DIVINE PARK COLT RINGS THE BELL

A colt from the second crop of GI Met Mile winner Divine Park (Chester House) was knocked down for session-topping bid of $110,000 on the penultimate day of bidding at the Keeneland September Sale in

Divine Park airdriestud.com

Lexington. A remarkable 91.5% of the horses offered were reported as sold, as the session average was essentially unchanged versus 2011, while the median price jumped by 16.7%. Cumulative statistics also remained healthy, with the average of $91,973 showing a gain of 6% and the median of $50,000 up by 25%.

Gatewood Bell's Cromwell Bloodstock was the winning bidder on hip 3187, an April 14-foaled son of the Airdie stallion out of the Skip Away mare Window Woman, whose 3-year-old son Window Boy (Include) crossed the wire first in three consecutive starts earlier this season, including an 8-1 upset in the Grover 'Bud' Delp Memorial S. at Delaware Park May 23. He was also third in the July 8 Long Branch S. at Monmouth Park.

Bell was not surprised that he had plenty of competition for the colt.

"It's been a very good market," said Bell, who added that he purchased the colt on behalf of an unnamed client. "I think he would have brought that much in Book 4, 5 or 6. He had a presence and looked like a good horse. He was an excellent physical, and I am in love with Divine Park. I tried to buy one all week and I think he's got a good future." Bell said his purchase would likely be turned over to Larry Jones, who will be represented by a daughter of Divine Park in the Oct. 5 GI Darley Alcibiades S. at Keeneland in the form of Dancinginthecircle, a narrowly beaten third in the GIII Arlington-Washington Lassie Sept. 8.

Divine Park has had a strong sale, with 14 sold from 16 through the ring for an average of $121,643.

Bell has also been impressed by the depth and strength of the sale over the past week and a half.

"I have been able to fill my orders, but it's been tough," he commented. "I've never seen horses selling out of the back ring like that. I got a few earlier that I might have been lucky to get. Most of the stuff is trading and it's a very good sign. We have fewer horses obviously, but it seems to be in a pretty healthy spot."

AUCTION ACTION IN MILAN

Milan plays host to the latest stopover on the European Yearling Sales circuit today, with Societa Gestione Aste's Select Yearling Sale taking centre stage at the Settimo Milanese complex. A total of 174 lots have been catalogued for the one-day auction, whose recent graduates include Coolmore's multiple Group 1 winner Rip Van Winkle (Ire) (Galileo {Ire}), a €170,000 purchase five years ago. Selling begins at noon, and the auction will be streamed live on www.sgasaes.com.

Economic factors have had their effect on the international bloodstock marketplace, but there have been some signs of encouragement. Recent European yearling auctions at Deauville and Baden-Baden have held up well compared to last year, while the ongoing Keeneland September sale has also put up competitive numbers. Cont. p4

“It’s becoming the usual story in the global market,” said Dr. Umberto Pianca, president of the SGA auction house. “Horses in the medium to high range are always in demand, but that is not the case with the lower-priced horses.

“The world monetary difficulties are hampering the recovery of the sector, but now the market holds,” he added. “Many respected foreign operators and agents will be here.”

Twelve months ago, the auction catalogued 272 yearlings, with 244 making it to the ring, and 140 ultimately being sold. They grossed €3,012,500 for an average price of €21,518. The highest price was €210,000 for a son of Dubawi (Ire) secured by Anthony Stroud.

SGA auction ring

“Last year I was satisfied about the overall result, considering the economic situation that was passing throughout the European macroeconomics system,” Pianca offered. “This year, we have a top-class catalogue that isn’t scared of international competition such as Goffs or Newmarket. Stallions like Sea the Stars (Ire), Dubawi (Ire), High Chaparral (Ire), Montjeu (Ire), Holy Roman Emperor (Ire) and Cape Cross (Ire) are of the absolute highest profile, and 50% of the dams are black-type winners or producers.” (Click here for an Aug. 8 TDN Q&A with Dr. Pianca).

Top of Their Class...

In the last 12 months, the filly Cherry Collect (Ire) (Oratorio {Ire}) has flown the flag for the SGA sale, and handsomely repaid her €65,000 price tag when completing the Classic double of the G3 Premio Regina Elena and G2 Oaks d’Italia. In the latter contest at the local track, Scuderia Effevis bargain buy led home a one-two for this auction, with the €4,000 buy-back Angegreen (Ity) (Ekraar) filling the runner-up spot for Team Valor International and Robert LaPenta. Other graduates include top-level scorers such as Amadeus Wolf (GB) (Mozart {Ire}), Electrocutonist (Red Ransom) and Pressing (Ire) (Soviet Star).

Italian racing’s current crisis has been well-documented, with the inevitable knock-on effect reaching the bloodstock industry by way of reduced foal numbers. While the domestic situation may not inspire the Italian purchasers to splash out, international clients who have been exposed to the worldwide potency of the country’s best bloodstock are certain to make their presence felt today, particularly given the current weakness of the euro.

SGA SELECT YEARLINGS - FRIDAY

4, c, Montjeu (Ire)--Ribblesdale (GB), by Northern Park

Consigned by Razza del Velino

By a star Classic sire sadly lost too early, this is a colt with potential to cause an early stir, being a half-brother to Martin Schwartz's star performer Silver Cup (Ire) (Almutawakel GB). Campaigned initially by Alduino Botti to scoop the 2005 G2 Premio Regina Elena, she went on to add the following term's GII San Gorgonio H., GII Santa Ana H. and GII Buena Vista H. for the Patrick Biancone barn. Ribblesdale has also thrown the useful stakes performers Silver Rock (Ire) (Rock of Gibraltar {Ire}) and Silver Mitzva (Ire), also by Almutawakel.

8, c, Sea the Stars (Ire)--Rosa del Dubai (Ire), by Dubai Destination

Consigned by Razza del Sole

Sirecam video

No self-respecting yearling auction is complete this year without a Sea the Stars (Cape Cross {Ire}), and this is the sole representative of the great Tsui homebred. His dam is the 2008 G3 Premio Mario Incisa heroine Rosa Del Dubai, whose own dam Rosa di Brema (Ity) (Lomitas {GB}) was runner-up in the G1 Oaks d'Italia 11 years ago.

23, f, Pivotal (GB)--Short Affair (GB), by Singspiel (Ire)

Consigned by Societa Agricola Oriano

Short Affair, who was group-placed, is a branch of the established family of breeder John Greetham that features pattern-race winners and G1 Yorkshire Oaks runners-up Short Skirt (GB) (Diktat {GB}) and Whitewater Affair (GB) (Machiavellian). The latter is now also the dam of a trio of Japanese stars, including the 2005 G1 Yasuda Kinen hero Asakusa Den'En (GB) (Singspiel {Ire}) and the ground-breaking champion Victoire Pisa (Jpn) (Neo Universe {Jpn}).

85, c, Cape Cross (Ire)--Di Moi Oui (GB), by Warning (GB)

Consigned by Societa Agricola Oriano

Named Latin Charm (Ire), this March-foaled bay is out of dual group scorer Di Moi Oui, who has already produced listed-winning and group-placed Toi et Moi (Ire) (Galileo {Ire}) and 2007 G2 Oaks d'Italia runner-up Moi Non Plus (GB) (Singspiel {Ire}).

120, c, New Approach (Ire)--L'Indiscreta (GB), by Desert Prince (Ire)

Consigned by Razza del Sole

To say that freshman sire New Approach (Galileo {Ire}) has hit the ground running is an understatement, and this is his only yearling for sale today. Out of the 2009 G3 Premio Carlo Chiesa winner L'Indiscreta, the February-foaled bay's page features Scuderia Blueberry's 3-year-old Lui e La Luna (GB) (Nayef), who was second in last year's G3 Premio Guido Berardelli.

154, f, Danehill Dancer (Ire)--Mujadil Shadow (Ire), by Mujadil

Sirecam video

The sole offering by Danehill Dancer in the book, this is a half-sister to three speedy black-type performers in Titus Shadow (Ire) (Titus Livius {Fr}), Mujadil Draw (Ire) (Daggers Drawn) and Orpen Shadow (Ire) (Orpen). Danehill Dancer has a direct influence in her current 3-year-old filly Choisir Shadow (Ire) (Choisir {Aus}), who is three times a winner at listed level for the Scuderia Blueberry/Bruno Grizzetti combination.

168, f, Dubawi (Ire)--Persian Filly (Ire), by Persian Bold (Ire)

Consigned by Razza del Sole

Sirecam video

Izabella Bezzera's operation also consign this half-sister to the very smart Permesso (GB) (Sakhee), who was himself a €110,000 purchase at the 2006 renewal of this sale and went on to finish runner-up in the 2008 G1 Derby Italiano and G1 Premio Roma for Nuova Sbarra. Also under Persian Filly is the 2005 Derby fourth Urgente (GB) (Halling).

BLACK-TYPE PREVIEWS

THE MAIN MAN

Last year's G1 Prix du Jockey Club hero Reliable Man (GB) (Dalakhani {Ire}) is dropped in class today for the G3 La Coupe de Maisons-Laffitte in a bid to find the winner's spot for the first time since the G2 Prix Niel 12 months ago. Since that occasion, Salinity Stables's grey has tackled five Group 1 races, with three being among the toughest of their kind on the European calendar and his latest fourth in Ascot's G1 King George VI and Queen Elizabeth S. July 21 seemed to demonstrate that a mile and a half stretches his stamina. "I am very happy with Reliable Man since his last trip to Ascot," trainer Alain de Royer-Dupre told the Racing Post. "This is a comeback race and a warm up for either the Arc de Triomphe, the Canadian International or the Champion S. back at Ascot. I would prefer that the ground is not too quick for the colt." While ☆ "TDN Rising Star" ☆ Maxios (GB) (Monsun {Ger}) will never match the achievements of his esteemed half-brother Bago (Fr) (Nashwan), the Niarchos Family's homebred is capable of smart form in his own right, such as when runner-up in the June 3 G2 Grand Prix de Chantilly on his penultimate start.

GROUP 1 WINNERS CLASH IN UNDERWOOD

Saturday's G1 Underwood S. at Caulfield has attracted Winchester (Theatrical), who launched his career in Ireland under the tutelage of trainer Dermot Weld, and won the 2008 GI Secretariat S. for Mr. and Mrs. Bertram Firestone before embarking on an a U.S. campaign. Moved to Christophe Clement's shedrow for the 2009 season, the bay hit the board in three of four starts before taking the following year's GI Manhattan H. and GI Turf Classic Invitational. Earning his final stateside victory in the 2011 GI Sword Dancer S., Winchester finished third in Calder's GII W.L. McKnight H. last November and was later sold to Anthony Mithen's Rosemont Stud in Australia. Secured as a G1 Melbourne Cup prospect, the 7-year-old will compete in Australia under the Malua Racing banner and the operation's head trainer, John Sadler. Cont. p7

TOP SHOOTERS LINE UP FOR GEORGE MAIN

Trainer Chris Waller appears to have a stranglehold on Saturday's G1 George Main S. at Randwick in Sydney, Australia. The conditioner will saddle three of the eight entrants, including the classy Shoot Out (Aus) (High Chaparral {Ire}), who makes his first run of the season. The 6-year-old, winner of the G1 Chipping Norton S. at Warwick Farm Mar. 10, was last seen finishing second to champion mare More Joyous (Aus) (More Than Ready) in the G1 Doncaster Mile April 21. He was the easy four length winner of a Randwick trial Sept. 10. His stablemate Rangirangdoo (NZ) (Pentire {GB}) has not won since taking the last year's G1 George Ryder S., but he was an encouraging fourth in his seasonal debut in the G3 Tramway H. at Warwick Farm Sept. 8, which could give him a fitness advantage.

Milburn Creek Thoroughbred Stud Syndicate's Secret Admirer (Aus) (Dubawi {Ire}) was ultra-consistent in Group 1 company last season. She has been second in two efforts this season, and was beaten by Danleigh (Aus) (Mujahid), whom she re-opposes here, last out in the G2 Chelmsford S. at Warwick Farm Aug. 25. All Too Hard (Aus) (Casino Prince {Aus}), best known as the little brother to champion Black Caviar (Aus) (Bel Esprit {Aus}), won his first three career starts last season, including a pair of Group 2s. He has failed to win in three subsequent efforts, and was most recently fifth in the G3 Run to the Rose S. at Rosehill Sept. 1. He gets up to 19 lbs (8.5 kgs) from his rivals as the only 3-year-old in the field.

TIME PASSAGES

In 1994 the Thoroughbred industry was in recovery mode. After reaching then-record heights in the mid-1980s, bloodstock lost about 35% of its value by 1992, but the tide had turned in 1993 as pinhookers reinvested profits and the optimism of racehorse owners rode the Clinton economic recovery.

The author was also in recovery mode in 1994. After overseeing the dispersal of Pillar Stud, where I was general manager for 13 years, in the early '90s, emotional burnout resulted in a thankfully brief pretense that I could sell something I cared nothing about as a stock broker.

Mark Simon and Thoroughbred Times came to my rescue early that year at about the same time that Norman Ridker and Fancy Publications (later Bow Tie Press) rescued Thoroughbred Times from impending closure. Mark and I had shared a bit of history at the Thoroughbred Record, and Mark needed a sales and bloodstock editor after David Heckerman left for the Blood-Horse.

I was happy--and relieved--to say yes when he offered me the job.

Thoroughbred Times, the Blood-Horse, and other publications like Thoroughbred Daily News rode the wave of prosperity that began with the market turnaround in 1993 for the next 15 years. Another spectacular rise in bloodstock prices created plenty of advertising dollars to go around as stallion masters and commercial breeders competed to attract customers and expand their brand recognition.

Thoroughbred Times was the first industry print publication to establish a website in 1996 and the first to build an online stallion directory, but, from the beginning, like other print publications, struggled to actually make money from the digital revolution. Advertisers were at first reluctant to commit money to a medium they did not understand or trust, and once finally enticed to advertise by the much lower rates online publications were forced to offer, advertisers were extremely resistant to raising those rates.

That is about where the matter stood when the global economic meltdown hit the Thoroughbred industry and the rest of the world economy in October 2008. Within two years, Thoroughbred bloodstock lost about 40% of its value, advertising dollars disappeared, and the thickness of Thoroughbred trade journals began to be measured in millimeters instead of inches.

Last weekend Thoroughbred Times died as its parent company declared it bankrupt. The demise of the Times is hardly the first among legacy trade journals and it will not be the last, but it carries more import than similar closures in larger industries.

The print advertising dollars that went away after the crash of 2008 are not coming back. Every major commercial breeding farm now has their own website, complete with pages for their stallions. Every consumer of stallion seasons and racing prospects has access to Google. Reduced income at commercial breeding farms forced reevaluation of where reduced advertising dollars should be spent.

Executives at commercial breeding establishments reasoned that if they, themselves, did not read industry print journals any more, why should anyone else? I confess I rarely had read even Thoroughbred Times lately.

Acknowledging that most of us now get our information fix through the internet is hardly an original insight, but the permanent disappearance of print advertising has been the elephant in the room for several years. Industries, particularly luxury industries, require accurate, unbiased information to thrive, and throughout history, that information has been provided by print publications. Information provided by even the most ethical commercial breeding farm websites cannot be expected to be similarly unbiased.

The digital revolution has changed that equation. As Thoroughbred Times and the Blood-Horse shrank, TDN, European Bloodstock News, Jour de Galop, and the Paulick Report, all strictly digital publications, thrived, partly because they lack the huge overhead expenses associated with print, partly because advertisers have recognized where the future--no, the present--lies. For almost 100 years, though, the two print weeklies, Thoroughbred Record/Thoroughbred Times and the Blood-Horse served as the collective memory and the collective conscience of the Thoroughbred industry.

The Thoroughbred industry is once again in recovery mode, however, as is the author. Major life changes force one to look back before one can look forward, and as I pondered time this week, the lyrics to an old pop song I never even particularly liked have been an earworm in my head. In the 1978 hit tune Time Passages, Al Stewart sang, "I'm not the kind to live in the past/The years run too short and the days too fast/The things you lean on are the things that don't last."

I leaned on Thoroughbred Times, as did the industry, for 27 years. For 18 of those years I was proud to have a voice in the Thoroughbred industry's collective memory and collective conscience at Thoroughbred Times. That function has now passed largely to TDN and its digital cohorts.

I hope to continue to provide reminders of our collective history, our collective conscience at TDN. May we all carry that burden of history with honor.

John P. Sparkman began his career in the Thoroughbred industry in 1972 at Windfields Farm in Maryland, with Northern Dancer quite literally in his back yard. From 1974 to '79 he served as Director of Cataloging for the Jockey Club Information Systems and also served on the Keeneland July sales selection committee.

In 1979, Sparkman became General Manager of William du Pont III's Pillar Stud Inc., where he supervised building a major broodmare band and stallion operation. In 13 years at Pillar, Sparkman was responsible for breeding more than 45 stakes winners, including 1994 Kentucky Derby winner Go for Gin and champions Noalcoholic and Rancho Ruler.

NYTHA Hard at Work in New York:

Edited Press Release

Christmas may be the traditional time for giving, but the pace hasn't slowed over the summer for the Benevolence Committee of the New York Thoroughbred Horsemen's Association (NYTHA). In addition to the donations regularly earmarked for organizations such as the Backstretch Employee Service Team (BEST) and New York's Racetrack Chaplaincy (NY-RTCA), the Saratoga social scene is a whirlwind of events devoted to raising funds for causes close to the hearts of New York's horsemen.

"Our mission, year-round, is to support the programs that are so important to our industry," said trainer Pat Kelly, vice president of NYTHA and the chairman of the Benevolence Committee. "As busy as things get at the height of the New York racing season, our focus remains the same."

The charitable events supported by NYTHA this summer included "An Evening for the Thoroughbred," the Thoroughbred Retirement Foundation's annual fundraiser; "A Night of Denim and Diamonds," to raise money for the Belmont Child Care Association's Anna House; The Sizzling Hot Pink Saratoga Hat Luncheon for the Breast Cancer Research Foundation; the NYRA Charity Golf Tournament for the Grayson-Jockey Club Research Foundation; and the 2012 Travers Celebration, to benefit the Permanently Disabled Jockeys Fund, the Times-Union's Hope Fund and BEST.

NYTHA's donations to charity events this season totaled more than $33,000.

As always, benevolence for the backstretch workers accounts for NYTHA's largest annual expenditure. BEST, which provides the backstretch community with health care benefits, a year-round health clinic at Belmont Park, a six-month health clinic at Saratoga, chiropractic and podiatry care, social services and counseling, received a quarterly grant of $112,500 from NYTHA. In addition, NYTHA covered nearly $40,000 in dental care and $5,150 for eyeglasses.

NYTHA also donated $100,000 to the New York State Racing and Wagering Board's drug testing and research program at Morrisville State College. The program's director, Dr. George Maylin, will work with Dr. Lawrence Soma at the University of Pennsylvania to study gene- and blood-doping substances, as well as snake toxins and protein-based drugs. In all, New York's horsemen, through NYTHA, bestowed $493,852 this summer.

"It is rewarding that we can help provide services that are vital to the people on the backstretch," Kelly remarked. "It is also imperative that we do all we can to protect the integrity of our sport by funding programs that enhance drug testing and research. We'd like to thank the owners and trainers who make these initiatives possible."

Appearances by 2010 champion 2-year-old filly Awesome Feather have been rare since Stronach Stables scooped up the GI Breeders' Cup Juvenile Fillies winner for $2.3 million at Fasig-Tipton November just two days after her signature win, but when she's shown up, she's never failed to impress. Transferred to trainer Chad Brown from Stan Gold after the purchase, Awesome Feather took nearly a year to resurface, annexing the Le Slew S. here last October. She continued her winning streak when stretching out for a commanding victory in

Aqueduct's GI Gazelle S. Nov. 26 and drew away to take the Sunshine Millions Distaff S. at Gulfstream Jan. 28 before sustaining setbacks that have kept her sidelined since. The deserving favorite here, Awesome Feather broke from the outside and sat a wide third behind pacesetter Daddy's Honor. She asserted for the lead three wide while exiting the backstretch, took command turning for home and drew away down the stretch to win under wraps. "Coming into this race, we felt at the barn that she was carrying more weight and her coat was better than we've ever seen it," said Chad Brown. "Her other three wins, she was nice and sound, but we never had her looking weight-wise and coat-wise the way we wanted. This race, coming in, was the best she ever looked to me. We're just fortunate the race went here, that they had a race for us at Belmont, and it should be a good stepping stone to the [Nov. 2 GI Breeders' Cup] Ladies' Classic if she comes out of the race in good shape. Let's keep our fingers crossed that this great filly comes out of the race in good shape and everyone gets to see the showdown they want to see at Santa Anita." Click for the brisnet.com chart or Video, sponsored by Taylor Made Sales.

Pianist was beaten just a nose on debut in one of the more productive maiden heats at Saratoga in 2011, besting a pair of future Grade I winners Karlovy Vary (Dynaformer) and Lady of Shamrock (Scat Daddy) among numerous other subsequent graded stakes performers. She resurfaced here July 1, and wasn't much of a secret, romping by 5 1/2 lengths at 3-4 odds. She was a disappointing third at odds-on in a first-level Spa allowance July 28, but bounced back with a three-length tally back at that venue Aug. 23. Allowed a clear lead here through honest splits of :23.25, :47.41 and 1:11.63, the chestnut left constant pursuer Medolina in her wake in the lane in an impressive effort. ### Laurel Park to Host Halloween 'Track of Terror':

On Friday, Oct. 26, Laurel Park will host the "Track of Terror" Halloween Bash presented by Sam Adams Octoberfest from 8p.m.-1a.m. The Maryland Jockey Club has partnered with Jeff Keiling of Brite Ideas to transform the park into a haunted house. "Last year's event was off the charts," Keiling said. "But even for the thousands who showed up last year, they won't believe what we have in store for 2012." The bash will feature a DJ dance party, food and drink specials as well as costume prizes. Tickets are on sale for $25 or can be purchased at the door for $30.

Proposal Offered for Claiming Rule:

A proposal to implement a new rule which would void claims and return a horse to its original owner if it should be placed on the veterinarian's list because of unsoundness or lameness prior to its being released to the successful claimant was voted upon by The California Horse Racing Board Thursday, reports the Daily Racing Form. In a 6-1 decision issued by the Board, the rule change will be subject to a 45-day evaluation period which would give the Board the opportunity to garner a reaction from the public and horsemen. The Board is expected to vote on the rule change later this fall and a change is likely to be several months away should the rule be approved. "We want to do the right thing by the horse," commissioner Chuck Winner told DRF. Currently, horses who are claimed and placed on the veterinary prior to being transferred to the new connections is considered the property of the claimant. The proposal was issued following last year's rule change that voided all claims if a horse was euthanized on the racetrack.

Racketeer to Old Friends:

Racketeer (Awesome Again), who earned over $400,000 through seven seasons on the racetrack, has been retired to the Old Friends facility in Georgetown, Kentucky. Bred by Adena Springs, the 9-year-old hit the board in a trio of graded events, and made his career finale a winning one in a $12,500 claimer at Fairplex 12 months ago. He was discovered in a California feedlot earlier this year by Adena Springs representatives and the horse rescue organization Neigh Savers, which is based in the Golden State. "When he got back to Adena he recuperated, put on weight, and has been just fantastic," said Adena General Manager Eric Hamelback. "He has such a wonderful attitude, and he's the epitome of what people want in a Thoroughbred. He's sound, strong and raced at the highest level. I'm good friends with Michael Blowen [president of Old Friends], and we all know what a phenomenal job they do. So I thought with Old Friends inheriting Bobby Frankel's trophies, Racketeer might make a nice addition to their farm." Blowen added, "We owe a great gratitude to Adena and people like Eric, Frank [Stronach] and Jack Brothers. They have always been great to us. When Racketeer got here earlier in the week he looked phenomenal. He's going to be a great addition to our tours." For more information, visit www.OldFriendsEquine.com.

Breeders' Cup Unveils Social Network Game:

Edited Press Release

The Breeders' Cup today announced the launch of 'Blazing Silks, Breeders' Cup Edition,' an interactive social network game that allows horse racing fans and social gamers to train and care for Thoroughbred horses. Fans can then race their horses against friends and past Breeders' Cup Champions in photorealistic 3D races at some of the most famous racetracks in the world. Blazing Silks combines the thrill of racing with immersive role-playing gameplay, allowing the ownership, training and caring for your own Thoroughbred with the interactive elements that have helped propel social gaming into the mainstream.

Players can currently access Blazing Silks through Facebook at https://apps.facebook.com/blazing\_silks/. An iPad version of the game is planned for the near future.

"Blazing Silks is a key part of our strategy to expand and diversify our fan base through new channels," said Justin McDonald, Sr. Director, Marketing and Digital Media for the Breeders' Cup. "Early returns show that Blazing Silks players are skewing much younger than our core fans, exactly what we were hoping to accomplish with a game like this."

Blazing Silks was developed by social gaming developer iRace.Social.

Juliet Slot

- Appointed Commercial Director at Ascot Racecourse
- Will join in early November
- Previously served as Managing Director of Pitch, Sales and Marketing Director of the Board of Fulham Football Club, Managing Director of Haymarket Network, and also worked on London's 2012 Olympic bid.
- "Ascot is the world's premier racecourse with extraordinary history and a bright future. This opportunity to share my broad experience and build our brand, our offer and our commercial programme is a very appealing challenge for me. We all share a vision for the racecourse which we believe will take our consumer offer to new levels. I'm incredibly excited about starting," said Slot.
