

ALWAYS IN 'FRONT' IN WITH ANTICIPATION

Todd Pletcher has done little wrong at the current Saratoga stand, so it should have come as no surprise that Rosedown Racing's Bashart (War Front) would have no problem with just an 11-day respite in Thursday's GII With Anticipation S. Co-favored at 5-2 with stablemate We Miss Artie (Artie Schiller), the homebred went straight to the front from his rail draw over a course that had been kind to speed in recent days and posted opening splits of :23.30, :47.20 and 1:11.39. He shrugged off a challenge from Marvin's Miracle

(Cosmonaut) in midstretch, and held off a late bid from longshot River Dancer (Pioneer of the Nile) to score by 1 1/4 lengths. Marvin's Miracle held on for third. It was the third time in four years that a son of War Front proved victorious in this pointer for the GI Breeders' Cup Juvenile Turf (Soldat, 2010, State of Play, 2011). "I let him do whatever he wanted, and I was very satisfied with the way he did it today," offered winning rider Javier Castellano. "He showed a lot of speed in the race before this. Today was a very competitive race and a lot of the horses showed the same tactical speed. I had the beautiful post, inside, on the rail. He broke sharply, and I just let him go to the lead." Cont. p3

ROBHAM TO DISPERSE AT KEENOV

E. Paul Robsham Stables LLC will completely disperse its breeding stock at this year's Keeneland November sale. A total of 24 horses will be catalogued, including seven broodmares, three broodmare prospects, four weanlings and 10 yearlings. Lane's End Farm (as agent) will consign the Robsham offerings. "Together, Paul and Joyce Robsham built a racing and breeding operation that competed at the highest levels of the sport," said Lane's End's Bill Farish. "Since Paul's death several years ago, Joyce has continued to pursue their passion with great success. She loves her horses, and enjoys every aspect of the game." Cont. p4

FORT LARNED OUT OF WOODWARD

Janis Whitham's Fort Larned (E Dubai) will be scratched from Saturday's GI Woodward S. at Saratoga, it was announced yesterday. "He worked great Monday morning and jogged and walked fine Tuesday and Wednesday," said trainer Ian Wilkes of last year's GI Breeders' Cup Classic hero and this year's GI Stephen Foster H. romper. "[Thursday] morning he was not 100% in his training. He was a little off behind.

It's not serious, possibly a pulled muscle, but when you are competing against horses on this level, you have to be 100%." The GI Whitney H. fifth-place finisher will be re-routed to Belmont's GI Jockey Club Gold Cup Invitational Sept. 28, where he will face Whitney winner and fellow Woodward defector Cross Traffic (Unbridled's Song). "We'll wait for that and go from there," Wilkes said of the automatic qualifier for the Nov. 2 GI Breeders' Cup Classic. With Fort Larned scratched, Eric Donovan's revised morning line is as follows: Paynter (Awesome Again) 2-1, Successful Dan (Successful Appeal) 5-2, Flat Out (Flatter) 3-1, Mucho Macho Man (Macho Uno) 9-2, Ron the Greek (Full Mandate) 8-1, Alpha (Bernardini) 12-1.

Third behind Tiger Bourbon (Big Brown) and subsequent Shakopee Juvenile S. winner General Jack (Giant's Causeway) in a six-panel event over the Belmont turf July 12, Bashart stalked and pounced for a half-length success at 6-5 odds over course and distance Aug. 18. He had been ridden by Pletcher's first-call rider John Velazquez in both of his previous outings, but that pilot opted for the mount on We Miss Artie, who endured a very wide stalking trip before fading in the stretch. "One of the reasons we decided to run back on short rest was it put us on a better schedule," said Pletcher of the winner. "It gave us an opportunity with a horse that's still learning to run twice... before a possible Breeders' Cup start. That's why he ran back on short rest, and he's acted really well since his maiden win. We got lucky today." Rosedown Racing is the nom de course of Boca Raton, Florida-based Jeffrey Weiss. Successful in Krefeld's G3 Herzog Von Ratibor-Rennen in November 2010, Gereon had been seeking another black-type win ever since to no avail, despite some near-misses, including a head second in the G2 Grosse Europa Meile at Munich in September. Last seen finishing third behind Felician in the G3 Meilen Trophy over 1 1/16 miles at Krefeld July 14, the bay finally gained the high-profile victory his consistency deserved with a front-running tally.

NEWS TODAY

Paul and Joyce Robsham first became involved in owning and breeding Thoroughbreds in 1983. Joyce carried on the stable when her husband, a prominent real estate developer and philanthropist, died in 2004. The Robshams bred and raced Grade I winners Awesome Maria (Maria's Mon), Discreet Cat (Forestry), R Heat Lightning (Trippi), Discreetly Mine (Mineshaft) and Pretty Discreet (Private Account). Among those to be offered at Keeneland November is Awesome Maria, currently in foal to Giant's Causeway. Winner of the GII Matron S. as a juvenile, the homebred annexed the 2011 GI Ogden Phipps H. at age four en route to a lifetime record of 16-9-3-3 and earnings of $1,114,875. Discreetly Awesome (Awesome Again), Awesome Maria's dam and a half-sister to GI Cigar Mile H. winner and sire Discreet Cat, will also be catalogued in foal to Malibu Moon. R. Heat Lightning and MGSWs Broadway's Alibi (Vindication) and Feline Story (Tale of the Cat) will also be sold in foal to Bernardini, Smart Strike, and Discreetly Mine, respectively. "The Robshams maintained a small breeding operation of remarkable quality," said Keeneland Vice President of Sales Walt Robertson. "We appreciate the opportunity to include such an exceptional offering in the November Sale." Joyce Robsham will continue her racing stable and will sell GII Gulfstream Park H. winner Discreet Dancer (Discreet Cat) privately.

GRAYSON-JOCKEY CLUB RESEARCH FOUNDATION

THE FRIEND YOU CAN'T DO WITHOUT

When does Grayson-Jockey Club Research Foundation assist the trainer's routine? Every day.
Consider the following that were made possible, advanced, or influenced by research funded by Grayson:

- Recognition that most horses suffering major injury, perhaps 90%, had pre-existing conditions
- Established parameters for safe use of shock wave therapy
- Tests for common diseases such as EHV, influenza, botulism, and EPM
- Verified dosage protocol of Xylazine to tranquilize injured horses
- Cryotherapy being refined as laminitis tool
- Equine Viral Arteritis Vaccine
- Definition of Colitis X
- Airway contamination controls
- Understanding risk factors of high toe grabs in front
- The “physiological trim” to enhance healthy hooves
- Herpesvirus research helped control outbreaks
- Understanding effects of exercise on cartilage and bone development of young horses
- Welfare & Safety of the Racehorse Summits to share and distribute information and recommendations (Many incorporated into NTRA race track accreditation program)
- EPM workshop

CARRYING ON: Recent and current research has continued to provide millions of dollars to address:

- Laminitis
- Herpesvirus
- Serum Biomarkers for prediction of fracture
- Safety factors of race track surfaces, including banking of turns
- Equine injury database to identify at-risk horses

WELD ADDED TO AGA KHAN ROSTER

Dermot Weld has been added to the list of trainers for His Highness The Aga Khan, joining John Oxx and Michael Halford, and is set to receive both 2-year-olds and yearlings as the owner seeks to diversify his bloodstock operations in Ireland. "We are really looking forward to having horses in training with Dermot Weld," commented stud manager Pat Downes. "This has been a difficult year for the organization in Ireland, as John Oxx's yard has been suffering from a virus. This has highlighted the need for us to spread our horses over a greater number of trainers to avoid this situation reoccurring. This policy has worked for us in France, so we felt it was worth implementing it in Ireland also."

SHEIKH FAHAD ACQUIRES NEWMARKET STUD

Sheikh Fahad Al Thani has continued the expansion of his bloodstock portfolio by purchasing Longholes Stud near Newmarket. Situated between the villages of Cheveley and Ashley, the farm consists of approximately 100 acres of paddocks, stabling for mares and foals, and an isolation unit. Sheikh Fahad's stallions Makfi (GB) and Harbour Watch (Ire) will remain at David Redvers' Tweenhills Stud. "[Longholes Stud] has been bought primarily for Sheikh Fahad's own horses, a stud where mares can walk to surrounding farms, but also as a base for him in Newmarket," Redvers told Racing Post. "We identified that it was a very attractive, commercial proposition to buy it when we did. No firm decision has yet been made as to whether it will be a purely private stud, a pre-training center or even as a place for stallions. The main stallions will always stand at Tweenhills, but there is a possibility that we might stand Dunaden there in the future as he is a particular favorite of Sheikh Fahad. We are looking at a considerable refurbishment of the property and also looking at the possibility of getting planning permission to build a main residence there as well as converting the existing arable land into stud land. We see it as a blank canvas and will be looking at all options."

RACETRACK ROUND-UP

Free Eagle a Leopardstown Likely...

Moyglare Stud's Free Eagle (Ire) (High Chaparral {Ire}), who leapt to the head of ante-post betting lists for next year's G1 Epsom Derby in the wake of his ☛ "TDN Rising Star" ☛ performance at Leopardstown earlier this month, may have just one more run this year, according to Dermot Weld. The Rosewell House conditioner is mulling over options, with next week's G3 Breeders' Cup Juvenile Turf Trial S., a Breeders' Cup "Win and You're In" contest, back at the Foxrock track mooted as the likeliest destination. "It is quite possible that he might run in the Group 3 [BC Juvenile Turf Trial] over a mile [back at Leopardstown]," the trainer said. "He didn't surprise me [on debut] as he has always shown talent, but he did it more impressively than I expected. There is a lot to come from him, but I must stress that he has only won a maiden so far. I could see maybe just one more start this year. Leopardstown is quite possible because he's not a horse I want to go on late into the autumn. If everything goes right, it will be there or the [Sept. 29 G2] Beresford [S. at The Curragh] rather than the [Oct. 26 G1] Racing Post Trophy [at Doncaster], as I think that will come a little bit late in the year for him. He's still very immature, so Leopardstown is most likely."

Dawn Approach Has QEII Target...

Godolphin and Jim Bolger's ☛ "TDN Rising Star" ☛ Dawn Approach (Ire) (New Approach {Ire}) is pointing to Ascot's G1 Queen Elizabeth II S. Oct. 19. The G1 2000 Guineas and G1 St James's Palace S. victor scoped with mucus after running fifth in the Aug. 11 G1 Prix Jacques Le Marois at Deauville last time. "Dawn Approach has scoped clean and, all being well, we're looking to prepare him for the QEII," revealed Bolger.

Doyle Earns Juddmonte Retainer...

Juddmonte Farms has announced that James Doyle is to become, starting Sunday, the retained rider for Prince Khalid Abdullah's British-based horses. The young rider has already prevailed at the highest level in the owner's green, pink and white silks, winning last year's G1 Dubai Duty Free at Meydan aboard the Roger Charlton-trained Cityscape (GB) (Selkirk). "Juddmonte Farms is pleased to announce that James Doyle will be retained to ride Prince Khalid bin Abdullah's UK-trained horses," read an official statement. "This will be effective from September 1."

Beholder Back in Action Sunday...

Spendthrift Farm's Beholder (Henny Hughes) returns from a four-month layoff Sunday in Del Mar's Torrey Pines S. The Richard Mandella trainee was runner-up to Princess of Sylmar (Majestic Warrior) last out in the GI Kentucky Oaks May 3.

"She came out of it fine, but she had a tough time with the excitement there, so I gave her a little rest," Mandella said of last year's champion 2-year-old filly. "I'd put her through a pretty tough task to go to the Kentucky Oaks, knowing that it wouldn't be easy for her mentally. She did the best she could, and I couldn't have been prouder of her unless she'd have won the race. And she almost won."

Of why he chose this spot, Mandella said, "It's a mile here on the main track. We gave her the time off figuring we'd get her here, build her confidence back up and get her a race. We know she'll get a mile very well. We'll see how she does and then we'll decide which direction she goes after that."

Beholder put in six works here since July 17 and four of them were bullets.

"I wasn't aware of that. I knew she was going well but I didn't compare her works with others," Mandella said. "I was just kind of happy with it. We weren't trying to make her go fast, she's just good."

BLACK-TYPE PREVIEWS

MANY JEWELS IN AUSSIE SEASON OPENER

Group 1 racing for the 2013-14 season in Australia kicks off Saturday with the G1 Memsie S. at Caulfield, and it is an event certainly befitting of the highest level, with a number of the country's classiest performers resuming. Chief amongst them is Coolmore's Atlantic Jewel (Aus) (Fastnet Rock {Aus}), winner of the 2011 G1 1000 Guineas and 2012 G1 All Aged S. Injury has kept the 5-year-old off the racetrack since the latter effort, and she goes into this event without a trial, but her recent works have left connections confident that she will return to her best.

Atlantic Jewel
Racingandsports.com

"She's had a long layoff, but she certainly looks like she has not lost any of her ability," said Michael Kirwan of the Coolmore syndicate that owns the mare. Also using the Memsie as a springboard to loftier Spring Carnival targets will be last year's G1 Melbourne Cup 1-2 Green Moon (Ire) (Montjeu {Ire}) and Fiorente (Ire) (Monsun {Ger}). Green Moon strung together fourth place efforts in the G1 Futurity S. over this track and trip Feb. 23 and the G1 Australian Cup Mar. 9 following his Melbourne exploits, and resumes after 71 days on the sidelines. Fiorente signaled his worth by completing the Melbourne Cup exacta in his first Australian outing last November, and was last seen finishing fourth in the G1 All Aged S. Apr. 27. He has warmed up for this with two Randwick trials, defeating his well-regarded Gai Waterhouse stablemate Carlton House July 19 before trading places with him Aug. 2. It's A Dundee (NZ) (High Chaparral {Ire}) turned heads last season when he completed the Group 1 triple of the Randwick Guineas, Rosehill Guineas and the Australian Derby, and he was not disgraced when last seen finishing a hard luck second in the G1 Queen Elizabeth S. at Randwick Apr. 27.

FOCUS DESCENDS ON IFFEZHEIM

Following on from Deauville and Doncaster, Baden-Baden hosts the latest stopover on the Yearling Sales circuit when their Jahrlings-Auktion takes place today. Condensed from previous years, the forces behind the 242-strong catalogue will bid to build on the increasing profile of German horses around the world and the exploits of Danedream (Ger) (Lomitas {GB}) and Novellist (Ire) (Monsun {Ger}), who was a €100,000 buy-back here in 2010. The mighty Monsun, whose presence is still felt sharply and who is sorely missed on the domestic scene, is probably the greatest all-time BBAG Sales graduate, and his second-last crop includes three colts on offer here. They include Gestut Karlshof's stand-out hip 71, a half-brother to the recent impressive G1 Grosser Preis von Bayern victor Seismos (Ire) (Dalakhani {Ire}), and full-sibling of the 2009 G1 Preis der Diana runner-up Soberania (Ger) from the immediate family of the sire's Classic and Group 1-winning heavyweights Samum (Ger), Schiaparelli (Ger) and Salve Regina (Ger). Consignments include operations from Switzerland, Austria, the Czech Republic and France, with a large number of the yearlings on offer from the latter country eligible for the lucrative French owners' premiums worth a total of €37 million. Almost all entries in the catalogue are nominated for the 19 BBAG Sales races, which also boast total prize money of €1.35 million in 2014 and 2015. Selling gets underway at 10 a.m. Full catalogue and updates can be viewed on www.bbagg-sales.de.

BBAG YEARLING SALE

65, f, Tiger Hill (Ire)--Salde (Ger), by Alkalde (Ger)

Consigned by Gestut Wittekindshof

Shortly after the demise of Monsun at Gestut Schlenderhan, Gestut Fahrhof lost the influential Tiger Hill after he fractured a leg in his paddock in September and time is subsequently running out to acquire his progeny. This May-foaled colt is from a family resplendent in black-type, headed by his champion full-sister Saldentigerin (Ger), who has now produced her own champion in last year's G1 Preis der Diana heroine Salomina (Ger) (Lomitas {GB}). Salde's last yearling to come under the hammer here was the €190,000-purchase Solarworld (Ger) (High Chaparral {Ire}) two years ago. Saldentigerin is also responsible for a Gestut Bona-consigned daughter of Wiesenpfad (Fr) selling as hip 68.

165, c, Paco Boy (Ire)--Boccassini (Ger), by Artan (Ire)

Consigned by Gestut Westerberg

Paco Boy's first yearlings have been well-received and were in demand at Doncaster this week and this is a half-brother to the €220,000 2011 Sale topper and smart handicapper Broughton (Ger) (Teofilo {Ire}). The dam was successful in the 2006 G2 Prix Robert Papin and was subsequently champion in her native Germany.

173, f, Shamardal--Elle Danzig (Ger), by Roi Danzig

Consigned by Gestut Wittekindshof

Elle Danzig was an 11-times Group-winning dual champion who carried all before her on the track and has subsequently produced five black-type performers headed by this April-foaled chestnut's full-sister Elle Shadow (Ger). Three times a Pattern-race scorer herself, she was also runner-up in the 2010 G1 Preis der Diana. The last four of Elle Danzig's progeny to sell all made six-figure amounts, including the most recent Elle Approach (Ire) (New Approach {Ire}) who sold for €230,000 at Arqana August 12 months ago.

174, c, Dansili (GB)--Enrica (GB), by Niniski

Consigned by Gestut Rottgen

This April-foaled bay is a half-brother to Enora (Ger) (Noverre), who beat the aforementioned Alle Shadow in the G1 Preis der Diana three years ago. He is also kin to the multiple Group winner and Group 1-placed Egerton (Ger) (Groom Dancer) and the dam of the 2009 G1 Preis von Europa third Eliot (Ger) (Tiger Hill {Ire}).

186, f, Samum (Ger)--Kapitol (Ger), by Winged Love (Ire)

Consigned by Gestut Karlshof

One of the picks of the Karlshof draft, this March-foaled chestnut has considerable residual value as a full-sister to the establishment's multiple Group 1-winning champion Kamsin (Ger) and half to the Pattern-race scorer and Group 1-placed Kapitale (Ger) (Dubawi {Ire}). The latter made a splash at Keeneland November when selling for $435,000 to Stonereath Stud, just weeks after her full-sibling Kaiserwurde (Ger) made €180,000 when snapped up by Derek Brugman and Peter Doyle at this auction.

184, f, Sir Percy (GB)--Island Race (GB), by Common Grounds (GB)

Consigned by Gestut Romerhof (Agent)

Sir Percy has made a solid start to his stud career and this April-foaled bay should turn heads as a half-sister to the dual champion and now leading domestic sire Soldier Hollow (GB) and the Group scorer Day Walker (GB) (Dr Devious {Ire}). Further back, this is the family of the 1992 G1 National S. hero Fatherland (Ire) (Sadler's Wells) and Classic-winning sire Bachelor Duke.

A PRESALE PARTY--GERMAN STYLE

Photos and Editorial by Liesl King

The BBAG Yearling Sale in Baden-Baden may well take place at one of the prettiest sales grounds you are likely to encounter. Backing on to the Baden

The barbecue

Racecourse at the 400 meter mark, it sports very smart yellow and white barns, each with its own colour coordinated, hanging flower arrangements and if the backdrop of racehorses thundering by is not unique enough, then the surrounding hills of the Black Forest certainly does the trick.

While it scores a 10 on location, there is a price to pay for being in a charming, old-world town in the middle of the Black Forest. Simply put, Baden Baden is so tucked away, that getting there can be quite tricky. Hence, I find myself squashed in the seat of a twin propeller airplane, arguing with the stewardess about precisely where my camera bag will and won't fit into. Finally, we agree that it may reside at my feet and with a very reluctant right propeller being given a hefty push by the maintenance man, we take off into the night sky. Now the first and last time that I braved a twin prop, we ended up as the morning paper's headline story, after engine failure followed by a dramatic emergency landing. Yet here I was, getting into another twin prop, on my way to the Karlsruhe Baden-Baden airport for the BBAG Yearling Sale.

Well actually, truth be told, for the BBAG presales party. Every year, on the eve of the Yearling Sales, BBAG organises a barbecue. And this is no ordinary barbecue. Remember we are in the land where sausages and beer reign supreme. Early on, while buyers are still making notes in their catalogues and the last three Monsun yearlings are paraded once more, tables are erected near the sales ring. Half under the cover of a large marquee and half in the open, white tablecloths, candles and pretty pots of lavender appear. The fires are lit and a mountain of bratwurst, the local sausage arrives. Cont. p10

Next to be delivered is the prerequisite bread rolls and, of course, several kegs of beer. Wine and water will be offered of course, but really, it is a case of when in Rome... and hence even if you are not a beer drinker, tonight is the night to order that pint.

The ninth race has barely flashed past before the crowd starts to swell and the beer starts to flow. A veritable mountain of bratwurst grace the coals as a sweating barbecue master deftly handles the tongs, taking frequent sips of his beer to stay hydrated. The bratwurst queue soon snakes around the marquee, while the waitresses battle to keep up with beer orders. It is a wonderfully relaxing evening, where you meet old friends and make new ones. And then Elvis enters the marquee.

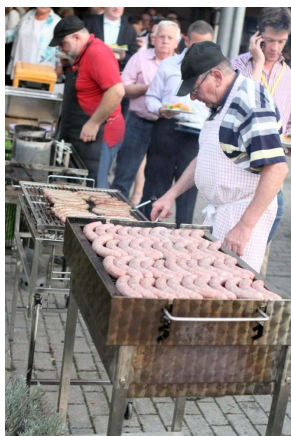

Yes Elvis! Okay, a slightly portly Elvis and there is the small problem of him singing in German, but hey we aren't all perfect. Clad in glittering sequins and tight fitting pants, together with the slicked back hair, Eric Prinzing, the evening's piece de resistance, has arrived. The volume is cranked up and as Elvis shakes his hips and throws his jacket to the nearest fan, the party is in full flow. It's not long before he has the crowd on their feet and even dancing on the tables as he belts out one favourite after another.

The BBAG Yearling Sale may be in a far away corner of Germany and you may have to go to extreme measures to get there, but the bratwurst is to die for, the beer is cold and with Elvis in the house, what more could one ask for.

KY SUPREME COURT DENIES REVIEW OF RACHEL ALEXANDRA FEES CASE

The Kentucky State Supreme Court has denied a motion to review a Court of Appeals decision in a case brought by Thoro-Graph's Jerry Brown against Mike Lauffer involving the 2008 purchase of subsequent Horse of the Year and GI Kentucky Oaks winner Rachel Alexandra.

In August of 2008, Lauffer, Greg McDonald and Ronald Kirk formed a joint venture with the intention of purchasing a filly, and enlisted the consulting services of Brown. At the time, Brown was requested by Kirk to submit, in writing, his fees, and Brown responded with an explanation of his '5-5-5' structure. That is comprised of 5% of the purchase price, 5% of any money earned by the horse and 5% of any increase in the asset appreciation of said horse based on resale price, appraised value or life insurance valuation.

A few months later, Brown communicated again with Kirk, recommending the purchase of a then 2-year-old filly named Rachel Alexandra to the partnership for $1.2 million. After learning the details from Kirk, Lauffer called Brown, the first direct contact between the two. After discussing Rachel Alexandra with Brown, Lauffer asked Brown about his rates and explained that the structure could pose a problem, but that he would be back in touch at a later time. According to court documents, Lauffer subsequently reached out to bloodstock agent Donald Brauer, explaining that he and McDonald wished to inspect Rachel Alexandra. Brauer testified under oath that Lauffer asked if there was any way to avoid paying Brown under his terms and repeated the question after viewing the filly a second time. Brauer testified that he told Lauffer that doing this would be unethical. On Nov. 9, 2008, Lauffer indicated in a call with Brown that they would be interested in making a $1-million offer on the filly, with Brown to receive a flat 5% commission, but after learning that Brown insisted on sticking to a fee structure others had been routinely charged in the past, Lauffer told Brauer that the partnership was no longer interested.

Four days later, Lauffer independently struck a deal to purchase a 50% interest in Rachel Alexandra from owner Dolph Morrison for $500,000, and during his six months of partial ownership--Rachel Alexandra was sold privately to Stonestreet Stables and Harold McCormick after winning the Oaks--Lauffer profited to the tune of a reported $4.5 million. Lauffer admitted in court that he had relied on information from Brown in his purchase decision, and admitted that he would have been bound by the fee had the partnership purchased Rachel Alexandra, but claimed as an individual there was no contract in place and therefore was under no obligation to pay Brown and Thoro-Graph any fees.

During a bench trial in April 2010, the presiding court determined (1) there was no agreement in place regarding fees; (2) that Lauffer was not made aware of the 5-5-5 fee structure prior to seeking Brown's counsel; (3) and that Brown had dispensed advice before disclosing his fee structure to Lauffer.

These findings were made despite the assertion that under existing and accepted Kentucky law that members of a partnership have vicarious knowledge so long as one of the partners has been advised. The trial court found that the information provided to Lauffer was relied upon "at least in part," but awarded Brown only $25,000, or 5% of Lauffer's purchase price, under the quantum meruit theory.

Brown countered in his appeal that while the Court correctly applied quantum meruit, that the award was a fraction of what it should have been based on the 5-5-5 scheme and produced several witnesses who had paid those fees. The trial court dismissed that claim, citing what it deemed an industry standard 5% commission. Ultimately, the appeals court, like the trial court, dismissed claims of fraud and further punitive damages, ruling that there was no misconduct on Lauffer's part, and a Court of Appeals agreed with that decision and denied the appeal.

Late last year, Brown and Thoro-Graph and their legal team filed a compelling motion with the Kentucky State Supreme Court to review the Court of Appeals ruling, but in a briefly worded order dated Aug. 21, Chief Justice John D. Minton not only denied the motion to review, but also ordered that the opinion of the Court of Appeals not be published.

"Appeals Court decisions can be used as precedent, so on the face of it, unpublishing that decision is an admission there are problems with it," Brown said in a statement. "There is an inherent contradiction in the Supreme Court saying that while at the same time not taking up the case to right the wrong. The message this sends is that the judicial system in Kentucky can't be relied upon to protect the rights of outsiders, and I would certainly advise anyone outside the state of Kentucky to think twice about doing business there."

Brown, who has invested a six-figure sum in pursuing this case, is now out of legal remedies in the state of Kentucky.

RAMSEY LEAVING HILL 'N' DALE

Long-time farm manager at Hill 'n' Dale Farms Joe Ramsey is leaving the farm at the end of the Keeneland September Sale.

"JR will continue to be in charge of our consignments, and we are grateful that he will retain that role," said John Sikura, President of Hill 'n' Dale Farms. "JR has been with us for 15 years, and we have accomplished a lot together. I am thankful for his outstanding service, attention to detail and loyalty to Hill 'n' Dale. In addition to being a world-class horseman, he is truly a special person, and I cannot thank him enough for all that he has done for me and my family."

Assistant farm manager John Rasmussen will be promoted to farm manager. "John is an exceptional horseman who has a wealth of experience and knows the ins and outs of our system, having been a vital part of our team for the past five years," Sikura added. "We are fortunate to be able to promote from within the organization, and we are confident that John will do an outstanding job taking care of the world-class horses that call Hill 'n' Dale home."

F-T FALL YEARLING CATALOGUE RELEASED

Fasig-Tipton unveiled its 2013 Eastern Fall Yearling Sale catalogue, which includes 387 yearlings. The sale will be held in Timonium during a continuous session starting at 10 a.m. Sept. 30. Dancing Afleet (Afleet Alex), a 2011 graduate of the sale and winner of the GI Delaware Oaks in July, is featured on the catalogue cover.

"We draw a wide range of owners and trainers to Timonium, as well as enjoying strong support from the pinhooking community," said sales director Paget Bennett. "So it is pleasing to see an equal diversity in our consignors and sires. We have 157 stallions represented in the sale and consignors from seven different states. Our graduates have been performing well on the racetracks and in the 2-year-old markets. We are looking forward to an active and positive market." To view the catalogue online, click here.

Saratoga's Closing Day Admission to PDJF:

Edited Press Release

Proceeds from admissions on closing day at Saratoga Race Course, Monday, Sept. 2, will be donated in the name of Ramon Dominguez to The Permanently Disabled Jockeys Fund, it was announced today by Chris Kay, CEO & President of the New York Racing Association, Inc.

"Simply by coming out to Saratoga Race Course on Monday, fans can support a wonderful cause," said Kay. "I was so taken by the fans' ovations and outpouring of emotion for Ramon during our tribute to him last Sunday, and I look forward to a closing day that will strike much the same note with all in attendance."

Also on Monday, fans can attend a jockey autograph session from noon to 12:30 p.m. on the Jockeys Silks Porch, where additional donations to the PDJF can be made via cash or check. The table will remain open throughout the afternoon with members of the Saratoga jockey colony in attendance when they are not riding.

Margins: 2, NO, 1. Odds: 17.10, 1.25, 6.20. Also Ran: Two Brews to Go, Eyes Her Man, Skylander Girl, Seeking a Glitter, Making It Happen.

*Finished first, but was disqualified and placed second.

Lexie Lou, a debut winner over this track May 25, was a non-threatening eighth behind On Rainbow Bridge in the July 14 Shady Well S. and an improved-fourth behind that foe while adding blinkers in the Aug. 3 Nandi S. The 17-1 shot, last down the backstretch, made rapid progress into the turn while racing four wide. Moving in tandem with favored On Rainbow Bridge turning for home, Lexie Lou had a head in front in upper stretch and those two battled down the length of the stretch. Lexie Lou battled determinedly despite being bumped several times by the drifting-out favorite, only to finish a nose second. After reviewing the stretch run, the stewards disqualified On Rainbow Bridge from first and placed her second, promoting Lexie Lou to the victory. "She's been improving every race," said winning owner and trainer John Ross. "We put blinkers on her and me and Gary [Boulanger] talked about taking her back off the pace. And it's really made a difference. Gary blew her out earlier this week and said she's in great shape. I think the longer she goes, it's going to be better." Boulanger added, "My filly has always been very game. I was outside of [jockey] Skye [Chernetz]. We were pretty tight. Her horse came out a few times and bumped mine, but my filly kept digging in, trying and trying. The more I watched the replay, the more confident I was they would take her [On Rainbow Bridge] down. She's a very nice filly, she showed a lot of guts today and she's learned how to relax and come from off the pace." Click for the brisnet.com chart or VIDEO.

Go Greeley's lone previous loss was a runner-up effort, beaten just a nose by Spin the King, in the July 7 Clarendon S. in his second start. He returned with victories in the July 20 Colin S. and Aug. 11 Vandal S. The dark bay colt chased the pace while racing along the rail. He was tipped out at the top of the stretch and reeled in Spin the King to get his nose in front in the final jump. "I had a lot of horse, but I was worried because I didn't have much space there," said winning rider Eurico Rosa da Silva. "But, it worked out in the stretch when I had room."
