Goffs' November Sale commences today at Kill Paddocks in Kildare, Ireland. The seven-day stand begins with the four-day Foal Sale, which features 928 lots including the progeny of such leading sires as

G1SW Shareta (Ire)

Galileo (Ire), Exceed and Excel (Aus), Montjeu (Ire), Fastnet Rock (Aus), New Approach (Ire), Oasis Dream (GB), and Invincible Spirit (Ire). Following the conclusion of the foal catalogue Thursday will be the concise November

Yearling Sale, which features 20 lots. The November Breeding Stock Sale will take place Nov. 23 and 23 and features, in addition to the standout 25-horse Paulyn Dispersal, the likes of Chocolicious (SAf) (Kahal {GB}) and Hazel Lavery (Ire) (Excellent Art {GB}), both in foal to Frankel (GB); Shawara (Ire), the dam of Group 1-winner Shareta (Ire) in foal to Sea the Stars (Ire), and group winner Albisola (Ire), a sister to the dam of Group 1-winner Most Improved (Ire) in foal to Arcano (Ire).

"As the shop window to the world for Irish bloodstock, Goffs November Sale is all about the best," said Goffs Chief Executive Henry Beeby. "We are extremely thankful to the Irish breeders who, following year-on-year increases recorded at this sale, have once again supported Goffs with more and more of their best and allowed us to compile a superior catalogue of strength, depth and diversity. This year of course is even more special. We are honored that Paul Makin chose Goffs as the auction house of choice for the dispersal of his world-class band of broodmares, foals, yearlings and horses in training. I think it is safe to say that the combined collection of horses on offer at Goffs this November will not be matched anywhere else in the world this year."

The sale begins 11 a.m. local time. Catalogues, results and live-streaming are available at www.goffs.com. For an extended Goffs November preview, click here.

ENDOWING SPRINGS MILD SURPRISE IN JC CUP

With reigning Hong Kong horse of the year and dual International Group 1 winner Military Attack (Ire) (Oratorio {Ire}) and two-time defending G1 Hong Kong Cup hero California Memory (Highest Honor {Fr}) perhaps one run away from their absolute peak, the less-heralded third race favorite Endowing (Ire) (Danehill Dancer {Ire}) parlayed a perfect inside trip into a victory in Sunday's G2 Jockey Club Cup at Sha Tin.

Endowing (Ire)

Akeed Mofeed (GB) (Dubawi {Ire}), who defeated Endowing by a half-length in last year's Hong Kong Derby, hinted at a return to his best form with a charging second, while Military Attack, ridden forward by Zac Purton from post 10, clung on well enough for third. "He hasn't been winning by big margins, but his wins have been quite convincing, he's held the horses off," said winning trainer John Size. "Today again off the rail alley--which he's been fortunate enough to draw a few times in his career--he was afforded the run of the race and he was given a split to win the race at the top of the straight, and he went on with it." Cont. p3

Endowing had something of an unusual preparation for last year's Derby, finishing a well-beaten 12th behind Gold-Fun (Ire) (Le Vie Dei Colori {GB}) in the Hong Kong Classic Mile Jan. 20 followed by a fourth in a Class 3 handicap at Happy Valley Feb. 27 prior to his strong effort at 36-1 behind Akeed Mofeed. A winner in four subsequent appearance in the 2012-2013 racing season, Endowing resumed with a short-head second going a mile here Oct. 27 and returned on a week's rest to bag the Sa Sa Ladies' Purse H. over 1800 meters.

Running here for the third time in 21 days, Endowing took full advantage of the inside stall and settled back in fifth along the fence as first Same World (GB) (Hawk Wing) and then Liberator (Aus) (Encosta de Lago {Aus}) dictated terms.

Military Attack, with the pace for the opening couple of furlongs, found some cover further back in the field, while California Memory was happy to bide his time near the tail and Akeed Mofeed cabooseed the field. Liberator still held the call as they reached the head of the stretch, but Tye Angland spied a gap one off the fence and shot Endowing through to lead approaching the 200-meter marker. That duo went for home and had Military Attack beaten, but Akeed Mofeed was winding up on the grandstand side. The Derby winner flew late, but the wire came first for Endowing. Military Attack held for third from California Memory, who closed well, but was too late.

"I didn't have to do much work once I got out, he was coming into the race so strong--I saw Military Attack was off the bridle and I was going a lot better than him," Angland said. "I got the run between Liberator and Same World and dashed really quick. I actually dropped my whip when I went to go for him, so the panic button was hit and I went from looking pretty to kicking him and slapping him and doing my best to get him across the line. I think I would have won a lot easier if I'd had a whip to ask him to hit the line."

Trainer Richard Gibson was satisfied with the performance of Akeed Mofeed.

"We're very pleased, I thought it was a brilliant ride from Douglas, he rode him very patiently and the horse showed that impressive turn-of-foot he showed last term, so it's great to have him back."

While owner Pan Sutong couldn't have been too dismayed with the effort of Akeed Mofeed in the Jockey Club Cup some 35 minutes earlier, he would have been happier with the run of Gold-Fun, who needed the length of the stretch and never switched his leads, but did enough to stamp himself as the top local chance for the G1 Hong Kong Mile three weeks down the road.

Third to Akeed Mofeed in the Derby at a 2000-meter distance a little further than he prefers, Gold-Fun was fifth to Dan Excel (Ire) (Shamardal) and Helene Spirit in the G1 Champions Mile May 5 before calling it a season. His two starts this term have been superb--a 1 3/4-length defeat of Blazing Speed (GB) (Dylan Thomas {Ire}) in the National Day Cup H. over seven furlongs Oct. 1 and a half-length score from Helene Spirit in the Sha Tin Trophy H. going this distance Oct. 27.

Drawn inside, Gold-Fun jumped without incident and held the rail as Dan Excel showed the way early before yielding to Helene Spirit up front. Pure Champion (Ire) (Footstepsinthesand {GB}) crept forward, allowing Dan Excel the box seat, while Olivier Doleuze got off the rails and sat fourth in the slipstream of Pure Champion. Allowed to bowl along on the engine, Helene Spirit cut the corner for home traveling easily, but there was plenty of daylight for Doleuze and Gold-Fun, who launched his bid three off the inside in upper stretch. The pacesetter dug in for the final furlong and wasn't stopping, but Gold-Fun pulled out just enough to register a popular and cozy success. Xtension ran his best race in some time in third.

"I think it was a masterful ride from Olivier Doleuze," said Gibson. "We were concerned about being trapped on the fence but not only did he ride the horse very patiently, I thought he rode him with a lot of confidence and I don't think he gave him a hard race either. I think he'll lose a bit of weight going into the big one," he added, referring to the Mile. "He was 5 kilos up for this one, so we hope we've got a bit left in the can--we're going to need it against those top fillies [Moonlight Cloud and Sky Lantern] if they line up."

Charles the Great turned in the biggest 'surprise' of the day, as favored Amber Sky (Aus) (Exceed and Excel {Aus}) struggled home and was found to have bled during the race.

The 4-year-old was a progressive sort last racing season, with a victory in Class 1 and a runner-up effort one peg lower ahead of a breakthrough success over Best Eleven (Aus) (Charge Forward {Aus}) in the Sha Tin Vase H. May 26. A troubled 11th to stablemate Sterling City in the Premier Cup H. June 16, he belied longshot odds to finish third in the Sha Tin Sprint Trophy H. up the 1000-meter straight Oct. 1 and was exiting a third to Sterling City in the course-and-distance Premier Bowl H. Oct. 27.

Amber Sky was sent off the 8-5 favorite on the strength of an overwhelming 5 1/2-length victory in a Class 2 over the straight five furlongs Oct. 30, but, like Eagle Regiment, would need to answer the question of whether he could prove as effective around the right-handed turn. Things looked good early, as Neil Callan bounced the chalk into a few lengths' advantage in the opening 100 meters, tracked by Bullish Friend (Aus) (Court Command {Aus}), as Douglas Whyte had Charles the Great forwardly placed in fifth. Amber Sky turned them in after an easy opening 800-meter time of :46.03 and led traveling apparently well into the final furlong. But he was soon in deep water, and Charles the Great, steered away from the inside by Whyte, grabbed that one with about a sixteenth to race before holding off a late bid from Sterling City. Eagle Regiment came from mid-division to be third in easily his best effort over six panels. "Charles the Great is as honest as the day is long and he's there to fill the spots when there's a chink in the other horses' armour," said trainer John Moore, who saddled the first two home. "I don't think the sprinters at this stage are the best--that's our weak link in Hong Kong and I hope something's going to come through the grades and perform, because if there is something, they'll dominate the sprinting section." Frederick Engels (GB) (Iceman {GB}), who tossed his head fiercely early on and proved a difficult ride for Zac Purton, finished eighth, but was beaten just 3 1/2 lengths.

"Frederick Engels wasn't suited by the wide draw--he came from off the pace and I'm sure his last sectional would have been very good, so we're just hoping he draws a good gate on Dec. 8, then you'll see the real Frederick Engels," Moore offered.

Winner of the Prix Millkom at Bordeaux last September, Tropaios changed hands a month later at the Arqana Arc sale to continue his career in Singapore. Victorious in his second local appearance this past June, the chestnut was third to the talented Better Life (Aus) (Smarty Jones) in the Singapore Derby July 14 and had his fair share of backers here off a runner-up effort to Musketeer (Jpn) (Kurofune) in the El Dorado Classic over this distance Oct. 27. Drawn wide in this richest domestic event, Tropaios was wrangled back to the rear of the field as Musketeer took them along from Littlebitofjoy (Kitten's Joy) in the early stages. Orakei Korako, prominent throughout, was the first to make serious inroads and loomed a serious threat into the lane as Dragonfly bid up the fence. But Tommy Berry, one of three visiting riders from Australia, maneuvered Tropaios out to the center of the track and coaxed just enough finish from him to land the spoils right on the wire. It was the one of the most important victories to date for the fledgling China Horse Club and biggest in the career of trainer Michael Freedman.

"I've been involved in some big wins back home, but this is my biggest thrill in racing," said Freedman. "To have trained the winner of Singapore's richest domestic race in my own right is such a great feeling. I've been up here 5 1/2 years now and it's been fantastic for not just me but also my family as well. And to win it for the China Horse Club just adds to the achievement. They have a huge involvement in racing around the world and for them to make a huge commitment here and to win this race is certainly a feather in the cap." Click for the Singapore Turf Club chart. RACETRACK ROUND-UP

VERRAZANO & CO. PRIMES FOR CIGAR

Dual Grade I winner Verrazano (More Than Ready) headed the Todd Pletcher-trained triumvirate which took to the Belmont training track Sunday morning in preparation for the Nov. 30 GI Cigar Mile at Aqueduct. Working in tandem with GI King's Bishop S. victor Capo Bastone (Street Boss), the GI Wood Memorial and Haskell Invitational winner negotiated four furlongs in :47.67, while his stablemate completed the task in :47.66. The duo represented the two fastest workouts (of 124) at the distance yesterday. (Courtesy NYRA, Youtube video) In their most recent starts, Verrazano finished fourth in the Nov. 1 GI Breeders' Cup Dirt Mile, while Capo Bastone was 13th in the GI Breeders' Cup Turf Sprint Nov. 2. "[Capo Bastone and Verrazano] have been working together quite a bit," said Pletcher. "We were looking for a similar type of work from both of them. I think it worked well in the past [and I] just felt like it was a good match up. I thought both horses breezed really well.

Verrazano, Javier Castellano aboard
Adam Coglianese

"Both did it willingly, on the bridle, and gave me the indication they both bounced out of their Breeders' Cup races in good order." Rounding out Pletcher's Cigar contenders, MGSW Forty Tales (Tale of the Cat) breezed four furlongs in :51.40. On Sunday's worktab, the move was listed at 117 of 124 at the distance. Most recently, the bay was runner-up in the GIII Bold Ruler H. at Belmont Oct. 26.

"Forty Tales is a little less ambitious work horse," added Pletcher. "We thought he worked well for what he normally does."

Pletcher is expected to be represented in all four graded stakes on the Nov. 30 card at Aqueduct. Among them, Intense Holiday (Harlan's Holiday) worked four furlongs in :49.27 over the training track in preparation for the the GII Remsen S. and Stopchargingmaria (Tale of the Cat) negotiated the same trip in :48.53 ahead of a tilt at the GII Demoiselle S. Teen Pauline (Tapit) covered four panels in :49.27, while Galloping Giraffe (Tapit) took :51.41 to complete the distance. The latter is slated to compete in the GIII Comely S. "I think [Intense Holiday] ran a sneaky good race [when fourth] in the [GII] Nashua [S. Nov. 3 at Aqueduct]," opined Pletcher. "He had a troubled trip and should have been second with a little clearer run." Pletcher added Caixa Eletronica is expected to make a title defense in the Nov. 28 GIII Fall Highweight H.

On to Cigar For 'Now'?

Clearly Now (Horse Greeley), winner of the Oct. 26 GIII Bold Ruler H. last time out, worked five furlongs in 1:01.75 Sunday at the Palm Meadows Training Center.

"Lovely," said trainer Brian Lynch of the breeze. "I'm really happy. He finished up strong; we got him going the final eighth in :11."

Winner of the GIII Swale S. in March, Clearly Now sported blinkers while trying older rivals for the first time in the Bold Ruler.

"We're leaning [in favor of running in the Cigar Mile]," said Lynch. "He seems to be getting better and has improved with blinkers. He ran a great race the other day [in the Bold Ruler], and he got a great ride [from Jose Lezcano]."

Lynch indicated Clearly Now will likely breeze six furlongs next week at Palm Meadows prior to heading to New York.

Sharp Cat Runners No Worse Wear...

Arethusa (A.P. Indy), an 8 1/4-length winner in Saturday's Sharp Cat S. at Betfair Hollywood Park, came out of that effort in 'super' form, according to trainer Eoin Harty Sunday. A homebred for Darley Stable, the chestnut will be supplemented to the 1 1/16-mile GI Hollywood Starlet Dec. 7. Runner up in the Sharp Cat, Be Proud (Proud Citizen) also appears to have returned in good order, according to Mike Marlow, assistant to Bob Baffert. Fellow Baffert trainee, Georgia (Tiz Wonderful), sent off the even-money choice, faltered late to finish fifth, beaten 32 3/4 lengths by the winner. According to Marlow, the filly scoped clean following the race and likely "just threw in a bad race."

Honor Code Readies for Remsen...

Lane's End and Dell Ridge Farms' "TDN Rising Star" Honor Code (A.P. Indy) breezed an easy five furlongs in 1:03.34 over Belmont Park's main track Sunday morning in preparation for the GII Remsen S. Nov. 30. The son of Serena's Cat (Storm Cat) most recently finished second in the GI Foxwoods Champagne S. Oct. 5 following an impressive debut score at Saratoga Aug. 31.

Honor Code
Adam Coglianese

"He went very well and Shug

[McGaughey] said he was happy with the way he did it," said assistant trainer Buzz Tenney. "He'll have one more breeze next weekend, and that will be it."

Shared Belief Works for CashCall Futurity...

Shared Belief (Candy Ride {Arg}), the runaway victor of the seven-furlong GIII Hollywood Prevue S. at Betfair Hollywood Park Nov. 10, worked a half-mile in :50 4/5 Sunday morning. In a move labeled as 'nice and easy' by Jerry Hollendorfer's assistant Dan Ward, the gelding recorded the 42nd fastest of 53 moves at the distance yesterday. "He's so easy to train," said Ward. "He worked by himself this morning. If we want more speed from him, we'll work him in company." The undefeated juvenile is expected to make his next start in the GI CashCall Futurity at a mile and a sixteenth Dec. 14.

PANTS ON FIRE TO JAPAN CUP DIRT

George and Lori Hall's Pants on Fire (Jump Start), seventh most recently in the GI Breeders' Cup Dirt Mile Nov. 1, has arrived in Japan ahead of a bid for the G1 Japan Cup Dirt Dec. 1. The 5-year-old Kelly Breen trainee, who will be the first American shipper to participate in the race since Tizway in 2009, is stabled at the JRA Horseracing School quarantine facility under the care of groom James Homewood. "The trip from California to here took about 24 hours all around," Homewood said. "He's used to long hauls, though, so even though he's a little bit tired it's not a problem." The Japan Cup Dirt, worth about US$3-million, is run over 1800 meters at Hanshin Racecourse.

Tosen Ra, twice a winner at the group level prior to yesterday's G1 Mile Championship, had never raced shorter than 1 1/16-miles--with the majority of his 20 starts between 1 3/16 and 1 5/16-miles--but his love of Kyoto prompted his connections to bypass next week's G1 Japan Cup at Tokyo in favor of yesterday's contest, and that move paid dividends, with the veteran galloper earning his first Group 1 win, providing jockey Yutaka Take with his 100th. A winner over this course at first asking just over three years ago, Tosen Ra collected the G3 Kisaragi Sho here three months later. It was two years before Tosen Ra would win again, but that third lifetime score came in the G2 Kyoto Kinen Feb. 10. Second in the G1 Tenno Sho Spring Apr. 28, he was fifth in the G1 Takarazuka Kinen, and warmed off for this with a third place effort off more than three month's rest in the G2 Kyoto Daishoten Oct. 6.

Sent off the second choice here, Tosen Ra bided his time near the back of the pack early and tipped wide turning for home. He came with a devastating charge down the center of the track, hit the lead inside the final furlong and won with ease while never feeling the sting of the whip. "The horse was really strong and ran a great race," Take said. "He responded impressively when urged at the top of the stretch. He was in good form and everything seemed to fit in well for this victory. I am very pleased to be able to achieve this milestone of 100 career Group 1 wins, but I hope to capture more titles in the future." Tosen Ra's 18-year-old dam Princess Olivia was offered as a broodmare at three different sales between 2001 and 2004, and was bought back for $10,000, $9,500 and $23,000 before her Distorted Humor son Flower Alley won the GI Travers, GI Lanes End S. and GI Jim Dandy S. in 2005 and finished second in the GI Breeders' Cup Classic. Princess Olivia was sold later than year to Shadai Farm for $825,000 at Keeneland November. Spielberg (Jpn), the year-younger full brother to Tosen Ra, is a stakes winner and multiple group-placed in Japan.

Letters TO THE EDITOR

by Lucas Marquardt

I'd like to take a second to respond to Mark Antonini's letter than ran in Saturday's TDN, which made two points. The first questioned whether we could infer a stronger market because the RNA rate at a sale decreases. Wrote Mr. Antonini, "A low RNA rate could be a function of more horses going through without a reserve placed on them. It could also be a function of sellers having more realistic expectations in the sale of their product. Suffice it to say, I think referencing changes in RNA without supporting information is specious, at best."

I would agree with Mr. Antonini that a low RNA by itself doesn't necessarily indicate a stronger market. One thing it almost always does indicate, however, is a deeper buying bench. After the 2008 financial collapse, which greatly impacted Thoroughbred sales, we in the press kept hearing from sellers that, "the target is getting smaller." That is, buyers were being much less forgiving of flaws. There were, in general, two reasons this was the case: more, or just as many horses (too much supply), and fewer buyers (too little demand). Buyers could stand to be more forgiving, because if Yearling A had a flaw and Yearling B didn't, there was a good chance they'd be able to buy Yearling B at reasonable price because of a lack in competition among buyers. Sellers can be as realistic with their reserves to the point where it's financially damaging to them, but if the buyers aren't there, it doesn't matter much.

There are now fewer horses being bred, and at least as many buyers--and probably many more--than there were in 2008 and 2009. The result is more competition, which is reflected in the RNA, and ultimately reflective of a stronger market. The "supporting evidence" of this, of course, is higher average and median prices. At Keeneland November, about 35% and 60% higher, respectively.

Mr. Antonini's second point was that RNA prices should be included in sales averages for a sire. He wrote, "Just because the horse didn't change hands doesn't mean the market didn't determine its value." This is easier to address. As Mr. Antonini acknowledges in his first point, RNA prices are set by consignors and sellers, not the market. Put another way, the RNA price of a horse doesn't reflect the last live bid. For instance, a weanling worth $10,000 could be put through the ring with a $95,000 reserve. Live bidding may stop at $10,000, but the house would bid the price up to $95,000--in essence as it is directed to do by the reserve price. But it doesn't mean the weanling is worth that much.

For instance, in 2008, the terrific racemare and Horse of the Year Azeri was offered at Keeneland January. She was bought back by her connections for $4.4 million. No one I talked to, at least, could say where the live money stopped, but 11 months later she was offered once again at Keeneland November, and sold for $2.25 million. Was she worth $4.4 million, or $2.25 million? The market said the latter.

SON OF CAPE CROSS ON TOP AT FAIRYHOUSE

Tattersalls Ireland staged their November Yearling Sale yesterday, and a son of Cape Cross (Ire) led the way when selling to Ger Lyons for €32,000. From Derrinstown Stud, hip 59 is out of the listed-placed Zahoo (Ire) (Nayef), who descends from the matriarch Elle Seule responsible for so many of Shadwell's finer performers. Lyons also took home the second highest-priced yearling of the session when securing Corballis Stud's hip 85, a son of Silver Frost (Ire), for €28,000. At the close of play, the low-key auction returned an average of €4,823 and median of €3,500, representing 22% and 8% drops on 2012, respectively. Managing Director Roger Casey was accentuating the positives. "While today's sale posted more modest returns than the 2012 renewal which had recorded the highest turnover in recent years, it still represents the second highest turnover for this sale since 2008, and it was pleasing to see purchasers here from the UK, Russia, the Czech Republic, Italy and the Slovak Republic in addition to our usual domestic clients, and as ever we will review all aspects of this sale as we endeavor to improve it further in 2014," he commented. "In overall terms, we have had an excellent year again with our flat sale graduates with multiple Group 1 winner Lethal Force leading the way. Our September Yearling Sale showed significant gains for the fourth consecutive year with the top price of €180,000 being the best since 2007, a record number of UK purchasers and again an abundance of overseas clients in attendance at the sale. The September sale has grown consistently year-on-year and is now recognized as a real source of value and quality. We have proven repeatedly that when Irish vendors send us their better stock we attract the purchasers here and ensure they get the best possible price, and we look forward to working closely with our vendors to improve on the quality of yearlings catalogued in 2014. Our sales race continues to be an attractive incentive for purchasers too, and we look forward to seeing another successful renewal of the race at The Curragh in 2014."
