to remain in its current role as the representative horsemen's group in California." The TOC's Saturday forum will be held after the last race at Hollywood in the track's Sunset Room. Sunday's forum will be held at the Pleasanton Satellite Wagering Facility beginning at 11 a.m.

GANTRY (g, 4, Pulpit--Rhum {MSW, $306,234}, by Go for Gin) made two starts as a juvenile, both third-place finishes at Belmont in July, then disappeared for more than 15 months. The dark bay made his return in a maiden test at Parx Racing last November, winning off by 3 3/4 lengths, before taking another lengthy vacation. He was trying turf for the first time off the 7 1/2-month layoff. Let go at 7-1, Gantry was shuffled back a bit after the start to bide his time near the back of the pack in the opening exchanges. He closed ground on the front-running 3-5 favorite Higher Court (Shamardal) while hugging the hedge on the turn, then angled off the inside to go after the leader in the stretch. Collaring the crowd's choice inside the final furlong, the Black Swan colorbearer was under a vigorous hand ride as he pulled away to win by 3 1/2 lengths, eclipsing the track record by a tick in the process. Trainer Mike Hushion said after the race that Gantry likely would be pointed to a stakes race in Saratoga. Sales history: $140,000 yrl '08 KESEEP. Lifetime Record: 4-2-0-2, $66,800. Sophia Mangalee Tackles Mongol Derby:

Sophia Mangalee, Monmouth Park's marketing director and wife of jockey Navin Mangalee, will be competing in the Mongol Derby, a grueling event that covers 630 miles over 10 days. She is one of only two Americans among 25 competitors in the third annual event, which traces the postal route system of Genghis Khan. "It's all about survival...a true test of horsemanship to go out there and ride 14 hours a day on three to four different horses a day," said Mangalee. The race begins Aug. 6 and carries a $10,000 entry fee, plus a requirement to raise money for multiple charities. Mangalee's U.S.-based charity is Celtic Charms, a therapeutic riding center for disabled children located near Monmouth Park. She has already raised $3,000, with more than a month to go until race time. To follow her progress, or to donate, visit www.mongolderbyrider.com.

In two starts over the main Santa Anita track this year for Joshua Litt, the gelding was third Mar. 11 and most recently second Apr. 14. Back on the turf here, Lucky Primo set the early pace, but yielded the lead to a headstrong Logical Single (Singletary) down the backstretch. Having won the £100,000 Tattersalls Millions Fillies' Auction S. back over six furlongs the following month, the chestnut was kept at that trip for a tilt at the G1 Cheveley Park S. on her final juvenile start in October, but was unplaced. SELF PRESERVATION (f, 2, Lion Heart--Saintly Speaking, by Dahar), an encouraging fourth on debut over six furlongs at Navan June 10, was close to the early pace. Forging her way to the front with a furlong remaining, the 15-8 pick settled the result instantly and had five lengths to spare over Perfect Goddess (Ire) (Antonius Pius) at the line. "She always showed plenty at home, but ran very green the first day and lost her chance coming out of the gates," trainer David Wachman told Irish Racing Online. "I expect plenty of improvement from her, and she got away with it on the ground today. The five furlongs was too sharp, but her class won it for her. She should be competitive in those stakes races." The winner is a half to Golden Saint (Gold Alert), SW, $176,929; and Kissin Saint (Kissin Kris), GISP, $255,915. Lifetime Record: 2-1-0-0, €9,720. FASTNET ROCK COLT TOPS INGLIS DAY TWO

New Zealand-based bloodstock agent Michael Wallace remained active on day two of the Inglis Australian Weanling and Broodmare Sale, accounting for the day's top two lots. (Copper Kingdom) and her Group 1-winning son Shot of Thunder (Aus) (Thunder Gulch). It was also Wallace's name on the docket for hip 212, a Lonhro (Aus) colt from the draft of Amarina Farm. The bay is the latest produce to be offered from Princess Padrille (Aus) (Desert Style {Ire}), whose dam Mamzelle Padrille (Aus) (Zoffany) is responsible for Group 2 hero O'Lonhro (Aus) (Lonhro {Aus}). He was purchased for A$120,000 ($126,302). "The weanling sale ended particularly well," Inglis Bloodstock Director Jonathan D'Arcy said. "It finished with an 88% clearance rate, which is outstanding and a credit to vendors for meeting the market. Competition on the better horses was very strong, with several potential buyers going home empty handed. No doubt vendors will be sending more good horses to this sale next year to capitalise on what has been a very strong market for the better weanlings on offer." The select broodmares session was held upon completion of the weanling session, and it was hip 371, the Tyreel Stud-consigned Chordata (Aus) (Fusaichi Pegasus) who took top honors on a bid of A$110,000 ($115,777) from Nick Vass Bloodstock. A daughter of 1996 G1 VATC 1000 Guineas winner Dashing Eagle (Aus) (Danehill), she was sold carrying a foal by Flying Spur (Aus) on a late September cover.
