FLAGBEARER

A latecomer in both the May 1 G1 1000 Guineas at Newmarket and G1 Irish Oaks at The Curragh July 17, Godolphin's Blue Bunting (Dynaformer) proved that she can also tough it after making a late lead in a thrilling close to yesterday's G1 Darley Yorkshire Oaks. Anchored with only one behind early by Frankie Dettori, the 11-4 favorite was forced to join the fray in mid-stretch as Wonder of Wonders (Kingmambo) and Vita Nova (Ire) (Galileo {Ire}) started to assert. Grinding down the latter on the far side approaching the furlong marker, the grey kept finding to graft a 3/4-length success and earn a shot at the G1 St Leger at Doncaster Sept. 10. "She is never going to be flash and win by a long margin, but she's very hard to pass," her rider commented. "She was in season today, so her mind wasn't exactly on the job and she made it really hard work for me...I always felt like I was not going to be passed, as she loves a dogfight." Cont. p4

ON THE HOOF

York's G1 Coolmore Nunthorpe S. is where the blue-bloods meet the rags-to-riches merchants and the unforgiving straight five-furlong strip is perfect for flushing out any weaknesses in resolution. On past evidence, there should be no fragility where Hoof It (GB) (Monsieur Bond {Ire}) is concerned in today's edition and the locally trained up-and-comer has already provided a dream return on his 6,000 guineas and £14,000 tags as a weanling and yearling, respectively. He has been here on six occasions, with his last two visits resulting in him evading the handicapper with successes in tough six-furlong contests May 13 and July 23. Taken to Glorious Goodwood for the prestigious Stewards' Cup, the bay made history there by becoming the first to carry 10 stone to victory July 30 and Kieren Fallon is full of hope he can put his battle experience to full effect here. "The thing about Hoof It is he is so big, strong and powerful and I think he is exceptional," he said. "He gives me the feel of something special. He has got a great turn of foot--great speed. The only problem I've had in the last three or four races that I've won on him was trying to find something to give us a lead. I couldn't believe how much improvement that there was from York to Goodwood." Cont. p2

Boys Among Men...

Two-year-olds have performed with credit in this race, with Lyric Fantasy (Ire) (Tate Gallery) and Kingsgate Native (Ire) (Mujadil) two whose precocity has led connections to successfully exploit this weight-for-age allowance. Whether Michael Tabor, Derrick Smith and Susan Magnier's Requinto (Ire) (Dansili {GB}) is in that league remains to be seen, but he looks to possess more than his share of the speed of his G2 Queen Mary S. and G1 Phoenix S.-winning dam Damson (Ire) (Entrepreneur {GB}). Her advantage over her peers waned at three, so the decision by David Wachman to make hay this term could be a wise one. He enters on the back of wins in the July 9 Listed Tipperary S. and G3 Molecomb S. at Goodwood July 26. "He's fine and I'm not too worried about the ground," Wachman told PA Sport. "He's won on a slower surface and seems to be pretty adaptable. He obviously gets the weight from the older horses and 2-year-olds have won this before, although it takes a good one to win it." Khalid Abdullah's Bated Breath (GB) (Dansili {GB}) received the plaudit of being the best horse Roger Charlton has trained after his latest second to Dream Ahead (Diktat {GB}) in the G1 July Cup at Newmarket July 9 and he has always suggested he could be a serious talent. His first black-type win in Windsor's Listed Leisure S. over six furlongs May 23 was followed by a fifth on ground which was too testing in the G1 Golden Jubilee S. at Royal Ascot June 18 before his July Cup career-best. Inxile (Ire) (Fayruz {GB}) was the winner of that contest, making it nine black-type wins for his resume, including in Longchamp's G3 Prix de Saint-Georges May 15. Representing the 3-year-olds are the fillies Margot Did (Ire) (Exceed and Excel {Aus}) and Wizz Kid (Ire) (Whipper). The former finally delivered on her juvenile promise when registering an impressive win in Sandown's Listed Scurry S. June 11 and after adding the Listed Land o'Burns S. at Ayr a week later was third third in the July 2 G3 Sandown Sprint. Robert Collet is fresh from watching his stable star Immortal Verse (Ire) (Pivotal {GB}) take Monday's G1 Prix Jacques le Marois and Wizz Kid showed the raw material for a test like this when besting Prohibit (GB) (Oasis Dream {GB}) in the G2 Prix du Gros-Chene at Chantilly June 5.

RESULTS

The Girls in Blue...

Few fillies are able to win Classics over a mile and a mile and a half, but of the recent members of that sex to do so it is interesting to note that two were representatives of Sheikh Mohammed bin Rashid Al Maktoum. Both his homebred Oh So Sharp (GB) and German acquisition Kazzia (Ger) (Zinaad {GB}) managed to complete the G1 1000 Guineas and Epsom Oaks double, with the former even going on to add the St Leger to become a Fillies' Triple Crown titleholder back in 1985. Blue Bunting could arguably have emulated that pair with better luck, as exaggerated hold-up tactics off a moderate pace undid her chance in the June 3 Epsom Classic. Salt was rubbed in the wound at the end of that race, with Dettori mistaking the winning post and surrendering third place in the process. Bouncing back at The Curragh, the grey pulled the iron out of the fire much as she had at Newmarket to swamp the likely winner Banimpire (Ire) (Holy Roman Emperor {Ire}) in the shade of the post and garner the Oaks she had been favored for six weeks earlier. All the early signs so far at this meeting point to the middle-distance races being hard work and so Blue Bunting's stable companion Rumh (Ger) (Monsun {Ger}) was not asked to set a breakneck pace early on, but Dettori was still content to wait in rear as several pulled for their heads in the pack. After the final turn, virtually the whole field was off the bridle with only Wonder of Wonders traveling kindly as she was committed by Seamus Heffernan. She soon started to labor on the ground and by the quarter pole, both Vita Nova and Tom Queally and the eventual winner had loomed with intent on either side. Staying on just the better on the run to the line as Wonder of Wonders backed out of the bout, Blue Bunting refused to buckle despite the intimidating presence of the year-older Vita Nova. Cont. p5

Racing Manager Simon Crisford revealed the St Leger as a likely target afterwards. "I think her toughness matches her brilliance, because when the second came to give her a hard time in the final quarter mile she was very resolute and very honest and was always holding her," he said. "She's a fantastic filly, because she can perform on such a range of distances and ground--it was fast at Newmarket when she won the Guineas, soft at The Curragh and sticky today--and a great all-rounder and top-notch filly. She just does enough and although I wouldn't describe her as lazy she keeps a little bit up her sleeve for when the knock-out is needed. I think for the rest of the season, we have some great races to look forward to including the G1 St Leger [at Doncaster Sept. 10] because a mile and six should really suit her. We'll see how she is over the next ten days, but that is a distinct possibility. There is every good reason to go for the last Classic and Sheikh Mohammed wants to keep options open. He has won it with a filly before in Oh So Sharp, so it wouldn't be anything new but it's nice to go to Town Moor with one like this. The Breeders' Cup race for fillies and mares and the Japanese race on Nov. 13 (G1 Queen Elizabeth II Commemorative Cup, 2200 meters) come into the equation and so she could be busy right to the end of the year. Because she goes on all types of ground, it makes the decision as to where to go more complicated, but I think right now we've got to see whether she will be our representative in the St Leger. Earlier in the year, we would have thought she would almost definitely stay in training, but we'll have to see how she is at the end of the year before we decide on that. It's been a great team effort and all credit to them." Sir Henry Cecil, who had saddled the one-two in the G1 Juddmonte International 24 hours earlier, was almost celebrating a second Group 1 of the week with Vita Nova and told PA Sport, "She ran a fabulous race. I'm really pleased with her. I like winning, but you can't take anything away from her as there was a long way back to the third. She'll stay in training next year and I like spreading her races out. We might look at the G2 Pride S. at Ascot on Champions' Day [Oct. 15] over a mile and a half."

Best Terms opened her account at Windsor in her first go Apr. 18 and doubled up in a May 13 conditions heat at Newbury next time. She took the challenge of pattern company in the June 15 G2 Queen Mary S. at Royal Ascot, keeping her unbeaten tag with a narrow verdict, and exhibited blistering speed here to unleash a career-best effort at the expense of highly regarded rivals under a three-pound penalty for a latest success. The bay homebred pinged the lids and seized immediate control, settling into a smooth rhythm at a high tempo. Gathered together in readiness for the inevitable challenges approaching the final quarter mile, only G3 Anglesey S. victress Fire Lily was able to take up the cudgels inside the final quarter mile, but was unable to land a significant blow. She was readily disposed of as Best Terms kept on strongly under minimal urging in the closing stages and the Hannon trainee was not fully extended to easily maintain her perfect tally. "We really didn't know how good she was beforehand and I'm not sure we do now after that performance," admitted assistant trainer Richard Hannon Jr. "I thought her 11-1 odds were slightly disrespectful of her chance and, with a penalty, she has done it very well. She hit the gates extremely well and [jockey] Richard [Hughes] felt she was never going to get beaten for a yard. It is very encouraging and I suppose all roads lead to the [G1] Cheveley Park [S. at Newmarket Sept. 24] as that's the only race for her now. She's a May 22 foal and was only just two when she won at Royal Ascot so we'll deal with next year when it arrives." Hughes added, "We always though she needed six furlongs and she was very good today. I went fast and I kept going!"

LIKELY LAD

Lilbourne Lad faces the age-old prospect of having to pay for his precocity and give weight away all round in today's G2 Gimcrack S., having earned a penalty with his success in the six-furlong G2 Railway S. at The Curragh June 26. Subsequently only fourth back over that track and trip in the Aug. 7 G1 Phoenix S., he hails from the four-times winning Richard Hannon stable and that trainer said, "Lilbourne Lad has proved a real star for us and he ran another cracker in the G1 Phoenix S. at The Curragh last time, only feeling the pinch in the last half-furlong. He has the three-pound penalty for winning the Railway, which does not help, but you could set your watch by him as he never lets us down, and I am sure that he'll be right there at the finish again." B Fifty Two is one of the more exposed types here, but his experience could be useful with the ground on the easy side. No match for the impressive Dabirsim (Fr) (Hat Trick {Jpn}) when runner-up in Deauville's G3 Prix de Cabourg over this trip last time July 31, he did have Lilbourne Lad back in second when taking a Newmarket conditions event May 14. "We were very pleased with him in France. He'll go for the Gimcrack with a good chance," trainer John Hills commented.

Banner Bill, Sick After Special, Joins McLaughlin...

R Plus Partners' 2-year-old colt Banner Bill (Rockport Harbor), a well-beaten fourth to Union Rags (Dixie Union) in the GII Saratoga Special S. in the slop at Saratoga Monday, has joined Kieran McLaughlin's string in New York. The previously unbeaten colt began his career with Woodbine-based Ralph Biamonte, who saddled the bay to impressive wins in the Victoria S. and Colin S. in Canada. Connections stressed Wednesday they weren't taking the horse from Biamonte, explaining it was the conditioner's idea to leave Banner Bill in New York. "The idea started with him," said co-owner and breeder Ron Magers. "Ralph couldn't take any more time away from his Toronto string, and agreed it was time to leave 'Bill' in the U.S. I'm sure you know that Kieran trains some for Darley, and Rockport Harbor stands there, so it is a good fit." Magers, a longtime owner and breeder who co-anchors the top-ranked newscast in Chicago at ABC 7 News, added that Banner Bill might have an excuse for his Special run, which saw him make a bold middle move before tiring in the stretch. "He had a dry cough [Monday] morning, but his temp was normal and there was no discharge, so we hoped it was a slight allergy and ran him. But [jockey] Alex Solis says he coughed the whole way around. [Tuesday] morning he had a temp of 103, was producing mucous, and was pretty sick. His temp is back to normal [Wednesday] afternoon, so we'll be okay, although he's had a tough four-race campaign and needs to put on a little weight. We'll wait to see what Kieran wants to do next." From his sire's first crop, Banner Bill has won three of four starts and earned $228,315. -LM

Overdriven to Undergo Tests After Missing Work...

Repole Stable's two-for-two GII Sanford S. winner Overdriven (Tale of the Cat) will undergo tests after trainer Todd Pletcher cancelled a scheduled work yesterday morning. The bay set foot onto Saratoga's main track slightly after the renovation break, poised to breeze four furlongs, but Pletcher did not like the way Overdriven looked warming up and instead opted to jog him 1 1/2 miles. "I am a little uncomfortable with the way the horse is moving on the racetrack," Pletcher said. "He seems fine back at the barn and all the tests we've done seem negative. I'm just not happy with the way he's moving, so I am going to [schedule] a nuclear scintigraphy just to be safe." Overdriven was also forced to miss a work Aug. 9 for similar reasons. He was diagnosed with a gluteal muscle pull, but was back in training several days later. He is being pointed for the GI Hopeful S. at Saratoga Sept. 5, but Pletcher said things would have to break right for the colt to make that event.

Mighty Caroline Injured, Could Be Retired...

John Liviakis's GIII Sorrento S.-winning homebred Mighty Caroline (Stormy Atlantic) has recently been diagnosed with a strained suspensory and could be retired, Daily Racing Form reports. Trainer Melody Conlon told DRF that she and Liviakis are currently weighing their options. Recovery time for Mighty Caroline would be around nine months with no guarantee that she would be fit to run again, but the grey could be bred in 2012 if the decision to retire her was made. "John and I have to talk about it," Conlon told the trade daily. "If she can't come back to the level she is, we don't want to put her through that. We're leaning toward retiring her." Mighty Caroline was expected to go favored in the GI Del Mar Debutante Sept. 4.

Dawn Has Temperature...

Michael Tabor, Derrick Smith and Susan Magnier's ☆ "TDN Rising Star" ☆ Await the Dawn (Giant's Causeway) was yesterday reported to have a temperature following his flop in Wednesday's G1 Juddmonte International at York. Only third and 5 3/4 lengths behind Twice Over (GB) (Observatory) when sent off the 8-13 favorite for the extended 10-furlong contest, the G2 Hardwicke S. winner appears to have a valid excuse for the run. "Await the Dawn came back with a temperature and is being treated for it," trainer Aidan O'Brien told PA Sport. "We will keep an eye on him for the moment."

Victoire Pisa Sidelined...

G1 Dubai World Cup winner Victoire Pisa (Jpn) (Neo Universe {Jpn}) has suffered a setback while training in France and will be forced to miss the Oct. 2 G1 Prix de l'Arc de Triomphe. "On Aug. 13 after training, they noticed that the movement in his left leg was a bit restricted and a vet discovered it was inflamed and that the horse should take it easy for five weeks," according to a statement from the Japan Racing Association. Seventh in last year's Arc, the 4-year-old has not started since his emotional win in the World Cup in March. He was forced out of the May 1 G1 Audemars Piguet Queen Elizabeth II Cup with a slight injury to his right hind leg.

FHBPA WOULD FIGHT GULFSTREAM LASIX BAN Kent Stirling, the executive director of the Florida Horsemen's Benevolent and Protective Association, said yesterday the announcement that Gulfstream Park had backed off on its plan to prohibit the administration of Lasix to 2-year-olds of 2011 starting at its 2011-2012 meet came as no surprise. The Lasix policy in the Sunshine State is mandated by the state legislature, and not the racetracks. "I don't think we were too stunned," Stirling remarked. "It's a state statute. The only way to change it is to do it through legislation, and I don't see us letting that happen." The FHBPA posted a statement on its website Thursday entitled, "Are We Winning The Lasix War?" (Click here to read the statement). Reiterating the stance taken by the majority of horsemen on the subject of Lasix, Stirling said, "It's pretty simple. The preponderance of scientific evidence shows that Lasix works--it's the most effective treatment for [exercise induced pulmonary hemorrhage]. And they want to ban it? I think that's a silly fight."

KING OF THE HALL

By Christina Bossinakis

At last week's Hall of Fame induction ceremony held at the Humphrey S. Finney Pavilion in Saratoga Springs, champion Open Mind joined an elite group of racing stalwarts whose plaques adorn the central gallery walls. She's in very good company.

philly.com

Among the racing luminaries in attendance was Hall of Famer D. Wayne Lukas, who guided the chestnut through a pair of divisional titles, six Grade I victories and a New York Triple Tiara sweep.

Lukas, who accepted the honor on behalf of the Eugene Klein-owned filly, was inducted in 1999. His career record speaks volumes as to his dominance in the training ranks: four Eclipse Awards as leading trainer (1985-87 and 1994); 18 Breeders' Cup victories; 13 Classic wins (won six straight Classic wins; won all three Classics in 1996 with a different horse); 24 Thoroughbred champions; and three Horse of the Year winners--Lady's Secret (1986), Criminal Type (1990) and Charismatic (1999).

Additionally, Lukas passed fellow Hall of Famer Charlie Whittingham as the all-time leading money winner in 1988, and was the first trainer whose horses earned more than $100 million (and later $200 million) in purse money. Although his admittance to the elite club was never in question, the timing of his Hall of Fame election was the subject of debate. Some felt he should have been eligible in the early '90s.

"There was some controversy surrounding my induction," offered Lukas. "[Horse racing historian] Jim Bolus was a fan of mine, and thought I should have gone in seven or eight years before I actually did. He felt I should be inducted under the [official] 25-year requirement. He actually produced documentation that showed I had already been training for 25 years, but the committee didn't accept it."

"I started out training at places like Park Jefferson [South Dakota] and in Lincoln, Nebraska, and [voting committee] hadn't counted those years. Before Jim died, he fought for my induction but, bless his heart, he never did see it happen."

Unfazed by the delay, Lukas admitted the honor was well worth the wait.

"It wasn't a big deal; we waited out the 25 years and I was inducted the first year I was eligible," he said. "It doesn't really matter when it happens, if it is 50 years later or in five years, you are humbled and tremendously honored to be there."

His Fair Ladies...

Open Mind, the latest of the Lukas pupils to enter racing's hallowed Hall, becomes the fifth member of the fairer sex to earn the badge of honor for Lukas, thus earning him the distinction of being the only trainer with five fillies to have received the gold plaque. The ladies who preceded Open Mind are Lady's Secret (1992); Winning Colors (2000); Serena's Song (2002) and *Azeri (2010) (*Previously trained by Laura deSeroux. Michael Paulson's Azeri joined Team Lukas for the 2004 season. She was already a Horse of the Year when she added wins in the GI Apple Blossom H., GI Go for Wand H. and GI Spinster S. for Lukas).

According to Lukas, the fillies that represented 'Team Lukas' over the decades played an important role in the operation's success.

"I think it is significant, and it says a lot about our program," said Lukas. It says a lot about what we were able to achieve through the '80s, '90s and in this decade, too. They were all special and all made an impact in where we went and what we accomplished. The clientele that came in behind them; they were certainly influenced by those horses. After the successes of Lady's Secret and Winning Colors, another group of owners came in. They were very significant to us."

The first of Lukas' mavens to make it into the Hall of Fame was Lady's Secret, who served to cement the horseman's status as the nation's preeminent trainer. On a visit to Atlantic City Racecourse to run GISW Effervescing, Lukas observed an unimposing grey filly finish fourth in a $35,000 claimer on the grass. He purchased Great Lady M privately for $65,000 that afternoon, and she went on to win several stakes while under Lukas' tutelage. The mare was retired to his farm in Oklahoma following the 1980 season, and was bred to Horse of the Year and future Hall of Famer, Secretariat. The foal resulting from the union was not what Lukas expected--at least not initially.

Lukas & Lady's Secret
Horsephotos

"We get this little ratty, grey filly, and I was just disappointed as hell," admitted Lukas. "Breeding a horse like Secretariat to Great Lady M--who was an exceptionally fast horse and a stakes winner in her own right--we expected more."

While having lunch one afternoon in 1982, Klein agreed on a whim to buy three weanlings from Lukas. Included among them was Lady's Secret and subsequent MGSW Gene's Lady.

"I am sitting having lunch with Gene Klein and he says that he wants some weanlings in the front yard at his home in Rancho Santa Fe," recounted Lukas. "His house was built on a rock, literally. It was just rock and avocado trees, because that's all that could grow there. I told him that maybe he could put mountain goats out there, but not babies. He asked me if I had any babies, and I said I had three of them. He asked how much they cost and I told him that they were mine, so I would get them appraised for him. He said, 'The hell with that, appraise them right now.' So I said, 'OK big guy, I'll take $200,000 apiece.' Without hesitation he said, 'Done. Go get 'em.'"

Lukas continued, "We were really concerned about Lady's Secret, because Gene had $200,000 tied up in her, so I told Jeff [Lukas] that we really needed to do something to get him some money back. I thought Gene's Lady would be OK, but I didn't really know about Lady's Secret."

When all was said and done, however, there was no need for concern. Through four seasons on the track, 'The Iron Lady' went on to win 25 of 45 starts for earnings of $3,021,425. Included among her 15 victories at the graded level were the GI Whitney H. against the boys, GI Breeders' Cup Distaff, GI Beldame S. (2x), GI Maskette S. (2x), GI Shuvee H., GI Santa Margarita Invitational H. and the GI La Canada S.

Huge Talent in Small Packages...

Another Lukas runner reputed for meeting--and beating--the boys was the Bob and Beverly Lewis-owned Serena's Song. The compact daughter of Rahy won 18 of 38 lifetime starts, including 11 Grade I's, before retiring with $3,283,388 in earnings. The $150,000 KEEJUL yearling ran against the boys on seven occasions; she took the 1995 GI Haskell Invitational S. and GII Jim Beam S.

She was also runner-up in the 1996 GI Whitney H. and 1994 GII Hollywood Juvenile Championship S. and finished third in the 1996 GI Phillip Iselin H.

"I think that came a little bit from my Quarter Horse background," said Lukas regarding his propensity for running his fillies against the boys. "I had all those good Quarter Horse fillies that beat all the colts regularly. I won the Champion of Champions with a filly. The All American [Futurity] field will have four or five fillies in there. It's not uncommon. The only difference is that they're going short, so stamina isn't a factor. With Thoroughbreds going a mile and an eighth in a race like the Whitney, stamina is a factor."

Also holding a special place in the operation's history is Open Mind. A foal of 1986, the diminutive filly was bestowed with her unassuming name thanks to her modest physical appearance and her young, and as of that time, unproven sire Deputy Minister. She was sent to Monmouth Park to take advantage of the New Jersey state-bred races where the $150,000 Fasig-Tipton Saratoga sale purchase was under the guidance of Lukas assistant Kieran McLaughlin.

"Kieran called me up on a couple of occasions and told me that he thought she was pretty special," recalled Lukas. "He said that she had been training really well, so I told him to run her in one of those stakes against the boys there and see how she does."

Lukas recalled the simple response he gave to McLaughlin when he learned of the chestnut's impressive win in the New Jersey Breeders' S. in only her second career start.

"I told him, 'Send her to Belmont,'" he laughed.

If there was ever any doubt as to her ability it disappeared during her tenure on the track. The New Jersey-bred, who headed a 1-2-3 finish for the trainer in the 1988 GI Breeders' Cup Juvenile Fillies, concluded her juvenile campaign with a win in the GI Demoiselle S., earning the championship in the process.

At three, she won eight of 11 starts, including the GI Kentucky Oaks, GI Acorn S., GI Mother Goose S. and GI Alabama S. en route to the title as champion 3-year-old filly.

Amazon Among Boys...

Standing in sharp contrast--in stature and in perceived potential--to Open Mind was a towering daughter of Caro (Ire), Winning Colors.

"Winning Colors is just the opposite of Open Mind," said Lukas. "Where Open Mind had to earn her stripes, but won us over and got good, Winning Colors was awesome from Day 1, from the first time I laid eyes on her all the way to the end of her career. She was such a physically imposing specimen. She was a favorite in the barn from the beginning."

Lukas & Winning Colors
Horsephotos

Lukas recalled in great detail the horse that would give him his first Kentucky Derby score.

"I remember the first time I saw her, I was standing out front of that four-foot wall at Keeneland and she was in the far stall," recalled Lukas. "Here she comes, and all I can see is her head, neck, withers and hip, and all I could think was,

'Wow, if this thing comes around the corner with all four feet pointing in the right direction, this is really something.' I just walked her around once and said, 'Next.' [Consignor] Don Sucher asked if I liked her and I told him she was OK. But, really my heart, was pounding 400 miles an hour."

Lukas, famed for using a 1-10 scale when evaluating horses at public sale, admitted the giant roan ranked among the elite of his top auction purchases.

"She was an eight; that's really up there," he admitted. "Seven is a buy, eight you have to have, and nine you give up your first born and all your possessions."

Dubbed 'The Amazon' by the press, the filly won the GI Santa Anita Oaks before crushing the boys in the GI Santa Anita Derby. A week prior to the "Run for the Roses," owner Gene Klein and Lukas were offered $7 million, equaling the record price for a filly sold at public auction up until that time. After only mild consideration from Klein, the decision was made to forge ahead to the Derby.

"Of all the Kentucky Derby starters I've had, and I've had four of them, that was the most confident I ever was heading into the race," said Lukas. "I was really confident. And we didn't make any bones about it, we said, 'Look, we're going to the lead, if anybody wants to go with us, just get in there and see how we get along.'"

Making good on his claim, Lukas had jockey Gary Stevens take Winning Colors to the front early in the 10-furlong affair, and the duo made ever pole a winning one as the filly--the first to prevail since 1980 Derby winner Genuine Risk and only the third in history--held off the ultra-talented colts Forty Niner and Risen Star at the wire.

All the King's Men...

It could be said the fairer set was the flame that fueled Team Lukas, however, it was the men who held ranks under Lukas that served as the kindle. Very few Thoroughbred trainers have been as closely identified with the people who have emerged from their camps as has Lukas and his former assistants. Giving credit where credit is due, he is the first to applaud his former students' ability, discipline and dedication, all of which lent to the stable's success.

Lukas & Pletcher

Lukas, who insists his greatest role was that of a teacher, acknowledged that he often ruled his team with an iron fist.

"There was total discipline--I would tell them, 'We have five minutes of democracy and then the Czar takes over,'" he said, laughing.

Lukas added, "My assistants have been excellent right down the line--Todd Pletcher, Kiaran McLaughlin, Dallas Stewart, Mark Hennig, Randy Bradshaw and Mike Maker--we're talking about guys that could handle it. They were all great young guys. I chose a lot of good racehorses, but I think my legacy in life will be that I chose a lot of very good people. And for every Todd Pletcher, Kiaran McLaughlin, Dallas Stewart and Mark Henning, there are a bunch of other guys, parking cars or packing groceries somewhere in America, who didn't make it. They just couldn't handle it."

For those who did make it, Lukas added, "When they went out on their own, they went with my blessing, every one of them. Every one of them took a major client, every one of them rode off with the horse they were sitting on, with the saddle and bridle. We have a great fraternity, we try and get together whenever we can. Last year, we got together at Todd's house during Belmont week, and we got to telling stories, including things that happened that I didn't know about, and how they covered up for each other. I wish we had recorded that evening, because it was just great."

With at least one likely future Hall of Famer looming among the Lukas alums, the conditioner pointed to a former assistant that, in his opinion, would have surely been destined for the great Hall, had fate not intervened.

Wayne & Jeff Lukas
Horsephotos

“Jeff Lukas is the best trainer that is not in the Hall of Fame,” affirmed Lukas.

The junior Lukas sustained severe head injuries in December of 1993 after the fiery-tempered Tabasco Cat (Storm Cat) broke loose after a morning work out on the Santa Anita backside, and knocked down the then 36-year-old horseman. He was in a coma for a month and was never able to fulfill the promise he demonstrated as an assistant to his father.

“That’s not just fatherly pride talking,” Lukas added. “It might be in a lot of ways, but if you walk through the Saratoga backstretch, go barn to barn and ask everyone about Jeff, I bet you the opinion on him would be unanimous. He was double tough.”

Maybe it’s not the way he would have scripted it, but things appeared to come full circle for the program when Lukas’ 1987 record of 92 stakes wins was broken by Pletcher (assistant from 1990-96) in 2006. Lukas had no regrets at seeing his former assistant take his place in the record books.

“I am so fond of those guys, if I ever get wealthy, I would put them in the will,” joked Lukas. “But since I’ve gone so broke, I think Todd has to put me in his will.”

The horsemen had gone on to carve out successful careers in their own right returned to honor their former boss at his Hall of Fame induction in 1999.

“They allowed me to choose who would head my induction, and I really didn’t know where to go with that, so I suggested they ask one of my assistants,” recalled Lukas. “They decided to do it together. They collectively decided that Mark Hennig would be the spokesperson and the entire group was on the stage, including Jeff.”

“Well, Mark recalled one particular occasion when I had gotten on him really hard after he had won two stakes at Monmouth Park. I called him and he said, ‘Boss, we got good, we really got good today.’ And I said, ‘You hillbilly, are you that badly educated? I give you the best horses and the best clientele in America and you tell me, ‘We got good??’ You should say, ‘We did well.’ So, standing up there with my other assistants, Mark read through all the credits, and right before he was going to introduce me, he turned to me and said, ‘Boss, you got good.’ It was a great moment.”

KEENELAND LIVE ON NBC THIS FALL Live racing from the fall meet at Keeneland will be featured during four hour-long broadcasts on NBC and its affiliate VERSUS, it was announced Thursday. The first telecast, highlighted by the GI Darley Alcibiades S. and Gill Phoenix S., is set for Friday, Oct. 7, from 5-6 p.m. ET on VERSUS. On Saturday, Oct. 8, from 5-6 p.m. ET, the VERSUS programming will offer the live running of the GI Shadwell Turf Mile S. and GI Dixiana Breeders' Futurity. VERSUS will also televise the GI Juddmonte Spinster S. and Gill Bourbon S. on Sunday, Oct. 9, from 5-6 p.m. ET. The GI Queen Elizabeth II Challenge Cup will be broadcast live on NBC Saturday, Oct. 15, during its 60-minute telecast from 5-6 p.m. ET. "We can think of no better way to celebrate our anniversary season than with our friends at NBC," said Keeneland President and CEO Nick Nicholson.

"They have done an outstanding job with their coverage of Summer at Saratoga, and anytime we can showcase quality racing on a national level, it's good for our entire sport," Nicholson continued. Jon Miller, president of programming for NBC Sports and VERSUS, added, "Keeneland is one of the true iconic venues in horse racing. With the great results we had from this year's Triple Crown and the tremendous response we are getting from our Summer at Saratoga package, to be able to add Autumn at Keeneland further cements the NBC Sports Group as the home of horse racing."

Compliance Officer, claimed for $25,000 from Klaravich Stables and William Lawrence out of a fourth-place effort at Belmont May 14, scored in optional claimers in Elmont June 16 and July 9 and was looking to make it three-for-three for the new connections. The dark bay gelding sat just off the early pace, rallied three wide to take charge in upper stretch and inched clear to the wire. "He had all winter off, so I figured he was fresh [when I claimed him]," commented winning trainer Bruce Brown. "He ran consistently last year, so I think they just gave him the winter off because he is a turf horse. A lot of times you get a fresh horse like that, you can have some fun. I didn't expect to have this much fun! I won a little overnight stakes here last year, but this is the biggest race I've ever won, anywhere. It's great, especially to do it here. I'm a New York-bred guy, and I stay in New York year-round, so it means a lot." Click for brisnet.com chart. Video, sponsored by Taylor Made.

The SARATOGA Spotlight Race of the Day

Race 1 - MSW, 2, f, 1 1/16mT

Trainer Chad Brown, who's just as hot at the Spa this year as he was last year, debuted two juveniles going long on the turf here in 2010 for TYB Stable. Both of those runners, More Than Real (More Than Ready) and Silver Medallion (Badge of Silver), made it to the winner's circle at first asking before taking graded stakes for different conditioners. Brown unveils Beautiful Affair (Rock Hard Ten) for TYB in this spot. The $27,000 KEESEP yearling is by a very good turf sire out of SW and GSP juvenile Beau Blush (Rahy), who took both her career and turf debuts. Beau Blush is a half to GISW Marley Vale (Forty Niner), who produced MGSW and MGISP Indian Vale (A.P. Indy). Beautiful Affair faces several formidable foes with experience, but she figures to be very well-meant and could fly slightly under the radar. For more Saratoga analysis, visit the TDN Blog or follow Brian on Twitter.

Oaklawn Releases 2012 Stakes Schedule:
Edited Press Release

A $200,000 bump to the GII Rebel S. and a condensed four-day, nine stakes Racing Festival of the South highlight Oaklawn Park's 2012 live racing season, which kicks off Friday, Jan. 13. In total, there will be 34 stakes races worth nearly $5.2 million during the season. The 56-day meet will culminate with the Apr. 14 running of the GI Arkansas Derby. Oaklawn's 3-year-old series leading to the Arkansas Derby will once again feature the Jan. 16 one-mile $100,000 Smarty Jones, the Feb. 20 one-mile $250,000 GIII Southwest S. and the 1 1/16-mile $500,000 GII Rebel S. The Rebel will be held Mar. 17. "We are very proud of our 2012 stakes schedule, but we're particularly excited about the boost to the Rebel S. because it's making a name for itself as a leading Triple Crown prep--not just an Arkansas Derby prep," said David Longinotti, Assistant General Manager of Racing. The four-day Racing Festival of the South begins Apr. 11 with the $300,000 GII Fantasy S. The $500,000 GI Apple Blossom H. will be held Apr. 13. The festival concludes Apr. 14 with the $200,000 GIII Count Fleet Sprint H., $350,000 GII Oaklawn H. and the Arkansas Derby. "Our hope with the compressing of the Racing Festival is to make it more convenient to send horses to Hot Springs," said Longinotti. "Horsemen will be able to line up one plane, send several horses across a couple different divisions and arrange to have their main riders come for all the races of the Festival. We are confident that with this move, we will not only continue to attract the best 3-year-olds, but will continue to have large, competitive fields for all our Festival races." New Distance for Kentucky Cup Classic:

The GII Kentucky Cup Classic, previously run at 1 1/8 miles, will be run at 1 1/16 miles this year. The race has been renamed the WinStar Kentucky Cup. "Recently, many in the industry have called for coordination between major race days to produce a prep schedule that makes sense to the wagering and racing public," explained Turfway Park President Robert Elliston. "There already exists an abundance of preps for the GI Breeders' Cup Classic. With the change in distance, we believe the WinStar Kentucky Cup adds significantly to trainers' preparations for the Breeders' Cup Dirt Mile and Turf Mile races."

Set to Music, who was winless in her first four starts, broke through in a June 12 Doncaster handicap and doubled her tally with an eye-catching score in a similar event at Nottingham July 2. Taking time to find her stride when successful in another Nottingham handicap last time July 28, she announced her arrival on the scene with an easy transition into black-type company here. Ridden with confidence in sixth from the outset, the Aga Khan-bred filly, who was obtained in a private arrangement last year, made smooth progress on the bridle in the long straight. Although jockey Jamie Spencer appeared to have exaggerated his waiting tactics as Cracking Lass set sail for home approaching the final eighth, his mount exhibited an impressive turn of foot when the button was pressed inside the closing panel to secure a career high with an abundance in hand. "When fillies improve, sometimes there's no limit to them as there have been some good ones down the years who have gone through the grades--we had Red Evie who did the same sort of thing," said trainer Michael Bell.

"She's bred by The Aga Khan and a lot of his families improve with age and time. I really liked this filly last year and was a bit disappointed because she didn't deliver. I'm thrilled as she's suddenly clicked into gear and the way she did it today was sensational. I had pencilled her in for the G1 Prix Vermeille [at Longchamp Sept. 11] when the calendar came out the other day, but now I think she'll have to have an entry. What she does in between, we'll need to give further thought to as there are more options for her. The style of this victory has caught me on the hop, as I can't quite believe the manner of her victory and there's a lot more to look forward to." Video, courtesy Racing UK.

 Bogart, who bagged a May 25 debut win at Ayr, stepped up from a last-out seventh in the July 29 G2 Richmond S. to land this massive pot and follow in the hoofprints of last year's winner, and subsequent G1 Prix Jean-Luc Lagardere hero, Wootton Bassett (GB) (Iffraaj {GB}). Prominent after a sharp exit in this valuable dash, the chestnut held a slender advantage at halfway and came under a late drive to win in decisive fashion. "Bogart is a nice horse and I was positive I'd give Mr Hannon's Harbour Watch a race at Goodwood, but he didn't handle the track and the ground was a bit too quick for him there, explained rider Phillip Makin. "He gave me a great feel throughout the race today and he was going that easy I was able to give him a breather at halfway. I am sure he will stay a bit further than six furlongs, but he does have bags of speed."

MUTUAL TRUST DQ'D FROM CONDITIONS WIN

Khalid Abdullah's Mutual Trust (GB) (Cacique {Ire}) has been stripped of his win in the Prix Verso II, a conditions event at Saint-Cloud, after a prohibited substance was found in his sample. Subsequently the winner of the G1 Prix Jean Prat at Chantilly July 3, the Andre Fabre-trained homebred was disqualified from the mile conditions race May 18 and a statement from Juddmonte read, "This colt tested positive for calmivet, a sedative, following his win in the Prix Verso II at Saint-Cloud May 18. Prior to the race, the horse moved boxes and picked up a trace element of the sedative from the previous occupant Field Manger which was the cause of the positive test. Under the rules, he has been disqualified from this race. His subsequent races are not thought to be involved."

In a race where the high-profile pair of Hooray (GB) (Invincible Spirit {Ire}) and Lolly For Dolly (Ire) (Oratorio {Ire}) failed to feature, it was left to the upwardly mobile Alanza to stamp her presence on this above-average renewal. She had proven her stamina for a mile when beating Wild Wind (Ger) (Danehill Dancer {Ire}) to open her black-type account in the July 31 Listed Platinum S. at Cork last time and raced under restraint buried back in the pack throughout the early stages. Swinging wide at the top of the straight, the bay delivered a sustained surge as her luckless archrival Wild Wind was caught up in traffic against the rail and overhauled the long-time leader Claiomh Solais and Anam Allta in the final 100 yards. Last year's G1 Cheveley Park S. winner Hooray was sent off the 5-2 favorite, but ruined any chance with a slow break while the returning June 15 G2 Windsor Forest S. heroine Lolly For Dolly was tenderly handled when it was clear that she was not going to be involved in the finish of this competitive affair.
