FORT LARNED, HYMN BOOK WORK

Fort Larned (E Dubai), winner of the Aug. 4 GI Whitney Invitational H., turned in his final serious work Sunday morning at Belmont in advance of

Fort Larned
Adam Coglianese

Saturday's GI TVG Jockey Club Gold Cup Invitational. Shortly after 6:30 a.m., the Janis Whitham runner covered five furlongs in 1:01.04 over the main track. Exercise rider Kate Merritt was aboard for the move, the fourth-fastest of 11 at the distance. "He did exactly what we wanted him to do, and went very well," said Peggy Dunleavy, assistant to trainer Ian

Wilkes. "He was very professional, and did it the right way." Prior to the Whitney, the 4-year-old took the GIII Cornhusker H. June 30, when he ran a 108 Beyer. "Keeping him happy is the key," added Dunleavy. "We're keeping the same basic routine. He likes this track, to be quite honest. He's a pretty easy horse to be around."

Also preparing for a tilt at the 10-furlong Breeders' Cup "Win and You're In" contest, Stuart Janney III's

Hymn Book (Arch) covered a half mile in a quick :46.91, the fastest of 18 moves at the distance over Belmont's main track yesterday. The 6-year-old, who registered his most recent win in the Feb. 11 GI Donn H., finished fourth last time out in the aforementioned Whitney.

Hymn Book
Adam Coglianese

"I wanted to do something more with Hymn Book because he hasn't raced in two months," explained trainer Shug McGaughey.

GIROLAMO RISES IN VON EUROPA

It may have taken a while to get going, but Girolamo (Ger) (Dai Jin {GB}) appears to have hit his best stride with a career-high victory in Sunday's G1 Preis Von Europa at Cologne in Germany. Unraced during his juvenile year, Girolamo, last seen running fifth behind Danedream (Ger) (Lomitas {GB}) in the Sept. 2 G1 Grosser Preis von Baden at the Iffezheim oval, came from off the pace this time to outgun G2 Derby Italiano hero Feuerblitz (Ger) (Big Shuffle) and Araldo (GB) (High Chaparral {Ire}) at the wire.

ALOOF BEST IN G3 FILLIES

Let go at 12-1 odds following a third behind Famous Name (GB) in the Sept. 9 G3 Solonaway S., Aloof (Ire) (Galileo {Ire}) proved anything but while collecting her first Pattern-race score in Sunday's G3 Fillies S. at Gowran Park. Steadied under a tight hold in second after an alert break, the bay seized control off the home turn and kept on strongly under a final-furlong drive to hold Beatrice Aurore (Ire) (Danehill Dancer {Ire}). Shebella (Ire) (Dubai Destination) was third. "Her form has been consistent, and good ground suited her better today," jockey Billy Lee told irishracing.com. "They went a good gallop, she kept going well, and she's progressing as the season goes on."

Romans Ready to Rumble In NY

Trainer Dale Romans, who put the finishing touches on his Churchill-based team over the weekend, rolls into town this week, bringing with him a top cast of racehorses set to take on some of Belmont's biggest races. Among them is Shackleford (Forestry), scheduled to contest the GII Kelso H. and GI Joe Hirsch Turf Classic Invitational S. contender Little Mike (Spanish Steps).

Graffard Collects Group Victory

When Pearl Bloodstock's promising 2-year-old Pearl Flute (Ire) (Piccolo {GB}) swooped late to take the G3 Prix des Chenes at Longchamp Saturday, it marked a milestone not only in the career of the promising young colt, but also that of his trainer, Francis-Henri Graffard. Like his talented charge, Graffard was recording his first Pattern success and, for a trainer that has held a license less than a year, that is certainly something to celebrate.

La Belle Danseuse

Heading into Sunday's Belle Cherie S. at Belmont, Dance Card (Tapit) had a lot to live up to. A $750,000 FTFFEB 2-year-old purchase herself, the 3-year-old filly is a full-sister to a colt that realized a session topping $700,000 during the Keeneland September sale earlier this month. Sent off the 4-5 choice, the grey couldn't have made it look easier in her black-type debut at Belmont. Take a look at how she did it in Monday's TDN.

Belmont Super Saturday

ROMANS PRIMES TEAM FOR NY ASSAULT

Trainer Dale Romans tightened the screws over the weekend on several members of his New York-bound team, including Classic hero Shackleford (Forestry),

Shackleford

who will contest the one-mile GII Kelso H. on this weekend's 'Super Saturday' card at Belmont. The chestnut, winner of the May 28 GI Metropolitan H. over track and trip, breezed five furlongs in 1:00 4/5 at Churchill Downs Sunday. In his most recent start, the 4-year-old finished eighth in the GI Alfred G. Vanderbilt H. Aug. 5 at Saratoga. Originally scheduled to contest the Sept. 1 GI Forego H., Romans was forced to scratch last year's GI Preakness S. hero because of a cough. "It was as good of a work as he's ever had, and we did the right thing by skipping the Forego," said Romans, who trains the colt for Michael Lauffer, W.D. Cubbedge, and the Phillips Racing Partnership. "We're looking for a big effort from him."

Romans sends a pair to this weekend's GI Joe Hirsch Turf Classic Invitational S., including Little Mike (Spanish Steps). Owned by Priscilla Vaccarezza, Little Mike comes into the 1 1/2-mile test off a victory in the Aug. 18 GI Arlington Million. The gelding recorded a 1:03 2/5 five-furlong breeze Saturday at Churchill.

"[The distance is] a question mark," admitted Romans. "It always is whenever you try something for the first time, but he's done everything we've asked him to do. Pace is the race. That's the key with him."

Facing older horses for the first time in the Joe Hirsch is Donegal Racing's 3-year-old Finnegans Wake (Powerscourt {GB}), second in Arlington's GI Secretariat S. Aug. 18. Also at Churchill Saturday, Finnegans Wake went six furlongs in 1:15 4/5.

According to Romans, he originally considered Donegal's Dullahan (Even the Score) for the Hirsch, but opted instead to send him in the Oct. 6 GII Jamaica S. In his latest trip to the post, the striking chestnut won the Aug. 26 GI TVG Pacific Classic over older horses at Del Mar. Dullahan negotiated five furlongs in 1:02 1/5 at Churchill Saturday. "It was less about timing [to the Breeders' Cup in November] for Dullahan than it was about giving Finnegans Wake the chance to try a mile and a half," said Romans, explaining the decision. "I think [Finnegans Wake is] going to relish the distance." Dullahan, who has garnered a trio of victories on synthetic surfaces, will be making his first start on grass since finishing second in the GIII Palm Beach S. Mar. 11. "By sending Dullahan to the Jamaica, he still gets to try the turf while getting to stay against straight 3-year-olds," said Romans.

Justin Phillip Readies for Vosburgh

In anticipation of this Saturday's GI Vosburgh H., trainer Steve Asmussen sent out Zayat Stables' Justin Phillip (First Samurai) at Belmont Sunday morning. The $400,000 KESEP yearling purchase breezed four furlongs in :49.96 as he prepares for his first start since finishing second in the GI Alfred G. Vanderbilt H. at Saratoga Aug. 5. The dark bay also finished third--beaten 1 3/4 lengths--in the July 8 Mr. Prospector S. at Monmouth and was a close-up second in Belmont's GII True North H. June 9. "He's been performing right there and has been getting beat right on the jump, not quite getting there," explained Asmussen's New York-based assistant Toby Sheets. "We just need luck to go our way a little bit. [Saturday] would be an awesome day for that."

Girolamo has competed at various rungs on the stakes ladder, without success, since bagging a debut score at Krefeld in March. Seventh in the Apr. 22 G3 Dr Busch Memorial back at that North Rhine-Westphalia course, he hit the board in the May 19 Listed Iffezheimer Derby Trial at Baden-Baden before running fourth in the G2 Oppenheim-Union-Rennen going 11 furlongs here June 10. Gestut Ebbesloh's homebred chestnut then registered a personal best when third in the July 1 G1 Deutsches Derby at Hamburg and ran fourth in the G3 Gordon S. at Glorious Goodwood in his only overseas foray July 31. Although alert from the gate, Girolamo was restrained in fifth going by the judge first time until improving one spot at halfway as Earl of Tinsdal (Ger) (Black Sam Bellamy {Ire}) continued to set the tempo. Set alight at the top of the three-furlong straight, he quickened to challenge passing the quarter-mile marker and stayed on strongly late to claim victory nearing the line. "Girolamo showed really good form in the [German] Derby, but he sometimes suffers from muscular problems," explained winning rider Andrasch Starke. "I had a good feeling when moving to the start today, and he stuck his head out bravely when it mattered."

The German-trained challenger lined up for this second Pattern-race attempt off a 12-furlong handicap win June 30 and a course-and-distance conditions score last time Sept. 1. Orsino was positioned in third early, but was relegated to fourth as the pacesetter Orpello (Ire) (Orpen) wreaked havoc when careering to the outside of the track inside the first quarter mile. Pushed along with three furlongs remaining, he moved into second passing the two pole and stayed on strongly under a late drive to oust Branderburgo in the dying strides, completing an afternoon stakes double for Dusseldorf-based conditioner Ralf Rohne and local rider Mirco Demuro.

RACETRACK ROUND-UP

Cirrus Back for the Dollar

Trainer Corine Barande-Barbe yesterday reported Cirrus des Aigles (Fr) (Even Top {Ire}) on course for his belated comeback in the G2 Prix Dollar at Longchamp Oct. 6. Off since his second placing in the G1 Prix d'Ispahan at that venue May 27, the three-time Group 1 winner will use the 10-furlong contest as a prep for a return to Ascot for the G1 Qipco Champion S. a fortnight later. "He is very well and will run in the Prix Dollar before going for the Champion S., he is working well and is back in good form," Barande-Barbe told PA Sport. Speaking of the 6-year-old's positive test for anti-inflammatories after his last outing, she added, "We are going to see France Galop at the end of the week. At the moment, there is a police inquiry and the France Galop inquiry concludes that it could be that someone did something wrong on purpose because the dose was very high. The police and France Galop have been making inquiries about our people who were at the races on the day. I have asked for an analysis. It is not in the rules, but it could be after this. They have to make sure the sample is from the right horse. When we see France Galop, I think they will ask questions and make a decision about whether to disqualify the horse. In the rules, if something is found, you have to be disqualified. That is why I would like to be sure that it was our horse's urine. I think rules should be there to check that."

BC Still the Plan For Alpha Despite Disappointment

Alpha (Bernardini), sixth in Saturday's GII Pennsylvania Derby, will remain under consideration for the GI Breeders' Cup Classic, trainer Kiaran McLaughlin told Daily Racing Form Sunday. Alpha dead-heated for the win in the Aug. 25 GI Travers S. following a victory in the GII Jim Dandy S. "When the [assistant starter] moved him back [from pushing his nose into the gate] he got mad and it caused us to break a touch slow, get squeezed, then he got keen," McLaughlin told DRF. Jockey Ramon Dominguez was aboard for the Parx feature. "He wanted to be there close to the lead and then he went to the inside and couldn't get out of the inside. I was shocked to see he only got beat [4 1/4] lengths."

GRAFFARD SAVORS PEARL VICTORY

When Pearl Bloodstock's promising 2-year-old Pearl Flute (Ire) (Piccolo {GB}) swooped late to take the G3 Prix des Chenes at Longchamp Saturday, it marked a milestone not only in the career of the promising young colt, but also that of his trainer, Francis-Henri Graffard. Like his talented charge, Graffard was recording his first pattern success and, for a trainer that has held a license less than a year, that is certainly something to celebrate.

Not many young, up-and-coming trainers can claim to handle a horse for Pearl Bloodstock's Sheikh Fahad al-Thani of Qatar, one of the most influential men in racing internationally. Nor can many trainers boast a group victory just 11 months after opening their training operation. Not many young trainers, however, have the vast experience and education that 34-year-old Graffard has.

Francis-Henri Graffard

Graffard did not grow up in a racing family; his only connection to the business as a child was through his grandfather, a National Hunt breeder in the French provinces. That didn't stop him from pursuing a career as a trainer.

"I always knew I wanted to become a trainer in Chantilly," Graffard explained. "I'm not from a horse background other than through my grandfather, and I studied law [in university] but, in the back of my mind, I always knew I was going to work in racing." Cont. p9

Graffard said his business law degree helped him forge connections in the racing industry. After graduating from university, he worked for such noted horsemen as Jehan Bertran de Balanda, David Powell and Eric Hoyeau of Arqana in France; John Oxx in Ireland and Nick de Meric in Florida. In 2003, he was accepted into the inaugural Darley Flying Start course, a Thoroughbred industry management training scholarship funded by Sheikh Mohammed.

“Studying law opened many doors, for example the Flying Start,” Graffard said. “When you have a background like that it makes a big difference between you and people who have just worked in racing. I knew when I did the Flying Start [program] that I was going to become a trainer, but I wanted to travel, learn English, and meet other people, because I knew I needed the contacts and relationships worldwide,” Graffard explained. “If you don’t have the clients, you can’t train, even if you are a very good horseman.”

The two years of the Darley Flying Start course took Graffard to Ireland, England, the U.S., Australia, and Dubai, where he spent time working with Darley management as well as taking classes at various universities and attending lectures from industry professionals in all aspects of the business. The course also involved brief stints of work experience outside Darley, allowing Graffard to spend time with trainers Eoin Harty in California, Gai Waterhouse in Sydney, Australia and Andre Fabre in Chantilly.

Graffard recognized the importance of these work placements in shaping his future career. His time with Fabre gave him his first glimpse of Chantilly, where he would later set up his own training yard, and allowed him to get up close and personal with four-time Group 1-winner Hurricane Run (Ire) (Montjeu {Ire}).

Upon graduating from Darley Flying Start, Graffard was selected by John Ferguson to take up a position as Darley European Racing Representative in Newmarket, England. This involved working closely with trainers, including Fabre, John Gosden, Mick Channon, Mark Johnston, Michael Jarvis and Alex Pantall to manage the campaigns of Darley’s European racing stock.

“That was really interesting and really good, because I worked with all the best trainers in Europe and saw plenty of things, having been on many racecourses and I worked with very good horses,” Graffard said. “I was exposed to good horses and Group 1 races.”

After four years in his role with Darley, Graffard decided it was time to head back to the stables and take the next step toward his career as a trainer. His goal was to find an accomplished trainer outside the Darley banner to learn under, and in January 2009, an opportunity arose with successful Chantilly-based conditioner Alain de Royer Dupre. A longtime key trainer for His Highness The Aga Khan, de Royer Dupre is the acclaimed conditioner of Group 1 winners including Darshaan (GB) (Shirley Heights {GB}) and his son Dalakhani (Ire), Zarkava (Ire) (Zamindar); Sarafina (Fr) (Refuse to Bend {Ire}); Darjina (Fr) (Zamindar) and Pride (Fr) (Peintre Celebre). He has also developed a reputation as a trainer of trainers. His former assistants include successful conditioners Eric Libaud, Stephane Wattel and Mikel Delzangles, who emulated his former boss last year by winning the G1 Melbourne Cup with Dunaden (Fr) (Nicobar {GB}) for Pearl Bloodstock.

“The opportunity with Alain de Royer Dupre was perfect for me,” Graffard noted. “He’s been a very good trainer of trainers, he’s obviously a very talented trainer, a good communicator and it was completely outside what I had done with Sheikh Mohammed before, so people couldn’t say I was just sponsored by Sheikh Mohammed. So, when I got an interview with Mr. de Royer Dupre, I said it’s only for two seasons, because I want to train on my own. So he knew before I started working for him that it wasn’t going to last long. I did three seasons with him, because I wasn’t ready after two.”

Graffard’s tenure with de Royer Dupre allowed him to gain a breadth of training experience at the highest level, from Classic winners in France to Grade I fillies in America and top stayers in Australia. During his three years with the stable, Graffard was involved with the preparation of Group 1 winners Alpine Rose (Fr) (Linamix {Fr}) for the G1 Prix Jean Romanet; Reggane (GB) (Red Ransom) in the G1 E.P. Taylor S.; Americain (Dynaformer) for the G1 Melbourne Cup; and Reliable Man (GB) (Dalakhani {Ire}) for last year’s G1 Prix du Jockey Club.

Graffard was quick to point out the value of the knowledge he gained during his time with de Royer Dupre.

“He’s very attached to details and training the brain of the horses, not just physically,” he explained. “Getting a horse fit is not too hard, it’s just to make sure they enjoy it and they keep their form. That’s really important, and I think that’s why he’s such a good trainer of fillies, because they need that attention. To train them individually, even the basic routine, is important, to make the details different for each horse to make sure they can reach their top. I learned how to train a classic horse, how to train a stayer, a sprinter...just how to train a winner.”

In October 2011, Graffard left his post with de Royer Dupre, took out his trainers license and opened his public stable in Lamorlaye, France, bordering Chantilly. The yard has capacity for 47 horses, and Graffard started out with just five, although that number rapidly escalated to 30. In less than a year of training, he has conditioned 21 winners, including seven individual 2-year-old winners. In addition to Pearl Flute, he oversees Zalim Bifov’s More Than Sotka (Fr) (Dutch Art {GB}), winner of the Listed Prix des Jouvenceaux et des Jouvencelles at Vichy July 26 and Theresa Marnane’s To My Valentine (Fr) (Dyhim Diamond {Ire}), who placed in the G3 Prix Du Bois at Chantilly July 1. Graffard’s 2-year-olds have won or placed in eight stakes, and have earned almost €600,000.

Graffard’s quick success didn’t come by resting on his laurels--the young Frenchman worked tirelessly to market himself, drawing on the experience and relationships he had built during his many years of industry experience.

“I promoted myself, I chased clients, and I went to the sales and made sure people knew I was starting,” Graffard explained. “I started with five horses, and I used the idea that French racing is attractive for Europeans at the moment, because of the prize money. I knew a lot of people from England and Ireland would be interested in sending French-bred horses to France. So, I really used my contacts from abroad. I have very few French clients--98% of my clients are Irish or English. I have fewer contacts in France, so I really worked on the foreign clients.”

As for his relationship with Pearl Bloodstock, Graffard noted that he knew David Redvers, Sheikh Fahad al-Thani’s key advisor, from many years spent at the sales, and that he approached Redvers after the agent secured the colt for €42,000 at the 2011 Aqana October yearling sale.

“David always said, ‘if I have a good opportunity to send you a horse, I will,’” Graffard said. “When he bought him at Deauville, I said, ‘do you have a trainer?’ He said no, but we’ll see.”

It didn’t take Pearl Flute long to flash his talent after joining Graffard’s yard. The bay colt broke his maiden at first asking in the Listed Prix Yacowlef going five furlongs on a soft Deauville course June 28. He subsequently finished third in the G3 Prix de Cabourg-Jockey Club de Turquie over the same course July 29, and was not disgraced when finishing seventh, beaten just over two lengths, when stepped up to Group 1 company in the Darley Prix Morny at Deauville Aug. 19. In front of him that day was a slew of highly regarded juveniles, including the undefeated Reckless Abandon (Exchange Rate). Pearl Flute’s next effort was a third-place finish in Longchamp’s G3 Prix la Rochette, and after rediscovering a soft turf in Saturday’s G3 Prix des Chenes, recorded his second career victory with the look of a professional.

“[Pearl Flute] took the race really well,” Graffard noted. “He’s entered in the Arc sale [Oct. 6 at Saint-Cloud], so at the moment, the plan is to go to the sale with him and see what happens.”

As for Graffard, his plan is to keep training winners, and at the rate he is going, that should not be difficult to achieve. --Kelsey Riley

Over the past five decades, he has conditioned over 37 stakes winners, including 1988 Sorority S. winner Divine Answer and Great Navigator, who broke his maiden at Monmouth in 1992 before going on to capture that season's GI Hopeful S. at Saratoga. Capture the Gold won several stakes at Monmouth and The Meadowlands in 1997. More recently, Mazza saddled Carrots Only (Defrere) to victories in the 2005 Jersey Breeders' H. and the 2007 Charles Hesse III H. "John personifies what the Raines Award is all about," said Robert J. Kulina, president of Darby Development LLC, which operates Monmouth Park Racetrack. La Tia overcame a world of self-wrought trouble to record a third black-type success. The Illinois-bred, winless in three starts over Hawthorne's conventional dirt last season for trainer Moises Yanez, was moved to Brian Williamson's barn and opened 2012 with a big nine-length romp against statebred maiden specials over Arlington's synthetic May 25. She aired by a similar margin as a 6-1 shot in the restricted Purple Violet S. in Chicago June 16, then kept her record on the Poly perfect with a 3/4-length victory over Sky Dreamer in the nine-furlong GIII Arlington Oaks July 21. Tried on the grass in her latest, Arlington's Hatoof S. Aug. 18, she made the pace before ultimately tiring to be fourth, beaten a length, and was making her first start north of the border here while attempting to improve her Poly record 4-for-4. Allowed to mete out :25, :49 2/5 and 1:13 2/5 splits under first-time rider Justin Stein, she opened up a sizeable lead leaving the 3/16ths pole and looked like she was on her way to another daylight score. Inside the final furlong, however, she ducked inward abruptly, hit the rail and completely lost her action, allowing Sky Dream to rally past. But she quickly regrouped and surged late to post the improbable win. "She just ducked from my stick," explained Stein. "She's a real athletic horse. She leaped up in the air and decided going over the rail probably wasn't a good idea. She landed and persevered. I can't believe she re-rallied like that at that point of the race."

ASCOT INCREASE CHAMPIONS DAY CAPACITY

Ascot racecourse will issue a further 1,500 tickets today for the Oct. 20 Qipco British Champions Day, taking the full capacity to 32,000 for the second renewal of the feature meeting. Rod Street, Chief Executive of British Champions Series, said, "Notwithstanding the obvious additional interest generated by the Frankel factor, it is still a remarkable landmark for us to have sold out our original 30,500 capacity in year two of QIPCO British Champions Day so early. We have worked closely with Ascot to decide on the final capacity of 32,000. On top of the high-class racing action, we are going to have some superb attractions on the day and would like to encourage racegoers to arrive early and enjoy the occasion."
