AN IMMACULATE ENDING

He faced real adversity for the first time in his glory-strewn career yesterday, but Khalid Abdullah's greatest gift to racing Frankel (GB) (Galileo {Ire}) duly overcame unfavorable testing ground and a blown start to sign off victorious in yesterday's G1 QIPCO Champion S. at Ascot. He had long been targeted at the £1.3-million race that could almost have been revamped with him in mind, and the sell-out audience and millions glued to TV sets and the internet around the world were made to wait until late morning for him to be confirmed a definite runner after persistent rain in the week had turned the Berkshire turf to heavy in places. Memories of his blitz on Newmarket's slick surface in last year's 2000 Guineas led the mind to wonder if he could cope with a slog in these conditions, and the usual flood of cash was stemmed slightly to produce a starting price of 2-11. Languid in the preliminaries and asleep in the gates, the homebred was able to flaunt his unnatural talent by handing the world-class Cirrus des Aigles (Fr) (Even Top {Ire}) a two-length headstart into the straight before picking him up as if still on the Newmarket gallops. At the line, the margin was 1 3/4 lengths, and there was a suggestion that he could have been idling in front.

Nathaniel (Ire) (Galileo {Ire}) was another 3 1/2 lengths back in third. Khalid Abdullah announced his immediate retirement, simply stating, "That is the end," and it was left to Sir Henry Cecil to pay the ultimate tribute. "He is the best I've ever had and the best I've ever seen," he said. "I'd be surprised if there has ever been better."

EARLY CELEBRATIONS

In the absence of Frankel, Excelebration (Ire) (Exceed and Excel {Aus}) has been nigh on unbeatable, and he maintained his grip on the mantle of the second-best miler around when winning August's G1 Prix Jacques le Marois at Deauville, and again with another supreme performance in yesterday's G1 Queen Elizabeth II S. at Ascot. Settled behind Elusive Kate (Elusive Quality) as that sole distaffer in the field set the tempo, the 10-11 favorite was short of room along the rail when the quarter-mile marker loomed large, but settled the contest in a matter of strides once in the clear approaching the final eighth to easily dismiss Cityscape (GB) (Selkirk) by daylight. "He's been working brilliantly at home, and [jockey] Joseph [O'Brien] had a lot of confidence going into the race," explained trainer Aidan O'Brien. "He has an awful lot of speed and an awful lot of class. He's really progressing, and the [G1] Breeders' Cup Mile [Nov. 3] is a possibility if he's okay and everybody's happy." Rider Joseph O'Brien added, "He's improving with racing and with age, and he's an exceptional horse. Ground makes no difference to him. He has a lot of pace and gets a mile on his ear. I've probably sacrificed him a couple of times against Frankel, trying to get up and race him four [furlongs] out, but my horse loves being ridden for speed, and we've learnt that throughout the year." Cont. p7

It's Tricky Injured, Retired

Godolphin Racing's multiple Grade I winner It's Tricky (Mineshaft--Catboat, by Tale of the Cat), who was expected to start in the GI Breeders' Cup F/M Sprint, has been retired after sustaining an injury. Trainer Kiaran McLaughlin announced yesterday that the 4-year-old filly exited a bullet five furlong work in 1:00 flat at Belmont Thursday with a condylar fracture to her right hind ankle. "She worked well and the next morning when we went to look at her, she had heat and inflammation in her right hind ankle," McLaughlin explained.

Highly regarded by Juddmonte's leading figures from his earliest beginnings, Frankel reportedly proved a handful during the formative part of his training at Warren Place, and there was still a clear sign of the tearaway in his incredible performance in the G2 Royal Lodge S. here two years ago. While keeping his exuberance intact, the creative genius of Sir Henry Cecil and the guiding hands of work-rider Shane Fetherstonhaugh--who had steered the brilliant Motivator (GB) on the Newmarket slopes years before--gradually chiseled away at the potentially destructive elements of his nature.

Things had started to take shape before the Guineas and St James's Palace S. last summer, but whereas the former performance was the stuff of legend, his display at the Royal meeting here was marked by an almost careless abandon, and it was not until the Sussex and QEII that Frankel had learned to express his unequalled talent in a more even manner.

With further artistry employed during the winter spell, he re-entered the scene a calmer proposition and, despite remaining totally compelling with his winning efforts over a mile, he had begun to look like the middle-distance runner his pedigree had always suggested he would be.

York's Juddmonte International was his first try at farther, but was staged on a good-to-firm surface that has been a rarity in Europe this year, and therefore failed to provide a true test of his mettle. Cont. p4

As the clouds broke over Ascot in the build-up to this finale, the tension rose in parallel, and a final bout of showers on Thursday into Friday created a crucible in which his champion status would be challenged most acutely. Months of nurture and expert horsemanship saw him enter the buzzy parade ring with nonchalance, and that casual air saw him surrender a normally crucial margin of three lengths out of the stalls. Ian Mongan on Bullet Train (GB) (Sadler's Wells) dropped anchor in front to allow Tom Queally to ease into the pack, which forced Olivier Peslier, on Cirrus des Aigles, to take up the running after 1 1/2 furlongs, with Frankel coasting along in fourth. Bullet Train came back to pester the French raider and was in front again on the approach to the home turn, but by now his customary honest pace-setting role had been shot to pieces, and as Cirrus des Aigles took control with Peslier apparently full of horse at the top of the stretch, Frankel was still over two lengths down.

That deficit had been wiped out with the minimum of effort by the furlong marker, where Queally became animated for the first time, and after administering one slap with the whip with just over 100 yards left to race, immortality was sealed. His rider, who has played no small part in the success story, was full of admiration afterwards.

"I'm so proud of him and it's been an amazing journey," Queally commented. "I can't tell you what it's meant to be part of it. He's just getting more and more relaxed as time goes on, and waited until the gates were open. He was slowly away at York, and he was slower today, but I've so much belief in the horse and in the past I've pushed that to the limit. We lost a length, but a length is nothing to him. He traveled through, and I suppose it's fair to say that he's better on better ground, but the turbo, 4x4, everything kicked in. It was pointless getting him on his head before I had to. We were in no rush today, the way the ground was. I was happy all the way and his class really showed today, as I walked the track and I was a little worried about the conditions. Having walked it in the home straight, I knew it wasn't too heavy for him to quicken up and go about his business. You want every angle covered and everything in your favour, so in that respect there was always a little worry, but he was in great heart today, and he looked a lot better than he did 12 months ago on this day."

On being Frankel's jockey, he added, "There is pressure in all walks of life, but I gladly take that on board. I could stay here all night and tell you what it means to me. The people at Warren Place are one huge family that have pulled together. I don't get nervous because I'm close to it and I have control, but I can imagine what other people were feeling."

He concluded, "It's only been a few years, but it's been a long road and everybody that's worked with him can take a bow."

Juddmonte's Racing Manager Lord Grimthorpe commented, "He's wonderful--the greatest, isn't he? He didn't enjoy that ground as much as he normally does, but he got into a rhythm and was happy. He wasn't pulling and had a straightforward, trouble-free passage. He had it under control in the straight, but that's him. He's brought a whole new generation of people to the sport, and he's brought wider public recognition to the sport. He was something to savor, the ultimate equine athlete, and I've never seen anything like it."

Lord Grimthorpe continued, "I always said it is just like an alignment of the stars--the coming together of Henry's brilliance, the work of his staff, the name after Bobby Frankel, and a horse who has untapped and immeasurable talent. When you find it, you can't believe it, and the more it goes on the more you enjoy it. I'm old enough to know that this is a once-in-a-lifetime experience. Coming up with a horse like Frankel is perfection, and this is a career-defining moment for everyone involved. We've always had unlimited confidence in him, and he's given us that, so it's hard not to be carried away by that wave of optimism that he's brought to the game. The public reaction to him today was the embodiment of how he's gone into the people's hearts. We'll be trying to make him the best we can at stud." Cont. p5

Every Cloud...

Defeat for Cirrus des Aigles was met with typical magnanimity by his trainer Corine Barande-Barbe, who commented, "They were very close. We lost two lengths, but we'll be better next year. It is no disgrace to be beaten by such a horse, and there are no excuses: Frankel is the best. He will go on his travels now, probably to Hong Kong." John Gosden said of Nathaniel, "I am thrilled with the result. I think it's what we all wanted. Frankel had to race in the end, but what a great horse."

The Juddmonte Train Works To Perfection...

Ian Mongan later revealed the tactics as he helped shape the race in favor of Frankel on the colt's pacemaker, stable companion and 3/4brother Bullet Train. "The plan, now I can say it, was to jump Bullet Train and go fast enough so that Frankel settles, and then take a pull and make it into a mile race," he explained. "When I saw that Frankel was happy and traveling well, I was able to pick the pace up again. Although I didn't want to put pace to the race a long way from home, I also didn't want Cirrus des Aigles to have the run of the race, so I put him under a bit of pressure. I must be the only jockey to ever have punched the air when I crossed the line in sixth."

FRANKEL FLASHBACK...

Frankel carried a big enough reputation into this race, which saw the debut of Motivator (GB) (Montjeu {Ire}) six years ago, to be sent off the 7-4 favorite. That despite the fact that he faced a raft of notably bred individuals, and there is an unwritten rule that his trainer's runners usually benefit from their first outing. Steadied out of the gate by Tom Queally, the homebred was always traveling strongly in mid-pack, and was still full of run when easing upsides fellow newcomer Nathaniel (Ire) (Galileo {Ire}) inside the final quarter. Given a squeeze passing the furlong marker, the imposing bay stretched into a short lead and was hand ridden from there to best that well-supported 3-1 second favorite by a half-length, with five lengths back to Genius Beast (Kingmambo). "I didn't know he'd go on that ground, and Tom was very easy on him, as I hadn't galloped him and he was just ready for a race," trainer Henry Cecil said. "He could potentially be very nice, and will come on a lot for that. He's got good engagements." The winner is a 3/4-brother to Bullet Train (GB) (Sadler's Wells), GSW-GB. Handicappers Take Stock...

Phil Smith, the British Horseracing Authority's Official Handicapper, was not making any knee-jerk reactions ahead of the meeting of the international federation in Hong Kong in December. His preliminary feelings were that he had not achieved any more than previously, however. "He won't go above his rating of 140 pounds going into today, as he's run to about 134 here, but it's kind of academic and the main performance to concentrate on was the Juddmonte International," Smith said. "It is worth stating that he has put in five 130-plus performances this season, and in 2006 there wasn't a 130 performance anywhere in the world. Brigadier Gerard was a fantastic horse, but he scrambled home from not-very-good opponents when he encountered ground like that, and Frankel has won pretty convincingly from very good opponents." Timeform's view of this performance was similar to the official stance, with a 139 rating handed out immediately, but the Halifax-based establishment still have him on the highest rating of all time at 147.

The Tributes Flood In...

Most present at Ascot were keen to offer their view on Frankel's career and Aidan O'Brien led the plaudits heaped on the Juddmonte star yesterday when saying, "One word describes him--incredible. He's the most incredible horse we have ever seen. He's just unbelievable." Frankie Dettori told PA Sport, "I've never seen anything like it, and I probably won't for a long time. To have such a beautiful creature in our sport is fantastic." BBC Presenter Clare Balding said, "Every sport needs a jaw-dropper. The kind of athlete who makes you stop and stare. Frankel is racing's Usain Bolt. He makes it look so easy, it's almost ridiculous. I feel privileged to have seen him race and I have certainly never seen a better horse in my lifetime."

On the board in all five events where he has wrestled the might of Frankel (GB) (Galileo {Ire}), Excelebration has nevertheless delivered when offered his leave of that formidable foe. Last term's G1 Prix du Moulin was his first such test at the highest level, and a win there was followed by another meeting with Frankel, running second in this contest to close last season. He opened this campaign with a win in the Apr. 24 G3 Gladness S. at the Curragh, was runner-up to Frankel twice more—in Newbury's May 19 G1 Lockinge S. and Royal Ascot's June 19 G1 Queen Anne S.—and registered his second score at the highest level in the Aug. 12 G1 Prix Jacques le Marois at Deauville last time. Excelebration was alertly away from the gate and was steadied in a handy third as Elusive Kate set the tone.

Stuck in a pocket along the stands' side rail approaching the final quarter mile, he was eased out of that predicament soon after and unleashed a telling burst of acceleration to put the race to bed. Aidan O'Brien continued, "He's an incredible horse and we're delighted to have him. It took a while to get to know him, but he's really on the upgrade. He is getting heavier with each run, and quicker and quicker. He's a very good horse and his last work was exceptional. I had a fair idea that Joseph was going to wait. I think he was happy to be where he was, and he had great confidence in the horse. We tried to match strides with Frankel in the Queen Anne and that was the wrong thing for a speed horse. Speed is this horse's forte, he's a strong traveller and quickens really well. We took the speed out of him that day and he was lucky to be second. After that, Joseph said that he'd rather take his time on him, and he's progressed ever since."

Cityscape, Elusive Kate Repeat Deauville Trifecta...

Trainer Roger Charlton was in upbeat mood despite evergreen 6-year-old Cityscape suffering a second reversal at the hands of Excelebration in as many starts. He was runner-up to that rival in the Aug. 12 G1 Prix Jacques le Marois at Deauville last time and Elusive Kate upheld that form, finishing third in both contests. However, retirement for Khalid Abdullah's homebred chestnut is not a foregone conclusion, according to Charlton. "Cityscape has been such a good horse for a long time and been second in so many races," Charlton said. "The winner was impressive, and they have finished in the same order as they did at Deauville. Coming into this we thought it might be his last race, but I will have to talk about options with Prince Khalid and if he had another run this year, it would be in Japan not Hong Kong."

Sapphire had already given notice that she was ready for the big occasion when runner-up in the G1 Pretty Polly S. at The Curragh July 1, and she duly came to the fore here to provide Dermot Weld and Pat Smullen with a notable Champions Day double and maintain the 100% record for the Irish raiders on the day. Prior to her Pretty Polly effort, the bay looked set for a leading role in the main distaff events when signing off at three with an impressive win in the Listed Finale S. at The Curragh in October and kicking off the current campaign with a similarly smart performance in the G3 Noblesse S. over this distance at Cork June 17. Freshened up after her 7 1/2-length success in the G3 Give Thanks S. back at the latter venue Aug. 5, the homebred settled in sixth early as last year's winner Dancing Rain took up her customary front-running role. As Shirocco Star was sent past that rival at the quarter pole, Sapphire was looming large in behind, and without being asked a serious question, the homebred took over a furlong later before asserting for a convincing score. "With the weather forecast, it was the plan to come here and send Princess Highway (Street Cry {Ire}) to Canada, as she always appreciates ease in the ground," Weld commented. "I think she's unbeaten over a mile and a half, and although we considered running her in the Irish St Leger, we weren't happy with her in the days leading up to that race, as she came into season." Smullen added, "I was very confident of a big run from this filly, and she traveled extremely well during the race. She's very good on this type of ground and, again, the trainer has shown great patience and produced her on the right day." Shirocco Star's trainer Hughie Morrison said, "She might beat everything next year, and we may bring her back in trip to a mile and a quarter. The main races are over a mile and a half for fillies, but we've a lot to look forward to next year. Kieren [Fallon] said she went through the ground like it wasn't there, and she proved that she was the best 3-year-old filly in Britain and Ireland. She's beaten three Oaks winners, and the winner is very, very good."

Gypsy Robin has racked up plenty of frequent flyer miles in her short career, but has shown a particular affinity for this track, and upped her record over the strip to three-for-three with a sharp front-running effort. A 7 1/2-length debut graduate here last April, the bay could do no better than a close seventh in Royal Ascot's G2 Queen Mary S. in June. She was fourth in Saratoga's GIII Schuylerville S. the following month, and finished off her season with a victory in Monmouth's Sorority S. in September.

Gypsy Robin resurfaced going an extended seven panels in the GII Beaumont S. here in April, and led through soft splits to best Sacristy by three lengths. She followed up with another synthetic tally in Presque Isle's Inaugural S. in May, but faltered to sixth in Belmont's GIII Victory Ride S. July 7. She was coming off a runner-up finish behind Contested (Ghostzapper) in the Spa's GI Test S. at this distance Aug. 25, and showed a very upbeat series of drills locally since that last outing. Straight to lead from the 10 hole in what seemed like a large and well-matched group, the 6-5 choice doled out splits of :22.17 and :45.30. Pilot John Velazquez peaked back at that point, gave Gypsy Robin a shake of the reins and steadily built on her advantage from there in no-doubt-about-it fashion.

Despite an absence of more than 500 days, the 2010 G1 Gold Cup hero Rite of Passage was able to upstage the season's leading stayers and make a winning comeback to cap a stellar training performance by Dermot Weld here. Starting off in the national hunt sphere, the chestnut has been restricted to just 11 runs in total despite his advanced age. They include third placings at the Cheltenham National Hunt Festival in the Champion Bumper in 2009 and Baring Bingham Novices' Hurdle the following year. After the latter performance, he was next seen at the Royal meeting here in June 2010 when besting Age of Aquarius (Ire) (Galileo {Ire}) by a neck in a thrilling renewal of the Gold Cup, and had only one start in the interim when third in the Listed Saval Beg S. at Leopardstown in May of 2011. Settled in rear early by Pat Smullen, he was still in the final three turning for home, where Jamie Spencer committed last year's winner Fame and Glory (GB) (Montjeu {Ire}) on the front end. Threaded through gaps up the inner, he still had a trio in front as his momentum built passing the furlong pole, and Aiken looked to have done enough after wearing down Fame and Glory. Smullen kept working, however, and there was just enough room for him to squeeze into the clear inside the final 100 yards, and he was the ultimately comfortable scorer at the line. "He set a new track record in the Gold Cup and is just a special horse, so he deserved to come back," Weld said. "He's had ongoing serious tendon problems, but has always had a great will to win, and it was a matter of me keeping him sound and trying to get him fit. I had a huge concern on the fitness side, as I'd have liked to take him away for a gallop, but with all wet weather we didn't get to do it. This was one of the biggest tests I've faced, but we had the horse, the jockey and the answer."

Smullen added, "I think this was one of the most impressive training performances I've ever seen, as this horse has had a lot of problems, and the boss has worked extremely hard to get him cherry ripe for a race like this. Toughness is a rarity in horses, and this lad has it in abundance. Most horses would have given up at the furlong pole, but he fought his way through a gap and won well."

Broken Dreams took this race a year ago, but failed to make an impact in the GII Breeders' Cup Turf Sprint next out at Churchill Downs. She was off the board in her first three tries this year, but returned to winning ways when annexing Del Mar's Osunitas S. July 21 in gate-to-wire fashion. The homebred faded to eighth last time in the GII Yellow Ribbon H. Sept. 3, and appreciated the turnback here, increasing her record over this downhill course to 4-2-2-0. Content to allow Kindle a clear lead through supersonic fractions, Broken Dreams sat patiently in a clear second. She was left with plenty to do crossing over the dirt at the top of the lane, but kept plugging away to nip the leg-weary pacesetter in the waning moments. "I had some concerns [about Kindle's big lead]," winning rider Garret Gomez revealed. "By the time we hit inside the eighth pole, [Kindle] wasn't coming back still. I had maybe made up a little bit of ground on her, but not much, not enough to get there...Finally, Mandella's filly went ahead and threw in the towel and folded up about the last 50 yards, and I knew Broken Dreams was going to stay on well. Last year when she won this race she looked like she was going to run fifth outside the 16th pole and she ended up winning by a length, so I have a lot of confidence in her. She's just a blast to ride." Trainer Tom Proctor said he would consider the GII Goldikova S. at a mile here Nov. 4 as a possible next start.

Dunaden, purchased privately by agent David Redvers for the Pearl Bloodstock empire in September 2010, played the protagonist in one of racing's most remarkable fairytale stories last year when he won the A$6-million G1 Melbourne Cup. His bargain-basement weanling price and obscure pedigree made him a fan favorite, and he added to his underdog story when he traveled to Sha Tin to take the G1 Hong Kong Vase in December. Taking a much deserved winter holiday, Dunaden was next seen in the G2 Jockey Club S. at Newmarket May 5, where he finished third. He filled that position again in the G2 Grand Prix de Chantilly June 3, and was second in the G2 Hardwicke S. at Ascot June 23. Dunaden stepped back up to Group 1 level last out in the King George S. at Ascot July 21, finishing sixth beaten 3 1/2 lengths behind Danedream (Ger) (Lomitas {GB}). Breaking widest of all from barrier 18 in his return Down Under, Dunaden was quickly guided to the rail by jockey Craig Williams, where he took up a ground-saving trip near the back of the field. Swinging nine wide to the outside coming off the turn, he unleashed a powerful rally to grab the lead in the final 50 metres and win going away. Undefeated in three starts in Australia, Dunaden will attempt a repeat in the Melbourne Cup Nov. 6.

BLACK-TYPE PREVIEWS

'GOLD' THE STANDARD IN JAPAN'S ST. LEGER

G1 Satsuki Sho (Japanese 2000 Guineas) hero Gold Ship (Jpn) (Stay Gold {Jpn}) saw any Triple Crown hopes dashed with a fifth-place showing in the G1 Tokyo Yushun (Japanese Derby), and while he will be denied a chance to exact his revenge against his conqueror that day, Deep Brillante (Jpn) (Deep Impact {Jpn}), he'll look to add this third and final leg of the series as the 3-2 morning line favorite. A winner of five of his eight lifetime starts, Gold Ship kicked off his season with a win in the G3 Tokinominoru Kinen in February before taking down the 2000-meter Satsuki Sho as the fourth betting choice at Nakayama in mid-April. Fifth in the 2400-meter Tokyo Yashun to Deep Brillante--who misses this with a right-leg injury--Gold Ship returned from a summer break to win off by 2 1/2 lengths in the G2 Kobe Shimbun Hai over 2400 meters at Hanshin. Gifted with a big stride and plenty of stamina, the gray should have no problem with the 3000 meters of the St. Leger, and trainer Naosuke Sugai says he's coming into the race the right way. "He had a nice final workout and has been working well all along," said Sugai. "[Jockey Hiroyuki] Uchida gained confidence from his win in the Kobe Shimbun Hai. For me, I was the tensest I've ever been before a race. For a Satsuki Sho winner, he was no embarrassment, and I hope he'll be able to use his experience from those races in this one. I'm glad he won. He has a good heart and good lungs, and he doesn't get keen, so I'm not worried about the distance. I think he'll listen to Uchida well." Field p13

NOVEL APPROACH

Entering the G1 Deutsches Derby, many believed that Dr. Christoph Berglar's Novellist (Ger) (Monsun {Ger}) would be the next big thing to emerge from his country, but after a loss there and another subsequent defeat, he has a reputation to restore in today's G1 Gran Premio del Jockey Club Italiano at the San Siro. After authoritative successes in the 10-furlong G3 Albert von Metzler-Rennen at Frankfurt May 6 and G2 Oppenheim-Union-Rennen over a furlong farther at Cologne June 10, the homebred was odds-on for the July 1 Hamburg Classic, but made heavy weather of it and eventually lost out to Pastorius (Ger) (Soldier Hollow {GB}), who had raced wide away from the main action. Unsited by the slow early gallop on offer when fourth in the G1 Grosser Preis von Baden last time Sept. 2, he deserves another chance to show his mettle. Godolphin has won this four times and relies on the ex-Australian Retrieve (Aus) (Rahy), who captured his first European black-type event on his latest start when upstaging the solid Harris Tweed (GB) (Hernando {Fr}) in Newmarket's Listed Godolphin S. over this trip Sept. 28. Trainer Saeed bin Suroor said of last year's G1 Australian Derby runner-up, "Retrieve won well at Newmarket, and I have been pleased with him since then. He seems to be in good form, but I am little concerned about the ground being too soft for him in Italy. He deserves a chance in a big race like this, and I am hopeful of a good run, providing conditions are not too testing." Gestut Ittlingen's Araldo (GB) (High Chaparral {Ire}) is still relatively unexposed, and after his success in the Listed Preis des Casino Baden-Baden over 14 furlongs Aug. 26, was a respectable third attempting to give lumps of weight to the Deutsches Derby third Girolamo (Ger) (Dai Jin {GB}) in the G1 Preis von Europa over this trip at Cologne last time Sept. 23.

DIVERTED TO PARIS

Having missed an encounter with Cirrus des Aigles (Fr) (Even Top {Ire}) in the G2 Prix Dollar, Sarl Darpat's May 20 G1 Singapore Airlines International Cup hero Chinchon (Ire) (Marju {Ire}) has nothing of that caliber to contend with in today's G2 Prix du Conseil de Paris at Longchamp. Three times a pattern-race scorer in this country and also successful in the 2010 GI United Nations S. at Monmouth, the well-traveled veteran is the victim of the harsh penalty system here and, as a result, has to give several pounds to his opponents. Another major disadvantage is the prevalent heavy ground, and trainer Carlos Laffon-Parias is expecting no fireworks. "I had no choice but to run him in this race, as his target is the GI Breeders' Cup Turf [at Santa Anita Nov. 3]," he told Racing Post. "In no way will he have a hard race." Chinchon has to give a stone to the smart 3-year-old colt Albion (GB) (With Approval), who was third last time in the G3 Prix du Prince d'Orange over an inadequate 10 furlongs here Sept. 22. Due to his winless record in group company, Kirsten Rausing's homebred also has a weight advantage over fellow sophomore Remus de la Tour (Fr) (Stormy River {Fr}). Barthelemy Vives' colt captured the G3 Prix du Lys over this trip at Chantilly June 17 before returning from a break to be fourth in the G2 Prix Niel over this course and distance Sept. 16.

IT'S TRICKY INJURED, RETIRED

Godolphin Racing's It's Tricky (Mineshaft--Catboat, by Tale of the Cat), who was expected to start in the GI Breeders' Cup Filly and Mare Sprint at Santa Anita Nov. 3, has been retired after sustaining an injury. Trainer Kiaran McLaughlin announced yesterday that the 4-year-old filly exited a bullet five furlong work in 1:00 flat at Belmont

Thursday with a condylar fracture to her right hind ankle. "She worked well and the next morning when we went to look at her, she had heat and inflammation in her right hind ankle," revealed McLaughlin. "We had it x-rayed, and forwarded the x-rays to Dr. Larry Bramlage, and both he and Dr. Christian Rhein, who did the x-rays, agreed it was the beginning of a condylar fracture. No surgery will be required; we just have to stop on her and at this point, she'll go on to her new career as a mother." Bred in Kentucky by Stonerside Stable, It's Tricky won her first three starts. After suffering defeat in her first graded stakes attempt in the GII Gulfstream Park Oaks, she reached top form last summer, taking back-to-back Grade 1s in the Acorn S. at Belmont and the Coaching Club American Oaks at Saratoga, where she defeated Plum Pretty (Medaglia d'Oro) and Royal Delta (Empire Maker). Those two rivals handed It's Tricky three successive second-place finishes to end her sophomore campaign: After finishing second to Royal Delta in the GI Alabama S. and to Plum Pretty in the GII Cotillion S., It's Tricky completed 2011 with a runner-up effort to Royal Delta in the GI Breeders' Cup Ladies Classic at Churchill Downs. She returned with three straight victories to start the year, defeating Love and Pride (A.P. Indy) in the GII Top Flight H. Mar. 3 at Aqueduct before taking the GII Distaff H. Apr. 14 and the GI Ogden Phipps H. at Belmont May 28. She checked in third behind Love and Pride and Royal Delta in the GI Personal Ensign H. at Saratoga Aug. 26 after stumbling badly at the start, and completed her career with a second-place finish behind Royal Delta in the GI Beldame Invitational H. Sept. 29 at Belmont. She retires with eight wins from 14 starts and earnings of $1,666,500. Breeding plans have not yet been finalized.

Wise Dan Works for Breeders' Cup Mile...

Morton Fink's multiple grade I winner Wise Dan (Wiseman's Ferry) worked six furlongs in 1:13.40 over the Keeneland Polytrack yesterday in preparation for an intended tilt at the GI Breeders' Cup Mile Nov. 3. "That was perfect," said trainer Charles Lopresti of the 5-year-old gelding who has won the GI Woodbine Mile and GI Shadwell Turf Mile in his last two starts. "That's just the way he is; it just looks like he's loping out there. This has worked out perfectly. I got to run him in the Shadwell rather than working him three times [from the Woodbine Mile to the Breeders' Cup]." The homebred, who also took the GII Fourstardave H. and the GIII Ben Ali S. this year, will ship to Santa Anita Oct. 30. "I'm just going to piddle with him next week and keep him happy," Lopresti said. "He spends a lot of time down on the little [training] track [at Keeneland], and we mix it up. He will train here the Tuesday morning before he ships that day. He'll have a walk day Wednesday to get over the ship and then train Thursday and school in the paddock."

Mucho Macho Man Goes Well Over Wet Track...

Reeves Thoroughbred Racing's Mucho Macho Man (Macho Uno) drilled five panels in a best-of-four :59.42 over a good-rated Belmont training track yesterday as he prepares for the Nov. 3 GI Breeders' Cup Classic. Under regular exercise Nick Petro Jr., the GII Suburban H. winner and GI Woodward S. runner-up broke several lengths behind stablemate Skinny Peter (More Than Ready). Content to lope along behind his target early, the big bay cruised clear through a final quarter in 23.58 with a six-furlong gallop out in 1:13.33. "He's feeling so good I really wanted to work him today if I could," trainer Kathy Ritvo told Daily Racing Form. "It was a good track for him. He likes a little water on the track. I think he was a little sharper this morning than in his first work here last week and breezing him over a little heavier track like this today should be good for him. He'll get a little more out of the work. He's coming up to his race really well." Ritvo said Mucho Macho Man would have one more work in New York before shipping out to Santa Anita Oct. 30.

op/ed feedback

In response to Gary Bizsantz's Op/Ed in the TDN 10/18/12:

Dear Editor,

I commend the Gary Bizsantzes and Arthur Hancocks of the Thoroughbred world. It only seems logical that our national organization in some shape or form contributes to the welfare of our horses even after their training has ceased. An NTRA-sponsored Humane Society for horses could be a logical next step. However, certain realities must be addressed that pertain not only to our racehorses but all the horses in the States. It is imperative that our system of recovery include not only "our" horses, but all horses.

Prepared to stand beside William Backer and receive the criticism he received a couple of years ago, we must understand that the numbers do not add up; that it is absolutely not possible to financially retire and maintain all the horses in America. The American Horse Council predicted there were some 170,000 unwanted horses annually in the U.S. in 2007. Of this number some 70-80,000 were exported to Mexico and Canada for processing. This avenue of escape has been recently cut off. The effects on horse welfare will be staggering. Enough numbers; let me give you another hands-on perspective.

Thirty years ago, as a first-year graduate and employed in South Florida, I had the "pleasure" to cut a nylon halter out of horse's head that had grown literally into the head. Times have not changed. I see this neglect in some shape or form day in and day out. People on the lower end of racing, with the $5,000 claimer struggle to make ends meet, much less being able to afford to retire their horse. Horse protection agencies are struggling at all levels to take on new horses. We have to think of a system that supports not only our horses, but the rest of our nation's horses as well; none deserve to suffer.

As a farmer at all levels I abhor waste. As a human being, I abhor suffering. Every 4 seconds a child somewhere dies of starvation. Most of us receive a large part of our sustenance from the processing of farm animals, whether it's pigs, chickens, cattle or even fish. The fine saddles we sit on and the soft leather shoes we wear are donated generously by our Creator. The numbers would suggest we are given a choice. For some of us it is a generous donation to those in need and not a waste of what we have been given.

Its most noble for us to treat our horses with the utmost respect; respect comes in many different forms.

Sam Ferguson DVM

FASIG-TIPTON
KENTUCKY FALL YEARLINGS
Oct. 22-24 * 10:00 a.m.

Stars on Parade at FTKOCT...

Kenny Troutt's WinStar Farm has done its best to be a booster for the Fasig-Tipton Kentucky Fall Yearlings Sale of late. In addition to standing the stallions that sired successful 2012 graded-winning grads Ellafitz (Tiznow) and All Squared Away (Bellamy Road),

$50,000 FTKOCT grad Spring in the Air
Coady Photography

WinStar sold homebred Spring in the Air (Spring at Last) here at year ago for $50,000. That Ontario-bred filly recently advertised the value that can be had at the sale with a smart win in the GI Darley Alcibiades S. at Keeneland, which booked her ticket to the Breeders' Cup. WinStar sold Spring in the Air through Denali Stud to Happy Days Stable. Trainer Mark Casse later purchased her for $130,000, on behalf of John Oxley, from Eddie Woods's OBS March draft.

"She was a very nice filly--very athletic," WinStar President Elliott Walden recalled about Spring in the Air yesterday. "She's from the first crop of our stallion Spring at Last [by Silver Deputy], and we had bred her in Canada. We like to do that with our first-year horses, breed a few in other states or regions, to give them an opportunity to be showcased elsewhere. We liked her a lot, and $50,000 was a good price for a young stallion who stood for $7,500. It's been great to see her go on and do good things."

Now, WinStar returns to Newtown Paddocks with a big 17-horse group for FTKOCT, selling between Taylor Made Sales and Denali. Several in the group have nice updates, but none more so than hip 859, a colt by Any Given Saturday whose WinStar-bred half-brother Golden Ticket (Speightstown) dead-heated for the win in the GI Travers S. at Saratoga. Golden Ticket is expected to appear next in the GI Breeders' Cup Classic at Santa Anita. Both horses were produced by the Deputy Minister mare Business Plan. Taylor Made consigns the Mar. 16-foaled chestnut.

The WinStar-bred GISW Golden Ticket yesterday at Keeneland
Coady photography

"He's a very nice colt," Walden said. "He was a little late to mature, but he's a big strong colt now and has a nice walk to him. He's bigger than Golden Ticket was at this stage, and I think he'll be very well received."

Another of WinStar's nicely bred October horses is hip 1236, a colt from the first crop of WinStar's Grade I winner Colonel John (Tiznow). Out of It's Personal (Personal Flag), the colt is a half to Grade II winner It's No Joke (Distorted Humor) and black-type winner Keep Laughing (Distorted Humor), as well as this year's good performer Mildly Offensive (Sharp Humor), winner of Saratoga's Big Bambu S.

Walden admitted the colt isn't a finished product, but said patience could pay big dividends. "He's a real immature horse, but It's Personal's foals tend to be that way," said Walden. "They look like string beans when they're young, but they improve as they go on and mature. It's No Joke was sold for $90,000 as a weanling, and then brought $600,000 as a yearling. But this is a real nice colt."

Denali consigns the Apr. 27-foaled dark bay.

Walden tabbed two more yearlings to keep an eye on. Selling Monday from Taylor Made is hip 132, a colt by Smart Strike out of GI Top Flight S. heroine Mini Sermon (Pulpit) who was bred by the late Edward Evans.

"We bought him as a weanling for $100,000," Walden said. "He's a beautiful colt; we liked him so much we bought the mare from Mr. Evans, as well."

WinStar paid $450,000 for Mini Sermon, who sold as part of the Evans dispersal at the 2011 Keeneland November Sale. She sold in foal to Candy Ride (Arg).

On Tuesday, Taylor Made sends hip 470, a colt by Speightstown, through the ring. From the Skywalker mare Skygusty, the colt is a half to SW & GSP Rugala (Bernstein). "He's a really racy colt," said Walden.

Though WinStar is maybe best known for campaigning horses like Classic winners Drosselmeyer (Distorted Humor) and Super Saver (Maria's Mon), Walden said it's important for buyers to know that the horses WinStar brings to auction aren't second-stringers.

"Having bred two Grade I winners this year, Golden Ticket and Spring in the Air, we want people to know that we're selling good horses," Walden said. "That's evident with these results." -Lucas Marquardt

Champion S. at Ascot, Empire Classic at Belmont... all in all, a good day for Juddmonte. Lunar Victory had been carefully managed by Bill Mott since his repatriation from Britain, and captured both the July 23 Evan Shipman H. for New York-breds and an open optional claimer Aug. 23 up at Saratoga. His five-race winning streak came to an end when he was second to Saginaw (Peruvian) in the Promenade All S. at this track Sept. 23, but most of the Belmont faithful deemed that he would rebound here. The big bay raced in fifth early as the speedy sophomore Saratoga Snacks made the running. He collared the pacemaker at the top of the stretch and the two put on a thrilling duel before the favorite finally put away his game younger rival. "I'm glad it turned out this way and we'll keep him in training and try him next year," said winning trainer Bill Mott. "I'm not sure [what we'll do next]. This is just a long ball--I'm speaking for myself--we might have a look at the [GI] Clark [at Churchill Nov. 23]. It would be open company and a good race, but we might consider it. I'll discuss it with the connections, and then we'll figure it out."

Dropping back down here, she broke on the inside, and kept the leaders within her scope as she loped along in midpack. The favorite moved up entering the bend, found a gap between foes at the top of the lane and kicked clear to an easy victory. "I don't know if I'll run her once more [this year] or put her away," said winning trainer David Donk. "She's nominated to a sale, but I don't think she goes there. We'll probably run her next year. Unbridled Command doubled up wins in grassy statebred events facing allowance company at Belmont July 23 and Saratoga Aug. 1, then made it three in a row as a 10-1 chance in the Gill Saranac S. at the Spa Sept. 2. Let go at tempting odds as the streaking Lubash (Freud) went favored, the 3-year-old colt stayed close to Karakorum Legend's modest pace before coming through along the inside and bowling home an easy winner over his elders. "The trip was beautiful, and I loved when [Ramon Dominguez] moved him up just a couple of spots down the backside when they were going pretty slow," said trainer Tom Bush. "Ramon said he was really handling the surface; he didn't have a bobbling step to him, and that gave him a lot of confidence, too. He's just a horse that continues to move forward, and it's exciting. Visually it certainly was his best race...and he's improved in the morning as well. He's just a smoother, kinder horse and his breezes are more professional. He's coming the right way."

Mine Over Matter couldn't reel in the swift Saginaw two starts back in the John Morrissey S. at Saratoga Aug. 1, but was able to turn the tables on that prohibitive chalk today. The complexion of the race changed a bit when Saginaw broke awkwardly and found himself at the back of the pack before rushing up four wide on the turn. Meanwhile, Mine Over Matter settled into stride early, then advanced through traffic to reach contention entering the stretch. Saginaw struck the front, but Mine Over Matter continued on relentlessly and surged to the lead late. "Some might have thought it was an ambitious spot, but he had been doing so well heading into the race," said winning trainer Mike Hushion. "In four or five weeks, we'll maybe look for another New York-bred race for him. Willet returned from a nine-month hiatus to finish runner-up in Saratoga's Union Ave. S. Aug. 20 and was third in a Belmont allowance Sept. 23 in her only previous starts this season. The James Iselin trainee cruised along in midpack as the favored Agave Kiss (Lion Heart) set the pace. She tipped out five wide on the bend and drew clear to finish under a hand ride. Agave Kiss faded to seventh. "She's such a good horse," said Iselin. "She's a very special horse. She looks like Zenyatta. I don't know if she's as good as Zenyatta, but she looks a lot like her. A debut second at Saratoga July 23, Weekend Hideaway dusted a group of state-bred maidens by 6 3/4 lengths Aug. 10 and blew away a first-level allowance by 6 1/4 lengths Aug. 29. He couldn't quite repeat the dose in the Gill Futurity S. Sept. 30, settling for third to Overanalyze (Dixie Union) as the 9-5 chalk, but was well-supported to dominate these restricted rivals. Matchmadeinheaven kept her record spotless with this victory, adding to previous wins in Finger Lakes' Lady Finger S. Sept. 3 and the Rachel Alexandra S. Sept. 29. The Merrylegs homebred broke from the outside and raced three wide towards the back of the pack. She swung about eight wide turning for home, quickly gained ground in the stretch and won going away. "She's still a baby, and every horse that came to her she was backing up, backing up," said jockey Jose Lezcano. Nominally Illinois-bred, the chestnut made up most of a sizeable deficit, but settled for fourth in her open-company debut at Arlington Aug. 25. She easily handled state-bred foes by 3 1/4 lengths Sept. 25 and was the 8-5 chalk here. Lucy's Bob Boy didn't boast the credentials of favored Russell Road, who was seeking his third victory in this lucrative highlight, having annexed the 2009 and 2011 renewals, but the sophomore couldn't have been on more of a roll. Never out of the exacta, the chestnut was seeking his sixth-straight win. He bested handicap foes by five lengths here last time Sept. 22, but was making his first start beyond seven panels. The extra distance didn't seem to matter. Keen to do more while chasing the pace three deep, Lucy's Bob Boy blew the race apart entering the final turn and galloped home from there to a resounding success. "We felt this was the right time," said winning trainer Sandra Dono of the decision to take a shot and stretch out for this venue's featured event for state-breds. "Last time out he galloped out really strong to the three-eighths pole, and we knew it was time to go in the big race. When [rider] Gus [Larrosa] dropped his head at the three-eighths pole all I thought was 'Go, go, go!' Gus and him are so in sync. They are perfect." Larrosa added, "We proved everybody wrong tonight. A lot of people doubted us and came up with all kinds of reasons he couldn't win. The plan was to go to lead if it was slow or take back if it was fast. I looked at the quarter first time by the board and saw :24 and took a little hold. He was 100% right tonight. I want to thank Sandra Dono for riding me. I have been riding races now for close to 30 years and this is my biggest one." Click for the brisnet.com chart or Video, sponsored by Taylor Made Sales.

The regally bred sophomore resurfaced to prevail in a local optional claimer Aug. 15, then attempted to rally up a dead rail in the GII Pennsylvania Derby en route to a fourth-place effort. Favored in this softer affair, the blaze-faced runner loped along at the back of the pack as a contested :46.85 pace developed up front. In the Fairway donned cap and gown here second out Aug. 12, and earned black-type last time with a 2 1/2-length victory in the Henry Mercer Memorial S. going two panels shorter Sept. 22. The homebred broke well from his inside draw to force the issue early before taking clear command on the far turn. He failed to live up to his name entering the stretch as he bolted towards the outer rail, but rider Jose Montano righted the ship to score the popular victory. The bay was coming off an 8 1/4-length drubbing in the local Rachel's Turn S. Sept. 22. Out of the gate like a Quarter Horse, the homebred sped off and never looked back in an absolute laugher. Bern Identity followed in the hoofsteps of stablemate My Adonis (Pleasantly Perfect), who took this race a year ago, and now he'll hope for a better finish in the $1-million GIII Delta Jackpot S. Nov. 17. The Hall colorbearer broke his maiden by an emphatic 13 3/4-length margin second out at Belmont June 1, and resurfaced to nab the GII Sanford S. at Saratoga July 22. He was coming off a third-place finish behind Shanghai Bobby (Harlan's Holiday) in the Spa's GII Three Chimneys Hopeful S. Sept. 3, and became the fourth next-out stakes winner from that event here. Breaking from the rail, the heavy chalk hugged the inside around the first turn from mid-pack. He was switched out for leg room by rider Paco Lopez down the backside and inched closer approaching the home bend. Bern Identity grabbed command at will with a sweeping move, and kicked home a convincing winner despite some greenness in the stretch. With the win, Bern Identity increased his connections's stakes record at Delta to 11-5-1-0 over the past five years. Continuing his tour of the "Pelican State," the 2-1 shot pressed the pace and drew off to a 1 3/4-length tally from Westernator (Intimidator). Pressing the pace from the inside here, the crowd's 7-5 pick raced into the stretch on his wrong lead and looked like he'd have to settle for a minor placing. He battled back, however, and inched away to a clear lead in the final sixteenth, and despite bobbling when he finally did switch leads, came home with a 1 3/4-length cushion over Great Ghost (Holy Bull). The winner, from the connections of his sire's Kentucky Derby-winning owner/breeder, is a half to Country Flavor (Empire Maker), GSW, $215,954; and All Stormy (Stormy Atlantic), GSP, $139,376. Z Big Apple was a $50,000 Keeneland September yearling turned $250,000 OBS April juvenile after zipping an eighth of a mile in :10 1/5 over the SafeTrack surface. His works whispered--more than they screamed--ready for this debut, and the athletic chestnut proved best here at 6-5. Ridden away from the gate by Rafael Bejarano, he was nonetheless beaten for speed by Russdicolous (Malibu Moon) and tugged hard against his rider as he held the rail from second. Still in behind turning for home, Z Big Apple kicked hard, but it looked for a few strides that Russdicolous had stolen away. But the chalk found another gear and, while never feeling the whip, leveled out beautifully with efficient strides and was in hand the final couple of jumps for a one-length success. ### AUTUMN SALE POSTS INCREASES

BBAG's Autumn Sale was wrapped up yesterday, with over 20% increases in the average and median of €6,625 and €6,800, respectively. Karl-Dieter Ellerbracke, president of the sales company, summed up the situation. "This sale was held under the most difficult circumstances--the cancelled racing fixtures at Cologne, Frankfurt and Hassloch, the likely closing of the racetrack at Bremen, the missing horses from the Cologne track due to the quarantine situation there, and the statement of one of Germany's big bearers of hope that 'several racetracks should be closed down' without being able to offer a key to the future and a realistic concept, have surely had their influence here today." The day's topper was Gestut Fahrhof's hip 176, a yearling colt by Konigtiger (Ger) who was knocked down to Tina Rau for €38,000 acting on behalf of Australian interests. A half-brother to Friday's Ferdinand Leisten-Memorial winner Wake Forest (Ger) (Sir Percy {GB}) and the 2008 G3 Preis der Winterkonigin third Wildfahrtle (Ger) (Mark of Esteem {Ire}), he also hails from the family of the champion Wurfstaube (Ger) (Acatenango {Ger}) and last year's G1 Deutsches Derby hero Waldpark (Ger) (Dubawi {Ire}), as well as the 2011 G1 St Leger winner Masked Marvel (GB) (Montjeu {Ire}). Next in line was Gestut Etzean's Sholokhov (Ire) yearling filly named Summertime (Ger) consigned as hip 341. She is a half-sister to this year's G3 Karin Baron von Ullmann Schwarzgold-Rennen winner Survey (Ger) (Big Shuffle) and was purchased by Stall SCU for €30,000. Trainer Hans-Jurgen Groschel had earlier paid €28,000 for Gestut Hachtsee's hip 300, the yearling filly Night Lily (Ger) who is a daughter of Literato (Fr) out of a half to the group-placed and listed-winning duo Near Honor (Ger) (Highest Honor {Fr}) and Near Dock (Ger) (Docksider).
